The Town Drain.

The fire engine was out yesterday pumping the water from the open drain on Simcoe street. The drain pipe is being carefully relaid, and connection having been made with the George street sewer, which latter has been cleaned out, it is hoped no further trouble will be experienced with this drain.

Sons of England Concert.

The concert given Monday evening under the auspices of Lansdowne Lodge of the Sons of England, and under the patronage of St. Andrew's Society was a fine success. There was a full house and an excellent and most entertaining programme was presented. Mr. Findly McGregor, the "instrumentalist, vocalist and 'artist'" was of course the backbone of the programme. He acquitted himself in the protean roles he assumed with very great success and the most hearty applause testified to the high appreciation of his efforts to please. He is half-a-dozen good artists rolled into one, and his wonderful versatility is the source of increasing surprise as new feature after new feature unfolds itself, and his efforts made the entertainment, so far as he is concerned, one of the best ever presented in Peterborough. The illness of Mr. McGregor's soprano, Miss Nolan, made a gap in the programme, ably filled by local talent. Mrs. W. H. Bowman sang very sweetly "Down the Burn, Davie, Lad" in the first part, and in the second took part with Mr. McGregor in a "Domestic Sketch", introducing several Scottish songs. In this she very ably supported Mr. McGregor, and, considering that only one rehearsal was possible, it is much to her credit that she helped to make this number the most charming of the evening. Mr. D.D. Galletly sang "Afton Water" in his usual excellent style, and was deservedly honoured with an encore, giving in response the "Laird o' Cockpen," rendered with great vivacity and completeness. He also sang with fine effect, "The Grave of Napoleon." Mrs. Christie sang several selections with good taste her "Six Feet of Earth" being especially well received. The programme concluded with Jacobite songs in character, sung by Mr. McGregor, winding up with "Allister McAllister," and the dancing of the Highland fling, for which Mr. Donald McDonald, the piper of St. Andrew's Society, furnished the music. Prof. Doucet supplied the pianoforte overtures in a brilliant and acceptable manner. "Auld Lang Syne", sung by Mesdames Bowman and Christie and Messrs. McGregor and Galletly closed the entertainment. The Sons of England are to be congratulated upon the great success of their annual concert.

League of the Cross.

The usual weekly meeting of this society took place at the Catholic Library rooms last night. It was decided that immediate steps should be taken for affiliation with the Arch Confraternity of the League at Guelph, whose objects have received the sanction and blessing of Pope Leo XIII, and which, for this reason, enjoys special privileges. A resolution that the Society be a total Abstinence Society, pure and simple, and not merely a partial abstinence association, was carried. A proposition to unite with other societies in forming a total abstinence union for Ontario was held over for further discussion. The election of officers for the ensuing year then took place with the following result:—

PRESIDENT—John O'Meara.
1st VICE-PRESIDENT—E. D. Gough.
2nd VICE-PRESIDENT—P. Begley, Sr.
RECORDING SECRETARY—P. J. Quinn.
FINANCIAL SECRETARY—Daniel O'Brien.
TREASURER—J. D. Mollmoyle.

Meetings of the League will be held every Monday evening at 8 o'clock; and will be made attractive by discussions on subjects of interest to the members, and addresses from time to time by speakers from other towns and cities interested in temperance work.

Shall We Become a City?

The subject of applying to the Local Legislature, for an act incorporating Peterborough as a city was before the council on Monday night. This is certainly a most important step to consider and one that should not be rashly taken. There are grave responsibilities to be undertaken. If our town fathers think they can govern the town well enough to qualify them to govern a city they will be justified in their new proposal. For Peterborough has all the material qualifications for a city. The extent of her population, the excellence of her buildings, and her commercial importance all entitle her to rank as one. Her business establishments are not excelled if equalled by those of any minor cities. Where in any city of Canada, not excepting the largest, can be found a business establishment like that of the great gough where an overcoat of the highest quality can be bought at prices ranging from $2 to $18 and all kinds of ready-made clothing and under-clothing at the same marvellously low prices. Piles, heaps, pyramids, mountains and mountain ranges of clothing of every variety of style and material all of the best, and only one kind of price and that the lowest—lower than any house in Canada, wholesale or retail. Look at gough's goods and sample his prices and you can't help buying.

Another Bear Story.

Local nimrods have been intensely eager in their search after bear this fall (in stories) but so far few have been slaughtered. Bruin resents this neglect on the part of the "lords of creation," and one noble specimen of the black bear (or at least his hide) was seen on Hunter street yesterday, in front of Mr. W. J. Devlin's harness shop, in the act of ascending a pole, at the top of which hung some of Mr. Devlin's celebrated cheap and durable harness. The animal was shot with a ten dollar bill by Mr. Leoh, so that residents in the neighborhood need not be afraid. It is not very often a bear from the backwoods makes his way to town, but it is supposed this one, led by his native bucolic instincts, was unable to overcome the temptation to become the proud possessor of a set of Devlin's unexcelled harness, and in his rash efforts to do so lost his life.

BARRING Toronto, we now have nearly as many students in shorthand as all other similar (Ontario) institutions.

Saw and File Works.

By reference to the report of the town council in another column, it will be seen that a couple of practical men, at present engaged with the largest firm of saw and file manufacturers in Canada, are negotiating for the establishment of a new business in that line in Peterborough. A meeting of the Finance Committee was held this morning, at which propositions were made to these gentlemen that gave them every satisfaction. The committee stated that if the two men would get up a company with a paid-up capital of $8,000, they would recommend the council to put up buildings on the town property near the railway track suitable for their purposes, free taxation for a number of years and at a nominal rental of about $100 per annum. The visitors expressed themselves thoroughly satisfied with the proposition, and announced their determination of pushing the matter vigorously. They had no doubt of success. If negotiations are consummated they will start business with a force of about 20 men, all of them married and with families, earning large salaries.

Presentation to Mrs. Bertram.

The Lady Friends of Mrs. Bertram Give Her a Parting and Practical Expression of Their Esteem and Regard.

Monday evening about seventy-five ladies assembled at the residence of Mrs. Alexander Smith, Aylmer street, to bid farewell to Mrs. John Bertram on the eve of her departure for Toronto. A pleasant social evening was spent, during which refreshments were served. Miss Edwards read the following address, accompanying it by the presentation to Mrs. Bertram of a handsome Davenport in solid walnut, richly carved, and complete in all its appointments, including a full supply of stationery:—

"DEAR MRS. BERTRAM,—Before your departure from amongst them, your many friends in Peterborough desire to express their very sincere hope that your removal to another home may be attended with God's blessing, and that such a measure of health and happiness may be accorded you as in His divine wisdom He may see best for you and yours. They moreover feel a deep, albeit selfish, regret at losing one whose active benevolence, Christian sympathy and ready co-operation in all good works, made her a valuable member of society, and endeared her to a large circle of friends and acquaintances in all classes of the community. As a tangible proof of the reality of these sentiments your friends offer for your acceptance the accompanying Davenport, asking you to give it a place in your new home, as they feel they will have in your memory. That God may go with you and abide with you, and give you ever increasing strength for and love in His service, and at the last gather us all into His heavenly kingdom, the home from which there shall be no removal, is the heartfelt prayer of your many loving and true friends in Peterborough."

MRS. Bertram replied most feelingly, acknowledging the kind words of the address and the accompanying gift, and referring to the many highly esteemed and valued friends she was leaving behind in Peterborough, whose friendship she had learned to appreciate during her 22 years' residence amongst them. She regretted the necessary separation from them, but hoped to often see them in the future. The ties of friendship would not be broken on account of the short distance which would separate them, and she would doubtless meet them from time to time. In conclusion she heartily thanked her friends for their kind expressions of esteem and regret.

The assembly broke up at an early hour, each one present saying farewell to the guest of the evening, whose departure from their midst in the near future, they regarded with so much regret.

Personal.

Mr. Frank Adams, of Kentucky, formerly book-keeper for Fitzgerald & Stanger, is in town.

Mr. F. D. Wilkins, C. E., of Norwood, has gone to Calgary, N.W.T., to enter upon the duties of a government position to which he has been appointed.

Last night by 8:50 train, Mr. Geo. A. Cox, jr. left for Montreal, where he has accepted a position in the G.T.R. express office, audit department. His fellow-employees in Mr. Cox's offices assembled at his father's residence early in the evening to bid him a final farewell. They were handsomely entertained and a most enjoyable evening was spent together.

The Bridge Question.

The oft-recurring question these days is, when will the Simcoe street bridge be completed? Especially earnest are the impatient enquiries from the inhabitants in the western part of the town, who are anxious that it should be completed at an early date so that they may have a direct and uninterrupted passage down Simcoe street to Elliott & Tierney's grocery store on George street, where groceries, provisions and fruit are sold at such cheap prices that prudent housewives deal there altogether. Their stock of groceries is fresh, pure, comprehensive and marked at bottom prices. If you can't go by way of Simcoe street, take some other route, only "get there".

Hallowe'en.

The "b'hoys" were very quiet last night, Hallowe'n. A few signs exchanged places, gates were waltzed out of sight, "tired" garden and hen fruit were scattered about promiscuously, and the customary pranks "out up," while in about every other house in town there was a Hallowe'en gathering of both old and young folks.

The Boys' Night Out.

Officers Pidgeon and McGinty last night arrested three boys who were particularly active in observing the customary though by no means popular practices (except among the boys) of Hallowe'en. They were allowed to go on promising to return to their homes.

Under Way.

Material for the new iron bridge for the locks loop line is arriving and the work of construction is under way. The line, though short, is said by railway men to be one of the best in the province. The ballasting is said to be perfect. The opening up of this connecting link for traffic will be an important event in local railway affairs.

A Special Call.

Canton Peterborough will meet in the rooms of Peterborough Lodge of Oddfellows this evening for sword exercise and the transaction of important business. A special request is made to the chevaliers to turn out on this occasion.

The "Notice" Noticed.

The finger-board and post at the Hunter street railway crossing was last night laid low by mischievous boys, who uprooted the post and left it lying in the middle of the road.

Life, Love and Death.

Sixteen births, twelve marriages and eight deaths were registered at the town clerk's office during the past month—a very good average.

News Nuggets.

—Orillia is to have a tricycle manufactory.

—Fenelon Falls is to have a new cheese factory.

—A new steamboat is being built at Fenelon Falls for the Pulp Mills Co.

—There was a "frenzy" fire at Belleville the other night over the appointment of a city assessor.

—Before leaving Fenelon Falls for Peterborough Rev Father McEvay was presented with a farewell address by his parishioners.

—Mr. James Lake, of Ottawa, the other night woke up and found the reflection from a dark lantern in his face and a revolver pointed at his head, while a voice commanded him to keep still or be shot. He kept still, and the burglar left. Only an overcoat is missing.

—A few days ago Messrs. McArthur & Thomson, of Fenelon Falls, received a communication from a party in Peterborough, who has the contract for the T.V.C. bridges, asking them to state the prices at which they could supply the timber called for by the specifications enclosed. From this the Gazette infers that the swing bridge over the locks there will soon be built. It also hopes that the G.T.R. Co. will, as reported, build a new railway bridge there.

—Lakefield Chronicle:—"The C.P.R. authorities are about to extend their track as far as the Nassau Mills. Could they not be prevailed on to take in Lakefield? The distance would be only six miles longer, and they would tap a village with over 1300 inhabitants, which acts as a distributing centre for a fairly settled country over thirty miles back of us. Nothing would be lost by opening negotiations on the subject."

—Truants from the Belleville schools are about to be brought up with a short jerk. The Board of Education will furnish the teachers with truant cards and punch as. These cards have numbers representing each day in the year. When the scholar is present the number is punched out, when absent of course it is not punched. The parents and teachers can tell by the card when the old time practice of "hookie" is indulged in.

The Electric Alarm.

The severe storm of a week ago last Sunday which passed over Peterborough damaged the electric fire alarm system considerably. On examination it was found that the interior of box No. 3 was badly burned and it efficiency almost destroyed. The system suffered, also, in several other places. The line has, however, since been gone over and thoroughly repaired.

The Ottawa ex-Bank Clerk Suing Half a Dozen Papers for Libel.

MONTREAL, Oct. 31.—Fenwick W. Hamilton, through his solicitors, Messrs. Greenshields, Guerin & Greenshields, has entered actions for libel against The Gazette, Le Monde, The Daily News and La Patrie for $10,000 each, and is said to intend criminal and civil proceedings against another Montreal paper, as well as The Toronto Globe and Mail and an Ottawa paper, in connection with published stories about him and Mrs. Middleton.

The New French Ambassador.

LONDON, Oct. 31.—The Times commenting on the appointment of the Earl of Lytton to succeed Lord Lyons as British Ambassador to France, says, that it would more readily acquiesce in his choice by the Government if it could forget his faults and failings as Viceroy of India. The paper states that though it does not view his appointment with the alarm which is expressed in some quarters it would remind him that a more fierce light of public opinion will beat upon him in Paris than in Calcutta.

A Bank in Difficulties.

ST. PAUL, Oct. 31.—The Third National Bank has issued a circular calling a meeting of stockholders to determine whether to go into voluntary liquidation. The action was taken because the bank has $300,000 of the paper of Rood & Maxwell, Ashland, Wis., lumbermen, who failed last week. The bank officials say the funds are sufficient to pay depositors in full. The bank has a capital of $500,000.

A Poor Crazed Brain.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 31.—At No. 210 Broune-street to-day Mrs. Katie Miller, who lives with her mother-in-law, went to the third story, as she said to awaken her two children. Upon reaching the room she seized her 9-year-old daughter Viola and hurled her through the window to the sidewalk, and instantly leaped after her. Mrs. Miller's head was crushed and she died instantly. The child was fatally injured. Mrs. Miller's mind was impaired by grief over the loss of a babe a few months ago and by the neglect of her husband.

THE LOSS OF THE VERNON.

ONLY ONE SURVIVOR OF THE FORTY OR FIFTY SOULS ABOARD.

Alfred Stone, One of the Crew, Found on a Raft in Lake Michigan and Taken to Chicago—His Dreadful Experience After the Foundering of the Propeller.

STURGEON BAY, Wis., Nov. 1.—Up to the arrival of the schooner Pomeroy from Chicago, which passed through the bay to-day, it was supposed that not a single survivor was left of the forty or fifty people on board the propeller Vernon, which went down off Sheboygan early last Saturday morning. It is now known, however, that at least one man lives to tell the tale of that terrible night on Lake Michigan. The Pomeroy has on board the only survivor of that awful disaster. The name of the man who has been rescued from death, after he had given up all hope of ever again setting his foot upon dry land, is Alfred Stone of Chicago, one of the Vernon's crew. He had been in the water sixty hours, exposed to a bitter, piercing wind and without a bite to eat. When the Pomeroy discovered him on a raft last night, about eight miles from Sheboygan, he was so cold as to be almost helpless and so weak from hunger that he could scarcely move.

Although still very weak from the effects of his awful experience he was able to make a brief statement of the never-to-be-forgotten night. "I was awakened in the middle of the night," he says, "by the cries of the passengers and crew that the vessel was sinking. I sprang out of the window and found myself on a life raft with six other persons. I cannot say now who my companions were. Part of them were members of the crew and part were passengers. It seemed only a moment before the vessel had gone down, and I believe that all but a few of those on board went down with her. I do not know just how many people were aboard at the time, but the number could not have been far from fifty. We passed through an awful night. I think I never saw such a sea as that which tossed our little raft at its mercy. When daylight came we hoisted a signal of distress, using a coat tied to an oar. Two vessels passed so near us on Saturday that they must have seen our signal, yet for some reason they apparently made no effort to reach us. The storm still raged, and it may be that they had all they could do to save themselves. One after another of my companions perished in the cold or was washed off the raft when they became too numb with cold to hold on any longer. We never saw any others from the sunken steamer. I don't believe any of them survived. The vessel went down so suddenly that the crew hadn't time to man the boats."

When Stone was picked up there was the corpse of one man on the raft with him, the other four having perished several hours before. Stone says this man was one of the crew, whose name he does not know.

ADMIRAL HENEAGE'S MISSION.

He is Determined to Protect British Interests in Alaskan Waters.

MONTREAL, Nov. 1.—Admiral Heneage and Lieut. Thorne, R.N., left for Victoria, B.C., to-day. The Admiral goes to hoist his flag on board the Swiftsure, the new flagship of the Pacific Squadron. In an interview he said one of his first official acts would be to visit Alaskan waters and to protect British interests there, which sadly needed looking after. He would not, he said, allow a British vessel to be molested outside of the three mile limit, no matter who attempted it. He understands that the recent seizures in Alaska waters will form part of the fisheries inquiry. He will make a special report to the British Postoffice Department on the Canadian Pacific Railway as an Imperial route to the east. The Admiral was until last month in command of the Channel Squadron.

SIR CHARLES' SON-IN-LAW.

HE COMES IN FOR A GOOD JOB UNDER THE FISHERIES COMMISSION.

Colonel Cameron, Late of England, to be Official Secretary to the Canadian Representative—A Barge Seized at Fort Erie for Violating the Customs Laws.

OTTAWA, Nov. 1.—It is understood that the Secretary of State for the Colonies has, at the suggestion of the Dominion Government, obtained the consent of the War Office to enable Col. Cameron to take the duties of official secretary to the Canadian representative, Sir Charles Tupper, at the approaching Fisheries Convention at Washington. Col. Cameron's duties will be similar to those of Col. Bernard, who was secretary to Sir John A. Macdonald when High Commissioner to Washington in 1871.

He is now in the city awaiting the return of Sir Charles Tupper.

The barge Euretta has been seized at Fort Erie for not reporting certain repairs made in the United States and for landing goods. She has been released on payment of $400, pending the decision of the Minister of Customs.

Commander Boulton, R.N., who has been engaged on a hydrographic survey of the Georgian Bay, is in the city. Plans of the work will be sent to England, where charts will be issued by the Admiralty.

Col. Bernard, brother of Lady Macdonald, leaves in a few days for Cuba for the benefit of his health.

Postmaster-General McLelan left Halifax last night for Ottawa. Prior to leaving he completed the purchase, on behalf of the Minister of Customs, of the steam yacht Mabel Freeman, which will be used as a revenue cutter, principally in Halifax Harbor and vicinity, but which could be utilized if necessary in connection with the fisheries protection service, as she is a good sea boat.

His Excellency the Governor-General paid a visit to the Experimental Farm to-day and was received by Hon. Mr. Carling and Prof. Saunders. He expressed himself as highly pleased with the progress made on the farm.

The Department of Customs has decided to prohibit the introduction into Canada of an alleged literary paper published in the States called "Family Fiction," on the ground that it is an immoral publication issued in the interests of the Louisiana State Lottery.

It is complained by The Mail that binding twine used by the farmers is cheaper in the United States than in Canada, but it is charged that when imported the Customs Department value it for duty at the Canadian price. In explanation it might be mentioned that there are two kinds of twine—the manilla and the sizal cordage. The manufacturers of this kind of cordage are entitled to a large draw-back from the United States Government on such quantities as are sold for export to foreign countries. The customs law provides that drawbacks of any kind paid by foreign countries on their productions when imported into Canada must be included in the value for duty, and very many differences of opinion arise between importers and the customs officers in consequence of this provision of the law.

A ROW IN A DISTRICT ASSEMBLY.

The Rival Cigarmakers' Unions Causing Trouble in Hamilton.

HAMILTON, Nov. 1.—At the meeting of District Assembly No. 61, K. of L., held last night, there was a big fight over the rival cigarmakers' unions—the International and K. of L. unions. The officers of the District Assembly reported in favor of accepting as a base of settlement the offer of the International Union to take into their union all the progressive unionists who had organized themselves into a Knights of Labor assembly, excepting those who had taken the places of strikers, unless the latter would pay the fines imposed on them. The report was violently opposed and great excitement was manifested during the discussion.

The result was that the report was defeated. All the officers of the District Assembly resigned, and their places were filled by the sympathizers of the white label men. Thomas Towers was elected District Master Workman instead of James Henegan.

Disturbed by False Reports.

BERLIN, Nov. 1.—The Boerse was disturbed to-day by false news. Several dealers received through the pneumatic post alarming reports regarding the health of the Emperor. These reports, however, failed to have the desired effect. Steps have been taken to discover and prosecute the senders.

The Niagara Falls Race Track.

NIAGARA FALLS, Nov. 1.—The Sheriff of this county advertises the sale of the lands and property of the Niagara Falls Racing and Fair Grounds Association to take place on the grounds Nov. 30 to satisfy judgments to the amount of nearly $47,000. Desperate efforts are being made by the association to save itself. A meeting of the stockholders was held here yesterday afternoon. The bylaws were amended so that in the future an indebtedness of over $500 cannot be contracted without the consent of the stockholders. The Committee on Increased Stock reported subscriptions to the amount of $15,000 for the new stock and about $2500 more promised. The meeting adjourned to meet Saturday, Nov. 5.

THE FIRST GUN IN HALDIMAND.

Dr. Montague Opens the Contest—Liberal Leaders Rallying to the Fray.

CALEDONIA, Oct. 31.—The contest in Haldimand formally opened to-night, when the first public meeting was held by Dr. Montague at Nanticooke. Hon. Wilfred Laurier, Mr. John Charlton, M.P., of North Norfolk, and Mr. William Paterson, M.P., of South Brant, will take up the Liberal fight on Wednesday night, when they will address a series of meetings throughout the country. Both parties are sanguine of winning the seat.

An Awful Fall.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 31.—At the closing performance of Paine's "Last Days of Pompeii," Antonio Infantes proposed to make a balloon ascension. The balloon, a hot air affair, had attained a height of 500 feet when there was a collapse. The descent was very rapid, and as the man came down before the audience he was thrown upon an iron rod from which rockets were being fired. Death ensued immediately.

THE CHOLERA AT NEW YORK.

The Commissioners of Quarantine Concealing the Facts from the Public.

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—It is now very evident, judging from the latest developments in the case of the cholera-stricken patients at Quarantine, that Health Officer Smith and the Commissioners of Quarantine are not keeping the public informed of the true state of affairs at the station. Dr. Smith declined to give any information excepting through his daily bulletins. A sense of mystery and concealment seems to pervade every movement of the commission and Dr. Smith. The latter's bulletins come regularly enough, but they are not satisfactory, and, as it was learned yesterday, neither are they true. Monday night Dr. Smith sent up a bulletin announcing that all of the Alesia survivors were well, with the exception of two or three, who were suffering with intestinal catarrh. The bulletin also stated that the doctor had removed Antonetta Demarco, aged 2 years, and Pedro Marco, aged 12 years, both suffering from measles, from the Britannia.

During the course of a reporter's travels yesterday he was given to understand that the two reported cases of measles were cholera, that the subjects had died late on Monday night and were buried yesterday morning. A visit was made to the look-out station at Quarantine to ascertain if the rumor was true. An assistant of Dr. Smith was in charge.

"Doctor," said the reporter, "it is understood that the two cases of measles reported on Monday night had turned out to be cholera and that the patients were buried to-day?"

"Well," ejaculated the doctor, "where do you reporters find out all the news? You seem to know more than we do ourselves."

"Yes, it seems so. But is the report true or not?"

"Yes, it is true," answered the doctor.

"Well, then, why weren't they reported as cases of cholera."

"Don't ask me. I'm not responsible," replied the doctor. Then he added: "I may as well tell you that we have no cases of measles down here. We have nothing but cholera."

The reporter next went to the commissioners' office. No one there knew anything about the case. Dr. Smith's bulletin for the day was on the desk, but there was nothing in it about the two patients who had died and were buried. But the bulletin did state that five more cases of measles had been removed from the Britannia to the hospital. One was reported dead from pneumonia and another was reported removed from the Britannia suffering from consumption and gastric irritation.

THE LURKING DYNAMITER.

The London Police Anxious Regarding the Whereabouts of Two Irish Americans.

LONDON, Nov. 1.—The police assert that Melville, the alleged dynamiter, is J. J. Moroney.

Sir Charles Warren, Chief of Police, has issued a description of two Irish Americans who have been unaccountably missing from Liverpool since Oct. 17, and for whom the police are searching. One of them, John Whitney, alias Scrates, or Walsh, represents himself to be a blacksmith, and the other, Charles Murray, alias Joseph Dolan, passes as a laborer.

Old Man Hopeful.

PARIS, Nov. 1.—Count de Lesseps has announced to the Academy of Science that the Panama Canal will be open on Feb. 3, 1890. The work will not then be entirely completed, but the passage will be free for twenty ships a day. It is estimated that this traffic will produce an annual revenue of from 90,000,000 to 200,000,000 francs.

FIELD HANDS ON STRIKE.

Trouble Feared With Negro Laborers in Lower Louisiana.

PATTERSONVILLE, La., Nov. 1.—A general strike among hands on sugar plantations was inaugurated this morning on the lower Teche in the district between Bartels Station and Morgan City. All places above Grandwood are still working and all places below and including Grandwood are either idle or working with a few white hands. The planters are to unite in resisting the demands of the strikers and they have no doubt about the result. There is a feeling of intense bitterness throughout the district against certain prominent leaders who have urged on the strike, and if the matter is not promptly settled there is no telling what the result will be.

A BURGLAR'S BULLET.

A Detroit Policeman Gets His Death Wound at the Hands of a Thief.

DETROIT, Nov. 1.—About 2 o'clock this morning Patrolman Lombard surprised three men trying to break into Kingston's grocery, corner of Third-avenue and Brigham-street. The burglars saw him, and one of them drew a revolver and fired. The officer returned the fire, and about a dozen shots were exchanged between them. A bullet from the burglar's weapon struck Lombard in the mouth and he fell to the ground insensible. The noise of the shooting alarmed the residents of the vicinity, and several men left their houses to see what was the matter. He was removed to his home, at 40 Milwaukee-avenue. Lombard bled freely from his wound while being taken home, and was very weak when the doctor arrived. His injuries are considered dangerous, and may prove fatal. He has been a member of the police force since May 1, and has made a good record as an officer. None of the burglars who did the shooting have been captured.

To Guard Against Pleuro-Pneumonia.

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 1.—At the cattlemen's convention to-day a resolution was adopted that owing to the fact of the existence of pleuro-pneumonia and other contagious diseases in Europe, particularly in Great Britain, a sound public policy demands that for the present all importations of cattle shall be suspended and that the Secretary of the Treasury be so notified and urged, on behalf of the Association, to take prompt action in accordance with the above suggestion.

Prices, However, Will Remain the Same.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Nov. 1.—To-day the Lehigh and Wilkesbarre Coal Company struck the Great Baltimore vein of coal in South Wilkesbarre, nearly 1100 feet below the surface, the deepest shaft in Pennsylvania. The vein is between eighteen and twenty feet thick. This lucky find, for which the company has spent years and nearly $100,000, will net them fully $3,600,000.

THE DEAD NUMBER EIGHT.

A DISASTROUS EXPLOSION IN A ST. LOUIS BUILDING.

An Occurrence Which is Surrounded by Considerable Mystery—It is Believed, However, to Have Been Caused by the Ignition of Gas or Gasoline in the Cellar.

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 1.—A terrific gasoline explosion occurred about 2.30 o'clock this morning, in the grocery store of Michael Newman of South 16th-street. The grocery and two adjoining two-story brick buildings were almost demolished, and twelve persons, including the wife and five children of Newman, and two families living in adjoining houses, were buried in the ruins. It is not known how many persons are killed, but it is feared a dozen or more lives were lost. The cause of the explosion is unknown.

The Newman block was covered by the roof which had settled down upon the ruins and formed a barrier through which the rescuers had to cut away beams and walls. The roofs and walls were soon removed and in the debris were revealed the mangled forms of the grocerywman's family. Two ladies, Mr. Newman's daughters, were first removed. Mamie was still alive, but mangled by timbers and charred with fire. She was beyond hope of recovery. Nellie moaned piteously for her sister and seemed to forget her own desperate injuries. Neither will survive. The rest of the Newman family were dead. Some sat upright and others were doubled up in their beds. Life had evidently fled while they were wrapped in slumber. In the same building over store-room No. 9, lived Charles Devere, a traveling salesman, and his wife. Visiting them was Miss Hattie Brown of Columbus, Ky. She was badly injured, but miraculously escaped death, the only person who passed through the horrible ordeal and lives to tell the story of her escape.

Over storeroom No. 11 resided Mrs. Bryant, with her daughter Polly, and with them were two boarders, Charles Efferd and Mrs. Beasley. The last named was buried so deeply in the debris the search for her was given up until others were removed. Charles Efferd was taken out alive, but died on the way to the hospital. Miss Bryant was bruised, but a heavy head of hair protected her, and her injuries are not dangerous. An unknown man of 40 years was found in the debris. Besides these injured in this building were many persons in the neighborhood, who had been more or less cut and bruised.

The corrected list of the dead and wounded by the explosion is eight dead and three wounded seriously. Six others who lived in the building reported missing have been found either uninjured or slightly bruised. The general belief is that escaping gas filled the cellar and that Mr. Newman kept a quantity of kerosene oil and gasoline near where the explosion took place. The tremendous force of the explosion is the cause of the greatest doubt regarding this explanation.

O'BRIEN'S INCARCERATION.

The Prisoner Subjected to the Treatment of an Ordinary Criminal.

CORK, Nov. 1.—The Mayor has informed the municipal authorities that Mr. O'Brien, having threatened to resist to the death, is subjected to the treatment of an ordinary criminal. The governor of the prison, at the Mayor's request, has telegraphed to the Prisons Board asking advice as to the course he shall pursue. The Mayor will see Mr. O'Brien daily, and will report to the municipal officers.

Dillon Suggests Armed Resistance.

DUBLIN, Nov. 1.—Mr. John Dillon addressed a meeting at Limerick to-day. He condemned the authorities for imprisoning Mr. O'Brien, declaring that their action was an outrage upon the Irish race. Partisan judges, he said, confirmed the Mitchellstown sentence under circumstances astounding even to those accustomed to the mockery of the law in Ireland. If Mr. O'Brien's friends had had force enough they would have tried the matter out on the spot and rescued O'Brien at any cost. He would scorn and condemn a people who, having power and arms to procure liberty, would submit to such brutal tyranny.

Mr. Smith Answers Mr. Gladstone.

LONDON, Nov. 1.—W. H. Smith, Government leader in the House of Commons, writes regarding the charges made by Mr. Gladstone, that the Ministry is setting the example of a law-breaker in Ireland, that the Ministry cannot deal seriously with the charges which are refuting themselves. The Ministry, he says, is amenable to the courts, if it is a law-breaker.

A GALE ON THE ENGLISH COAST.

Seven Vessels Wrecked at Cardiff and Many More Along the Coast.

LONDON, Nov. 1.—A gale prevails throughout England. Telegraph wires have been broken, chimneys blown down, and trees uprooted. A number of minor marine casualties are reported.

Seven vessels were wrecked at Cardiff and many wrecks are reported from other places. The gale, which is terrific, extends around the eastern coast of the United Kingdom, and is accompanied by rain. Reports of the stranding of vessels continue to be received, and an immense amount of damage has been done. At Falmouth a number of vessels have been driven ashore. Among them is the Danish brig Thuinaelda, from Rio Grande, which is submerged. The captain and one seaman are missing.

A dock and dam at Androssan were washed away, as was also the railway embankment at Holyhead. A score of vessels in the Mersey broke from their moorings and drifted broadside up the river. There was one serious collision.

Much Damage Done at Brest.

BREST, Nov. 1.—A hurricane has been raging here since morning and vessels have been unable to leave the roadstead. Many fishing smacks and pilot vessels have foundered during the storm.

PRESIDENT GREVY'S SCHEME.

To Divert Attention From His Son-in-Law He Will Bring About a Cabinet Crisis.

LONDON, Nov. 1.—The Times' Paris special says President Grevy is preparing a Cabinet crisis in order to drown the Wilson commotion. The Cabinet will be upset on the conversion debate, and M. de Freycinet will become premier. This will, however, only stave off the enquiry, which will be demanded later by the Right, supported by the Radicals. Then President Grevy will be upset, and the Radicals will then call a congress to elect his successor. Secret committees are being formed in all parts of Paris to watch for a favorable moment to exert mob [illegible]

A Determined Suicide

By Poison, the Bullet and the Rope.

This morning early, Constable Craig found George Mills in a stable near his house, hanging by the neck, dead. It was a clear case of suicide, of a most determined character. It appears he had first taken rat poison, that not working fast enough, he shot himself but not fatally and the rope put an end to his life. The support of the rope was so low that the feet had to be drawn up to allow the body to be suspended. Deceased was a dissipated character and several times recently he had made threats of suicide. It will be remembered that he made an attempt on his life some twenty years ago when he kept a blacksmith shop where the post office now stands. On Tuesday night Constable Craig went to the house at 9 o'clock to arrest Mills for wife beating, but the house was found locked, the wife and family were absent at a neighbors where they had taken refuge from his ill treatment. Constable Craig returned in the morning and found the man dead. Deceased was about 60 years of age. Dr. Bell, corner was applied to but considered no inquest necessary.

A Strangely Sudden Death.

A Young Lady Buffocated by the Edge of a Trunk.

Tuesday night Miss Ellen Power, sister of Mrs. M. Giroux, retired to her room in the Little Windsor Hotel, about seven o'clock. She said she had some sewing to do, and asked to be called if she slept late. Not coming down, she was called, but no response was made. Becoming alarmed, the inmates of the hotel looked through the window of her room, and discovered Miss Powers sitting on the floor with her head hanging inside her trunk and her neck resting on the front edge of it. The door was forced and it was found that she was dead. Dr. Kinsmid was called and his theory was that she was seized with a fainting fit, and, falling with her neck across the edge of the trunk, lay there till death ensued from suffocation. She was dressed in her night clothes, but had not been in bed. There was not the slightest evidence of a struggle. The body half reclined in a sitting position, and when found her right hand grasped the lower round of a chair. A handkerchief was bound round her forehead and knotted behind. Her corsets neatly rolled up and one of her stockings was found on the bed. The contents of the trunk showed that they had been turned up as if deceased had been looking for something at the bottom of it when she was seized with the fainting fit. The lamp was found out with the oil exhausted. The body was not disturbed until the arrival of Dr. Bell, coroner, who thought the evidence of death from natural causes so plain that no inquest was necessary. Deceased was subject to attacks of heart disease, and had a serious illness last summer.

The Fall Poet's Tribute

Give ear, ye shivering sons of men—
Oist, while I a marvellous plan
Unfold, whereby your worldly store
Gets double value—yes and more.
How is it done? Attend and learn.

The clothing warm, for which you yearn,
Heaped up, piled high, at Gough's is found
Evoking gratitude profound;

Delight and wonder fill the soul,
As o'er the stock, your pleased eyes roll;
Delightful bargains, good as gold
Defying frost and winters' cold,
You there can gather in, galore.

Of make and style ne'er found before.
Fling wide the door and master in

The shivering crowd to bargains win!
Heap high the counters—pick and choose
Each man must win where none can lose!
Make haste! the winters howling blast

Arrives anon. Arise and cast
Luxurious high priced clothiers off—
Let wisdom guide your steps to GOUGH.

This Overcoat I sell for $18.00. if you left your measure for it, it would cost and be considered cheap at $30.00. Any Person in want of a very fine Overcoat Should not fail to see it.

Our Overcoats at $3.00 $4.00 $5.00 $6.00 $7.00 $8.00 $9.00 & $10.00,

Beat anything in Canada either Wholesale or Retail; and why should they not, when I bought them at 50c. on the Dollar. When Wholesale Houses cannot compete with the Wonderful Cheap Man it is simply impossible for Small Retail Houses to compete. 60 per cent of the goods I sell, I buy at less than the First Cost of Manufacture, and hence the reason I can defy any Wholesale House in Canada to touch my prices. It is one thing to make an assertion and another thing to prove it. If any man doubts what I herein state let him come to my store and I will prove to his satisfaction that it is the absolute truth.

My Stock of Suits & Gents' Furnishing

Is as Large and Complete as my Overcoat Stock, and therefore whether it is an Overcoat, a Suit, or Shirts or Drawers you want, take a Friend's Advice and follow the crowd to

GEORGE STREET, PETERBOROUGH and QUEEN STREET, TORONTO.

I have been bothered with catarrh for about twenty years. I had lost my sense of smell entirely for the last fifteen years, and I had to get some one to thread my needle. Now I have my hearing as well as I ever had, and I can see to thread as fine a needle as ever I did. My sense of smell is partly restored; it seems to be improving all the time. I think there is nothing like Ely's Cream Balm for Catarrh.—Mrs. R.E. Grimes, Rendrill, Ohio. eodw44

DESERONTO'S GREAT DAY.

Launch of the Niagara Navigation Company's New Steamer.

DESERONTO, Ont., Nov. 1.—The new steel steamer of the Niagara Navigation Company at Toronto was most successfully launched from this afternoon and christened the Cibola. There was a large turnout of the villagers and the people of the surrounding country. Miss Constance Cumberland of Toronto performed the christening ceremony, and did it well.

A special Pullman left Toronto at 7.15 in the morning, having on board Senator Frank Smith, President; Bariste Cumberland, Vice-President; John Foy, Manager; R. H. McBride, Treasurer of the company; W. J. McNeilly, R. St. John and Capt. Dick, Government inspectors; J. H. Hagarty and W. A. Hughes, vessel owners; John Duncan, Campbell Donaldson, J. Munro, Gus Foy, Austin Smith, Fraser McDonald, Mrs. John McMurrich, Mrs. Skae, Mrs. A. F. Campbell and Miss Constance Cumberland. Deseronto was reached about noon, and the party repaired at once to the ship, where everything was in readiness. Among others noticed in the assemblage were Hon. Mackenzie Bowell, Robb Clapp of Picton, W. R. Aylesworth, Reeve of Deseronto; R. Smith of Sophiasburg and other representatives.

It is just a year ago since Messrs. Cumberland & Foy crossed the Atlantic in search of the best model they could procure for money. They claim that they more than succeeded, and so far all the indications point that way. The plates and iron work were all made in Scotland, and the putting together has been going on steadily since the Queen's Birthday until its completion to-day, the contractor being W. C. White of Montreal.

Lord Lamothe of Montreal, who superintended the launching, had everything ready for the removal of the blocks and at 1.45 she glided beautifully down the ways into the water, a bottle of Mumm being gracefully smashed on her bow by Miss Cumberland and the name Cibola displayed to the breeze amid the plaudits of the crowd.

The work of construction has been greatly expedited by the splendid facilities afforded by the works of the Rathbun Company, the munificent wharves and railway sidings affording every opportunity for loading and unloading cars and vessels, and the proximity of the different factories to the shipyard, and the improved machinery and appliances in the shipyard and machine shops wonderfully assisting in hastening the work. To Mr. Evans, Superintendent of the Rathbun Company's shipyard, the contractors express themselves as greatly indebted for valuable assistance and continued courtesy.

After the launch Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Rathbun entertained the Toronto visitors in princely fashion at their residence overlooking the harbor shipyard. After dinner speeches were in order.

Hon. Frank Smith expressed himself as delighted with the new vessel and its progress, and hinted that it might not be another year before they would be building a still larger and finer boat at Deseronto.

Messrs. Geddes & Hagarty are also contemplating the construction of a large steel propeller, probably at Deseronto.

Mr. Cumberland and Mr. Foy also made appropriate speeches.

The Usual Excursion Accident.

ALBANY, Oct. 27.—An excursion train of fourteen cars on the Albany and Susquehanna Road, drawn by engine No. 304, crashed into a freight train standing on the main track at Quaker-street this morning. Several cars were demolished. No one was hurt. The engine is a complete wreck. The damage is estimated at $12,000 to $18,000.

He Wanted to Switch Off.

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—Wm. Murphy, 35 years old, a telegraph operator of the Postal Company, made a determined effort to commit suicide to-day. He shot himself in the left breast, cut his head with a small penknife, fractured his skull with a stove-lifter and then tried to hang himself with a clothes line. He was tired of life. He will probably die

The Indefatigable Burglar.

TILSBURY CENTRE, Ont., Oct. 29.—J. & G. Powell's store, of this place, was visited last night by burglars, and goods to the value of from $400 to $600 are missing this morning. They effected an entrance by prying open a window in the rear of the store with a large chisel, which they left behind. There is no clue as yet to the perpetrators.

In Brief, And To The Point.

Dyspepsia is dreadful. Disordered liver is misery. Indigestion is a foe to good nature.

The human digestive apparatus is one of the most complicated and wonderful things in existence. It is easily put out of order.

Greasy food, tough food, sloppy food, bad cookery, mental worry, late hours, irregular habits, and many other things which ought not to be, have made the American people a nation of dyspeptics.

But Green's August Flower has done a wonderful work in relieving this and business and making the American people so healthy that they can enjoy their meals and be happy.

Remember:—No happiness without health. But Green's August Flower brings health and happiness to the dyspeptic. Ask your druggist for a bottle. Seventy-five cents.

Diphtheria.

"Last January," says J. H. Temple, of Cornwall, Ont., "there was much diphtheria near me and around. I kept my throat right by using Hagyard's Yellow Oil and brought my children through the attack. Yellow Oil cures all painful complaints and injuries. 2w44d

To Avoid Baldness or Grey Hair.

Use Dr. Dorenwend's Great German Hair Magic. It keeps the scalp clean and free from Dandruff, and promotes the growth of the hair. It prevents premature greyness and stops all falling out of the hair. On bald heads, where the roots have not perished, it will invigorate them and force a new growth of hair. Ask for Hair Magic. It is the only reliable. For sale by J. D. Tully and all druggists.

Reliable Remedy for Rheumatism.

Procure a bottle of Hagyard's Yellow Oil from your medicine dealer, and use according to the directions. It cured Ida Johnson, of Cornell, Ont., of that complaint, and she recommends it as a sure cure. For 25 years it has never failed to give satisfaction. 1w44d

Invisible but Instantaneous.

All pains or aches will be instantly removed by a few drops of Fluid Lightning applied over the affected parts. No time lost; no nauseous medicines needed; no poulticing or using greasy liniments. It will not blister or discolor the skin. Sold at 25c. per bottle by John McKee Druggist. Sufferers from Neuralgia assure us that they never fear it when their house contains a bottle of Fluid Lightning. eod w63

A Narrow Escape.

People who are exposed to the sudden changes of our northern climate have little chance of escaping colds, coughs, sore throat and lung troubles. The best safe-guard is to keep Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam at hand. It is a quick relief and reliable cure for such complaints. 2w44d

The Modus Operandi.

The mode of operating Burdock Blood Bitters is that it acts at once and the same time upon the Stomach, Liver, Bowels, Kidneys, and the Blood, to cleanse, regulate and strengthen. Hence its almost universal value in Chronic complaints. 2w44d

Cured By B.B.B. When All Else Failed.

Mr. Samuel Allan, of Lisle, Ont., states that he tried all doctors in his locality while suffering for years with Liver and Kidney trouble; nothing benefited him until he took Burdock Blood Bitters, four bottles of which cured him. 2w44d

VICTORY has Perched on the Banner of

PETERBOROUGH'S GREAT CHEAPSIDE!

And SHEPPARD, by common consent, will get $1,000 for being the Cheapest Clothier in Peterborough, having knocked the Wonderful Cheap Man completely out. "Business is Business; Dirt is Dirt, and when it comes to throwing Dirt, then Count" the only original teddy out, and he will hand over that $1,000 like a little man: For the following reasons;—

Sheppard sells a full size Man's Suit for $2.95, and better Goods than a Suit to fit a Child about 9 years old sold by the Wonderful Cheap-Man on Saturday for $3.00; but marked $3.50. This is how it was:—A Lady purchased a Child's Suit on Saturday last, Sept. 17th, 1887, at the Store of the Wonderful Cheap-Man. It was marked thusly:—Lot 5375, Breast 27, Waist 26½, Age 9, Price $3.50. It was pure Shoddy, being held together by cotton threads, and Sheppard is free to say that that was the dearest Suit sold in the Town of Peterborough for the last two years. Full particulars are given because of the $1000 involved, and, further, that this decides who is selling the Cheapest Clothing in Peterborough. SHEPPARD would have sold that Lady a Suit, Pure Wool for that money, and worth two of the one she got.

I had first decided to give the agencies a chance of jumping up my rating that $1.000, but after considering the matter and finding that never in any case have I been asked for an endorser to my paper, and that no relative or any other persons have ever endorsed my paper to the extent of one cent, I have come to the conclusion my credit is as good as yours and will ask you to hand over the $1,000 to the Charitable Institutions of Peterborough.

Now, Sir, there is a good story told the truth of which can be vouched for, but for the honor of at least making an effort to keep up your self-styled name—The Terror of High Priced Clothiers—do not allow the same to be said of you in the case above. A man purchased a suit for $15.00 at the store of one of the largest Advertisers in that section of country. It was guaranteed pure wool; but after examining it carefully at home, he came to the conclusion that he had been dealing with some one sharper than himself. Finding a make of wool, differing some from anything he had ever seen, it dawned upon him, that he had heard of wool of that kind, so the suit was returned. The merchant bet $25.00 that it was all wool, and the bet was accepted the decision being left to a neighboring merchant, he found that the $15.00 suit, was wool faced and shoddy back, pure unadulterated shoddy, but what of the $25.00 bet, was it paid, not much—muchly—as it were.

SHEPPARD is making Wonderful Strides in Securing Marvellous Bargains in Dry Goods, Clothing, Hats and Caps.

Regular Meeting of the Board of Education—The Local Clergymen Before the Board—They Present a Memorial Which is Accepted After Business.

A regular meeting of the Board of Education was held at the board room Tuesday evening. Chairman Stevenson, and Messrs. Wrighton, English, T. Rutherford, McWilliams, Denne, Errett, Dumble, Stratton, A. Rutherford and Burnham, assembled about the board at the hour of beginning.

A number of applications for increases of salary from teachers and for positions on the teaching staff of the public schools from outsiders, were read and referred to the committee on appointments.

Mr. A. G. T. Haultain also urged his claim to the medal awarded by Dr. Tassie to Mr. Armstrong. There was some discussion on this later on in the meeting, and finally it was decided upon motion of Mr. Errett that the Board had nothing to do with the matter.

A couple of communications from the Educational department, return of school attendance and school fees, and some accounts were presented. The latter were ordered to be paid.

Mr. DUMBLE presented the report of the committee on appointments, stating the Mr. F. C. Colbeck, B.A., had been appointed in place of Mr. Rowen, the latter having resigned through illness. Mr. Colbeck asked $850 a year and $900 at the end of the year if approved. The report was adopted.

SUPERVISION COMMITTEE.

Mr. STRATTON, on behalf of the Supervision Committee reported the additions to the Institute library, necessary to comply with the Government Regulations.

"INSPECTOR'S REPORT."

The Inspector's monthly report was also read. Everything was satisfactory in the schools, with no complaints, except from the west ward, where truancy was complained of. Truants and idlers from other schools also congregated in the neighborhood of the west ward school, and were a cause of great annoyance to the teachers. This matter came up at a later stage of the proceedings, and the Mayor was asked to instruct the policemen to extend their beat to that place.

THE QUESTION OF THE HOUR.

As Rev. Messrs. Beck, Wallace and Bell were present as a deputation, they were, on motion, granted a hearing.

Rev. J. W. R. BECK, on coming forward, said he begged to present to the Board a memorial which had been determined upon at a meeting of the clergymen of the town held 30th September last. It was as follows:—

At a meeting of the clergymen of the town for the purpose of considering the subject of the following resolution, after due deliberation:

It was unanimously resolved that—Believing it to be of the utmost importance to keep the children, during their years of education, as much as possible under religious influence, and understanding that "the Department" in Toronto has left it with the Board to put the Bible into the hands of the children, we respectfully ask the Board to order

(1) In addition to present arrangements as regards the evening, the schools shall be opened in the morning by reading the Bible and prayer.

(2) That the Bible be put into the hands of the children so that teacher and children may read it together.

And we recommend that the selections for the morning reading shall be taken from a list of the "Daily Home Readings" of the International Sabbath School Series," and that the regulations of the "Department" in regard to the memorizing of the "Ten Commandments and other portions of Scripture" be strictly carried out.

(Signed) J. W. R. BECK, Chairman.
F. H. WALLACE, Secretary.

Peterborough, Sept. 30th, 1887.

SUPPORTING THE MEMORIAL.

Rev. Mr. BECK, continuing, said:—I may be permitted I suppose to make one or two short remarks upon the subject. I think you will agree with me that there is a strong feeling growing amongst all religious bodies that there should be some religious education provided for the children in the public schools. Some of us think we are really defrauded of a great privilege which another portion of the community enjoys—that is, the Roman Catholics. They have the privilege of instructing their children in religion, but it seems to me that the Protestant community is denied this, and therefore some of us feel that we have a strong grievance; and you will feel I think the force of this when it is the general feeling pervading all the religious bodies. Two or three years ago a committee was appointed from the different religious bodies—I think it was started in our own Synod, and I was the seconder of the resolution, which brought the Committee into being. This Committee was composed of members from the different religious Protestant bodies of the country, and they felt that a grievous injustice was done to us, inasmuch as our children were sent to school and trained in what we thought the less valuable portion of an education—that is, they received a knowledge of secular matters, but religious education was almost entirely eliminated from the educational course. Now, you will see that this feeling is general. It is not on the part of any religious body, but it is manifestly on the part of all religious bodies, and so strong is it that this committee was unanimous in bringing this matter before the Ontario government. So far as I understand it, some changes have been, I think, made to meet the views of that committee, and we further understand that it lies very largely in the hands of the trustees of every school section—or rather, in every town where there are trustees the power is delegated to a large extent to say that a certain amount of religious instruction is to be given the children of the public schools. Therefore we have come to you this evening to ask you to do what you can as far as in your power lies to carry out the law. We don't think that the law is carried out in its full and legitimate meaning, in its full sense as far as it may be carried out; and therefore we come to ask you to see that our children are provided with such religious education as the law of the land at present allows; and we want you to put into force all the recommendations which are suggested by the Act, so that our children may have all these very great advantages.

We understand that the school is opened by the reading of some selections from the Holy Scriptures and by prayer; but we want to ask you to do a little more. We want to ask you to bring in the Bible, and have the Bible read, and we want you likewise, if you see your way clear to do so, for the morning and evening prayer to have a certain list of selections, which are called the "Home Readings of the International Sabbath School series."

Now, these series are used by most of the religious bodies. They are not used by our church here, but I was quite willing to join in this recommendation because it is not a matter of very vital importance that one particular scheme should be introduced so long as a real good series is brought into use, and I believe this is very satisfactory; and as it is used by the great mass of children and all the religious bodies, I readily yielded that point so that there may be no exceptions taken to our request.

Further, we understand that it is within the power of the trustees to direct that the Ten Commandments shall be learned off by heart or memorized. We want to ask you to do that; and also, you have the power, we understand, to see that portions of the Holy Scripture are learned by the children, and we want you, if you see your way clear, to carry that out. With those remarks I beg to lay the memorial before you, Mr. Chairman and gentlemen.

REV. MR. WALLACE

said:—I don't feel it is incumbent upon me to say much. I would simply say this, that I stand only by this resolution. I would not like to be bound by every word that my clerical brethren might say, or all that they may think concerning the subject. We, in our ministerial capacities, met the other evening. We don't pretend to ignore the fact that there was a difference on certain points; but we come here to say that there is no difference between us on the points raised in this memorial. We were one in this, and thought it wise in our hearts, that what we have asked here might afford a common ground for all our opinions to stand upon. In the meaning and significance and thought and purpose of this resolution there is no reflection meant upon the book of selections which has been provided for use in our schools. Personally, I am frank to say, I approve of this book of selections, and I don't intend to reflect upon the Ontario government, the book of selections, the trustees or anyone. We don't propose to object to the present usage of the book of selections in the public schools; we ask as an addition to it that you in the morning open the school with prayer and recognize the use of the Holy Scripture by asking the scholars to bring their Bibles with them; and in order that we might ask something definite we have cast upon this very good series of lessons, and the list is acceptable. I don't care if you use the book of selections or what you use so long as we once had the Bible as such in the hands of the scholars, so long as the scholars are familiarized with the use of that one book.

All of us are, I think, agreed upon the importance of the moral training of the children in our schools, and that the Bible affords the best means for that training; and would it not be better to harmonize all feelings that in any way reflect upon the action which has given the present excellent selections?

Mr. A. RUTHERFORD—Will you kindly tell which version of the Bible you want—the old or the new?

Rev. Mr. WALLACE—Any version you please, so long as it is the Bible.

Mr. RUTHERFORD—This is very important. I understand you want the Bible in the hands of each child, and which do you want, the old or the revised version?

Rev. Mr. WALLACE—It is commonly supposed that by the Bible is meant the old authorized version.

THE PASTOR OF ST. ANDREW'S.

Rev. Mr. BELL said:—I cannot add much to what has been stated to the Board. I think we are all agreed as to the importance in putting the Bible first in matters of this kind, and showing the children by the use of it that there is nothing restricted, everything free. And the choice of selections of the International Series is a wise one. Parents and children are satisfied with these selections, as they contain all of the Bible that is necessary to be used by the children. Satisfied are the most fastidious with it in every way. And they will give the utmost satisfaction, so that the children will every morning and evening read something that is connected with the Sabbath School—and thus there is an object.

Now, if we want to make the reading of the Bible satisfactory, doing it in this satisfactory way, I think, will accomplish it a great deal more easily than having portions read perhaps, at random and without any selection; having the Bible free, and the selections free, and every thing in connection with the sabbath school work. I think it is an excellent plan, and I hope the Board will see their way clear. As Mr. Wallace said, it is not infringing upon the rights of the Board in making this request.

A CONTRA OPINION.

Mr. J. R. STRATTON said:—"In connection with this matter which has been spoken of, I beg leave to present the following motion:—Moved by J. R. Stratton, seconded by Mr. A. Rutherford,—whereas this Board has heard the representations of the delegates from the Ministerial Association of Peterborough in reference to the religious instruction of the pupils in the high and public schools; and whereas Scripture readings have been prepared at the suggestion of the representatives of the different religious denominations empowered to deal with the subject, which selections have been approved of by such representatives and adopted by the Department of Education and unanimously approved of by the Ontario Legislature, subject to the departmental regulations making optional the use of the readings or of the Bible; and whereas the departmental regulations leave it optional to use either the Scripture readings or the Bible;

Be it therefore resolved that this Board accede to the request of the Ministerial Association so far as regards the introduction of the Bible into the schools, leaving it optional, however, with the teacher to make his own selections from the Bible or to use the authorized Scripture readings as he or she deems best.

But inasmuch as the International Sabbath School Lessons, from which it is requested that the daily lessons be selected, are prepared under denominational auspices, chiefly by American ministers, and presumably by one man and approved of afterwards, and would, therefore, be open to objections similar to those urged against the Scripture readings; and inasmuch as the International series is not approved of by the authorities of the Church of England, who use a series of Sunday School Lessons, prepared under their own direction, the adoption by this Board of the International Series of Selections would not meet with the approval of a large body of Protestant supporters of the High and Public Schools.

Therefore be it resolved that this Board does not deem it wise or expedient to direct the use of any selections from the Bible, other than those the teachers' judgment may suggest, or those found in the Scripture readings.

Be it also resolved that the teachers be instructed to carry out the regulations of the department in regard to the memorizing of the Ten Commandments.

I may say, he continued, that as far as I am personally concerned I have no objections whatever to the Bible being placed in the schools, in the hands of the teacher or pupil, or both. We have in the province of Ontario an educational department, and that department prescribes and regulates how the schools of this province shall be governed, and the duties of teachers as they are laid down; and it is the duty of this Board and the people of this province to abide by the laws of this body. And I would just say that, with regard to the International series of school lessons, I presume Mr. Beck is here in his individual capacity as Mr. Beck, not as speaking on behalf of the members of his congregation, because I have been speaking to some of them and they are opposed to placing in their children's hands the International Sunday school lessons. And, Mr. Chairman, I think that this Board is quite prepared to do anything in its power to enable the teachers or the ministers themselves to give the children all the religious instruction that it is possible for them to do; and in this connection I have another resolution which I intend to move and which perhaps it would be better to read now, to show what it is my intention of doing in this matter. [Reads resolution, which appears further on]. That will, I think, enable the clergy of the town to meet with the children of their own denomination, and meet with the case in hand."

MR. DUMBLE'S REMARKS.

Mr. D. W. DUMBLE said:—"The suggestion with regard to the inculcation of religious truth is, of course, very valuable, and we all approve of it; but there are difficulties in the way. I don't think the children would bring their Bibles. It means that a few Bibles would be obtained, and probably the Board would have to get the others. It means that every child at the reading would have to get his page, and that every child would have to find the place, and that every child would have to help his neighbor, and that a lot of time would be lost. If the children had the Bibles in their hands and had to follow their teacher there would be an element of confusion introduced into the room, and there would be an amount of time taken up that is valuable, and which I think the teachers would hardly have to spare. There are not two religious services (that is Scripture readings) a day now I think, so that there is another innovation which would also take time. Of course there is reading taught in the school, and when you want a book of literature to teach morals at the same time, the Bible is the best and most beautiful model in literature. There is no doubt about it. It is admitted by such men as Macauley and others who have a taste for literature. The only way I think this thing can be accomplished would be to use the Bible as a reader to some extent. Now, I imagine if children were simply following the teacher there would not be much attention paid to it, while if it was used as a reader and anyone of them was called to stand up and read, then the child would be taught reading. With regard to it being read in school, you must understand that the high schools are for Protestant and Catholic, and there might be objection in the religious services to having the Bible that is not authorized by the Roman Catholic authorities, read. Now, the book of selections is approved of by the Roman Catholic authorities as having nothing in it they can object to, and that is one reason why it can be safely used without creating trouble. Of course the gentlemen present admit the desirability of having selections. They themselves, when they read in the Sabbath services, do not open the book at random. If they did they would be surprised sometimes. They make a very careful selection and know exactly what they are going to read. But teachers would not take the trouble of making selections before going to school, and if they open the Bible haphazard they would often light upon portions not the most suitable for reading. Therefore it is admitted that the book that has been approved of by all the churches and the Synods, and the book that saves them from trouble and which they like; the book is known, and the more it is known and examined the more it is approved of. Now, at present it is not compulsory; the teacher may read from the Bible or from the Selections. Therefore they are free. I don't see, Mr. Chairman, how we can have two Scripture readings in a day. I am afraid they would have to make a change in the programme of school exercises. As for the ministers giving instructions to the children, the law is there and they have the privilege, and they have never asked for it. It is the law, and we cannot prevent it if they ask for it. Of course, Mr. Chairman, you remember that a few years ago it was admitted that selections were advisable and Mr. Beck and Mr. Bell made selections, and we took and used them. I think we ought to leave it just as it is. As for the commandments, of course the law requires us to compel instruction to them, to commit them to memory.

I move in amendment that this matter be referred to the Committee on Supervision, because I think the teachers would have to be conferred with. If the Bible could be used to read from and used as a book for instruction in literature and morals, it would be a good idea.

Mr. WRIGHTON—I don't think that this Board has any power to appoint the reading of the Bible in the schools.

ANOTHER MOTION.

Dr. BURNHAM moved that the memorial of the petitioners be granted, and that the principals of the schools be instructed to carry it out.

A WORD AGAINST IT.

Mr. A. RUTHERFORD—I think the Board would not be doing a wise thing if they attempted to pass this memorial and amendment which Dr. Burnham wishes this Board to adopt to-night, namely, to adopt a series of scripture readings which is not authorized by the department of education. If this Board and other boards throughout the country are going to turn themselves into departments of education, the quicker the government resigns all recognition of it the better. It would be simply folly for us to enact contrary to the government. I think the government has acted very generously in the way they have. We all know they compiled the selections, which great objection was made to, and they modified it to the very thing that the gentlemen were clamoring for—that the Bible shall be read in the schools. That was fair and just. Why should we introduce a third series of selections, especially as Mr. Stratton has pointed out a great portion of Mr. Beck's congregation object to it? We had better carry the resolution now before us (Mr. Stratton's). As to these scripture readings from the Bible, I think there are one or two very important factors. What guarantee have we that the teachers read them at all? Now they are only gabbled over. There is no attention paid to it at all, and unless you can compel the teachers to read out of the Bible I think you will find the selections losing ground altogether; for the selections or Bible will be merely to pass time away. They will not pay that attention that these gentlemen desire. The Bible was read in the schools of England in my day, but the children nowadays are so much better educated that they must have two or three different forms. Moreover, you are aware that the matter has already been settled by this Board, that the Bible should be read and that the selections of Scripture readings shall also be read if the teachers so desire.

Mr. WRIGHTON—I don't think that is the case.

Mr. RUTHERFORD—Very well, if it is not the case you have it before you now.

Mr. DENNE—"I would like to know why you gentlemen say the Bible is in the schools when it is not." He stated that the other day the Principal wanted to use a Bible, and had to send out of the school for it.

THE NATIONAL SERIES.

Rev. Mr. BECK said:—With reference to the Scripture readings—they are not used by the Church of England, but after hearing the discussion here I should think it is quite evident to anyone that if I came here and asked for the special series of lessons which the church of England uses and my friends here had asked for the national series, the argument would have been against us. Therefore I yielded that matter. We would be glad to get in the national series rather than nothing. We, and I speak for my own congregation, we would be glad to have the national series rather than none at all. They are not of course as good as our own, because they don't inculcate our own doctrines, but we would rather have the national series than nothing.

Mr. RUTHERFORD—I object to the clause which says the Bible shall be placed in the hands of each scholar, on the ground that it would be a matter of expense of which no notice has been given.

Rev. Mr. WALLACE—I was going to say that it does literally call for the placing of Bibles in the hands of the scholars, but it is no matter whether they bring their own Bibles or the School Board provides them. If you find children that cannot bring them then it would perhaps be necessary to provide them.

Mr. ERRETT—Would not each child have to get both the International selections and the Bible too?

Rev. Mr. WALLACE—It is not a book, but merely a list of selections from the Bible. You now close your schools by reading from the selections. Put in their hands this list of selections and let them read from the Bible. The one great principle is to have the Bible placed in the hands of the scholars, that they may recognize it as God's Book.

Mr. ERRETT—Have you compared the selections you speak of with the book now in use?

Rev. Mr. WALLACE—These selections have a direct bearing upon the Sunday School lessons, and they would keep the Public and Sunday Schools in harmony.

A HEAD-MASTER'S OPINION.

Mr. DUMBLE enquired of Mr. Smith, headmaster of the Central School, if it would be practical and satisfactory.

Mr. SMITH—I think it can be done. Of course it always takes time. I don't know that it would be a very wise thing. It would take considerable time to find the place, and when they did find it they would not pay any attention to it. The teacher would have to teach them, no matter what book they read from. The time would be better spent by the teacher talking to them from a passage of scripture.

Mr. DUMBLE—You have only one religious exercise a day—that is, scripture reading?

Mr. SMITH—We have only one prayer in the morning and one in the evening. We have no books in the school.

Mr. DUMBLE—That is another outcome of this quarrelling about the Bible. It ends in the Bible not being read at all.

THE QUESTION.

Chairman STEVENSON then brought the discussion to a close by putting to the Board Dr. Burnham's amendment to grant the petition of the memorial. Following is the vote:—

YEAS—Messrs. Burnham, English, T. Rutherford, Denne and Wrighton—5.

NAYS—Messrs. Stratton, A. Rutherford, McWilliams, Errett and Dumble—5.

Chairman STEVENSON—It's a tie. I wish to vote; the amendment is carried.

THE RESULT.

The result of the whole discussion and vote is that the Bible is to be read in the schools in the morning, the schools are to be closed by the reading of a passage from the selected scripture readings, and the reading of the prayer authorized by the department. The lesson read from the Bible is to be the lesson taken from the International Sunday series; and the Ten Commandments must be committed to memory by the pupils and drilled in them by the teachers once a week.

RELIGIOUS INSTRUCTION.

Mr. STRATTON then introduced the following motion, which he had read previously:—

Moved by J. R. STRATTON, seconded by J. R. McWilliams,—that inasmuch as a regulation of the department has been in force for several years permitting weekly instruction by the clergy of each religious persuasion to the children of their flocks, therefore this Board in deference to the desire of the ministers of the town to promote the spiritual welfare of pupils of the High and Public schools; resolves that the school buildings shall after school hours in the evenings be placed at the disposal of the ministers of the different denominations for the purpose of giving religious instruction to the pupils of their denominations in the following manner or in such other manner as may be agreed upon between the several ministers, that is to say:

Monday evenings—The Presbyterian Ministers.

Tuesday evenings—the Roman Catholic Clergy.

Wednesday evening—the Baptist Ministers.

Thursday evenings — the Methodist Ministers.

Friday evenings—the Anglican Clergy.

Mr. STRATTON said this would give His Lordship Bishop Dowling the privilege of instructing the children of his Church if he wished. He could take them into a room by themselves, and as each denomination had different days, it would avoid all clashing.

Mr. ERRETT.—Where does the Salvation Army come in?

Mr. STRATTON.—They can have Saturday.

Mr. WRIGHTON.—That might apply to high Schools, but not to common schools. Those are for Protestants only.

Mr. DUMBLE contended that it did apply to common schools, which he said were common to Protestant and Catholic alike. The Catholic can go to a common school he said, and claim education as much as an Anglican or Presbyterian.

Mr. LONG, Principal of the Collegiate Institute, enquired what were his duties under the new order of things. Was he to read the Bible as indicated? The high school was a mixed school, while the common school was not. Roman Catholics in his school might object, and he wanted to know what he was to do.

CHAIRMAN STEVENSON took him up quite sharply; and said, that if after hearing all the discussion, he didn't understand his duties, a printed form would be sent to him.

AN OBJECTION.

Mr. A. RUTHERFORD objected to the resolution inasmuch as were it adopted there would be all sorts of controversies. They had had enough religious discussion to-night, so much so that the Principal of the Institute didn't know what to do.

Mr. DUMBLE sustained the motion. The new arrangement was that the minister of each denomination should give the children of his church religious instruction, and this plan was to avoid clashing.

The motion, on being put to the meeting, was lost on the same division.

MISCELLANEOUS MOTIONS.

Moved by J. R. Stratton, seconded by Dr. Burnham, that the teachers in the schools from the second book up, under the jurisdiction of this Board, be instructed to arrange in their schemes of classes for the teaching of the principles of the book authorized by the Department of Education for use in the schools entitled "Lessons on Alcohol, and its Action on the Body."—Carried.

Mr. STRATTON moved that Messrs. Dumble, Wrighton and Burnham be delegates to the provincial convention of high school trustees to be held in Toronto in December.—Carried.

Mr. STRATTON moved that the Principal of the Collegiate Institute be instructed to procure a Bible for the library of the Institute at a cost not exceeding $2.—Carried.

Mr. WRIGHTON moved that a reward of $10 be paid for such information as will lead to the conviction of the parties who broke the windows in the south ward school with stones within the last ten days.—Carried.

The Board then adjourned.

A moderate understanding, with diligent and well-directed application, will go much farther than a more lively genius attended with that impatience and inattention which too often accompany quick parts.

STILLWELL'S STILL CELL.

IT DOESN'T SUIT HIM AND HE WANTS TO GET OUT.

The Mail and the Binding Twine Question—A Vessel Held on a Claim of $40,000—The Expiration of General Middleton's Term—Supreme Court Cases.

OTTAWA, Nov. 2.—Mr. Donald Macmaster, Q.C., and Mr. Jas. Leitch of Cornwall to-day, presented a petition to Chief Justice Sir William Ritchie in chambers for a writ of habeas corpus quashing the sentence passed on Mr. Stillwell, the editor of The Glengarrian, sentenced a few days ago by Judge O'Connor to one month's imprisonment and a fine of $200, with two months' additional imprisonment if the fine was not paid, for alleged libel of Mr. Patrick Purcell, M.P.

The ground of the application was that the judge exceeded his jurisdiction in the terms of the sentence and that the commitment framed upon the sentence was a nullity. The application was made in virtue of the habeas corpus jurisdiction conferred upon the judges of the Supreme Court to review the proceedings in criminal matters in the lower courts. The main points in support of the petition were that Judge O'Connor had no right to order that the defendant's goods should be levied on to satisfy the fine of $200 imposed and that he had no right to impose imprisonment as an alternative for non-payment of the fine, the libel statute simply empowering the judge to impose a fine or imprisonment, or both, but not giving him power to authorize distress or imprisonment for non-payment of the fine as was provided under the Summary Convictions Act.

An order was made upon the Attorney-General of Ontario to show cause at 10 o'clock on Saturday morning next why the writ of habeas corpus should not be granted and the prisoner discharged.

It will be remembered that a few days ago the barque Loyal ran into and sank the Government lightship at the Traverse, and that an action had been entered at the Vice Admiralty Court, Quebec, to recover from the Loyal the cost of the Lightship, $40,000. A Danish gentleman, representing the owners, and Mr. Cook, a Quebec lawyer, had interviews to-day with the Ministers of Marine and Fisheries and Justice with a view to effecting a compromise, but are understood to have been unsuccessful in effecting a settlement. Mr. Gregory, agent of the Department of Marine at Quebec, who has just returned from the scene of the disaster, reports that the prospects of raising the ship are good if the weather is favorable.

The steamer Bayfield, engaged in the Georgian Bay hydrographic survey, has gone into winter quarters at Owen Sound, and the Department of Marine are having a building erected for housing the boats and appliances used in connection with the expedition.

Mr. Kauper, who was here during last session as the representative of a syndicate of capitalists who offer to purchase the Intercolonial Railway, and establish iron smelting works in Nova Scotia, is expected to return in a few days and spend some time in Canada. It is said that the syndicate proposes spending a considerable amount in investigating the mineral resources of the Maritime Provinces.

It is understood that His Excellency will not exercise executive clemency in the case of Ah Chow, a Chinaman, under sentence of death in British Columbia for murdering another Chinaman. He will be hanged on Nov. 18.

Under the Imperial regulations Sir Frederick Middleton will retire from active service the day after to-morrow, and there is considerable doubt whether he can still retain command of the Canadian militia. It is understood that no action in the matter has been taken by the Government.

Mr. Sandford Fleming, the originator of the twenty-four hour system, has received a letter from the Japanese Minister in London, Eng., stating that his system will be adopted throughout the Japanese Empire on Jan. 1, 1888. He is also informed that it is giving satisfactory results in Sweden, and expresses the belief that it is only a matter of a few years before the system will be universally adopted.

The Supreme Court resumed its sittings to-day, when the Quebec list was continued, the first case being that of the Quebec Street Railway v. the Corporation of Quebec. The litigation was commenced in the lower court about two years ago. It arose over the attempts of the Corporation to take possession, after due notice, of the Quebec Street Railway and on payment of the value of the company's property, placed at $38,000, the Corporation proposed to run the street car service itself. The company is opposing the deal on the ground that the contract with the Corporation has not yet expired. Judgment was reserved.

The next case was one of great interest to brewers, being that of Molson et al. v. Lambe. The questions argued on this appeal are whether the appellants, being licensed brewers under a license from the Government of the Dominion of Canada, could authorize their draymen to go round the City of Montreal taking orders and selling beer by wholesale and are subject to the provisions of the Quebec License Law; also, whether a writ of prohibition before conviction is the proper remedy to prevent the police magistrate from taking further proceedings on a summons and complaint issued by him charging A. Ryan, in the service of appellants, with having sold intoxicating liquors without a license from the Provincial Government. The argument was going on when the court rose.

Hon. J. A. Chapleau returns from New York on Saturday.

Judge Clark of Cobourg was in the city yesterday on business with the Department of Railways.

Mr. W. Smith, Deputy Minister of Marine, will leave for New York to-morrow to receive Mr. Chamberlain and Mr. Bergne of the Fisheries Commission.

Sir Hector Langevin, in a private letter to a friend in this city, says he is daily gaining strength, and hopes very soon to return to official duty.

OF INTEREST TO CATTLEMEN.

A Toronto Firm Gets a Verdict Against the Allan Company.

MONTREAL, Nov. 2.—Judge Taschereau has just rendered an important judgment for shippers of cattle and owners of vessels. In July, 1885, Mr. A. J. Thompson and other western cattle dealers placed on board the Allan steamship "Norwegian" at this port, 100 head of cattle to be shipped to Glasgow. The cattle were embarked at daybreak with the understanding that the ship would start in the early morning. She only left about 4 p.m., however, and as the day was exceedingly warm twenty-one cattle took sick and died from the effects, some in port and others after leaving. An action of damages was subsequently taken by the shippers, with the result that the court has granted $100 damages for the loss of each head of cattle, in all $2100, attributing the death of the animals to the negligence of the company's agents in not complying with the terms of the contract.

FIRE AT OWEN SOUND.

Harrison's Planing Mill and Sash Factory Entirely Destroyed.

OWEN SOUND, Ont., Nov. 2.—About midnight last night a destructive fire broke out in Harrison's planing mill and sash factory. The building and contents being of such an inflammable nature, it took but a short time to reduce it to ashes. A strong south wind was blowing, and it was feared the flames would spread to the saw mill and lumber yards, but by the persevering exertions of the firemen the fire was confined to the building in which it started. The loss is estimated at about $10,000; insured in the Waterloo for $3000. The fire was undoubtedly of incendiary origin, as there was no fire in the furnace after 6 o'clock, and the place where the fire originated was just inside the door about forty feet from the engine room.

THE MIDDLETON DIVORCE SUIT.

The Papers in the Case Served on the Respondent at Detroit.

OTTAWA, Nov. 2.—The Middleton divorce suit has been advanced another step. Private advices received here to-day state that Dominion Commissioner of Police Sherwood, who is acting in behalf of Mr. Middleton, has served upon Mrs. Middleton, in Detroit, notice of Mr. W. F. Middleton's intention to apply to the Senate for a bill of divorce. Mr. F. W. Hamilton, who announced through the press in Montreal that Mr. Middleton's application for divorce would be contested, is understood to be also in Detroit. If a fraction of the stories afloat are true there will be some queer developments before the Senate committee.

A MAN'S MEANNESS.

A Young Doctor Clears Out Two Hours Before the Time Set for His Marriage.

OTTAWA, Nov. 2.—The little village of Aylmer, nine miles from here, has been thrown into a terrible flutter of excitement over the curious conduct of an intending bridegroom who was to have been married to a very estimable young lady at 7 o'clock last night, but who, for some unknown reason, cleared out of the village about two hours before the time appointed for the ceremony. The gentleman is a young man of good family, having a fair practice, and was regarded as quite a rising man, his connections having both wealth and high social position. The lady is the daughter of a retired civil servant who served his country long and faithfully and was superannuated a few years ago.

THE SHEPPARD CASE.

A Toronto Doctor Certifies that Defendant is too Ill to Attend the Assizes.

MONTREAL, Nov. 2.—The November term of the Court of Queen's Bench opened to-day, Chief Justice Sir A. A. Dorion presiding.

When the name of E. E. Sheppard, charged with libel, was called his solicitor stated that he had received a certificate from a Toronto physician informing him that Mr. Sheppard was unable to leave his house from sickness.

Mr. Greenshields moved that a bench warrant should be issued, but the Chief Justice allowed the matter to stand over until Friday.

THE ANARCHIST'S APPEAL.

THE SUPREME COURT REFUSES THE WRIT OF ERROR.

Unless the Governor Intervenes the Condemned Men Will be Hanged—The Anarchists in New York Greatly Excited Over the News.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—The decision of the U.S. Court upon the petition for a writ of error in the case of the Chicago Anarchists was announced this afternoon by Chief Justice Waite in a long and carefully prepared opinion, which occupied thirty-five minutes in the reading. The court holds in brief, first, that the first ten amendments to the constitution are limitations upon federal and not upon state action; second, that the jury law of Illinois is upon its face valid and constitutional, and that it is similar in its provisions to the statute of Utah, which was sustained in this court in the case of Hopt v. The Territory of Utah; third, that it does not appear in the record that upon the evidence of the trial, the court should have declared the juror Sandford incompetent; fourth, that the objection to the admission of the Johann Most letter, and the cross-examination of Spies, which counsel for the prisoners maintained virtually compelled them to testify against themselves, were not objected to in the trial court, and that therefore no foundation was laid for the exercise of this court's jurisdiction; and fifth, that the question raised by Gen. Butler in the cases of Spies and Fielden upon the basis of their foreign nationality was neither raised nor decided in the State courts, and therefore cannot be considered here. The writ of error prayed for must consequently be denied.

They Have Nothing to Say.

CHICAGO, Nov. 2.—The first news of the decision was taken to the County Jail by an Associated Press reporter, Jailer Folts said: "Well, it is just what we expected." There were no visitors at the jail to-day, and all the prisoners were in their cells when the news arrived. A note was sent up to Spies telling him that the writ had been denied, and asking him if he had any statement to make. Spies was sitting in his cell busily engaged with some manuscript. He read the note and returned it with a short note. "I have nothing to say." None of the other men would say anything. Everything is perfectly quiet in and around the jail and, in fact, all over the city. The denial of the writ is what was universally expected here.

THE FEELING IN NEW YORK.

The Anarchists There Make Dark Threats of Reprisals.

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—The Anarchists of this city are wild over the decision of the United States Supreme Court, declining to interfere with the hanging of the Chicago bomb throwers.

Otto Fierstein, who is connected with the Anarchist society in this city, when questioned as to the hanging of their Chicago brethren said: "We have formed a society, composed of our most true and tried men, sworn on pain of death to kill 100 men for every man of our society that is killed, and in the event of one being struck down in the attempt to do so there are ten others only too ready to take his place."

"But the police are watching your movements and will adopt every precaution to prevent a reprisal," interpolated the reporter.

"Oh, that is all bosh," he said. "The police know as little about our society as about its objects, or about our meetings as they do about the man in the moon. They know of only a few men like Herr Most—men who talk but never act. Besides, will it be surprising to you to know that we have a good many of those very police enrolled in our ranks who will notify us of every secret and every preconcerted arrangement at police headquarters."

Anthony J. Gavaghan, the well-known Irish-American revolutionist, whose extradition, with that of Paige H. Sheridan, was demanded by the English Government and refused by President Arthur, and who became a prominent leader of the Anarchists shortly after, in reply to the reporter's interrogations said: "The Anarchists as a class have for some time past been subject to great vilification and misrepresentation. Their movements and meetings have been grossly exaggerated, and everything unreasonable and barbarous has been credited to them. But in the case of this decision the power of the Anarchists, their numbers and the influences they wield, will become apparent and prove a most formidable menace to the stability of our so-called American institutions. The red flag will not alone be hoisted, but every man, woman and child identified with the prosecution of those Chicago Anarchists will require more police protection than did James Carey, the Irish informer, or Secretary Seward after the assassination of Abraham Lincoln. There are 10,000 Anarchists in this city alone, ready to do and dare and die, if necessary, to avenge the murder of these men, cost what it will. We believe in an eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth."

Herr Most refused to say anything.

No Fear of Open Violence.

CHICAGO, Nov. 2.—The streets about the jail are perfectly quiet. No crowds have gathered and no incidents of any sort have as yet occurred; The police are prepared for any emergency, though they say they have no fear of any uprising or open violence.

EXPLOSION IN A LONDON CLUB.

An Attempt to Blow Up the Carlton—Four Persons Injured.

LONDON, Nov. 2.—An attempt was made this afternoon to blow up the Carlton Club. The explosion took place in the basement and blew out all the first floor windows and injured four persons. The streets here are filled with excited people.

Job Printers on Strike at St. Louis.

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 2.—This morning union job printers of this city, numbering 150, struck for an increase of $1 per week. Last week they made the demand of the Typothetæ, an organization of employers, and gave them until to-day to answer. Last night the employers, with one exception, refused to comply. The Great Western Printing Company is the only job office which acceded to the demand and they kept their union men. The wages heretofore were $18. The newspaper men are not affected by the strike.

Bringing in the Dead.

TWO RIVERS, Wis., Nov. 2.—The bodies of nineteen victims of the Vernon disaster were brought in here by harbor tugs to-day.

MR. BLAKE IN IRELAND.

WHILE SPEAKING IN LIMERICK HE DENOUNCES LANDLORDISM.

O'Brien and Mandeville Removed From Cork to the Jail at Tullamore, Fifty Miles From Dublin—The Prisoners Will Have to Wear the Prison Garb.

DUBLIN, Nov. 2.—Mr. Blake, an ex-Minister of the Canadian Cabinet, in a speech at Glen Sharrold, the scene of the evictions from the estate of the Rev. John Delmege, a rich landlord of the county of Limerick, said the evictions enforced by Delmege were shameful in every detail. It was a burning shame and humiliation, he said, to find a man living in luxury while his tenants were in a state of misery, such as should work God's curse on its author and abettor. He earnestly advised his hearers to combine against the landlords, declaring that they had everything to justify them in that course in the sight of God and man.

CORK, Nov. 2.—William O'Brien and Mr. Mandeville, who are under sentence for using seditious language at Mitchelstown, were quietly removed from the jail here, at 5 o'clock this morning, and taken away in a special train. It is supposed they are to be placed in prison in Dublin. The news of their removal was not known to the people of Cork until 10 o'clock. It caused tremendous excitement.

A later despatch says that Mr. O'Brien has been lodged in the jail at Tullamore, 50 miles from Dublin.

A Tax on Raw Material.

MONTREAL, Nov. 2.—When the bark James Martin arrived in port here the custom house officers dropped down on the captain for having two Chinamen on board called Ah Cop (steward) and Ah How (cook), who were shipped in England, without paying duty on them. They were seized and put into bond until agents had paid the $100 duty and had produced a certificate proving that they were free from contagious disease.

Is Commercial Union Desirable?

To the Editor of the Examiner:—

The question of Commercial Union is one which concerns everyone in Canada, and everyone should study it and endeavor to ascertain its real value. As usual in this country, it has become a political question also, and, however desirable commercial union may be to us, its benefits are to be thrown away in order to uphold the political party that is opposed to it. Of course commercial union means death to protection, but it also means life to the country and the people at large. If it can be shown that its adoption will advance our prosperity, then it will be to the interest of our people to adopt it. What is commercial union? As I understand it, and as I believe it to be, it means a free, mutual interchange between Canada and the United States of everything which the people of each of these countries have to buy and sell or exchange, just as is now the case among the different provinces of our confederacy, and just as is the case among the different states of the Union, or United States. It means the abolition of all Custom Houses between these two countries. And it means that when a man in Canada has anything to sell, if he can get a better price for it in the United States, he will be at liberty to sell and deliver it there with as much freedom as he can now sell and deliver it in any of the provinces of Canada. Now, the question is whether sixty-five millions of customers in the United States, added to our own people, will be better for the seller than the bare five millions of our own customers, and whether it would not be to the advantage of the seller to be able to deal with seventy millions than to be restricted to five millions. And whether, if a Canadian wanted to buy something it would not be

to be at liberty to buy from seventy millions of people than from only five millions. If competition is the life of trade, as it is said to be, and as it is, then surely it must be better for our people to have all the markets of the United States to select from than to be denied that privilege and to be confined to the markets of Canada alone. The opponents of Commercial Union must either say that the more we limit our markets for the sale and purchase of goods the better will it be for use or they must admit that Commercial Union will be good for us. There are only two sides to this question. And although Mr. Bertram at a recent dinner given to him here upon the occasion of his leaving town, asserted that it would be both inexpedient and dangerous to have Commercial Union, yet the great majority of our people, including all those who are not blinded by political prejudices, will differ from Mr. Bertram and tell him that he does not properly understand this question. Mr. Bertram is only a man after all, and although he may not think so, yet he is not infallible any more than the rest of us. And if Mr. Bertram's so called argument is carried out to its legitimate conclusion, he must be prepared to hold that the more restricted the limits of trade and commerce the better it will be for us. And that if it will be more profitable for us to be confined to Canada alone in our commercial business than to have the privilege to go into all the markets of the adjoining sixty-five millions of people; thus, by a parity of reasoning, the settler would make the most money if, for instance, he were obliged to sell in Peterborough alone and be not allowed to go to Montreal or Toronto. And so in buying, that he should be compelled to buy in Peterborough and not be allowed to buy of Mr. Bertram his goods in Toronto. I dare say that Mr. Bertram would not be willing

TO CARRY HIS ARGUMENT SO FAR AS THIS,

but if he is consistent, and if he really believes in the truth of his own declarations, he will have to do so. And suppose we join Mr. Bertram in his opposition to Commercial Union and to all its logical sequences, and we, in defiance of that opposition, go to Mr. Bertram's store in Toronto and ask to be allowed to purchase some of his goods, what would be his answer? Would he tell us that we would do better if we bought in Peterborough, and that our buying in Toronto would be to uphold Commercial Union to which he was opposed, or would he extol the quality of his goods and press us to by them, holding his opposition to Commercial Union in abeyance until after our departure. Mr. Bertram says that Commercial Union means our ultimate absorption by the United States because the number of people there being so very much larger than the number of the people in Canada, by sheer force of gravitation aided by Commercial Union, we the less number would be swallowed up by the greater number. This kind of argument might not be surprising if offered by a school boy, but it is surprising coming as it does from one who thinks himself a statesman and a wise man. Canada and the United States have lived together for more than a hundred years, have done business together for all that time, part of that time have had comparatively reciprocal free trade, and yet Canada has not been absorbed, nor is it likely to be by any system of Commercial laws. Nor will it be if the trade between the two countries be made perfectly free for all time to come. I always thought the more bidders a man had for the articles he had to sell, the more he was likely to get for them. And so, the more people there were for him to purchase from the more likelihood there was of his buying what he wanted cheaper. Because the greater the competition for his trade the better would be his bargains. That

and just what it will accomplish. As an illustration, suppose a man has a horse for sale. If he were confined solely to the markets of Canada, the buyer, knowing this, would just offer him what he pleased, however much below the real value of his horse, and he would be obliged to take it. But suppose he sold to a purchaser in the United States, where the value of the horse was much greater. Under existing customs laws, he would have to sell to such purchaser at a price so much less the duties paid in taking the horse into such other country. Now, if we had Commercial Union, the seller of the horse would get the benefit of that customs duty, and would put so much more money into his own pocket. And just so would it be with all kinds of grain and produce, and also with our lumber and other articles of export. And yet we are told that we will not benefit by Commercial Union, and that to have it would be the annihilation of our separate nationality and our absorption into the United States. If Canada would not be absorbed when she was poor, how could she be absorbed when she became rich? Look at Canada as it stands to-day. She has a debt of three hundred millions of dollars, on which her people are paying yearly

NEARLY FIFTEEN MILLIONS OF DOLLARS IN-TEREST,

all of which money goes to her creditors in England, and which we lose the benefit of. The country is obliged to raise to carry on the Government the yearly sum of nearly forty millions of dollars. In addition to all this the people are taxed enormously under our protective tariff, amounting annually to probably ten millions of dollars more. And the general expenses of the country are increasing yearly. This debt of three hundreds of millions of dollars on a population of five millions is equal to the sum of $60 upon every man, woman and child in the country. Or if we take the bread winners and tax payers only, it is equal to a debt of three hundred dollars upon each one of these. And if we take the population of the county of Peterborough at thirty thousand it is equal to a debt upon it of one million eight hundred thousand dollars. And if we take only the bread winners and tax payers of this county it will be upon each one of them of thirty dollars. And if we divide the annual interest of our public debt among the same bread winners of the Dominion it would equal the yearly sum of $15. And if we take the loss to the country through our protective policy at ten millions at dollars, it will be a debt upon each bread winner of ten dollars. Now let the people calculate how much these several sums amount to and they will then realize the large sums which they have to raise out of their hard earnings every year. And if in addition to all these they estimate how much they annually lose on their grain and produce through the Customs duties of the United States, they will cease to be surprised at the country's poverty and at the

into the United States, which drain, it is estimated, amounts to some eighty thousand of our people every year, saying nothing of the million and a half of Canadians who are already there. What does this great emigration from our country indicate. What, but that the people are discontented and dissatisfied with their condition here. Now if this thing goes on in an increasing ratio, as it must and will do, how long will it take before the whole country will be absorbed into the United States? And yet Mr. Bertram contends if we want to keep Canada for Canadians we must keep the people discontented and poor. I always thought that the best way to keep our people at home was to give them good trade facilities and so make them rich and contented. But it seems I am wrong. It seems that the people delight to live where they are discontented and poor, where they are not prosperous, and where they and their wives and children have to work long hours to raise money to keep up an extravagant government and to make rich a few favorites and monopolists and manufacturers. If they want to perpetuate this state of things they will continue as they are. But if they want better times, if they want prosperity and happiness, they will insist upon having Commercial Union.

ACCIDENT

On Thursday last Joseph Ayotte attempted to fire off a 44 calibre cartridge with a nail and the shell burst blowing off the tops of two of his fingers. The bullet passed through his clothing, but fortunately struck the breast bone from which it glanced and passed down his arm leaving a painful, but not dangerous wound.

I have been bothered with catarrh for about twenty years. I had lost my sense of smell entirely for the last fifteen years, and I had to get some one to thread my needle. Now I have my hearing as well as I ever had, and I can see to thread as fine a needle as ever I did. My sense of smell is partly restored; it seems to be improving all the time. I think there is nothing like Ely's Cream Balm for Catarrh.—Mrs. E. E. Grimes, Rendrill, Ohio. eodw44

A CRAZY MAN'S CRIME.

He Shoots His Wife to Death and Smothers His Children.

HAMILTON, Ont. Nov. 2.—John Hodel, a silk weaver, shot his wife last night and then set fire to the house. Two children were burned to death. Hodel fled but was captured.

The murderer says he told his wife last night he was going to kill himself. She said she wanted to die too. An agreement was then made that the whole family should die together. There were two small children, a boy and a girl, aged 3 and 6, and the mother expected to be confined again in a month. During the night, Hodel says, he brought the children from an adjoining room and placed them in bed with their mother and set fire to the bed, but the smothering process was too slow, so he got a shot gun and fired both barrels into his wife's breast. The flames then spread and smothered both children.

With nothing on but a night shirt Hodel ran down the road towards the depot crying "Fire." The neighbors gathered and put the fire out. Hodel wandered around awhile and then returned to the house, where he was arrested. He was a silk weaver, earning good wages, and had half a dozen barrels of home made wine and cider in his cellar. Drinking these made him crazy and prompted the crime. He is a Swiss and came from Lucerne sixteen months ago. He is 31 years old.

Coroner Phelps brought Hodel before Justice Bissell. He pleaded "not guilty," and was bound over without bail for the December term. He was taken to jail.

It is said Hodel thought certain neighbors too familiar with his wife that he accused her, and this caused a quarrel, hence the agreement to kill all of the family. Hodel wrote a letter to friends in Switzerland yesterday, so he says, telling the whole story, and says he was going to kill himself and family. The letter, he says, was mailed last night, and the authorities have telegraphed to the New York postoffice to intercept it.

BY A DIVINE VISITATION.

An Unusual Scene at A Walkerton Murder Trial.

WALKERTON, Nov. 1.—At the assizes here to-day Samuel Hughes was arraigned upon the charge of murdering Mrs. McDougall, a woman with whom he became infatuated, but who refused to marry him. When the indictment was read to him he apparently did not understand what was going on around him, but stared vacantly at the court. Then followed a novel and exceptionally rare proceeding. His Lordship directed a jury to be empannelled to try whether Hughes was mute of malice or mute by the visitation of God, these being the questions they were sworn to answer. They found the latter—that he was mute by the visitation of God, and incapable of pleading whether guilty or not guilty. His Lordship then requested Mr. Lount, Q.C., to endeavor to explain the charge to the prisoner, but in this Mr. Lount failed. His Lordship thereupon directed a plea of not guilty to be recorded and a jury empanelled to try whether prisoner was sane or insane. It was proved by undisputed medical testimony that Hughes is a complete wreck and in a demented condition, this being the result of a series of epileptic fits. The jury returned a verdict accordingly. The prisoner was ordered to be kept in close custody until the case received attention from the executive authorities.

WHOLESALE POISONING.

Fourteen Persons Who Attended a Party in Louisiana Meet Their Death.

VICKSBURG, Nov. 2.—A special from Delhi, La., says: On Friday evening last, George C. King, who resides in Franklin parish, gave a dance and supper. After supper was nearly over, all the guests were taken violently sick. A doctor was sent for who pronounced the sickness caused by poison of some kind, and was unable to render much relief. Louis King, jr., Ben King, Walter Bell, Lee Ford John O'Brien, jr., and Miss Minnie Brown, all white, and Zeke Hill, colored, have since died, and Hill's wife and his six children. Asa Ford and six children, white, Mrs. Louis King and children, Frouie Walker and a child, one of the Dunham boys, Bruce Spires, Hilliard Butler, wife and children, are dangerously sick, but were alive at last accounts. No motive can be assigned for this dastardly deed. The cook is not supposed to be guilty, as she is dangerously ill, and her husband and one or two of her children are dead.

In Brief, And To The Point.

Dyspepsia is dreadful. Disordered liver is misery. Indigestion is a foe to good nature. The human digestive apparatus is one of the most complicated and wonderful things in existence. It is easily put out of order.

Greasy food, tough food, sloppy food, bad cookery, mental worry, late hours, irregular habits, and many other things which ought not to be, have made the American people a nation of dyspeptics.

But Green's August Flower has done a wonderful work in reforming this sad business and making the American people so healthy that they can enjoy their meals and be happy.

Remember:—No happiness without health. But Green's August Flower brings health & happiness to the dyspeptic. Ask your druggist for a bottle. Seventy-five cents.

Use Dr. Dorenwend's Great German Hair Magic. It keeps the scalp clean and free from Dandruff, and promotes the growth of the hair. It prevents premature grayness and stops all falling out of the hair. On bald heads, where the roots have not perished, it will invigorate them and force a new growth of hair. Ask for Hair Magic. It is the only reliable. For sale by J. D. Tully and all druggists.

Reliable Remedy For Rheumatism.

Procure a bottle of Hagyard's Yellow Oil from your medicine dealer, and use according to the directions. It cured Ida Johnson, of Cornell, Ont., of that complaint, and she recommends it as a sure cure. For 25 years it has never failed to give satisfaction. 1w44d

A Narrow Escape.

People who are exposed to the sudden changes of our northern climate have little chance of escaping colds, coughs, sore throat and lung troubles. The best safe-guard is to keep Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam at hand. It is a quick relief and reliable cure for such complaints. 2w44d

The Modus Operandi.

The mode of operating Burdock Blood Bitters is that it acts at once and the sametime upon the Stomach, Liver, Bower, Kidneys, and the Blood, to cleanse, regulate and strengthen. Hence its almost universal vaine in Chronic complaints. 2w44d

Cured By B.B.B. When All Else Failed.

The school board room in the Collegiate Institute building is now lighted by gas, a pipe having been run through from the Chemistry department, which about a month ago was supplied with gas. It is a great improvement.

Yarns a speciality at Turnbull's. All kinds now in stock at right prices.

Fees Collected.

During September the fees collected at the Collegiate Institute amounted to $139.50; at the public schools, $9.75. During October the collections were $138 and $14.75 respectively.

Parade in Uniform.

Peterborough Canton of Patriarchs Militant had a parade in undress uniform at the skating rink last night. There were quite a number of spectators, largely ladies, who greatly admired the military bearing and elegant uniforms of the chevaliers.

The Aid of Steam.

Mr. J. J. Howden, the pushing young meat merchant of George street, is not content with having one of the completest and neatest meat shops in town—he has added a steam boiler and engine to the facilities of his establishment to be chiefly used in the manufacture of sausage.

The Saw Works.

The Belleville Ontario, referring to the recent visit of the saw and file works men to Peterborough, says:—"Cannot Belleville hold out some inducement to these gentlemen to locate here?" Well, rather not. The thing is about as good as settled for these men to establish works here. Belleville is altogether too slow.

Approaching Completion.

The building in course of erection for the Lindsay-Seldon Manufacturing Company is rapidly approaching completion. Workmen are now busy putting in the flume and the work is done to last—in a thorough and substantial manner, under the supervision of Mr. Wm. Martin.

A Complimentary Address.

Following is the address presented to Mr. A. Ross, upon the occasion of his marriage on Monday afternoon:—

To Abram Ross, Esq., member of the Riverside Lacrosse Club, Peterborough, Ont.

DEAR SIR,—We the members of the Riverside Lacrosse Club, feel a sincere and deep pleasure in offering you our hearty felicitations on the eve of your joining the great band of Benedicts, and trust that the happiness such an event always produces will be but the harbinger of many happy years of nuptial bliss, health and prosperity.

Our intimate acquaintance with you, brought about by years of association in our Lacrosse Club, has convinced us that you possess the right qualities of head and heart, and we seize this joyful opportunity of expressing our warmest approbation and esteem of your manly and social qualities.

Your record as an exponent of the national game on many a hard fought field, with the old Peterboroughs and modern Riversides, is so well known that further comment is superfluous.

We extend to the partner of your joys our congratulations, and believe, from our knowledge of you, that she shall always find you worthy of the love and esteem she now bestows.

(Signed, on behalf of the Lacrosse Club)

JOSEPH PHELAN, Secretary R.L.C.

Interesting to Round Lake Settlers.

The Norwood Register says:—"Mr. T. Blezard, M.P.P., who is ever looking after the welfare of his constituents, in company with Mr. Thos. Fraser, spent Monday last in looking over the country between Coon's saw mill and the north end of Round Lake, in the township of Belmont, with a view to asking a grant from the Legislature to assist in building a good level road in that section. The road, as proposed, will commence at Coon's mills, and running in a south-easterly direction will cross the North River about 400 or 500 yards from where it empties into Round Lake. The country through which it would pass is comparatively level, and a good road could be built very cheaply. The settlers in the neighborhood of Round Lake purpose, if the road is constructed, building a cheese factory at Alley's. The road at present used, besides being some three miles longer than the proposed new one, is so rough that is impossible to draw milk over it, and they are thus debarred from the advantages of having a cheese factory in their midst. Mr. Blezard will do his level best to secure the desired grant at the next session of the Legislature."

Thanks for Donations.

Burgess, 75c. The ladies also desire to return their very grateful thanks to Robert Rowe, Esq., for his great kindness in making out the specifications for the Home, and superintending the work during its progress gratis.

Drilling the Pupils.

At the meeting of the Board of Education Tuesday evening Sergt-Major Rundell, late of Port Hope, made a proposition to the Board for drilling in military manœuvres the pupils of the Collegiate Institute, and the girls in calisthenics. His proposition was to divide the school into squads of 20 boys each, each corps to receive one lesson of an hour's duration every week. There would be four squads in the Collegiate Institute, one squad to be drilled each day. He also suggested training the girls in calisthenics. He stated his terms to the Board, and the matter was referred to a committee. The offer of Sergt.-Major Rundell will probably be accepted.

Hymeneal.

The hour of six last evening at the residence of Mr. James McKibbon, Smithtown, witnessed the marriage of his daughter to Mr. Joseph Metheral, of Peterborough, Rev. Mr. Wallace performing the ceremony. Mr. John Brooks was groomsman, while Miss Jennie McKibbon, sister of the bride, acted as bridesmaid. There were only a few guests present to offer their heartiest congratulations, the wedding being conducted very quietly, in accordance with the dying request of the groom's mother, who did not wish to have the union of the young people postponed on account of her death.

Not a Fair "Deal."

The Bowmanville Statesman says:—"Under this heading the Peterborough EXAMINER has been administrating a just trouncing to the business men of that town for giving orders for printing to representatives of Toronto firms. No town in Canada has two better equipped printing offices than Peterborough, and it is a burning disgrace to its merchants and professional men if they are guilty of the charge. These city solicitors come to Bowmanville occasionally, but no business man of any importance encourages them as far as we know.

Piled up, piled high, at Gough's is found

School Truants.

Truancy is complained of as being prevalent in our public schools. Out of a total registration for the month of October of 1125 there was an average attendance of 937. The pupils, generally boys, are, of course, immediately to blame for truancy, but the fault is not theirs alone. A parent is culpably indifferent to the progress of his children at school if daily enquiries do not bring out the fact of their absence, and the indifference of the parent finds a logical sequence in truancy.

WHY?
Because experience and close study has developed talent in Chemistry, Lighting, and Posing. In days when such learning was required preparatively in a cosessful photography Mr. Sproule was practising the business and today he keeps his work ahead of competitors. Because only the best materials are used. No other establishment in Canada is using throughout the same class of materials. He works with no cheap instruments. THEY SPEAK IN WHISPERS.

THE CONDEMNED ANARCHISTS SUSPICIOUS OF EVERYBODY.

The Sheriff Already Making Preparations for the Execution, During Which the Police and Militia Will Surround the Jail Building.

CHICAGO, Nov. 3.—The condemned Anarchists failed in their efforts to invoke the law, which they profess to despise, in their favor. Their only hope now is in the clemency of the executive. Three of them, Lingg, Engel and Fischer, sent letters to Governor Oglesby renouncing his clemency, and demanding liberty or death. In their letters they reiterate the cause which led them to assume an attitude of hostility towards society, amongst which are the poverty of the masses and the corruption of state and municipal officials.

The one topic of conversation and all-absorbing thought of the Anarchists and their friends yesterday was what the morrow would bring forth. As Nov. 11 approaches their conversations are each day carried on in lower tones and with a growing suspicion that some one may be eavesdropping. It is quite likely that Sheriff Matson will permit the families of the condemned men to have private interviews with them.

On Nov. 11, if the execution of the Anarchists takes place, all traffic within one block of the Criminal Court building will be rigidly prohibited, except on Clark-street. Cordons of police, assisted by the militia, will form solid columns along the intersecting streets, and to all except actual residents in this locality passage through the lines will be impossible during that day.

Already many requests for passes to witness the execution have been requested of Sheriff Matson, but in all cases they have been refused.

Spies Signs a Mysterious Paper.

CHICAGO, Nov. 3.—This afternoon Dr. Schmidt, Frank Stauber and George Schilling, all prominent in the endeavors that have been made to secure leniency for the Anarchists, visited August Spies at the jail. They had a paper which they handed to him, and an earnest conversation took place. The Anarchist appeared reluctant to do what the men were advising, and Stauber was heard to say, "This is the last chance." After more talk and gesticulations Spies finally called for a pen and signed his name to the mysterious paper.

Praying for Clemency.

CHICAGO, Nov. 3.—August Spies, Samuel Fielden and Nicholas Schwab signed a petition this afternoon humbly begging the Governor to commute their sentences. The signatures of Fielden and Schwab were secured this morning by Captain Black and L. D. Oliver, who visited the prisoners at the jail and had a private conference with them. All sorts of entreaties were adopted to get Spies to sign the petition, but he resolutely refused to do so, as did also Engel, Fischer and Parsons. At 3.30 p.m. the same petitions were brought to the jail and Spies weakened. The others, however, still refused to sign.

Died of His Wound.

BERNE, Nov. 3.—A reward of 500 francs has been offered for the discovery of the assailants of M. Salus, chief of the Labor party who was stabbed, it is alleged, by anarchists. Salus has since died from the effects of his wound.

Mr. Train's Alarming Decision.

OMAHA, Neb., Nov. 3.—When George Francis Train heard of the decision of the United States Supreme Court, in the anarchists' case, he cried like a baby, and declared he would quit the United States for ever. He says he will go to Toronto to live.

The Emperor William's Condition.

BERLIN, Nov. 3.—The Emperor rose from his bed at 2 o'clock this afternoon and gave an audience to Count Radolinski, who will soon join the Crown Prince in Italy.

THE ANTICOSTI SALE SUIT.

THE MATTER ARGUED IN THE SUPREME COURT.

Discussing the Extension of Trade Between Canada and the Hawaiian Islands—Judge Clark of Cobourg Hands in His Resignation.

OTTAWA, Nov. 3.—In the Supreme Court to-day the case of Molson v. Lambe was concluded and taken en delibere. The case of Dansereau v. Bellmore was withdrawn.

The last case on the Quebec list, Forsyth v. Bury, was then called. The circumstances under which the contestation between the parties arose are as follows: The Island of Anticosti having been sold by licitation for the sum of $101,000, this amount was deposited and the distribution thereof proceeded with amongst the owners according to their respective shares. The report of distribution allotted to respondent $16,678.66 for his share of one-sixth of the Island, which he acquired from the Anticosti Company, who had purchased it from Charlotte Langan. The appellant, as executrix of Charlotte Langan, contested the collocation. The Supreme Court maintained the contestation on the ground that the act of incorporation granted to the Anticosti Island Company by the Dominion was ultra vires. The Court of Queen's Bench reversed that judgment and held that the appellant, representing the original vendor, Charlotte Langan, could not claim that the sale made to the company was null and void. Judgment was reversed.

The court adjourned till Nov. 15 at 12 a.m., when the Ontario list will be heard.

Mr. Davies, British Vice-Consul at Honolulu, Hawaiian Islands, yesterday interviewed Sir John A. Macdonald, and subsequently Hon. Mr. McLelan, Acting Finance Minister in the absence of Sir Charles Tupper, and discussed in a general way the probabilities of extending trade between Canada and the Islands. It will be remembered that in 1886, when Mr. McLelan had control of the finances of the Dominion, the Government commissioned Adjutant-General Powell to proceed to Honolulu and investigate the advantages that might accrue from a closer commercial relationship between these two countries. Col. Powell made a careful analysis of the whole question which he embodied in a report to the Council. The Government have discussed the various phases of the matter and are known to be favorable to any action which will open up a new market for our flourishing industries. The interest manifested in the proposed extension of trade by Mr. Davies will doubtless be of value to the Dominion and assist in materially paving the way for a better condition of affairs.

For some time past a commercial treaty has been in existence between the Islands and the United States Government, but that has expired and there is said to be a strong feeling against a renewal, unless on more favorable conditions. The chief products of the Islands are sugar and rice. With a proper arrangement a profitable interchange of exports could be effected with Canada.

Judge Clark of Cobourg, who was in the city to-day, informed some friends that he would at once place his resignation in the hands of the Government and that he had accepted the solicitorship of the Canadian Pacific Railway, rendered vacant by the resignation of Hon. J. J. C. Abbott. The salary attached is understood to be $15,000 a year.

There is still a hitch about the completion of the Labor Commission, the Workingmen's Association and the local members being unable to agree on a representative from the city of Ottawa. The Workingmen's Association had a meeting last night, and, it is understood, nominated a representative, but as the meeting was private it is not known who it was.

A contract has just been entered into by the Department of Railways with the Kingston Locomotive Works for fourteen heavy locomotives for the Intercolonial Railway, to cost about $10,000 each. This is rendered necessary by the steadily increasing traffic of the road requiring an increase of its hauling capacity.

The Department of Militia has issued an order for the transportation of one hundred men from "A" and "B" batteries of artillery to proceed to British Columbia to form the new "C" battery to be stationed there. They are in charge of Capt. Peters, and passed through Ottawa at midnight. The vacancies in "A" and "B" batteries will be filled at once. Already a number of applications for enlistment have been forwarded to the Department.

There have been three deaths from mountain fever amongst the Northwest Mounted Police stationed in British Columbia, but the disease is now under control and no new cases have occurred lately.

Dr. Lansrill of Jarvis, County of Haldimand, has been appointed medical officer for the Indians in that county. It is understood that he will assume the duties of the position about the middle of this month.

Sir George Stephen is in the city, a guest of Hon. J. H. Pope. In conversation to-day he laughed at the resolution adopted by the French Board of Trade, Montreal, that the Government should compel railroads to adopt a uniform tariff of 2 cents per mile, and said they might just as well pass a resolution that the Windsor Hotel should only charge $1 per day.

It is understood that the Governor-General will pass the whole of the season in Ottawa, he having abandoned the idea of visiting Hamilton.

Dr. Montizambert, Superintendent of the Grosse Isle Quarantine Station, is in the city and has been commissioned by the Minister of Agriculture to attend the International Health Congress about to meet at Memphis, Tenn. He reports that the season's operations at the Quarantine Station have been of the most satisfactory nature.

Sir Adolphe Caron leaves for British Columbia next week.

The St. Louis Explosion.

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 3.—While removing the debris yesterday from the cellar of the Newman building, where the explosion occurred on Tuesday, it was discovered that the explosion did not occur in the Newman building at all, but in the cellar adjoining on the south, under the house occupied by the Devere family. This confirms the report that there were two explosions, and further examination may reveal the nature of the agent used.

JUSTICE O'CONNOR DEAD.

ANOTHER VACANCY IN THE SUPERIOR COURT BENCH.

His Lordship Breathes His Last at Cobourg After a Brief but Painful Illness—The Remains Brought Home — The Dead Judge's Career.

Another vacancy has been caused on the Ontario Bench by the death of Hon. John O'Connor, M.A., Q.C., Puisne Judge of the Divisional Court of Queen's Bench, which occurred at the Arlington Hotel, Cobourg, yesterday. His Lordship had not been well since he went out on the Fall Circuit, but insisted on doing his judicial work despite the protestations of friends, and held court up to Tuesday last. Although his unsatisfactory health was generally known, there was no public fear of immediate danger, and his demise was consequently heard with surprise as well as deep regret. Mrs. O'Connor was with her husband in his last hours, having gone down to Cobourg on Wednesday. His age was 63.

The body was taken to Toronto on the 10.10 Grand Trunk Railway express last night. Every mark of respect was paid to deceased at Cobourg. The court, temporarily carried on by County Judge Benson, was adjourned and the remains were followed to the station by members of the local bar, the Mayor and Town Council and a number of citizens. Mr. B. B. Osler, Q.C., who was in attendance at the court, accompanied Mrs. O'Connor on her sad return to the city They were met at Union Station by Mr. Larkin (an old friend of the family), and the only son and unmarried daughter of deceased. The other members of his family are Mrs. Morton, wife of Mr. P. M. Morton, barrister at Windsor, and Mrs. Balleau, wife of Mr. Balleau connected with the Department of the Interior at Ottawa. Undertaker Young's hearse removed the casket to the family residence, Gerrard and Mutual streets, where a few intimate friends had assembled. The funeral will be subsequently announced.

His Lordship's Last Few Days.

Mr. Osler in a remark about His Lordship's last few days. "On Monday morning," said the distinguished Q.C., "I urged him not to hold court as he looked ill, but he insisted on doing so, and at 1 o'clock in the afternoon charged the grand jury. He appeared better then and gave a very clear charge. Later on he took a bad turn and adjourned the court earlier than the usual hour. But on Tuesday he seemed quite fresh and was on the bench all day. That night he was very bad and vomited a great deal of blood. Dr. Waters and an experienced nurse were in constant attendance upon him. Judge Benson took the court business on Wednesday. His Lordship was in great pain all that day and night. I saw him at 9 o'clock this (Thursday) morning. He looked very weak and suffered intensely. Dr. W. T. Aikins and Dr. Richardson, of Toronto, witnesses in a case at court, were called in at 11 o'clock. The patient had in the meantime completely collapsed and they at once gave him up. He died two hours later. Hemorrhage of the stomach was the cause of [illegible]."

Sketch of the Dead Judge's Career.

Dent's "Canadian Portrait Gallery" contains a sketch of the dead judge. Mr. O'Connor was of Irish descent. His parents, both of whom were named O'Connor, were representatives of two distinct branches of that family, and emigrated in 1823 from Kerry to Boston, Mass., where deceased was born, January, 1824. Four years later his parents settled in Essex County, Ont., where he grew to manhood. When about 19 years of age he sustained an accident which materially influenced his future career. While cutting timber on his father's farm a heavy tree fell upon him, jambing one of his legs in the brushwood. Young O'Connor struggled hard to liberate the limb, but failed, and as night was fast approaching and a biting frost prevailed, he feared he might be frozen to death. There was no hope of assistance. Under these desperate circumstances the young fellow took out his jackknife, cut off the limb, and crawled to his home over the snow, bleeding profusely. This disabled the future judge for manual labor, and from that date he devoted all his energies to study. Mr. O'Connor was called to the bar in 1854, settled down to practice in Windsor and was successful, not only in gaining a profitable business but in acquiring a good deal of local influence, political and otherwise. He was also a member of the Michigan bar. He filled the offices of Reeve of Windsor, Warden of Essex and Chairman of the Windsor School Board. In politics he was a Conservative, and in religion a Roman Catholic. Mr. O'Connor represented Essex in the Canadian Assembly for a short period, and he was member of the same constituency in the House of Commons from 1867 to 1873, being a member of Sir John Macdonald's Cabinet from '72 till it resigned in '73. Defeated in Essex in 1874, he was out of Parliament until 1878, when he was elected for Russell County, and again became a member of the Conservative Government, holding the portfolios successively of President of the Council, Postmaster-General and Secretary of State. From the Cabinet he went to the Bench, having been a judge of the Ontario Queen's Bench since September, 1884.

O'BRIEN IN A NARROW CELL

HE IS STILL PERMITTED TO WEAR CIVILIAN'S CLOTHES.

United Ireland, of Which He Was the Editor, Continues to Publish Accounts of League Meetings, and Also Indulges in Inflammatory Language.

DUBLIN, Nov. 3.—United Ireland asserts that a secret circular was issued by the police authorities to the forces at Mitchelstown, before the meeting on Sept. 9, at which the police fired on the people, urging the vigorous suppression of all Nationalist meetings, and instructing the police not to give way to or compromise with the league.

The cell in Tullamore jail in which Mr. O'Brien has been placed is eight feet long and six feet wide. He slept last night on a plank bed. He has given warning to the governor of the jail that he will refuse to do menial offices, wear the prison garb or associate with criminals. The governor will await official notification before enforcing the decision that Mr. O'Brien should be treated as an ordinary prisoner. Mr. O'Brien is in cheerful spirits; he still wears civilian clothes.

United Ireland on O'Brien's Case.

DUBLIN, Nov. 3.—United Ireland to-day contains two columns of reports of meetings of suppressed branches of the National League. In an editorial it characterizes the removal of Mr. O'Brien to Tullamore jail as an outrage and says it was done on behalf of the landlords. Henceforth, it says, the people will make the landlords hostages for O'Brien's safety. The plan of campaign will become not merely the tenants' weapon of defence, but an instrument of vengeance. It says, "Will Irishmen remain quiescent and not raze his torture house to the ground. Please God, not quite. If Mr. O'Brien is harmed, for every hair of his head Irishmen will exact compound vengeance."

DUBLIN, Nov. 3.—The Tullamore Medical Committee has adopted a resolution expressing sympathy with Mr. O'Brien, and urging the local and visiting justices to treat humanely eight political prisoners in the Tullamore jail, including Mr. Hayden of The Westmeath Examiner.

English Agitators to be Sent to Ireland.

LONDON, Nov. 3.—Lord Salisbury, acknowledging the receipt of a resolution of sympathy from the electors of Torpath, says that he is glad to receive resolutions deprecating the deplorable efforts of Mr. Gladstone and his friends in support of organizations for lawlessness and crime.

The Home Rule Union of London has adopted a resolution expressing sympathy with Wilfred Blunt and William O'Brien, and has resolved to continue the agitation in Ireland with the aid of English speakers.

The Present Policy to be Continued.

LONDON, Nov. 3.—The Cabinet at its meeting to-day resolved to continue its present vigorous policy in Ireland, especially as regards speeches at proclaimed meetings.

Summoned Under the Crimes Act.

DUBLIN, Nov. 3.—Thirty persons have been summoned under the Crimes Act in Ballybannis to answer charges in connection with evictions. A majority of those summoned are young girls. Messrs. Pyne and Gilhooly, Nationalist members of Parliament, have also been summoned, the former for inciting resistance to the bailiffs at an eviction at Scrahan and the latter for advocating a boycott at a league meeting at Schul.

BRITISH FAIR TRADERS.

They Are Agreed on Protection for Manufactured Articles.

LONDON, Nov. 3.—The Fair Trade League held a conference yesterday, which was attended by a number of members of Parliament. Resolutions were passed favoring a change in the fiscal policy of Great Britain in the direction of protection. Several gentlemen made speeches, and all were agreed on the necessity of protection for manufactured articles. On the question of corn duties, however, a difference of opinion was manifested.

The Middleton Divorce Case.

OTTAWA, Nov. 3.—Mr. A. P. Sherwood, Commissioner of the Dominion Police, telegraphs from Toronto to the evening papers here, denying the report that he had served notice of her husband's application for divorce upon Mrs. Middleton in Detroit. He says he has not seen the lady since she left Ottawa. It is understood that the information that he had served the papers was obtained from friends of Mrs. Middleton's in Ottawa.

Germany Will Never Molest Turkey.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 3.—The Porte has displayed some uneasiness concerning the recent interview between Prime Minister Crispi of Italy and Prince Bismarck, in consequence of the views attributed to Italy in regard to Tripoli, and Prince Bismarck, in order to quiet this apprehension, has assured the Sultan that Germany will never share either morally or materially, in any enterprise which threatens the integrity of Turkey.

Peterborough's Dress Goods House

STRANGERS in Town, who stay over Sunday, are always surprised when they see the crowds of men, women and children pouring out of all the different churches, and they very naturally conclude that the citizens of Peterborough are a good church going people. If you could get wedged in with the people, who throng the sidewalk, such conversation as this might be heard:—"Well Miss ——how did you like the Sermon this evening?" "Oh! very much indeed, I always like to go to church to see the new styles in dresses." "Is that what you go for?" "Well really, I did not pay much attention to the Sermon, as I could not help wondering how Miss —— can afford to dress so stylishly for all seasons of the year."

Read This.

"Well, I can tell you how it is, for I am following her example myself." She buys her dress goods at rowan's trade palace and I know myself that you can get nicer goods and cheaper there than at any other store in town. Now, look at these kid gloves, I only paid forty-nine cents for them and I often paid eighty-five cents for gloves not as good in other stores. You should just see how cheap their goods are marked and all in plain figures. Mother and Aunty are going with me this afternoon to buy three nice dresses, won't you come along with us?"

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 4, 1887.

A POLITICAL CONCERN.

The Kingston Whig makes the following reference to the figures published in these columns a few days ago respecting expenditure by Government on Trent Valley Canal construction:—"The Peterborough EXAMINER unearths from the public accounts the remarkable expenditures made in connection with the Trent Valley canal. It finds that of the total amount, $75,403.30, expended only $57,950 were applied on actual work. The rest went in "services." Mr. Rubidge, an engineer, absorbed $1,800 as a half-year's salary, and almost half as much, $634.32, as "travelling expenses." During the same year Mr. Rubidge was paid $1,000 for engineering services on the St. Lawrence canal. Mr. Aylmer, assistant engineer, drew $2,063.55, of which about one-third was for "board allowance." Messrs. J. Dinwoodie and E. Thompson (not Elias), drew $1,301 for inspecting dams. The tidy sum of $1,288.92 was exhausted in "legal services." Taking all canals under government control there was the smallest proportion spent on actual work on the Trent Valley canal. "It is no wonder," in the opinion of the EXAMINER, "that a good, though disgusted Tory remarked, on seeing the figures, that 'if all the hangers-on and parasites that have clung like leeches to the public money in connection with the Trent Valley canal had had shovels and picks put into their hands the work would have, by this time, been finished.'" But, after all, is the revelation astounding? Is it not a sort of understood fact that some public works are undertaken for the sake of their political benefits, and is it not the understood fact that the Trent Valley canal is one of them? At the onset it was calculated that a good deal of the people's money would go into the pockets of the government's supporters, for services of a more or less useless description; it's amazing that, in view of the impecuniosity of the said supporters, as much as $57,000 was spent in the work.

The Bible in the Schools.

To the Editor of the Examiner:—

A good many people will read with surprise, myself among the number, your report of the proceedings of the last School Board meeting, founded upon the interference of three of the ministers of our town in respect to the Bible in our schools. The presumption of these three men is extraordinary. They claim to represent and to be the exponents of the feelings and wishes of the people, and because they are paid and appointed to preach in the churches they claim that they are ministers everywhere and have the right to dictate what, in this matter of the Bible in schools, the Board of Trustees should do. I beg leave to tell them that they do not represent the feelings and wishes of the people upon this subject, and that they have no right to try to do so. When they appear before the School Board they are simply men, and nothing more. Their proper place as ministers is in the church, and when they go out of the churches they are merely plain individuals, like the rest of us, and when they attempt more they misapply their talents and usurp the authority of the people which does not belong to them. And when they do this, and when they usurp the right to say what the Board and people shall do in secular matters, they do what they have no right to do. They must understand that they are living in free Canada and not in priest ridden Spain. And, if they did not know it before, they know it now, that no free people will submit to be dictated to and overruled in their own secular business, and that the sooner these clericals find this out the better will it be for themselves and for the community as well. Mind you I don't object to the reading of the Bible in the schools, but the reading of it there should be left to the better judgment of the trustees, whose duty it is to do what is required by the children without interference, except from the parents of the children and the people at large. What would those who would be rulers say if the school trustees should dictate to them what they should preach and what texts they should select, and how they should preach to their hearers? Or if these same trustees should tell them that it was their special duty, as professing Christian ministers, to attend the Sunday Schools of their several churches and read and explain the Bible to the children attending those schools. Would they not answer that this was their own business and no one else had a right to interfere? Would not their dignity be insulted if the people were to tell them so? And would they not be offended if the people were to tell them that attending the Sunday Schools and seeing to the religious instructions of the pupils was a very material part of their duty, although the doing of it might interfere with their ease and comfort. It would be no answer to a demand of this kind that they have to preach two sermons on that day and that all their time and their energies were employed in performing these services. If these shepherds of God's sheep, as they call themselves, cannot do more than this they are unworthy of their calling and other shepherds should be found who could and would do this great service, the very service which Christ has directed them to perform. But I suppose it is more gratifying to their vanity to ignore these duties and to appear before the School Board arrayed in all their clerical glory, and act and speak as if they were the legitimate exponents of all the people, and that all the people would bow down to and thank them for so doing. If they had each called meetings of their several congregations specially for the purpose of discussing this question of the Bible in our schools, and a majority of these congregations had expressed a wish that the Bible should be read in the schools, and had deputed them to go before the Board and say so, then they would have appeared before the Board clothed with some manner of authority and could have spoken and acted within reasonable bounds. But, without this authority from their congregations, they had no right or authority to interfere, and it is better that they know this now so as to avoid any such unauthorized and unbecoming interference for the future. If these individuals are so greatly concerned for the salvation of the souls of the children why don't they show their concern by going themselves to the schools at proper hours, and then do what they now want the teachers to do, so as to relieve them of this care and trouble of doing what the Lord allows and what is so plainly their duty. Every one knows, or ought to know, that the teachers have their hands full already in attending to the teaching of the children, and that to impose more work of this kind upon them is simply to withdraw so much of their time from the proper teaching of the children, merely at the dictation of these men, who in their churches are ministers, but who on occasions like the present are merely men.

COMMERCIAL UNION.

The N.Y. Chamber of Commerce Appoints a Committee to Deal With the Question.

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—The Chamber of Commerce to-day adopted resolutions favoring the attempt now being made by British members of Parliament and others to have urged upon Congress the importance of having the disputes or differences between the United States and Great Britain settled by arbitration when not accomplished by diplomatic proceedings.

Resolutions were adopted favoring the peaceful settlement of the Canadian fishery question between Great Britain and this country, and committee was appointed to investigate the possibility of a material expansion of our commerce in this direction, by inviting arguments for and against Commercial Union with Canada, and documentary evidence as to the extent and prospects of the trade between the two countries, and to report to the Chamber such recommendation for its action as would enable it to contribute its influence, not only to the early adjustment of the fishery question, but to aid in protecting the interests of the commerce of this country should such action be deemed desirable.

THE CHOLERA IN NEW YORK.

The Health Officer Reports That There Have Been Thirty-nine Cases in All.

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—Health Officer Wm. M. Smith gives the following summary of facts in regard to cholera among the passengers of the steamships Alesia and Britannia: "The Alesia had six deaths from cholera on the voyage, four passengers and two of the crew. There have been in all among the Alesia's passengers thirty-five cases of cholera, nineteen of which proved fatal. There have been two deaths from other causes. On the Britannia there have been only four cases of cholera since her arrival."

Dr. Smith added: "The health officer and the Commissioners of Quarantine have done and are doing everything possible for the safety of the public. They have succeeded so far, and will succeed in confining this outbreak of cholera to the limits of quarantine and in preventing the disease being carried by baggage or otherwise to the interior."

THE RED RIVER RAILWAY.

The People of Regina Disapprove of Winnipeg's Action in the Matter.

WINNIPEG, Nov. 3.—At a largely attended meeting of the citizens of Regina the following resolution was unanimously adopted and a copy forwarded to Sir John Macdonald at Ottawa:

That this meeting strongly disapproves of the action of the people of Winnipeg in endeavoring to secure the completion of the Red River Valley Railway in defiance of constituted authority. Such action is having, and will continue to have, an injurious effect upon the prosperity and development of the territories, the consequent depreciation of the stocks and securities of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company and other railway companies interested in the development of the territories, and has prevented such companies from raising moneys for the construction of branch lines therein, thus retarding immigration and the opening up of the country.

I have been bothered with catarrh for about twenty years. I had lost my sense of smell entirely for the last fifteen years, and I had to get some one to thread my needle. Now I have my hearing as well as I ever had, and I can see to thread as fine a needle as ever I did. My sense of smell is partly restored; it seems to be improving all the time. VICTORY has Perched on the Banner of

PETERBOROUGH'S GREAT CHEAPSIDE!

And SHEPPARD, by common consent, will get $1,000 for being the Cheapest Clothier in Peterborough, having knocked the Wonderful Cheap Man completely out. "Business is Business; Dirt is Dirt, and when it comes to throwing Dirt, then Count" the only original teddy out, and he will hand over that $1,000 like a little man: For the following reasons;—

Sheppard sells a full size Man's Suit for $2.95, and better Goods than a Suit to fit a Child about 9 years old sold by the Wonderful Cheap-Man on Saturday for $3.00; but marked $3.50. This is how it was:—A Lady purchased a Child's Suit on Saturday last, Sept. 17th, 1887, at the Store of the Wonderful Cheap-Man. It was marked thusly:—Lot 5375, Breast 27, Waist 26½, Age 9, Price $3.50. It was pure Shoddy, being held together by cotton threads, and Sheppard is free to say that that was the dearest Suit sold in the Town of Peterborough for the last two years. Full particulars are given because of the $1000 involved, and, further, that this decides who is selling the Cheapest Clothing in Peterborough. SHEPPARD would have sold that Lady a Suit, Pure Wool for that money, and worth two of the one she got.

$1,000 to Go to the Charitable Institutions of Peterborough.

I had first decided to give the agencies a chance of jumping up my rating that $1.000, but after considering the matter and finding that never in any case have I been asked for an endorser to my paper, and that no relative or any other persons have ever endorsed my paper to the extent of one cent, I have come to the conclusion my credit is as good as yours and will ask you to hand over the $1,000 to the Charitable Institutions of Peterborough.

Now, Sir, there is a good story told the truth of which can be vouched for, but for the honor of at least making an effort to keep up your self-styled name—The Terror of High Priced Clothiers—do not allow the same to be said of you in the case above. A man purchased a suit for $15.00 at the store of one of the largest Advertisers in that section of country. It was guaranteed pure wool; but after examining it carefully at home, he came to the conclusion that he had been dealing with some one sharper than himself. Finding a make of wool, differing some from anything he had ever seen, it dawned upon him, that he had heard of wool of that kind, so the suit was returned. The merchant bet $25.00 that it was all wool, and the bet was accepted the decision being left to a neighboring merchant, he found that the $15.00 suit, was wool faced and shoddy back, pure unadulterated shoddy, but what of the $25.00 bet, was it paid, not much—muchly—as it were.

SHEPPARD is making Wonderful Strides in Securing Marvellous Bargains in Dry Goods, Clothing, Hats and Caps.

The real estate boom in Peterborough is not yet broken, and the noble ward—No. 1, of course, keeps up its reputation. A day or two ago a building lot on Stewart street of forty feet frontage and less than the usual depth, was sold for $1,800. Forty dollars a foot frontage is not a bad figure.

Obituary.

A few days ago the EXAMINER published the announcement of the death of Isabella Rutherford, wife of Mr. Wm. Metheral. The deceased lady was a native of Cavan township, where she was born 69 years ago. She was a daughter of Mr. Joseph Rutherford, one of the oldest and best respected of the pioneer residents of that township. She was united in marriage to Mr. Wm. Metheral thirty-two years since. Previous to her marriage she was a devoted member of the Presbyterian Church, but her husband being a Methodist, she joined that body and manifested the same devotion to its interests as she had shown in her previous church connection. In all the relations of life the late Mrs. Metheral was an example—a devoted wife and mother, a consistent Christian lady and a sincere and valued friend. At all these she won universal esteem as was shown by the exceedingly large cortege—over one hundred carriages—that followed her remains to their last resting place. Seldom, if ever, at any previous funeral has so large a number of carriages entered the cemetery as on the above occasion.

A Well Steered Runaway.

This morning about eleven o'clock an Otonabee farmer's team, while standing in front of Messrs Sherwood Bros' commission store, became frightened and ran away. The team took the walk at Stevenson's coal office and kept the walk in as straight a line as a surveyor could run, as far as Hunter street where they turned into the Morgan House yards and ran straight under a shed, close to a light buggy without touching it. The space was, however, not wide enough to let the wagon through and the front wheel struck a post breaking the axle off short. This was the only damage done, except in passing up Water street sidewalk the mammoth lump of coal placed at the door of the coal office was smashed, a churn in front of the Metropolitan Grocery, was demolished, and a flower stand in front of Courtney's cabinet shop came to grief. Though teams were tied all along the walk not one was disturbed or startled, though Indian Billy, the first one in the line, pricked up his ears with a contemptuous glance at the feeble imitation of his gait.

The Bishop in Lindsay.

Bishop Dowling of Peterborough, says the Post, was in Lindsay for a few days last week and on Friday evening a reception was held in the vestry of St. Mary's church, after the evening devotions, when a large number of the parishioners were introduced to his lordship, after which an hour was pleasantly spent in discussing, in a social way, affairs affecting the parish. In the course of his remarks the bishop gave some interesting details regarding his recent visit to the northern part of his diocese. Some idea of the extent of these parishes may be gained from the fact that the car-fare between two contiguous parishes for the bishop and secretary amounted to $55, and involved thirty-two hours travel. Sunday, before high mass, his lordship preached an eloquent sermon upon the gospel of the day, and at vespers discoursed upon and explained the Catholic devotion of the rosary to a large congregation. During his visit Bishop Dowling received a collection amounting to $1,200 towards the debt upon the parochial or bishop's house in Peterborough.

A Trip Through Ireland.

Mr. G. B. Sproule, photographer, had returned to him yesterday from Ireland a package of photographs of his own make, which have been hunting for an owner for a couple of months back. They were sent, according to directions, to a certain post office, and, after traversing nearly all Ireland, were returned to Mr. Sproule. The wrapper is intact, though the package must have been handled a great many times, and scribbled and stamped till it is almost impossible to read it. It is covered with "Try Kilbritain" and a lot of other "tries", in blue and black pencil and black and red ink. There are besides on it such expressions as "insufficient address," "not known," "not for blarney," etc. Over all there are a dozen or more postmarks, from the stamps of which the faces of the photographs have received impressions that mar the surface. Mr. Sproule regards the wrapper as quite a curiosity.

Carousing on the Court House Hill.

Last night, at about the hour when respectable people are going to bed, the residents in the neighborhood of the Court House were kept awake by the hideous yells and boisterous laughter of three persons, a man and two women, who were under the influence of liquor. Of course there was no one about to arrest them, and after continuing their revelry until thoroughly wearied the three departed and left the place in quietness.

Supplementary Catalogue.

The Peterborough Lock Manufacturing Co. have issued to-day from the EXAMINER presses a handsome supplementary catalogue of sixty pages of new designs of locks manufactured by them since the publication of their first catalogue. The reputation of this Company for the superior quality of goods manufactured by them has already received a strong foothold in Canada, and we have no doubt but that a prosperous future is in store for them under the superior management of Mr. Brooks.

Turnbull's direct importations of Mantle Cloths please everybody. The styles are New and the prices are very low.

OUR LADY FRIENDS will be interested in knowing that by sending 20c. to pay postage, and 15 top covers of Warner's Safe Yeast (showing that they have used at least 15 packages) to H. H. Warner & Co., Rochester, N.Y., they can get a 500 page, finely illustrated COOK BOOK, free. Such a book, bound in cloth, could not be bought for less than a dollar. It is a wonderfully good chance to get a fine book for the mere postage and the ladies should act promptly.

Nicholl's Hospital Board.

A meeting of the Nicholl's Hospital Board was held last evening, to let the contract for the new hospital building. Several tenders were received, but as none of them covered all the details of building, the meeting was further adjourned for one week, to allow the tendering contractors to become more fully acquainted with the details of the work.

New Baptist Parsonage.

Mr. J. J. Hartley has just completed the brickwork of a handsome two-storey house on the site of the old Baptist parsonage, Bridgenorth road, recently destroyed by fire, which will be occupied by Rev. Mr. Hough as a parsonage. The building will cost about $1600.

The Opium Habit.

The Most Abject of Slaveries—Is There Any Emancipation?

The New York papers lately published a very pathetic story about a very popular society woman. It seems that she had become a confirmed victim of the opium habit, involving an almost total loss of physical and mental powers, and actual destitution.

The story was at once denied by her friends, who say she has suffered simply from nervous prostration, is in no need of pecuniary aid, and is on the way to speedy recovery.

Opium victims are usually hopeless, helpless slaves, mind weakened, lacking energy for any effort toward recovery, rapidly drifting into imbecility and untimely graves.

A peculiar feature is that victims craftily conceal it from their nearest friends. A young lady at school near Philadelphia was recently found to be secretly addicted to it, keeping her "medicine" in a school-room inkstand and injecting the fluid into her arm with a stylographic pen!

In the Chicago Farm Field and Stockman, September 24, 1887, is this letter signed S. T. O., from Barlow, Ky.: "I missed the paper that had my letter in, so I did not know that you made the request to know what it was I used to break up the morphine habit, until I got a letter from a gentleman asking information. I should have answered. It was Warner's safe cure. I should have given it when I wrote the letter, but it looked too much like an advertisement."

This voluntary statement goes to confirm the claim made by the proprietors of Warner's safe cure, that it is the only remedy in the world which has any decided power over diseases of the kidneys and liver, and that this terrible habit cannot be cured until these organs have first been restored to full health, because they are the ones chiefly affected by this drug.

Editor Wm. A. Bode, of Alton, Ill., was completely cured of the opium habit, acquired by long use in a painful malady, with Warner's safe cure. It cannot be cured at all if the kidneys and liver are diseased.

It is not claimed that there is anything in Warner's safe cure alone which will do away with the habit, except that it puts the kidneys and liver in a healthy condition, giving the whole system that strength and tone without which any attempt to throw off the habit, would be vain.

It is because physicians have discovered that no other remedy is so beneficial in restoring health to the liver, kidneys and general system as the one stated that it has come into general use in connection with the special remedies for the cure of the dreadful opium habit.

One of the worst features of the opium habit is the deadening of mental and moral sensibilities in proportion as it weakens the physical system and the will power.

THE SENATORIAL DIGNITY.

A REPORT THAT IT WILL BE CONFERRED ON MR. JOHN MACDONALD.

Mr. Blake, it is Said, Will Decide in England and Will Seek Parliamentary Honors in Ireland—The Vacant Judgeships to be Filled in a Few Days.

OTTAWA, Nov. 4.—It is currently reported here that the seat in the Senate, vacant by the death of Hon. Wm. McMaster, has been offered to Mr. John Macdonald of Toronto and it is generally believed that he will accept.

Sir John Macdonald being asked about the rumor said he could only state that the vacancy had not been filled, but he did not deny that there may be some truth in the rumor. Such an appointment would indicate a new departure on the part of the Government, as, with the exception of the first appointments to the Senate after Confederation, when an equal number of Liberals and Conservatives were appointed, it has been the unvarying custom of both parties to call only their own supporters to the Senate and Mr. Macdonald, being a Liberal, will, therefore be the first member of that party called to the Senate on the recommendation of his political opponents.

The appointment is regarded here by everyone I have spoken to on the subject as in every way a most excellent one.

Regarding Mr. Blake.

A prominent politician who arrived from Toronto to-night informed me that it was stated by some of the friends of Hon. Mr. Blake that that gentleman contemplated taking up his residence permanently in England and would shortly be a candidate for a seat in the Imperial House of Commons for an Irish constituency as a Home Ruler.

The Vacant Judgeships.

The resignation of Judge Sicotte has been received. This makes eight vacancies on the Bench of the Dominion at present. Five in Ontario, caused by the deaths of Chief Justice Cameron, Judge Daniel and Judge O'Connor and the resignations of Chief Justice Wilson and Judge Clark; two in Quebec, by the appointment of Judge Angers to the Lieutenant-Governorship and the resignation of Judge Sicotte, and one in Manitoba, caused by the promotion of Judge Taylor to the Chief Justiceship. It is understood that all the vacancies will be filled within a few days.

The Commissioners' Movements.

Mr. Chamberlain is expected to arrive in New York to-morrow. Nothing has been heard here which would lead to the impression that he has changed the intention expressed by him before leaving England of proceeding direct to Washington.

Sir Chas. Tupper will come to Ottawa immediately after the close of his contest in Cumberland, and he and Hon. Mr. Thompson will proceed to Washington in about ten days.

No Fears of Indian Troubles.

Mr. F. White, Comptroller of Mounted Police, stated this afternoon that the authorities felt no alarm at the movements of the Crow Indians in Montana Territory, and the force of Mounted Police on the Dominion side of the boundary had not been increased. Only the usual patrols were on duty. The Canadian Indians were at least a couple of hundred miles from those in the States, and there was not the least occasion to fear that there would be any corresponding warlike movement on the part of the former.

Miscellaneous Matters.

Hon. John Page, Chief Engineer of Canals, has returned from a trip to Sault Ste. Marie in connection with the proposed canal. It is expected that the surveys will be completed by the end of this month, and tenders will probably be called for about January. The work will take about three years to complete.

The Collector of Customs at Clifton has made a seizure of a quantity of venison at that port from a party who was about to export it to the United States. Under the present tariff regulations the export of deer and some other wild animals is prohibited under a penalty of confiscation and a fine of not exceeding $100. In this case the meat was forfeited and a fine imposed.

It is understood that the official award in the arbitration case of Mr. W. A. Allen in connection with the Gallop Rapids contract has been made. The original claim of $30,000 has been reduced to something over $15,000. The arbitration was heard before Mr. John Page, Chief Engineer of Canals.

Mr. J. W. Ashley has been appointed Forest Ranger for the Winnipeg district, with headquarters at Winnipeg.

FROM THE GAZETTE.

The Regulations for the Disposal of the Surrendered Indian Lands.

OTTAWA, Nov. 4.—To-morrow's Canada Gazette will contain the appointment of Judge Taylor as Chief Justice of the Court of Queen's Bench, Manitoba; of P. E. Bourgeau as Inspector of Weights and Measures, Quebec, to date from July 1; and of Charles Carteau of Grand Falls as Preventive Officer of the Inland Revenue, to date from July 22.

Notice will appear to-morrow that Mr. J. B. Rollard has been summoned to the Senate in place of the late Senator Seneeal.

An order-in-council has been passed constituting the Counties of Shefford, Brome and Stanstead, including the town of Sherbrooke, an inspection division for the inspection of leather and raw hides.

On the recommendation of the Superintendent General of Indian Affairs an order-in-council has been passed prescribing regulations for the disposal of the surrendered Indian lands. The regulations provide: 1. That not more than four lots or less than one of 100 acres each, or more than one section of 160 acres or less than one-quarter of it shall be sold to one purchaser. 2. That not less than one-fifth of the purchase money shall be paid at the time of the sale and the balance in equal annual instalments with 6 per cent. interest. 3. That there must be actual settlement and improvement of the land, to commence within six months after purchase and be continued for three years. 4. No timber, saw logs, cord wood, etc., shall be cut for sale until the patent has issued, except under license. All pine and spruce is reserved, and may be disposed of by the Department within the three years. 5. Violation of the condition of sale, to forfeit land and all money deposited. 6. Regulations not to apply to lands wholly or in part unfit for cultivation, which may be sold to the best possible advantage without respect to occupation or cultivation.

An order-in-council has been passed rescinding previous orders relating to fishing for smelts and prescribing the following: 1. The close season to be from April 1 to July 1. 2. The use of smelts for manure is prohibited. 3. The use of seines is prohibited. 4. No bag nets to be used with smaller meshes than one inch and a quarter extension measure. 5. The use of bagnets is prohibited except under special license, and then only between Dec. 1 and Feb. 15.

The Minister of Railways and Canals gives notice under the Expropriation Act, to Ronald Nicholson, Peter Steele, Ned McDonald and all whom it may concern, that he has expropriated certain lands in Cape Breton County required in connection with the Cape Breton Railway.

Letters patent have been issued incorporating the Retort Gas Burner Company, with $60,000 capital.

Notice is given of application for letters patent incorporating the Pillow Hersey Manufacturing Company of Montreal, with a capital of $300,000, for the purpose of manufacturing and dealing in iron, steel and other metals, and all the products thereof.

The Bank of Montreal gives notice of an interim dividend of 3 per cent.; the Bank of Toronto of a half-yearly dividend of 4 per cent.; the Quebec Bank and the Bank of Ottawa, 3½ per cent.; and the Standard Bank a dividend at the rate of 7 per cent. for five months ending Nov. 30.

Notices are given of application to Parliament to incorporate the Quinze Improvement Company; to incorporate the Brossens and Weston Lumber Company, and to amend the act incorporating the Londonderry Iron Company.

MR. BOWELL ABOUT TO REORGANIZE THE SERVICE.

There Will be Several Superannuations and Some Promotions in Toronto, but the Appointments Will be Few—The Saving the Changes Will Effect.

OTTAWA, Nov. 4.—Your correspondent had an interview with Hon. Mackenzie Bowell, Minister of Customs, with reference to the rumors which have been floating about Toronto for some time of impending changes in the Custom House. The Minister stated that he had recently caused reports to be sent to him by inspectors of customs in all the cities with reference to the efficiency of the different staffs, with a view of a general reorganization of the outside service, the retirement of those who, from age or infirmity, are incapacitated for work, the promotion of some who are deserving of it, and the appointment of a few, very few, to fill the vacancies in the lowest classes caused by superannuation or promotion.

The Minister said that there was a considerable number of officers who had been good and efficient men in their time and had grown old and gray in honorable service, but whose usefulness was gone, and in many instances they had been wholly or partly incapacitated for work for some time, but he was loth to place old and faithful officers on the shelf so long as they were able to perform their duties in anything like a proper manner. All of the class he referred to were past the age for superannuation, 60, several were nearly or quite 70, and one or two had reached the venerable age of four score years. It was intended to place all these old officers on the superannuation list. Their places are already, to a great extent, filled by yonger men who have, for the most part, been performing their duties, and the proposed changes would involve few, if any, new appointments and would effect a very considerable saving in the expense of running the offices in the different cities.

So far as Toronto was concerned it was most probable that there would be several superannuations and some promotions, but no new appointments except, perhaps, of landing waiters and a messenger. He estimated that the saving in the expense of running the Toronto office by these changes would be about $2500 per annum. He would not intimate the names of those likely to be superannuated.

The Failures for the Week.

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—The business failures occurring throughout the country during the last seven days number for the United States 225 and for Canada 20, or a total of 245 failures as against a total of 216 last week, 201 the week previous to the last, and 186 for the corresponding week of last year, made up of 171 failures in the United States and 15 in Canada. The increase noticeable this week arises altogether in the Western and Southern States.

BALFOUR AT BIRMINGHAM

THE IRISH SECRETARY ON THE TROUBLES IN IRELAND.

The Government Determined to Enforce the Law.

LONDON, Nov. 4.—Mr. Balfour went to Birmingham to-day and attended the first annual meeting of the Midland Conservative Union. He was accompanied by a detective and the chief of the Leamington police. At Birmingham armed detectives were posted at the depot to watch for suspicious characters. Mr. Balfour received during the day a hundred addresses from Conservative associations and in thanking the deputations which brought them he gave assurance that the Government was resolved to proceed boldly and firmly with the work they had taken in hand in Ireland and bring it to a good conclusion. He admitted the task was a difficult one, but held that it was perfectly possible and capable of successful accomplishment. Certain incidents in Ireland had caused some of their friends some misgivings, but these incidents were due, not to lack of resolution on the part of the Government, but to defects in the law which had never contemplated the present system of organized popular rebellion.

Mr. Balfour addressed a large and enthusiastic audience at the Town Hall this evening. He said he hoped that at the next session of Parliament England and Scotland would get a fair share of legislation, still the Irish question would remain the foremost problem in the mind of every one who took an interest in the fortunes of his country. He had noticed that Mr. Gladstone—[hooting cries of "chips" and laughter]—although he had mentioned his program of legislation, did not appear to take a very lively interest in it himself. Except as regards the offer of the plundering of the Scotch and Welsh churches as a bribe for the dismemberment of the Empire, Mr. Gladstone displayed little interest in anything except the Irish question, and no man had done more to make it impossible to ignore the Irish question. Therefore, Ireland would be his (Balfour's) topic to-night. The question was not whether Ireland was to be governed under her own or an English parliament, but whether she was to be governed as all in accordance with any of those principles which had hitherto regulated the actions of every civilized state in the world. [Cheers.] Referring to the events of the winter of 1885, he compared the Liberal party to those barbaric ancestors who got baptized because their king embraced Christianity. One morning Mr. Gladstone announced himself a Home Ruler, and forthwith a large section of the Liberals declared themselves Home Rulers. Some of them explained to a scoffing public the reason for their conversion, while others, like Harcourt, evidently believed that "Least said soonest mended," and that it was possible for men to alter their opinions regarding Ireland and yet retain the tradition hitherto governing their party. They might have allied themselves to the Parnellite party, so far as the question of Home Rule was concerned, and rejected fusion, but they had instead rejected an alliance and accepted fusion, and their principal object now, as evidenced by every paragraph of Mr. Gladstone's shameful speeches, was to render difficult the government of Ireland.

In condemning Mr. Gladstone's inconsistency and his present tactics, Mr. Balfour declared that not one of the evictions now occurring could have been prevented even if the amendment which Mr. Gladstone wanted had been inserted in the Land Bill. Mr. Gladstone's criticisms on land legislation were strange indeed, coming from a man who for sixteen or seventeen years had fruitlessly tinkered with the question.

In regard to the unhappy affair at Mitchellstown, Mr. Gladstone had attacked him (Balfour) personally for not listening in silence to bitter attacks made on men who spent their lives in defence of the law. The demon of inaccuracy had pursued Mr. Gladstone even to his assertions on this subject. But it was unnecessary to enter into details in justifying the police. If, as the Nationalists and Mr. Gladstone delighted to say, the police were defeated and routed, could anyone blame if they fired? [Cries of "Oh."] The truth was the Nationalists, including Mr. Gladstone, must choose upon which horse they will ride. If they choose to triumph in the defeat of the police, let them not blame the police for firing in self-defence. If they choose to say that the police were brutal butchers and they fired without cause, let us hear no more of this indirect triumph on their defeat. [Cheers.]

Continuing, Mr. Balfour said he intended to stop speakers who directly advocated crime, but to tolerate those who only talked nonsense. Earl Spencer, he said, moved uneasily in the Parnellite livery, but Mr. Gladstone as if "to the manner born." He concluded by predicting that a steady application of the present policy of the Government would result in the Irish becoming enthusiastic and loyal supporters of an Empire which they by their virtues were fitted to adorn.

To be Prosecuted.

DUBLIN, Nov. 4.—The Government is resolved to prosecute all persons who took part in the meeting at Woodford on Sunday, Oct. 16, at which the proclamation of the Lord Lieutenant forbidding the meeting was issued. Among those to be prosecuted are James Rochside, T. P. Gill and David Sheehy, members of Parliament, and Mr. Dunsbey, Secretary to the Lord Mayor of Dublin.

Mr. Cox, M.P., failed to appear to-day at the Ennis Court in answer to a summons for attending proclaimed meetings, until a warrant for his arrest was issued.

Lord Harrington and Mr. Gresham will address a meeting in the Dublin Rotunda on Nov. 20.

Under the Crimes Act.

DUBLIN, Nov. 4.—Twenty-one persons charged with obstructing the police in evictions at Ballyhaunis have been sentenced to various terms of imprisonment.

Six moonlighters have been arrested at Ardfert for shooting a farmer in the thigh.

Summonses for Gilhooley.

DUBLIN, Nov. 4.—Mr. Gilhooley, member of Parliament for West Cork, has been served with two additional summonses for obstructing and menacing officials. The hearing is fixed for Nov. 28.

THE QUEEN'S GRATIFICATION.

She Thanks the Municipal Officers of the Kingdom for Their Zeal and Loyalty.

LONDON, Nov. 4.—The Gazette says: The Queen, through Mr. Matthews, the Home Secretary, wishes to express her warm thanks to the mayors and municipal officers of towns throughout the kingdom for their zeal, loyalty, personal exertions and sacrifices, which contributed so much to render her jubilee a commemorative historical event. The Queen is conscious how effectively their efforts were seconded by the unanimous and cordial concurrence of all her subjects, whose affection and loyalty were never exhibited with more warmth and will never be forgotten by her.

A NEW EXPLOSIVE.

The Ingredients are Simple and it is Far More Powerful Than Nitro-Glycerine.

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—A dozen gentlemen interested in explosives assembled at the home of Dr. Stephen Emmens, corner Prospect-avenue and 165th-street, yesterday to see some experiments, in which Dr. Emmens was assisted by Count George D. Appolle, and by his son, Newton Emmens. Dr. Emmens' new explosive is composed of two cheap and easily obtained materials. One is an extract from coal and the other a mineral substance. The mixture may be pounded in a mortar, and neither ingredient separately shows any trace of an explosive nature. Another valuable quality which is peculiar to emmensite, as the mixture is called, is that it may be melted and fused into any shape as a solid block, or may be granulated in various sizes, consequently it may be used as either a high or low explosive. According to Dr. Emmens' computations, it can exert a pressure of 283 tons to the square inch. The next highest pressure is exerted by pure nitro-glycerine, 264 tons.

Yesterday a 32-calibre Smith & Wesson was fired from a distance of six feet at an iron plate one-sixteenth of an inch thick. With four grains emmensite, the ball nearly pierced the plate, while with ten grains of powder the ball made only an indentation. After several interesting experiments, the party went into the yard of Dr. Emmens' house. A leaden hemisphere was placed on a rock; upon this were placed successively one ounce cartridges of gunpowder, explosive gelatine dynamite and emmensite. While the other explosives bent the lead, it was shattered by the emmensite. An iron plate six inches square was then suspended from the branch of a tree. A one ounce dynamite cartridge placed on the plate simply beat it. A cartridge of explosive gelatine almost broke it, while the same amount of emmensite made a hole through the plate as large as a man's fist.

THE CAPTAIN OF THE VERNON.

He is Said to Have Been Drunk at the Time of the Disaster.

CHICAGO, Nov. 4.—Edgar A. Hall, brother of the second engineer of the Vernon, stated yesterday that the last time his brother was in Chicago he told him that Capt. Thorp, master of the Vernon, had an attack of delirium tremens while on top of the pilot house. He also said that it ought to have been well known to the officers of the line that Capt. Thorp was a hard drinker, and that he had often left port while drunk. Mr. Hall gave the name of a prominent wholesale merchant, who recently made a trip on the Vernon, and who told him that Capt. Thorp was drunk during the entire time he remained on the boat.

The brother of Mrs M. Evan Ambaugh last night said that his sister arrived in Chicago on the Vernon Sept. 3, accompanied by Miss Addie Mickley of Waterloo, N.Y. The steamer was three days longer than usual making the trip from Cheboygan, and both ladies told him that the captain was drunk all the time. Asa Stone, the only survivor of the disaster, said: "The captain was drunk most of the time, and he was very drunk when we left Cheboygan last week. If the captain had been sober, I don't believe the vessel would have been lost, for any sober man would have turned back, when he saw how badly she acted in the big sea."

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—Plymouth Church, Brooklyn, has decided to call Rev. Charles A. Berry of Wolverhampton, Eng., as its pastor

Peterborough's Dress Goods House

STRANGERS in Town, who stay over Sunday, are always surprised when they see the crowds of men, women and children pouring out of all the different churches, and they very naturally conclude that the citizens of Peterborough are a good church going people. If you should get wedged in with the people, who throng the sidewalk, such conversation as this might be heard:—"Well Miss ——how did you like the Sermon this evening?" "Oh! very much indeed. I always like to go to church to see the new styles in dresses." "Is that what you go for?" "Well, really, I did not pay much attention to the Sermon, as I could not help wondering how Miss —— can afford to dress so stylishly for all seasons of the year."

Read This.

"Well, I can tell you how it is, for I am following her example myself." She buys her dress goods at Bowen's trade palace and I know myself that you can get nicer goods and cheaper there than at any other store in town. Now, look at these kid gloves, I only paid forty-nine cents for them and I often paid eighty-five cents for gloves not as good in other stores. You should just see how cheap their goods are marked and all in plain figures. Mother and Aunty are going with me this afternoon to buy these nice dresses, won't you come along with us?"

JAS. ALEXANDER'S Stock is now offered en bloc in Mail and Globe, and, to enable him to Reduce it, Goods will be sold at Great Bargains.

The Lecture.

The lecture in the George Street Church Friday evening by Mr. Jerrold Arlington Cook, of New Orleans, under the auspices of the Y. P. A. attracted but a small house. The speaker was suffering from a severe cold, being scarcely able to speak intelligibly. His address was on "Masters of the Situation," a subject which he handled exceedingly well considering the unfavorable circumstances.

Amputated.

About two months or more ago Mr. C. Newbold, of the Bank of Toronto, began to be troubled with an affection of his knee joint, which in spite of all attempts to remedy it grew worse and compelled him to remain indoors. It was exceedingly painful and caused him much suffering. Not finding any relief here, about two weeks ago he was removed to Montreal hospital, where, after the physicians had tried every other means to effect a cure, amputation of the limb was decided upon as necessary to save his life. This was done the other day, and at last accounts Mr. Newbold was in a fair way of recovering. His many friends in town will regret to hear of this as Mr. Newbold was a prominent figure in athletic circles, from the pleasures of which he will be debarred for the rest of his life.

The proficiency of the several classes in the several subjects is described as "excellent" and "good", the large majority being "excellent." The school premises and equipment are reported as satisfactory. In regard to description the Inspector says: "A well graded school; the discipline has reached a high state of perfection." He also adds: "I am pleased to report that this school continues to maintain its reputation for doing excellent work. The government of the school is quite faultless—strict order is maintained, but without any appearance of harshness. The principal, Mr. McIlmoyle, is a competent teacher of long experience and is well aided by an able staff of assistants. This school is entitled to rank high among the Separate Schools of the province. The large number of its pupils yearly passing the Entrance Examination gives unmistakable evidence of the character of the work done."

DESERTED AT THE ALTAR.

Church in the Name of the Aylmer Doctor Who Fled on His Wedding Day.

OTTAWA, Nov. 3.—The village of Aylmer continues to be greatly excited over the case of desertion almost at the altar, referred to in last night's despatch. The principals in the affair are Doctor John Church, son of Dr. Collar Church and nephew of Hon. L. R. Church, and Miss McCarthy, daughter of Mr. Charles McCarthy, C.E., for many years employed in the Public Works Department. The desertion seems to have been a most heartless one as the lady and her friends were kept in ignorance of the young doctor's intention to back out of his engagement until the last minute. Mr. McCarthy and family reside at Mrs. Akers' hotel, where a sumptuous banquet was in course of preparation. The friends of both families had assembled in the church, the clergyman was in waiting, and the arrival of the bride and bridegroom was momentarily expected, when it was learned that the latter had left the village in company with his father and did not intend to return.

The trouble is said to be a religious one, Dr. Church's family objecting to the match because the young lady is a Catholic, and at the last moment they induced him to desert her. The family of the bride naturally feel highly indignant at the insult offered her and the villagers generally are much excited over the matter, some of the young men going so far as to promise the Doctor a coat of tar and feathers should he return. The lady is young, handsome and a general favorite.

When Wholesale Houses cannot compete with the Wonderful Cheap Man it is simply impossible for Small Retail Houses to compete. 60 per cent of the goods I sell, I buy at less than the First Cost of Manufacture, and hence the reason I can defy any Wholesale House in Canada to touch my prices. IN THE GALLOWS' SHADOW.

The Doomed Anarchists Bear A Bold Front.

CHICAGO, Nov. 4.—Three petitions are being circulated among prominent citizens asking the Government to save the Anarchists. The first of these includes the names of the seven condemned men, and was signed yesterday by Judge Tuley, Judge Booth, Ald. Manierre, Julius Rosenthal, and many others. The second petition does not contain the names of Engel, Fischer and Lingg. It is understood that the first signature obtained to this petition was that of A. S. Bradley. The last petition has only the names of Fielden and Schwab, who are singled out as most likely to be saved, even though others are not.

Yesterday the doomed men were visited by relatives and friends, the occasion being the first since the last hope was taken away by the decision of the Supreme Court.

The first visitor to arrive at the jail in the afternoon was Mrs. Engel, who never fails to call twice every day to see her husband. She remained in the jail office for about ten minutes awaiting the appearance of her husband. The meeting between husband and wife was little different from that on previous days. They conversed in a low tone and scarcely noticed the gathering crowd of friends around them.

Lingg's girl was the next to arrive. She is a robust German girl, and only known at the jail as a sympathizer with the bomb-thrower. Her name has never been ascertained by the jail officials. For the first time since her visits began she was dressed in deep black and cried continually the entire afternoon. Lingg, on the contrary, was the happiest man in the prison.

Just before Spies' cell was unlocked to release him for a brief hour and a half he coolly lighted a cigar, and as he stepped from his cell to go to the floor below looked the picture of a contented gentleman going out for a stroll. He never held his head higher nor smiled more benevolently. In the cage stood the aged and sorrowing mother of Spies, accompanied by his two brothers, Ferdinand and Henry. Mrs. Spies was dressed in deep mourning and was scarcely able to support herself in her grief. They talked about an hour with Spies. As they were about to leave the jail Mrs. Spies remarked that it looked very blue for her son and that it was breaking her heart.

Mrs. Schwab talked long and earnestly with her husband. Her face was flushed with excitement and to all attempts at a conversation by the other visitors she turned a deaf ear.

Mrs. Parsons brought her two children with her yesterday and they were allowed to go behind the bars and play with their father. Parsons is far from overawed at his approaching fate. On being asked yesterday how he felt he replied: "I feel pretty much as did my ancestor Jonathan Parsons, who served in the good cause of 1776. He was the original of the term 'Brother Jonathan,' and was a likely man in his day. An elder, by the way," and without further explanation he turned on his heel, took another whiff at his cigar, and walked off.

Nina Van Zandt was the last of the prisoners' friends who came to the jail in the afternoon. She remained for about fifteen minutes, and then turned to Sheriff Matson.

"It looks very bad for August," she said, "And I really don't know what to think. This is fearful, isn't it?"

The question of an additional scaffold is also seriously agitated. Mr. Fols has been of the opinion that the seven men could be hanged on the two instruments now in possession of the sheriff and which have been used in former hangings. It is said, however, that Mr. Matson objects to the hanging of more than two or at most three men on one scaffold, and it is likely that one or two new scaffolds will be prepared in a day or two.

DISASTROUS FIRE AT RODNEY.

Five Stores, an Hotel and One Dwelling House Destroyed.

RODNEY, Ont., Nov. 4.—The greatest fire ever known here commenced about 4 o'clock this morning in Walker's confectionery store and raged furiously for about three hours, destroying about half of the west side of Main-street, including Smith's butcher shop, Eberhart's shoe store, Somerville's hotel, Earley's tin shop, Schmidt's jewelry store, Walker's bakery and Hoskins' dwelling. The fire is now under control. About a dozen business houses on the opposite side of the street are considerably damaged. The cause of the fire is not yet known. The loss is about $13,000.

Give Them a Chance!

That is to say, your lungs. Also all your breathing machinery. Very wonderful machinery it is. Not only the larger air-passages, but the thousands of little tubes and cavities leading from them.

When these are clogged and choked with matter which ought not to be there, your lungs cannot half do their work. And what they do, they cannot do well.

Call it cold, cough, croup, pneumonia, catarrh, consumption or any of the family of throat and nose and head and lung obstructions, all are bad. All ought to be got rid of. There is just one sure way to get rid of them. That is to take Boschee's German Syrup, which any druggist will sell you at 75 cents a bottle. Even if everything else has failed you, you may depend upon this for certain. eodw

COMPLIMENTARY.

The following letter, received by Mr. Jas. Moore, of this village, speaks for itself:—

The Trustees of the new Methodist church on the 1st con. of Dummer, at the "Finger Board", wishing to show their appreciation of the faithful and thoroughly satisfactory manner in which Mr. F. G. Moore, contractor, of Lakefield, filled his contract in the building of their church, ordered that he be presented with $30 over and above the stipulated agreement, and that he be given a copy of the resolution conveying to him the thanks of the trustees and congregation.

It was moved by Mr. Jacob White, seconded by Mr. J. Payne and unanimously resolved:

That the thanks of the trustees and congregation be given to Mr. F. G. Moore, the contractor, for the honest and entirely satisfactory manner in which he carried out his agreement, and we would most cordially recommend him to any who need work done in his line as a thorough reliable man.

Signed, John Tuxland, Chairman of Trust Board; Stewart Payne, Secretary; Jacob White, Treasurer.

A Sad Contemplation.

It is sad to contemplate the amount of physical suffering in the world. How many weary, broken down invalids there are to whom life is burdensome! The nervous debility and general weakness of those afflicted with lingering disease is best remedied by the invigorating powers of B.B.B. 2w44d

Diphtheria.

"Last January," says J. N. Teeple, of Orwell, Ont., "there appeared diphtheria in our neighborhood. Doctors ran night and day, but I kept right to Hagyard's Yellow Oil and brought my children through all right. Yellow Oil cures all painful complaints and injuries. 2w44d

To Avoid Baldness or Grey Hair.

Use Dr. Dorenwend's Great German Hair Magic. It keeps the scalp clean and free from Dandruff, and promotes the growth of the hair. It prevents premature grayness and stops all falling out of the hair. On bald heads, where the roots have not perished, it will invigorate them and force a new growth of hair. Ask for Hair Magic. It is the only reliable. For sale by J. D. Tully and all druggists.

Reliable Remedy For Rheumatism.

Procure a bottle of Hagyard's Yellow Oil from your medicine dealer, and use according to the directions. It cured Ida Johnson, of Cornell, Ont., of that complaint, and she recommends it as a sure cure. For 25 years it has never failed to give satisfaction. 1w44d

A Narrow eScape.

People who are exposed to the sudden changes of our northern climate have little chance of escaping colds, coughs, sore throat and lung troubles. The best safe-guard is to keep Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam at hand. It is a quick relief and reliable cure for such complaints. 2w44d

The Modus Operandi.

The mode of operating Burdock Blood Bitters is that it acts at once and the same time upon the Stomach, Liver, Bower, Kidneys, and the Blood, to cleanse, regulate and strengthen. Hence its almost universal value in Chronic complaints. 2w44d

Cured By B.B.B. When All Else Failed.

Mr. Samuel Allan, of Lisle, Ont., states that he tried all doctors in his locality while suffering for years with Liver and Kidney trouble; nothing benefited him until he took Burdock Blood Bitters, four bottles of which cured him. 2w44d

THE BUILDING BOOM

Apparently Permanent in Peterborough.

This Year's Operations Represent Nearly $300,000—List of New Buildings—Steady Progress All Along the Line—Ashburnham's Contribution.

Since the building boom struck Peterborough three or four years ago there have been extensive annual additions to our business and residence structures. Last year was the largest year of building operations, yet the present year is not very far behind. Last year the buildings erected represented an expenditure of over two hundred thousand dollars, and this year the expenditure reaches very close to $300,000 also. The large number of dwellings erected year after year with no surplus of vacant houses points to a steady increase of the population of the town; all business blocks being occupied with new ones added yearly, speaks volumes for the increase of its commerce. Below will be found as complete a list as could be gathered from the different contractors of the building done in Peterborough in 1887:

A Red Skin.

The Campbellford Herald publishes an account of the doings and arrest of a man named B. B. Simpson, who came to Campbellford with a young woman whom he stated was his daughter; but it was discovered that the daughter's relations with the father partook more of a criminal than of a filial character. An order to arrest Simpson came from Belleville, but he and his "daughter" had left the town for other parts. Simpson's home is in Belleville, and he left his wife and several children in destitute circumstances to live a life of shame with his daughter. The Herald says he ran off once before and resided for a time in Peterborough, and when the constable went in search of him, he cleared out and sought refuge from arrest in the country back of the town. The police of Belleville are still on his track and it is to be hoped they will be successful in his capture.

27th. ANNUAL SEASON. 27th.

Our Stock of Furs for the Season of 1887 is one not inferior to any in the best retail stores in any City. When we say this we base the same on our knowledge in selecting the material for our manufacture, which is of the Choicest. The long winter of last season had run our stock very low, many lines, such as Men's Coats in Racoon, being completely sold out, but of which we now have on hand a large stock made of good seasoned skins in the natural color. None kept of unseasoned skins, which require coloring dark to hide bare spots.

THE IRISH DISTURBANCE.

Dublin Conservatives Preparing a Reception for Lord Hartington and Mr. Goschen—Mr. O'Brien Resists the Wearing of the Tullamore Prison Clothes.

LONDON, Nov. 5.—Renewed rumors of differences in the Gladstone camp point to the transfer of the leadership of the Liberal party in the House of Lords from Earl Granville to Earl Spencer, and the retailers of this class of gossip also see in Lord Rosebery's recently excusing himself from speaking at an important political gathering on the ground of indisposition his inability to go the length of Mr. Gladstone's recent utterances.

There is, however, no ground for the assumption that Mr. Gladstone is in advance of his colleagues in his opinion concerning the Irish situation, though there is little doubt that Mr. Dillon's recent advice to tenants to refuse to accept even reasonable offers from their landlords is causing qualms in the bosoms of some of the Gladstonian following who are nervously inquiring whether Mr. Gladstone is prepared to indorse Mr. Dillon's views as to retaliation upon coercion by means of a practical refusal to pay any rent at all, the plan of campaign having brought the landlords to their knees, and put the tenants in a position to dictate their own terms.

Reception to Hartington and Goschen.

DUBLIN, Nov. 6.—The Unionists are making preparations to give Lord Hartington and Mr. Goschen a grand reception in Dublin, and 500 gentlemen have already joined the committee having the matter in charge, but fears are expressed of dangerous demonstrations on the part of the Catholics of the Irish capital, who regard Lord Hartington as mainly responsible, by consent, for the coercion policy of the Government, and the enthusiasm of the admirers of the two is therefore considerably subdued.

O'Brien Defies the Castle.

DUBLIN, Nov. 5.—Mr. O'Brien looks pale and worn, but his spirit is not subdued. He reiterated his defiance of Dublin Castle yesterday, and declared that if prison clothes were put on him he would tear them off and continue to do so as long as he had strength. The Tory doctor who visits the prison has declared Mr. O'Brien to be suffering from weak action of the heart, and that one night on a plank in a dark cell without bedclothing or heat, may be sufficient to kill him.

The Governor of Tullamore jail, in his letter asking instructions regarding the treatment of Mr. O'Brien, expressed in strong terms his objection to doing any dirty work for the Dublin executive, and in reply received a telegram summoning him to an interview with the Castle authorities. He promptly obeyed the summons, but has not since returned to his post of duty.

Mr. O'Brien Resists.

DUBLIN, Nov. 6.—Mr. O'Brien resisted the attempt to force him to put on the uniform of the Tullamore Jail to-day. The prison doctor then directed the Governor to desist on account of the unfavorable state of Mr. O'Brien's health.

Different Views on the "Rat" Question.

NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—The Typothetæ and Typographical Union No. 6 have locked horns on the question of "ratting" one of the offices in which the men recently struck. The Typothetæ having taken issue on the question, the union may again order out all hands and precipitate a bigger strike than the recent one. A meeting will be held in Clarendon Hall to-morrow, when the matter will be discussed and some action taken.

The New York Episcopal Cathedral.

NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—It is understood that the site for the great Protestant Episcopal Cathedral has been definitely settled upon at last. The property chosen is now occupied by the Leake and Watts Orphan Asylum, which is situated near the northwest corner of Central Park. The cost will be about $950,000. The property includes, all told, 162 city lots.

JUDGE GALT'S PROMOTION.

APPOINTED CHIEF JUSTICE OF THE COURT OF COMMON PLEAS.

Hon. Edward Blake Has Been Offered and Will Accept a Seat in the British House of Commons, Representing an Irish Constituency—The Stillwell Case.

OTTAWA, Nov. 6.—The first step towards filling the vacancies on the Ontario bench has been taken by the promotion of Mr. Justice Galt to the chief justiceship of the Court of Common Pleas, vacant through the death of Sir M. C. Cameron. My information is that other appointments will shortly be made, and that all the vacancies will be filled before the opening of next term on Nov. 21.

With reference to the rumor that Mr. Blake intends entering the Imperial Parliament as representative of an Irish constituency, a prominent Liberal politician here in conversation yesterday stated that it had been known in a quiet way to the leaders of the party for some time past that such was his intention. My informant stated that both Mr. Gladstone and Earl Rosebery were very greatly impressed by Mr. Blake's course on the Home Rule question, and were of the opinion that his presence in the Imperial House would add strength to the Liberal party on the Home Rule question, as well as on matters relating to the colonies, and especially to Canada. With this view they had been in communication with Mr. Blake, and had offered him an Irish constituency, with a prospective seat in the Cabinet on the return of the Liberals to office. My informant intimated that a seat would be found for Mr. Blake before the Imperial Parliament reassembles, and that he would then resign his seat for West Durham and bid adieu to Canadian politics.

The application for a writ of habeas corpus in the case of C. J. Stillwell, editor of The Glengarrian, was made before Chief Justice Ritchie of the Supreme Court in chambers yesterday morning. Mr. MacMaster, Q.C. and Mr. Jas. Leitch of Cornwall, appeared on behalf of Mr. Stillwell and the Attorney General of Ontario was represented by Mr. A. F. McIntyre.

His Lordship held that he had no jurisdiction in the matter, the only manner of proceeding being by writ of error to the Court of Queen's Bench for Ontario sitting in appeal or by direct petition to the Crown.

Mr. MacMaster pointed out that the court would not sit until the end of the month and that before a writ of error could be obtained the term of sentence, one month, would have expired. He urged that the Supreme Court had jurisdiction, but failed to convince His Lordship, who refused the application.

Subsequently Senator McMillan, Mr. R. R. McLennan, Mr. MacMaster and Mr. Leitch waited on the Minister of Justice and presented a petition praying for the exercise of executive clemency in the case.

The Minister of Justice, in conversation with your correspondent last evening, said that he had received the petition, but up to that time had not been able to look into the matter. It should, however, receive prompt attention. He would not, of course, intimate what action he proposed taking; but said that it appeared to him that the rule which obtains in Ontario with regard to writs of error might advantageously be amended so that urgent cases could be more speedily brought before the court than they can be at present.

For some years past the Normal School students here have had a grievance which was that male and female students were not allowed to speak to each other out of school, no matter how nearly related they might be or how intimate before attending the school. Nor were male students allowed to visit female students. This year the Department of Education has abolished the rule so far as speaking is concerned, but gentlemen are still prohibited from visiting the boarding-houses of lady students.

In conversation with the Minister of Customs about The Mail's return to the question of duty on binding twine, the Minister said: "I read the article and observed that The Mail has effected a change of base. The original charge was that the Department of Customs had levied duty upon the value of twine in the Canadian market. Now it says that it called the attention of the public to the fact that the department had valued twine at a higher price than at which it was purchased. This has never been denied. As has already been explained, the law provides that all drawback shall be added to the value of an article for duty, and in cases where no drawback is paid by a foreign country on exported articles, the value of the article for duty is the price at which it is sold in the country from whence it is exported for home consumption. In this view of the law The Mail says the Minister is accurate."

With reference to the Thomas Macdonald correspondence the Minister said: "It is quite true that the correspondence took place in reference to the importation of twine, and that gentleman received from the department the only answer that could be given, and that was that the value of the article imported would be deceived when the date of purchase and time of exportation to Canada was known. It was absolutely impossible to fix a price upon any article until these facts were known, as the markets are constantly fluctuating. It is quite apparent that Mr. Macdonald could not be told what value would be put on his proposed importation for the obvious reason that the department could not arrogate to itself the spirit of prophecy and say whether there would be a rise or fall in the market value of binding twine before the exportation took place. As to the complaint that four cents per pound must have been added to cover the drawbacks, that was a matter as to the correctness of which he could not speak at present, but would look into it."

It is understood that Major Gray, of the Toronto Field Battery has been appointed Brigade-Major for Military District No. 2, Toronto.

R. W. Thistle & Co. have purchased from J. R. Booth his limit of about 100 square miles on the south branch of the Indian River for $25,000.

The contract for the erection of a post-office at Cayuga has been let by the Public Works Department to Messrs. Thomas and Richard Draper of Caledonia, who were the lowest tenderers.

Mr. James Allen, of Allanford, County of Bruce, has been appointed Indian agent for the Saugeen district in place of Mr. Conaway resigned.

SYMPATHY IS INCREASING.

THE GOVERNOR BESOUGHT FOR CLEMENCY FOR THE ANARCHISTS.

Spies, Schwab and Fielden to a Letter to Gen. Sheridan "Aggressive Force."—The Church of the Prisoners' Cells Reveals Secrets in Lingg's Apartment.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Nov. 5.—The interest in the Anarchist case is approaching fever heat in the capital and throughout Central Illinois in the date of the execution of the condemned men grows nearer and nearer. Every movement of Gov. Oglesby is watched with fervid curiosity and the rigid surveillance which he encounters on every side has become an irritation to His Excellency that he has deemed best to enforce the strictest rules of secrecy in regard to all of his actions. A small army of newspaper correspondents besieged the Executive office to-day, and whenever the Governor made his appearance he was greeted with such a multitude of queries that he for the first time adopted the inflexible policy of saying nothing.

Not more than three or four hours were spent by the Governor in his office at the Capitol to-day, but nearly all that time was spent in the reading of correspondence and petitions pro and con in the Anarchist matter. The day brought in a larger mail than has ever been received heretofore. It is a significant fact that as the day of execution approaches public sympathy for the condemned men seems to be rather on the increase. It was rumored at the Capitol to-day that a communication had been received from Col. Robert G. Ingersoll in behalf of the condemned Anarchists, but diligent inquiry failed to substantiate this report. Certain it is, however, that many eminent men of the country at large have either signed petitions or written to the Governor imploring executive clemency. On the other hand it is learned from apparently reliable sources that yesterday's mail brought in numerous letters and petitions urging the rigid execution of the law on the grounds of public policy. There is reason to believe that the much vaunted open letters of Parsons, Lingg, Fischer and Engel to the Governor, demanding absolute liberty or death, have never been received here. Gov. Oglesby intimated to the press that the only communications of that character he had seen from these men were the "open letters" published some days ago. There is little doubt that these letters, which were published so broadcast through the country, were really never forwarded to the Governor.

The Feeling Among the Police.

CHICAGO, Nov. 5.—Now that there seems to be a stampede in the direction of the commutation of the sentence of the convicted Anarchists, it may be well to mention what the effect of it has already been in a very important section of the community—the police force. Already a feeling akin to dismay has arisen among the blue-coats. A veteran officer voiced the general sentiment of the force this morning when he said: "If these men are allowed to triumph over the law through the meddlesome intervention of the people to save whose lives and property we risked our own on that awful night of May 4, you will find that the police force of Chicago will never fight another battle with Chicago Anarchists. It is all very well to say it is a terrible thing to take seven human lives, but I say it is not more terrible than the way in which they took the lives of seven of our boys and maimed dozens of them that May evening. But I suppose the life of a police officer is as nothing when weighed against that of an Anarchist. I suppose it is our duty to be butchered in defence of the community and receive no protection from that community. I say no protection, for the only protection we can receive is the fitting punishment of those offenders whom we have brought to bay. It's all right for judges to say that these men will preach their doctrines more eloquently dead than alive, but I tell you if they escape the gallows the doctrines of Anarchy will be preached so eloquently that those who took part in obtaining the commutation will live to rue the day they did so. For our part, the police of Chicago will be more cautious in risking their lives and facing Anarchist bombs than they were a year ago last May, if the all mercy and no justice doctrine is to obtain." The discontent, it is believed, will soon find some strong public expression.

They Disavow Aggressive Force.

CHICAGO, Nov. 5.—An extraordinary communication signed by Spies, Schwab and Fielden, disavowing "aggressive force" and deploring the loss of life at the Haymarket, was given out to-night for publication. It is addressed to Gov. Oglesby and is to be forwarded to him with the formal petition for clemency. The guarded wording of the document is as notable as its matter, particularly as this is the first expression of the kind any of the condemned Anarchists have made. Parsons, it is understood, acquiesces in its contents and will address a separate letter of his own to the Governor, embodying the same ideas. Lingg, Engle and Fischer steadfastly refuse, however, to go on record with any such declaration. The following is the letter in full:

CHICAGO, November, 1887.

Gov. Richard Oglesby, Springfield, Ill.:

Sir: In order that the truth may be known by those and the public you represent, we desire of those that we never advocated the use of force except in case of self-defence. To accuse us of having advocated to overthrow law and government on the 1st, 2nd, 3rd, or 4th of any other month, is no false as it is absurd. Whatever we did, or did, was said and done publicly; we have never conspired or planned to commit an unlawful act. While we advocated the principle of organization, by which labor could accomplish only here. We for have in view the killing of anybody at the May meeting, or any other time, the very object of the meeting was to prevent such an act from occurring. Therefore, we feel it to be our duty to the friends of labor and humanity, to condemn any other use of force than in the necessary defense of essential rights against unlawful attacks. All our efforts have been in the direction of education, and had it been in our power we would have avoided, by every means in our power, the use of force in any community. The labor movement, as we understand it, is the legitimate outgrowth of past events, and the general spirit of progress and civilization prompted us. Whether we were wise or unwise, we were honest in our convictions, and we have the testimony to that effect of thousands who have listened to us. We may have erred at times in our methods, we may have "served mammon" unwisely, but we did not "serve" it, in the sense of Irrepressible, our views, we were led to believe, were those of the Republican party of 1776, of the Democratic party of 1861, of the Republican party of 1861 to 1884, of the Greenbacker, as at Toledo, of the Knights of Labor, as at St. Louis, and at the Chicago Trades Union. Very respectfully,

A. SPIES,
ALBERT R. SCHWAB,
SAMUEL FIELDEN.

Suppression of Vice.

QUEBEC, Nov. 5.—An afternoon paper says that during the last few days there has been a great deal of mysterious whispering and stealthy movements in Anarchist circles in this city. The proprietors of a number of the large rolling mills have observed it and have money for four another strike was threatened. It has been discovered that on Thursday there were certain employes in Angus' [illegible] Mill, and a well known Imperial damage and all Anarchists, who, applied for ten days' leave of absence. When the already suspicious proprietors persisted in learning why they wanted a leave of absence, it leaked out that the Anarchists of Cincinnati, Louisville, St. Louis and all of the other large cities in the country had been requested to send a number of chosen men to Chicago to be there next Thursday. Over fifty left Cincinnati Friday evening. They were joined by about the same number from Louisville. What few men there are who know anything of the movement are very much agitated, and declare that there will be a murderous effort made to prevent the hanging of the seven Anarchists in Chicago next Friday.

BOMBS FOUND IN LINGG'S CELL.

A Discovery Which Will Destroy all Chances of Clemency.

CHICAGO, Nov. 6.—The cells of the seven condemned Anarchists in the jail were searched to-day and six loaded bombs were found hidden away in a wooden box in Lingg's apartment, concealed under a pile of newspapers in a corner. Then Sheriff Matson arrived at the jail and ordered that the dangerous weapons be replaced in the box and sent to a chemist for analysis, although there was no doubt as to the result of the examination. The search was continued in the cells of Engel, Fischer, Parsons, Spies, Schwab and Fielden being searched in the order named, but no contraband articles of any kind were found. It was decided, however, that it was best to change the cells and accordingly four apartments on the lower tier were cleaned out.

No. 11, which is directly in front of the entrance to the jail and between the rows of iron gratings, in which space three men are on guard night and day, was prepared for Lingg's reception and then the bomb manufacturer was locked up. He was given his bed, table, books and writing materials, but everything else was kept from him. He immediately sat down and began to write, keeping at work all day until it was too dark to see. Schwab and Fielden were allowed to retain their old cells.

All the prisoners except Lingg submitted to the change and search without displaying the slightest emotion. Lingg seemed much worried when he was told of what was contemplated and showed so plainly that something was wrong that the jailers were not so greatly surprised as they might have been over the discovery subsequently made.

A LAND PURCHASE SCHEME.

It is Reported that Such a Bill Will be Introduced Next Session.

LONDON, Nov. 5.—The Cabinet council held on Thursday, besides hearing Mr. Balfour's report on the state of Ireland and discussing the most important of current foreign affairs, decided that the coming session of Parliament should see the introduction of a land purchase scheme for Ireland. There had been considerable doubt in the minds of many of the Ministers as to the expediency of pressing such a bill until Ireland should become quiet, especially as the Gladstonians are counting with extreme confidence upon the overthrow of the Government upon this measure, but the counsel of those most favorable to immediate action prevailed and the introduction of the bill is practically settled. One of the circumstances having great weight in inducing the belief that the Liberals are contemplating a coup is the fact that Earl Spencer in a recent speech stated that he had postponed his visit to India because he did not desire to be far distant from his leader when his service should be required, and this utterance is construed to indicate that the Liberal leaders believe that Mr. Gladstone will soon be restored to power.

Peterborough's Dress Goods House

STRANGERS in Town, who stay over Sunday, are always surprised when they see the crowds of men, women and children pouring out of all the different churches, and they very naturally conclude that the citizens of Peterborough are a good church going people. If you should get wedged in with the people, who throng the sidewalk, such conversation as this might be heard:—"Well Miss ——how did you like the Sermon this evening?" "Oh! very much indeed. I always like to go to church to see the new styles in dresses." "Is that what you go for?" "Well, really, I did not pay much attention to the Sermon, as I could not help wondering how Miss —— can afford to dress so stylishly for all seasons of the year."

"Well, I can tell you how it is, for I am following her example myself." She buys her dress goods at ——'s trade palace and I know myself that you can get nicer goods and cheaper there than at any other store in town. Now, look at these kid gloves, I only paid 50 cents for them and I often paid eighty-five cents for gloves not as good in other stores. You should just see how cheap their goods are marked and all in plain figures. Mother and Aunty are going with me this afternoon to buy three nice dresses, won't you come along with us?"

JAS. ALEXANDER'S Stock is now offered en bloc in Mail and Globe, and, to enable him to Reduce it, Goods will be sold at Great Bargains.

THE BUILDING BOOM

Apparently Permanent in Peterborough.

This Year's Operations Represent Nearly $200,000—List of New Buildings—Steady Progress All Along the Line—Ashburnham's Contribution.

Since the building boom struck Peterborough three or four years ago there have been extensive annual additions to our business and residence structures. Last year was the largest year of building operations, yet the present year is not very far behind. Last year the buildings erected represented an expenditure of over two hundred thousand dollars, and this year the expenditure reaches very close to $200,000 also. The large number of dwellings erected year after year with no surplus of vacant houses points to a steady increase of the population of the town; all business blocks being occupied with new ones added yearly, speaks volumes for the increase of its commerce. Below will be found as complete a list as could be gathered from the different contractors of the building done in Peterborough in 1887:

Total, Peterborough	$196,155
" Ashburnham	14,920
" Auburn	2,400
Grand Total	$213,475

The above grand total has practically all been done in Peterborough this year, for Ashburnham for all commercial purposes is part of Peterborough. However, the season being open and much building yet in prospect, it is more than probable that the sum total of the contributions of Peterborough proper to the value of new buildings in 1887 will exceed $200,000.

This preparation has for years just been making a brilliant success as a remedy for cold in the head, catarrh and hay fever. Used in the initial stages of these complaints Cream Balm prevents any serious development of the symptoms, while almost numberless cases are on record of radical cures chronic catarrh and hay fever after all other modes of treatment have proved of no avail. eodw45

THE RED RIVER ROAD AGAIN.

Another Contract to Build the Railway to be Entered Into. This Time With Mr. Holt.

WINNIPEG, Man., Nov. 5.—The negotiations with respect to the Red River Valley Railway have been resumed. One subject discussed was the amendment of the Holt contract in a manner to suit the citizens' deputation. Another was the formation of a private company of Winnipeggers, who would construct the road for the Government. The scheme of forming a company of citizens and building the road was discussed and finally dismissed as impracticable. The final decision arrived at was that the Holt contract should be adopted under certain conditions, which Messrs. Ashdown and Nugent were nominated to present to the Government and if possible arrive at an arrangement, based upon their concessions. The first great condition is that the independence of the road shall be maintained. This, the delegates fear, is not sufficiently clear in the contract.

The next and only other condition which they are to enforce is that the Government is to have power to say as to what roads shall have running powers over the road and in regard to the fixing of rates. These points, it will be remembered, are all provided for under the contract, although the delegates fear they are not put with sufficient force and clearness. The delegates are very hopeful of coming to a satisfactory understanding with the Government, and hope is once more entertained that the work will be commenced. Mr. Holt has offered to nominate a Government engineer to exercise supervision over the prosecution of the work. If he does not use all due diligence and energy in carrying forward the work, all the engineer has to do is to say so and it can be taken out of his hands by the Government.

INSOMNIA TROUBLES MR. TAYLOR.

He Must Not be Excited Lest the Result Should Prove Fatal.

LONDON, Nov. 6.—So far each attempt to examine Henry Taylor, the ex-bank president, before the Master in Chancery on suits against the Ontario Investment Association, its directors or himself, has proven unsuccessful. His physicians hold that the slightest bit of excitement would in all probability result fatally. Henry Taylor on the jail books is described as suffering from insomnia and heart disease.

BULGARIAN INDEPENDENCE.

Austria Is Peacefully Directing Her Efforts in That Direction.

VIENNA, Nov. 5.—Count Kalnoky, Imperial Minister of Foreign Affairs, informed the Hungarian Delegation that the situation of affairs was not such as to inspire anxiety. Referring to the Bulgarian problem, he said it would be impossible for Austria alone to solve the question. Austria's efforts were directed to a peaceful creation of a free, independent Bulgaria. The Emperor's relations with Germany had long been known to the world. Its friendship with Italy was neither of yesterday nor to-day. Its relations with Russia were good and left nothing to desire. He said that all intervention in Bulgarian affairs by a single power was absolutely precluded. He hoped foreign interference was precluded forever.

THE SITUATION IN EGYPT.

Fears That The Wady Halfa Garrison is not Strong Enough to Repulse an Attack.

LONDON, Nov. 6.—Egypt is again attracting general attention, and fears are expressed that the garrison at Wady Halfa is not strong enough to repulse an attack. The latest despatch received by the government from the commander of the garrison says: "In this position we are perfectly safe. We are not sufficiently strong to attack the rebels, but they are afraid to attack us. They want to draw us into the open, which they cannot do." The preparations Italy is making at Massowah indicate the speedy beginning of a serious campaign, the object of which is supposed to be to occupy and fortify Karen and open trade with the Soudan. The arrival of a supposed English Mediation Commission at Massowah is interpreted in some quarters as denoting the collusion of England in the Italian project because, it is argued, the preparations of Italy have gone too far to permit mediation.

In accordance with her oft expressed wish the patchwork quilt which children of the United States presented to Jenny Lind was buried with her.

In Brief, And To The Point.

Dyspepsia is dreadful. Disordered liver is misery. Indigestion is a foe to good nature.

The human digestive apparatus is one of the most complicated and wonderful things in existence. It is easily put out of order.

Greasy food, tough food, sloppy food, bad cookery, mental worry, late hours, irregular habits, and many other things which ought not to be, have made the American people a nation of dyspeptics.

But Green's August Flower has done a wonderful work in reforming this sad business and making the American people so healthy that they can enjoy their meals and be happy.

Remember:—No happiness without health. But Green's August Flower brings healtand h happiness to the dyspeptic. Ask your druggist for a bottle. Seventy-five cents.

A Sad Contemplation.

It is sad to contemplate the amount of physical suffering in the world. How many weary, broken down invalids there are to whom life is burdensome! The nervous debility and general weakness of those afflicted with lingering disease is best remedied by the invigorating powers of B.B.B. 2w44d

Diphtheria.

"Last January," says J. N. Teeple, of Orwell, Ont., "there appeared diphtheria in our neighborhood. Doctors ran night and day, but I kept right to Hagyard's Yellow Oil and brought my children through all right. Yellow Oil cures all painful complaints and injuries. 2w44d

To Avoid Baldness or Grey Hair.

Use Dr. Dorenwend's Great German Hair Magic. It keeps the scalp clean and free from Dandruff, and promotes the growth of the hair. It prevents premature grayness and stops all falling out of the hair. On bald heads, where the roots have not perished, it will invigorate them and force a new growth of hair. Ask for Hair Magic. It is the only reliable. For sale by J. D. Tully and all druggists.

Reliable Remedy For Rheumatism.

Procure a bottle of Hagyard's Yellow Oil from your medicine dealer, and use according to the directions. It cured Ida Johnson, of Cornell, Ont., of that complaint, and she recommends it as a sure cure. For 25 years it has never failed to give satisfaction. 2w44d

A Narrow Escape.

People who are exposed to the sudden changes of our northern climate have little chance of escaping colds, coughs, sore throat and lung troubles. The best safe-guards to keep Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam at hand. It is a quick relief and reliable cure for such complaints. 2w44d

The Modus Operandi.

The mode of operating Burdock Blood Bitters is that it acts at once and the same time upon the Stomach, Liver, Bower, Kidneys, and the Blood, to cleanse, regulate and strengthen. Hence its almost universal vaine in Chronic complaints. 2w44d

Cured By B.B.B. When All Else Failed.

Mr. Samuel Allan, of Lisle, Ont., states that he tried all doctors in his locality while suffering for years with Liver and Kidney trouble; nothing benefited him until he took Burdock Blood Bitters, four bottles of which cured him. 2w44d

THE WAR CLOUD BUSTED.

VICTORY has Perched on the Banner of

PETERBOROUGH'S GREAT CHEAPSIDE!

And SHEPPARD, by common consent, will get $1,000 for being the Cheapest Clothier in Peterborough, having knocked the Wonderful Cheap Man completely out. "Business is Business; Dirt is Dirt, and when it comes to throwing Dirt, then Count" the only original teddy out, and he will hand over that $1,000 like a little man: For the following reasons:—

Sheppard sells a full size Man's Suit for $2.95, and better Goods than a Suit to fit a Child about 9 years old sold by the Wonderful Cheap-Man on Saturday for $3.00; but marked $3.50. This is how it was:—A Lady purchased a Child's Suit on Saturday last, Sept. 17th, 1887, at the Store of the Wonderful Cheap-Man. It was marked thusly:—Lot 5375, Breast 27, Waist 26½, Age 9, Price $3.50. It was pure Shoddy, being held together by cotton threads, and Sheppard is free to say that that was the dearest Suit sold in the Town of Peterborough for the last two years. Full particulars are given because of the $1000 involved, and, further, that this decides who is selling the Cheapest Clothing in Peterborough. SHEPPARD would have sold that Lady a Suit, Pure Wool for that money, and worth two of the one she got.

$1,000 to Go to the Charitable Institutions of Peterborough.

I had first decided to give the agencies a chance of jumping up my rating that $1.000, but after considering the matter and finding that never in any case have I been asked for an endorser to my paper, and that no relative or any other persons have ever endorsed my paper to the extent of one cent, I have come to the conclusion my credit is as good as yours and will ask you to hand over the $1,000 to the Charitable Institutions of Peterborough.

Now, Sir, there is a good story told the truth of which can be vouched for, but for the honor of at least making an effort to keep up your self-styled name—The Terror of High Priced Clothiers—do not allow the same to be said of you in the case above. A man purchased a suit for $15.00 at the store of one of the largest Advertisers in that section of country. It was guaranteed pure wool; but after examining it carefully at home, he came to the conclusion that he had been dealing with some one sharper than himself. Finding a make of wool, differing some from anything he had ever seen, it dawned upon him, that he had heard of wool of that kind, so the suit was returned. The merchant bet $25.00 that it was all wool, and the bet was accepted the decision being left to a neighboring merchant, he found that the $15.00 suit, was wool faced and shoddy back, pure unadulterated shoddy, but what of the $25.00 bet, was it paid, not much—muchly—as it were.

SHEPPARD is making Wonderful Strides in Securing Marvellous Bargains in Dry Goods, Clothing, Hats and Caps.

The Scripture Readings.

The following letter which was forwarded on Saturday to the principals of the High and Public Schools explains itself:—

DEAR SIR,—As Chairman of the School Supervision Committee, I beg to call your attention to the fact, that at the last meeting of the Board of Education, it was decided that each teacher in the High and Public Schools, shall open the school by reading from the Bible a selection, as indicated by the International Series of Sabbath School Lessons, and repeating the Lord's prayer; and that provision to the closing of the schools, teachers be required to read a selection from the authorized Scripture Readings; and that at least once a week, time be allowed for examination to see that all pupils thoroughly memorize the Ten Commandments.

Herewith is a copy of the memorial presented to and adopted by the Board, which you will please see is faithfully carried out.

Your attention is also called to the fact that in the Public Schools from the second book classes up, you are to arrange in your scheme of lessons for instruction on the subject of "The injurious effects of Alcholic Liquors," as taught in the text book prescribed for use in Public Schools.

Yours very truly,
J. R. STRATTON,
Chairman S. S. Com.

Peterborough, Nov. 5th, 1887.

Inspector of Anatomy.

Mr. D. Bellegham, undertaker, has received from the Ontario Government the position of Inspector of Anatomy for the county of Peterborough, including the town of Peterborough, under the Act of 1885. The Ontario Government has established in connection with the Provincial University a medical faculty and the government is giving its very best attention to the raising of the standard of medical education in this province. The study of practical anatomy is one of the most essential parts of a students education in order that he may become a skilled surgeon and physician. As tending to the promotion of these objects an "Act respecting the study of Anatomy" was passed in 1885, which provides that bodies of persons found dead, publicly exposed, or sent to a morgue, are to be delivered to the authorities of recognized medical schools, unless claimed by friends within 48 hours. But even after being sent to a medical school these bodies are kept for five days subject to the claims of friends. The act also requires coroners to give notice to the Inspector of bodies found, and the superintendents of charitable institutions are also required to give notice, as well as the mayors of towns and cities, to the Inspector, who will turn over all unclaimed bodies to the medical schools, thus saving the no small item of expense of pauper burials to corporations and charitable institutions. All medical schools availing themselves of the above act are required to give bonds for the decent interment of bodies after they have served the purpose of anatomical instruction. The duties of the Inspector of Anatomy for any district is to keep a register, giving age, sex, birthplace, of each unclaimed body received by him and the name of the school to which it is delivered. He shall deliver such bodies to the different medical schools in rotation, according to the number of students, and his registers shall at all times be open to the inspection of medical practitioners. The appointment noted above is a good one, and the incumbent will doubtless give every satisfaction.

Oddfellowship.

The following is taken from the last issue of the Dominion Oddfellow:—"On Monday evening, the 13th ult., Bro. J. R. Stratton, M.P.P., D.D.G.M., made an official visit to Otonabee Lodge, No. 13, accompanied by the Grand Warden, Dr. Bell. This was Bro. Stratton's first visit since his appointment, and he received a cordial welcome. Just previous to his entry, a communication from the grand Master, advising the lodge of the appointment, was read, and a resolution was passed unanimously, heartily approving of the Grand Master's selection, and a copy of the resolution was ordered to be sent to the Grand Master. Just here, we think the Grand Master should have the resolution published in Dominion Oddfellow to show the true spirit which animates the brethren of Otonabee Lodge. The Noble Grand, Bro. Mowry, welcomed the District Deputy Grand Master in a few choice and excellent words, to which Bro. Stratton replied in a brief and eloquent manner, in which he promised to do everything in his power to promote harmony throughout the membership in Peterborough, and trusted the year would be one of the brightest, most prosperous and harmonious in the history of the I. O.O.F. in this town. Grand Warden Bell added some clear, sound advice. The best of good feeling prevailed."

Ladies! You will find Turnbull's the right house to buy yarns of all shades at right prices.

Peterborough Liberality.

The Cobourg World in reporting the dedication of the new Anglican church, at Grafton, St. George's, has the following in reference to the liberality of citizens of Peterborough:—"The east end of the chancel contains a handsome memorial window, erected by Mrs. Vernon, of Peterborough, (a former parishioner) to the memory of her late husband, Chas. Henry Vernon, Esq. This window, executed by the well known firm of Spence & Sons, of Montreal, is divided into three sections. The centre contains a panel representing the Saviour blessing little children, with sacred monograms above and below. The side sections are emblems of the sacraments of Baptism and the Holy Communion, represented by a Font with a dove descending upon the water and a chalice with ears of wheat and clusters of grapes, in north and south sections respectively. The spaces formed by the spring of the arches are filled in with angel heads, silent witnesses of the worship offered to Almighty God in His Church on earth. The effect of the whole is very pleasing and is much admired. The altar has been remodelled and the expense of enlarging it and providing an altar cloth has been generously met by Mrs. Dr. Halliday, of Peterborough, also a former parishioner."

Police Court.

Some Naughty Boys in the Dock.—A Thief Remanded.

MONDAY, Nov. 7.

A little ten-year-old boy named Johnny Fligg stood trembling before the police magistrate this morning. He was charged with breaking some windows in a house owned by Mr. W. H. Wrighton. His evidence implicated four or five more boys in the matter, and the case was remanded till to-morrow, when the other lads will also appear. During the hearing of the case the following dialogue occurred:

THE MAGISTRATE—When you were breaking the windows you knew you were doing wrong, didn't you.

BOY (whimpering)—Y-y-yes, sir.

MAGISTRATE—Then what did you do it for?

BOY—(Muttered and sobbed unintelligibly; then, more hopefully)—I'll not do it agin, sir. Kin ye pay for the glass?

MAGISTRATE—Can you pay for it now; have you any money?

BOY—No, sir; but me mother will.

He was told to come back to-morrow morning at ten o'clock accompanied by his mother.

A BAD BEGINNING.

Saturday night P. C. McGinty arrested a couple of boys named Fred Baker and Willie Sharpe, who were acting in a disorderly manner in the vicinity of the Wm. Hamilton works. They spent Sunday in the cells. In court this morning they stated positively that they were taking a drunken man home when arrested. The magistrate dismissed them with a warning.

After court was over P.C. McGinty exhibited a half-filled flask of whiskey which he had taken from them.

HELD AS A VAG.

About nine o'clock Sunday evening a young farmer reported to the police that an overcoat had been stolen from his buggy while standing under the Snowden house shed. Officers Pidgeon and McGinty visited the place and found a man sleeping in the stable enveloped in the comfortable folds of the missing overcoat. He was arrested, and this morning appeared in court. No one appeared against him, and he was remanded till Saturday as a vagrant. The offender's name is James Wilfred.

Personal

Adjutant Bolton, of Peterborough, attended at the dedication of a new Salvation Army barracks in Montreal on Sunday.

Mr. Andrew Wilson, of the insurance firm of Wilson & Morrison, returned home from Belleville on Tuesday evening seriously ill, and has since been confined to his bed.

Mr. Edward B. Borland, who lost his life by the foundering of the propeller Vernon on Lake Michigan, was well known in Port Hope, Peterborough and Belleville. He left the latter place to go to Milwaukee.

The Convent.

The following extracts are taken from the report of Inspector White of his visit last May:—

SENIOR DEPARTMENT.—Pupils registered 121; present, 103; pupils sent to High School during the year, 0. "A graded school of three compartments, the state of order and discipline is exceptionally good." The proficiency of classes in the several subjects is described as "excellent and good". He further adds: "This school deserves to rank very high for the excellence of its work under zealous and very competent teachers. In the senior classes their answering especially in the English subjects, was most meritorious. The large number of pupils who passed the High School entrance examination is very creditable.

JUNIOR DEPARTMENT:—Pupils registered, 99; present, 73. Two departments; graded; discipline faultless. He adds: "A considerable improvement is noticeable in the work of the school since my visit last year. In the senior classes the writing and drawing are very creditable; music, too, shows evidence of having been well taught. The standing in other subjects is in general quite satisfactory."

ST. MARY'S SCHOOL, Lake street — Pupils registered, 124; present, 106. A graded school of two departments—discipline without fault. He also adds: "Very many of the pupils in this school are French, and their progress in English is at first necessarily slow. The general results are very satisfactory, however, especially in the senior divisions, where the answering would do credit to a class in any school.

Shall Women Vote?

A regular meeting of the Young Peoples' Association will be held in the George Street Church Sunday School room this evening. A short musical programme will be rendered but the chief attraction of the evening will be a debate upon the question: "Resolved, that the franchise should be extended to women." The negative side will be led by Messrs. Hill, Scotts and Wright; the affirmative by Messrs. Armstrong, Stevens and Clegg. An interesting discussion is expected, as both sides are composed of embryo orators of no mean calibre. The public are invited.

Bad Boys Abroad.

Sometime during Saturday night, Sunday or Sunday night two cars in the Midland R. R. yard here were broken open and from one of them about half a pail of confectionery was extracted. It is supposed to have been the work of boys, as this morning some of the candy was found in the yard of the south ward school. It is supposed the lads dug the holes in the wall of the building, as noted elsewhere, in order to find a safe hiding-place for their plunder. In this they were unsuccessful, however.

Live Stock.

Shipments of live stock over the Grand Trunk R.R. average about one carload a day. On Saturday Messrs. Denoon and Aikens each shipped a carload of cattle and hogs. Mr. T. Cavanagh is sending a carload of horses to-day, and Mr. Watts, of Warsaw, despatches two carloads of stock to-morrow, all to Montreal.

Lacrosse in Montreal.

MONTREAL, Nov. 7.—On Saturday afternoon the Toronto Lacrosse Club played the Cornwall Club on the Shamrock Lacrosse Grounds for the championship of the world and a trophy offered by the editor of Sport. The game was very hotly contested and witnessed by 4000 excited spectators of whom 1000 were students. The first game was won by Toronto in 16 minutes, the second by the Cornwalls in 23 minutes, the third by Toronto in 37 minutes, the fourth by Cornwall in 11 minutes. After the fifth game had been in progress 7 minutes the referee called the game, it being too dark to play any longer. An effort will be made to bring the clubs together again this season, so as to have the championship decided.

Natural Gas at Port Colborne.

Their greatest flow was had at about 800 feet.

CHICAGO, Nov. 7.—The bombs were placed in the hands of Capt. Shaack for examination, and that officer reported that they appeared to have been designed for use by some of the condemned as agents of self-destruction. From his knowledge of the methods of making bombs for various purposes, the captain gave it as his opinion that the bombs found in Lingg's cell were intended to be used only as a means of cheating the gallows. It was doubtless the intention of Lingg as well as of the other three, to put one end of the bomb in his mouth and light the fuse just as he would a cigar.

Not the least remarkable phase of the bomb discovery is that it came about from the fact that Anarchist George Engel attempted suicide on Saturday night by taking an ounce of laudanum. Dr. Gray was called, and at once commenced active work on his patient. As soon as Engel came to his senses he raved and cursed at being disturbed in his sleep, and asked the reason of his being awakened. He protested that he had only drunk a little whisky, and was all right. Subsequently, however, the bottle from which he had taken the laudanum was found, and he sullenly admitted the truth of the accusation. He had preferred death by his own hand, he said, to any carrying out of a sentence under the law. The scheme to furnish Lingg with bombs was evidently carefully thought out by some of his co-partners in crime on the outside.

In addition to swallowing the laudanum Engel told Dr. Gray that he took sixteen morphine pills on Friday night. Dr. Gray was amazed at this intelligence, but understood why they proved ineffectual when Engel said he had the pills ever since he was brought to the jail. That was exactly a year and a half ago yesterday, and long since then the pills have ceased to have any active power. Engel says he swallowed the sixteen pills at a gulp late on Friday night, and walked his cell all day Saturday, expecting at any moment to fall down. When it grew towards night and the morphine had no effect, he resolved to take the laudanum. After his friends left in the evening he poured out six or seven teaspoonfuls of the poison and tossed it off. It must have been of inferior quality, as half the dose would have caused death. Engel said he did not have a fair trial.

THE FINDING OF THE BOMBS.

Spies, Fielden and Schwab Say They Knew Nothing at all About Them.

CHICAGO, Nov. 7.—Mr. Wm. Salter, who has been working to secure the signatures of citizens for a request of commutation of sentence against the Anarchists, this afternoon visited Spies at the jail and requested him to say plainly what he knew about the bombs found in Lingg's cell yesterday.

In answer Spies wrote the following, and to it are appended the signatures of Fielden and Schwab. Farther below is a statement by Fischer: "It is useless for me and my friends to say that we had no knowledge of the kind. No sane man would have bombs in his cell or countenance any such a thing. The first intimation I received of the matter came from Sheriff Matson last evening. I haven't spoken to Lingg for I think nine months. I don't know much of him, but I think he is a monomaniac. Had only seen him once or twice before we were put together and charged with a "conspiracy." Lingg as far as I can judge him, seeks to be martyred, and to be candid, would like the rest of us to go with him."

Fischer wrote: "I don't know what to think of it. I cannot comprehend that Lingg intended to take the lives of the jail officials, who, in every respect, have treated us very kindly. Neither do I believe that Lingg wanted to commit suicide, because he possesses too much courage. The whole affair is a puzzle to me."

The Governor's Difficulties.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Nov. 7.—Gov. Oglesby was thunderstruck when he received the news of the finding of the bombs in Lingg's cell. He read and reread the despatch, and a cloud of gloom, vexation and anxiety swept over him, as the full import of the information dawned upon him. "I can say nothing. I must say nothing whatever in regard to this matter. There is nothing I can properly say, and any opinion I might express, even if it were proper for me to express an opinion, would only be misunderstood."

The Discovery of More Bombs.

CHICAGO, Nov. 7.—It is reported that the police have discovered eleven dynamite bombs which were secreted in the house of an Anarchist, near the gas works on West Division-street.

The Minister Refused to Interfere.

LONDON, Nov. 7.—A deputation professing to represent the Liberal and Radical clubs of London and the provinces, visited the United States Legation to-day to present to Mr. Phelps a protest against the execution of the Chicago Anarchists, and ask him to cable it to the Governor of Illinois. The deputation were without credentials and were all unknown to the Minister, who declined to receive the protest or to interfere in any way in the matter.

A Letter Signed "Bomb Thrower."

CHICAGO, Nov. 7.—The secretary of the Amnesty Association received this morning a twelve-page, closely written letter, signed "Bomb Thrower." The writer used red ink and asserts that he threw the bomb, and expatiates in detail as to the manner in which he manipulated the fuse. He further declares that he had contemplated using dynamite long before the Haymarket riot, and says that he intended to throw it into the Desplaines-street Station. An injury said to have been received in July preceding May 4, 1886, instigated him to violence. He it was who lighted the cigar and he lighted the fuse of the bomb with the cigar. The letter contained many misspelled words and was poorly punctuated. The handwriting was fair and appeared to be that of a woman. The missive was mailed in Chicago and on the outside of the envelope "Important" was scrawled in large letters.

FILLING THE JUDGESHIPS.

MR. JUSTICE ARMOUR AND JUDGE BENSON PROMOTED.

It is Expected That the Exchequer Court Will Sit Soon—The Labor Commission Will Begin Its Labors in a Few Days—The Stillwell Case.

OTTAWA, Nov. 7.—Another advance towards filling the vacancies on the Ontario Bench was made to-day when Mr. Justice Armour was promoted to the Chief Justiceship of the Court of Queen's Bench, in place of Sir Adam Wilson, resigned, and Junior Judge Benson was made County Court Judge of the United Counties of Northumberland and Durham, in place of Judge Clark, resigned.

Mr. Arthur Andal, barrister, of Quebec, has been appointed Registrar of the Exchequer Court. Judge Burbidge is understood to have been at work for some time preparing rules of the court, etc., and it is expected that the first sitting of the court will shortly be held. It is understood that the court will sit in the Supreme Court room until the rooms in the Supreme Court building, now used as the National Art Gallery, are fitted up for it. It has not been decided where the Art Gallery will be located.

Judge Armstrong, chairman of the Labor Commission, arrived in the city from Sorel to-night. Mr. Carson will, it is believed, be appointed on the commission as the Ottawa representative, and there will also be a representative from Quebec. The commission is expected to commence its labors in the course of a few days.

No action has as yet been taken on the petition for the release of Mr. Stillwell of The Glengarrian, which was presented on Saturday.

DROWNED IN A SACK.

A Detroit Newspaper Charges a Saloon Keeper With Murdering a Girl.

DETROIT, Nov. 7.—A girl 22 years of age, who said her name was Julia Dixon, came to this city a few months ago from London, Ont., and went to work as a domestic in a family on Hancock-avenue. While there she received the attentions of an East side saloon keeper. Later she worked for families on Antoine-street, and from the house of one of these she one day disappeared without warning. Her brother came here to look her up, but finding no trace of the girl went back home. A local paper yesterday published an article declaring that Miss Dixon was murdered and that her remains were sewed up in a sack and thrown into the Detroit River below Wyandotte. The article says the young woman was taken by a man supposed to be the saloonkeeper, to a house where a doctor performed a criminal operation on her. The girl sank rapidly, and it was decided to make away with the body. The preparations for this were perfected before the girl was dead and when the patient seemingly ceased to breathe a coffee sack was brought in and the body hurriedly sewed up in it. There is reason to believe that the girl was thrown into the river while she was yet alive, but while she was unconscious. It is said the murderers will soon be arrested.

Dhulep Singh's Telegram.

LONDON, Nov. 7.—The Indian Government is about to construct batteries at the principal seaports of India. Dhulep Singh has sent a telegram to the Nizam of Hyderabad saying that he is mistaken in giving sixty lacs of rupees to England because India will be taken by Russia.

The Crown Prince's Condition.

LONDON, Nov. 7.—Dr. Mackenzie telegraph from San Remo as follows: "Regarding the condition of the German Crown Prince there has been a recurrence of the growth lower down in the throat. I am issuing an unfavorable bulletin to-night."

A despatch from San Remo says Dr. Mackenzie states that a renewal of the discharge of pus from the Crown Prince's throat renders necessary a difficult and complicated cutting operation on the larynx.

A BIG FIRE NEAR BEAMSVILLE.

Over Thousand Cords of Wood, a Lot of Lumber and a Barn Burned.

BEAMSVILLE, Nov. 7.—A tremendous fire raged near here all day yesterday. It was in a 100-acre field north of the village. The land was bought last fall by James Karr and David Davis. A good part of it was wooded, and the new proprietors had cut down nearly all the timber and converted it into cordwood and lumber, a saw mill having been erected in the centre of the property. Yesterday morning there were on the field 1000 cords of wood, a large quantity of sawn lumber and huge piles of brush, besides the mill and a large barn. Davis had been clearing part of the land preparatory to sowing, and had had men employed for some days in burning the brush and stumps. Yesterday morning a heavy gale was blowing, and it swept the fire over the whole property. All the cordwood and lumber and brush, and also the barn, were destroyed. Fortunately there was a large cleared space around the mill, and it was saved by the strenuous exertions of several brave men, who stayed there and kept the roof and framework soaked with water. The fire was still burning at a late hour last night, but had abated because there wasn't much left to feed upon.

THE BESSIE BARWICK MISSING.

She was Last Seen off Michipicoten, About 100 Miles From Sault Ste. Marie.

HAMILTON, Nov. 7.—No tidings have been received by the owner, Mr. R. O. Mackay, of the whereabouts of his schooner Bessie Barwick. She was in tow of the Celtic, and as the latter met with a mishap to her crank pin the Barwick had to be placed on her own resources. The crew of the Celtic last saw the Barwick off Michipicoten, about 100 miles from Sault Ste Marie, on Friday, Oct. 28. The Barwick has not arrived at the Sault, but Mr. Mackay is in hopes that she has got safely into one of the lower ports, where in all probability she will have to winter, as ice has formed along the shores of Lake Superior. The gales have been frightful on the upper lakes, and it is no wonder that the owner of the Bessie Barwick is anxious about her and her crew. The Barwick loaded with wheat at Port Arthur for Kingston.

A GUNNING ACCIDENT.

A Young Man of Grimsby Township Loses his Life While Hunting.

HAMILTON, Nov. 7.—A distressing accident occurred in Grimsby Township, sixteen or eighteen miles from here, on Saturday, by which Mr. Alfred Biggar, son of Mr. Jacob Biggar, of that township lost his life. The young man left his home in the morning for the purpose of spending the day hunting. Towards night as his brother was crossing the fields going home he found his dead body lying beside a rail fence at the edge of the woods. His gun was by his side, discharged, and a pool of blood surrounded him. The discharge from the gun had entered his temple, blowing his brains out. The body was removed to Mr. Biggar's residence. It is believed that while climbing the fence the gun caught or fell, or that Biggar fell, and the result was death. Mr. Biggar has been very unfortunate of late. Last summer he was struck by lightning while at work, and for a long time his life was despaired of. He was 25 years of age, the eldest living son of Mr. Biggar, and was unmarried.

THE CAFFAREL SCANDALS.

The Civil Tribunal Investigating the Selling of Legion of Honor Decorations.

PARIS, Nov. 7.—The trial of Gen. Caffarel, Madame Limousein, Madame Ratazzi and Gen. D'Audlan for selling Legion of Honor decorations was commenced to-day. All the defendants were present except Gen. D'Audlan.

Gen. Caffarel was examined and admitted entering into business relations with Mme. Limousein in order to obtain resources to relieve his embarrassment. He interested himself in applications for the Legion of Honor decorations solely to oblige Mme. Limousein. He never received any money for them. He denied that he divulged the plan for the mobilization of the seventeenth army corps.

Died While Running to a Fire.

WYOMING, Ont., Nov. 7.—About 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon people returning from the Methodist Church on the Town-line, between Plympton and Enniskillen, saw that the residence of John Dupee was on fire. They succeeded in saving a large portion of the contents of the main building, the fire having evidently originated in the summer kitchen at the rear. A very sad accompaniment of the fire was the sudden death of the youngest son of a neighbor, Henry Dennis, who, while running to the fire, was observed to fall down, and when reached immediately expired, it is supposed from rupture of the heart.

A Buried City Unearthed.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—It is reported that Prof. Cushman, in charge of a Government exploring expedition in Southern Arizona, has unearthed a whole city there and exhumed 2000 skeletons.

A Presbyterian Church Burned.

HALIFAX, Nov. 7.—A fire broke out in the Presbyterian Church at Musquodoboit harbor yesterday while the congregation were at worship. The people all escaped without injury. The building, which is only partially insured, was totally destroyed.

CHAMBERLAIN'S ARRIVAL.

THE BRITISH COMMISSIONER AT NEW YORK.

He Will Proceed to Washington in a Few Days—He Attends an Interview to a Press Correspondent, But Refuses to Say Anything Regarding Home Politics.

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—Joseph Chamberlain, the British Fishery Commissioner, was a passenger on the steamer Etruria, which arrived this morning. Mr. Chamberlain was met by William Lawn Bowles, British Consul-General, and Hon. Wm. Smith, Deputy Minister of Marine in Canada.

Mr. Chamberlain received a representative of the United Press at the Brevoort House this evening. He did not wish to answer any questions regarding controversial matters in England, but as a general expression of his views declared himself in favor of the disestablishment of the church, entire freedom of the primary education, local option, the extension of local government to all parts of the kingdom, a graduated property tax, and manhood suffrage. He did not think the Irish question would be settled in our time. He declined to discuss the differences between his plan as to Ireland and that of Mr. Gladstone, as it would require too long an exposition. He was a Free Trader as opposed to what is called fair trade, though he had never heard the latter successfully defined, and it was difficult to say whether it was making any progress.

The cable report of his speech to the effect that Irish-Americans had lost no occasion in the last thirty years to take a position on controverted questions that would injure the relations between England and America was incorrect so far as it implied that they had invariably done so. He had said that on certain occasions in the last thirty years they had not hesitated to jeopardize the best interests of their adopted country in pursuit of their special objects.

Mr. Chamberlain did not think it proper for him to express any opinion in advance as to whether it would be wiser for the Fishery Commission to work back to the last treaty, the treaty of Washington, or to take up the treaty of 1818 and revise it. He did not know that the subject of Commercial Union commended itself to any considerable number of people outside of Canada. He did not think the matter had received any consideration in England. He observed that one or two Canadian papers attacked it very warmly, but he thought they were laboring under a misapprehension as to his position in the matter. Being asked if he thought the idea would be pleasing to the English people, he replied that he thought they would be scarcely willing to tolerate it, because the great advantage of the connection with the self-governing colonies is the fact that trade follows the flag. If that advantage is taken away it is very difficult to see why England should retain the obligation that is thrown upon her for their defense.

Mr. Chamberlain was asked if he considered himself as the representative of Great Britain rather than Canada. He answered that he was the representative of Great Britain and "one of the whole Empire. Well, I should not say that. All three commissioners are representatives of Great Britain, but, of course, Sir Charles Tupper has special competency to speak on behalf of Canada on account of local circumstances with which he is so well acquainted, but he holds his appointment just as truly from the Crown."

Being asked if he still belonged to the advanced wing of the Liberal party he replied that he did. He added that he should make no political speeches while in this country.

In regard to his future movements he said that he hoped to be able to visit Canada. He expected to start for Washington in a few days. He said he should return to New York, and if matters went smoothly spend some time traveling, both in the United States and Canada, for recreation and information. In regard to the date of the meeting it had not been as yet fixed, but it would not be until after the arrival of Sir Charles Tupper, who was expected in a few days at the most.

Mr. Chamberlain was shown a copy of the preamble to the resolution adopted by the Chamber of Commerce of this city on Thursday last, and said that it contained a substantially accurate quotation of his speech, but that it is, perhaps, a little stronger than the original speech, a qualifying word having been omitted, but that it did not misrepresent him at all.

Two detectives were on duty in the corridor of the hotel, and it is understood they will act as a body guard during Mr. Chamberlain's sojourn in this country.

Ireland Loses a Friend.

LONDON, Nov. 7.—Baron Wolverton, who died suddenly at Brighton yesterday, was a staunch friend of the Irish cause. He donated £100,000 towards the expenses of the Home Rule candidates in the parliamentary elections of 1886 and had frequently intimated since that he would spend a like amount at the next general election. He was one of Gladstone's closest friends. The Freeman's Journal of Dublin speaks in high praise of his services in behalf of Ireland.

Peterborough's Dress Goods House

Read This.

STRANGERS in Town, who stay over Sunday, are always surprised when they see the crowds of men, women and children pouring out of all the different churches, and they very naturally conclude that the citizens of Peterborough are a good church going people. If you should get wedged in with the people, who throng the sidewalk, such conversation as this might be heard:—"Well Miss ——how did you like the Sermon this evening?" "Oh! very much indeed, I always like to go to church to see the new styles in dresses." "Is that what you go for?" "Well, really, I did not pay much attention to the Sermon, as I could not help wondering how Miss —— can afford to dress so stylishly for all seasons of the year."

"Well, I can tell you how it is, for I am following her example myself." She buys her dress goods at rowe's trade palace and I know myself that you can get nicer goods and cheaper there than at any other store in town. Now, look at these kid gloves, I only paid forty-nine cents for them and I often paid eighty-five cents for gloves not as good in other stores. You should just see how cheap their goods are marked and all in plain figures. Mother and Aunty are going with me this afternoon to buy three nice dresses, won't you come along with us?"

Is Commercial Union Desirable?

To the Editor of the Examiner:—

The question of Commercial Union is far too important a question to the people of Canada to be passed over lightly. If Commercial Union will be good for us let us have it. The only way at present to ascertain this is by discussion and argument, and this is what I propose to do. I am in favor of Commercial Union. I believe it would be beneficial to our country. Not only this, I believe it is necessary for the prosperity of our country. And I can't see why two neighboring peoples of the same blood should be separated and kept apart in their trade relations, the one portion trying how much they can embarrass and impoverish the other. Both these peoples speak the same language, have the same instincts and feelings. They each occupy a country of nearly or quite three thousand miles in extent, each producing what the other wants. And the great majority of the people of these two countries desire to have freedom of trade and to live together in peace and unity. But although this is the case, by means of political prejudices and selfish feeling these peoples are kept separate, and to this end on the borders of each country is established and kept up at a vast expense a chain of custom houses, which stand as sentinels on guard for the sole purpose of keeping up this separation, and also for the purpose of depriving these people of the right and the advantage of dealing freely with each other. And it does look absurd to see a mere handful of People which Canada contains striving to

CARRY ON A WAR OF EXCLUSION

with one of the most populous and rich nations of the earth. As if anything which Canadians can do in this direction can avail anything, except to injure themselves. For all the efforts which they can put forth is nothing more nor less that the efforts of a fly to stop the revolution of a great wheel in motion by its mere weight of body. The people of the United States can live without us, but we cannot live without them. And if they should establish non-intercourse with Canada our people would either have to leave their country or starve. Even as it is, what do we see? We see the people of Canada flocking to the United States at the rate of eighty or ninety thousand a year, and we see already there upwards of a million and a half of Canadians who have already left us and gone there, and who declare that nothing would induce them to return. We also see our country over-burdened with debt and taxation, and we see this debt and taxation constantly increasing. And yet we are told that we must not have free trade, and that we must either sell our products to ourselves for just what they will bring, and if we take them to this other country we must carry them through hostile custom houses and pay heavy duties for the privilege of doing so. This is precisely our position now and it is what the opponents of Commercial Union desire to perpetuate in the future. But it so happens that there are two parties to this proposal and it is more than likely that the people, and especially the will decide according to their own sense of justice and right, and will not consent to have their hands tied behind their backs and have their pockets picked at their contents simply to satisfy a few unscrupulous politicians and to make rich a few monopolists and manufacturers. The time has happily gone by for bondwinking the people as used to be done in times of old. People now are able to look after their own interests, and they know the difference between paying away and losing money and making and saving it. In the latter case the purchase of commodities whereby here to sell and which they want to buy. And I don't believe that they will be so prejudiced by their political feelings as to voluntarily consent to be kept poor and finally ruined merely to please those men whose only care is for their own advancement and wealth. As I stated in my former communication, the share of the people of this county of the public debt of the Dominion is $1,800,000, the interest on which, including costs and charges of foreign agents and otherwise, is $90,000, and which has to be paid every year. And their share of the loss caused by the present protection ipolicy of this country, including the consequent customs charges of the United States, is $60,000 more. Now, if we had Commercial Union, which means the abolition of our protective policy, and

as well, the saving effected thereby to the people would be just so much money added to the wealth of the people. We were told, when we were asked to adopt our present "National Policy", as it is called, that the result would be to increase our manufacturing interests, by the introduction of foreign capital, and the consequent employment of tens of thousands of work-people, who would be consumers of the products of the farmers in our own country, who would then find a market at high prices for all they could produce. And that workmen would receive higher wages, and that everybody would be rich and prosperous and happy. But assuredly any of these promises have been verified. And instead of there being high prices for produce and grain the prices have become lower, and the people have become poorer and their future prospects are worse than the past. Vast sums of money have been taken from the people to enrich manufacturers and monopolists, and the result is that the people are leaving the country in thousands and going to the United States. An Ottawa paper of the first of November states that on that day a large number of families had left that part of the country intending to settle in the state of Kansas. And so it is everywhere. Farms to-day will not bring anything like the price they would have brought five and ten years ago. And as well as other real estate, are under mortgage, in many cases for more than they can be sold for. And yet we are told by some people, Mr. Bertram among the number, that free trade with the United States would be imprudent and dangerous. In other words, that the people must continue to live on, continue to dig and slave and work on and put up with their poverty. Then look at our neighbors and friends in Manitoba and the North West Territories. Their positions are ten times worse than ours. Going into a new country with everything to buy, this protection policy of our country weighs heavily and most oppressively upon them. And yet their sufferings and their complaints are laughed at by the powers that be, and they are as good as told that all they are fit for is to work on, to toil on, in order that the government at Ottawa and the C.P.R. Company may drag a few millions more out of their poverty. The time has now come for a change A change in favor of the people and the country. Everybody who is not blinded by prejudice or selfishness sees that Commercial Union is our only safety and success, and Commercial Union it must be, and Commercial Union it shall and will be.

NOT FOR PARTY,
BUT FOR MY COUNTRY'S SAKE.

AFFAIRS IN IRELAND.

Mr. O'Brien Makes No Complaint of Ill-Treatment in Jail.

DUBLIN, Nov. 7.—The Exchequer Court today heard the pleadings on the appeal from the decision of the magistrate against the Government in the case of Lord Mayor Sullivan, who was tried for publishing in his paper, The Nation, reports of meetings of proclaimed branches of the National League. The court reserved its decision.

On a Bread and Water Diet.

DUBLIN, Nov. 7.—Eight thousand persons assembled in front of the Tullamore Jail last evening, accompanied by bands of music, playing "God Save Ireland." Mr. O'Brien appeared at one of the windows and waved his handkerchief enthusiastically.

The Freeman's Journal says that Messrs. O'Brien and Mandaville have been put on bread and water as a punishment for refusing to wear the prison garb.

Mr. Sexton is Horrified.

DUBLIN, Nov. 7.—Mr. Thomas Sexton, M.P., at a meeting to-day of the City Corporation, of which he is a member, proposed that the council adjourn without transacting any business, as a mark of respect for Wm. O'Brien. He was horrified, he said, by the reports of the barbarous treatment which Mr. O'Brien had been subjected to in the Tullamore Jail. The Government had tried to break O'Brien's gallant spirit, and failing in its endeavor was determined to take his life. In accordance with his motion the council adjourned.

A Magistrate Visits O'Brien.

DUBLIN, Nov. 7.—The Governor of Tullamore jail to-day refused the demand of Mr. Moorhead, a Catholic Magistrate to see Mr. O'Brien, but on learning that a magistrate had a legal right to hold intercourse with a prisoner, sent for Mr. Moorhead and informed him that the desired interview would be granted, stipulating, however, that he himself should also be present. Mr. Moorhead says that the atmosphere in O'Brien's cell, together with a bread and water diet, is likely to have a fatal effect on a consumptive person. The breaking down of Mr. O'Brien's constitution, he thinks, is only a question of time. Mr. Moorhead asked Mr. O'Brien whether he had any complaint to make regarding his treatment, and Mr. O'Brien replied that his system had not been excited by the undue severity of the officials. Mr. Mandeville, Mr. Moorhead says, appeared cheerful and determined.

THE BULGARIAN QUESTION.

Russia Differs From Kalnoky's View Regarding Ferdinand's Election.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov., 7.—The Journal De St. Petersburg says Count Kalnoky's view of Prince Ferdinand's position differs from the Russian view. According to Count Kalnoky, the sanction of the powers is alone required to legalise Prince Ferdinand's election. Russia has never recognized the validity of his election because the Sobrange which elected him was the outcome of violence and illegality. Count Kalnoky's efforts to rally Russia will not tend to bring about peace. They may be more usefully employed elsewhere. Russia no more threatens the peace than she threatens the independence of the Balkan states.

DAVID SCOTT'S DISAPPEARANCE.

It is Generally Believed that He Committed Suicide While Out of His Mind.

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—The strange disappearance last month of David Scott, of Vernon Bros. & Co., is still exciting interest. John G. Scott of Toronto, a brother of the missing man, arrived here on Friday for the purpose of straightening out his brother's affairs. On Saturday morning Mr. Scott called on Thomas Vernon, the senior member of the firm, and urged him to sign a statement exonerating David Scott from all criminal action. Mr. Vernon later wrote a letter to the brother, in which he said as to the statement that he charged David Scott with forgery: "This is false, I never charged him with this, or any other criminal offence. With all his faults, and they were many, he had a warm and generous heart, which gave him a large circle of friends." Mr. Scott said his investigation confirmed him in the belief that his brother had committed suicide by jumping from Suspension Bridge at Niagara. Experts are examining the books of the firm, and he hopes that every stain will be removed from his brother's memory.

The New York Times says: The disappearance of David Scott, lately a member of the firm of Vernon Brothers & Co., under circumstances indicative of suicide, as related in yesterday's Times, has painfully shocked a large circle of men of prominence in this city who have been his friends. That he could have been guilty of premeditated dishonesty none of them will believe. He is said to have been the wheelhorse of the firm with which he was connected. He was its widest-known member in the trade, and upon him devolved entirely the entertainment of its customers. One of his intimate associates said that if he had drawn $40,000 beyond his account from Vernons the firm had got the benefit of it, for Mr. Scott's personal expenses had not, to his knowledge, exceeded $3000 a year for the last three years.

S. Webber Parker, Treasurer of the Ivanhoe Manufacturing Company, said he had no doubt Mr. Scott had committed suicide, and that his body would be found somewhere about Niagara Falls in the course of a few days. A telegram from a brother-in-law in Toronto said that Scott had not been seen there. His personal effects, clothing and some furniture at 17 West Thirty-second-street, remained as he had left them when he went away. Some friends yesterday paid the small balance due his landlady and removed the effects to a storage room.

FRENCH ARMY MOBILIZATION.

The Government Remedying Defects in the Railway System.

PARIS, Nov. 7.—In the Chamber of Deputies to-day Gen. Ferron, Minister of War, stated that the Government had not deemed it expedient during the mobilization of the seventeenth army corps to enforce the law placing the railways under the control of the War Office. The experiment, he said, had not been prejudiced by the economical course adopted. The mobilization experiment had disclosed defects in the arrangements of the railways which the War Department was now working to remedy. He congratulated the deputies upon giving fresh vigor to the patriotic feelings of the country by sanctioning the mobilization experiment. This remark was greeted with applause.

THE POPE'S JUBILEE.

The Program of the Ceremonies Attending the Celebration.

ROME, Nov. 7.—The program of the ceremonies attending the celebration of the Pope's jubilee was made public to-day. On Dec. 31 the Pope will receive the members of the international committee, who will present him with a gift of 1,000,000 lire. On Jan. 1 the Pope will celebrate Mass in St. Peter's. Jan. 2 he will hold a public reception at the Church of San Lorenzo. On Jan. 4 and 5 he will receive foreign deputations. On Jan. 6 he will open the exhibition of the gifts presented to His Holiness. On Jan. 15 the Pope will canonize ten saints.

Fire at Oshawa.

OSHAWA, Nov. 7.—To-night at 10.45 o'clock fire was discovered in a frame house on Brock-street, belonging to Mr. Hammond and occupied by A. Foster. The fire brigade with their engines were soon on the spot, but the fire had made such headway before being observed that the whole house, furniture, etc., were consumed. Mr. Hammond is in the west and it is impossible to find out whether the building was insured or not.

In Brief, And To The Point.

Dyspepsia is dreadful. Disordered liver is misery. Indigestion is a foe to good nature. The human digestive apparatus is one of the most complicated and wonderful things in existence. It is easily put out of order.

Greasy food, tough food, sloppy food, bad cookery, mental worry, late hours, irregular habits, and many other things which ought not to be, have made the American people a nation of dyspeptics.

But Green's August Flower has done a wonderful work in reforming this sad business and making the American people so healthy that they can enjoy their meals and be happy.

Remember:—No happiness without health. But Green's August Flower brings healtand h happiness to the dyspeptic. Ask your druggist for a bottle. Seventy-five cents.

A Sad Contemplation.

It is sad to contemplate the amount of physical suffering in the world. How many weary, broken down invalids there are to whom life is burdensome! The nervous debility and general weakness of those afflicted with lingering disease is best remedied by the invigorating powers of B.B.B. 2w44d

Diphtheria.

"Last January," says J. N. Teeple, of Orwell, Ont., "there appeared diphtheria in our neighborhood. Doctors ran night and day, but I kept right to Hagyard's Yellow Oil and brought my children through all right. Yellow Oil cures all painful complaints and injuries. 2w44d

To Avoid Baldness or Gray Hair.

Use Dr. Dorenwend's Great German Hair Magic. It keeps the scalp clean and free from Dandruff, and promotes the growth of the hair. It prevents premature grayness and stops all falling out of the hair. On bald heads, where the roots have not perished, it will invigorate them and force a new growth of hair. Ask for Hair Magic. It is the only reliable. For sale by J. D. Tully and all druggists.

Reliable Remedy For Rheumatism.

Procure a bottle of Hagyard's Yellow Oil from your medicine dealer, and use according to the directions. It cured Ida Johnson, of Cornell, Ont., of that complaint, and she recommends it as a sure cure. For 25 years it has never failed to give satisfaction. 2w44d

A Narrow eScape.

People who are exposed to the sudden changes of our northern climate have little chance of escaping colds, coughs, sore throat and lung troubles. The best safe-guard is to keep Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam at hand. It is a quick relief and reliable cure for such complaints. 2w44d

The Modus Operandi.

The mode of operating Burdock Blood Bitters is that it acts at once and the same time upon the Stomach, Liver, Bower, Kidneys, and the Blood, to cleanse, regulate and strengthen. Hence its almost universal value in Chronic complaints. 2w44d

Cured By B.B.B. When All Else Failed.

Mr. Samuel Allan, of Lisle, Ont., states that he tried all doctors in his locality while suffering for years with Liver and Kidney trouble; nothing benefited him until he took Burdock Blood Bitters, four bottles of which cured him. 2w44d

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria,
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria,
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria,
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

What a Match Did.

The Port Hope Times says:—"The confectionery wagon of Mr. Joe Huston, Peterborough, was standing outside the American hotel this morning, when smoke was seen issuing from a crack in the seat. The box was forced on and the fire had been burning some little time before Huston found it. He pulled out a buffalo robe and a fur coat; the robe was not touched, but a large hole was burned in the breast of the coat. A match dropped down the crack was the cause.

Walking a Rail.

Last Sunday morning a party of young men went out for a "constitutional", and in the course of their peregrinations came upon the railway track at Auburn. Taking each a rail, two of them started ahead, and, with only light canes as an assistance, walked down through Ashburnham to the locks loop line, over this connection to the main line on Bethune street, and up the latter to the foot of London street, only getting off twice during the entire distance—once at the bridge and again when they met a large party of pedestrians. They distanced their companions altogether, who walked on the rim.

A Fresh Feature of the Farce.

The following letter appears in the Review of Monday:—

To the Editor of the Review.

SIR,—Now that Judge Clark has accepted the position of solicitor of the C. P. R. and thus becomes the employee of an interest which is antagonistic to the development of water routes generally as well as of the Trent Valley Canal in particular, is it not about time that Mr. Stevenson and those whom he represents should urge upon the Dominion Government the propriety of substituting somebody else for Judge Clark on the T.V.C. commission recently appointed—or if this cannot now be done, the appointment of an additional commissioner, who is known to be favorable at least to the development of our waterways?

Yours, etc.,
CONSERVATIVE.

Peterborough, Nov. 7th, 1887.

[There is nothing surprising in the above. Judge Clark may now be "an employee of an interest which is antagonistic to the development of water routes generally," but this is not new; Judge Clarke has for years been the "employee of an interest hostile to" the Trent Valley Canal specifically—that is, the Dominion Government, which adopts every form of obstruction possible under the guise of affected friendliness to the scheme. A hostile engineer has been employed on it and dribblets of money have been doled out in so niggardly a manner, as to make progress so slow as to bring the work into ridicule and contempt. "Conservative" and his kind will growl sotto voce during the interval of elections at the inaction of the Dominion government, but the moment an election is announced they forget everything and bend all their energies to greasing the vote-making machine, for that is the only object for which the Dominion Government keeps the Trent Valley Canal in commission, so to speak. Judge Clark's withdrawal would only result in more delay. The commission, of course, can't go to work without a full membership. It will, probably, be months before Judge Clark's successor is appointed; more months before the Commission gets to work; more years before the Commission reports and still more years before any more work is done. Mr. Stevenson, M.P., owes it to himself to take some action in the matter. His first act in being elected was to promise that a thousand men would be at work on the Lakefield-Peterborough section this summer. The summer is past and this promise has gone the way of a thousand other broken pledges. If the Tories, who occasionally kick, over anonymous signatures in the newspapers, would carry their kicking to the polling booths and record it on their ballot papers, their kicking would be regarded with more respect. But instead of that when an election comes they stand meekly waiting to be kicked into the traces, to work through thick and thin for a government which they know to be an enemy to a work of vital importance to this district. No doubt the immense influence which the C.P.R. wields over the government accounts in great measure for the hostility which the Dominion Government exercises towards the work of Trent Valley canal construction.—Ed. EXAMINER.]

A Field of Labor For Girls.

Here is a bit of good news for girls and young women. In a late issue of the Shorthander, published in Toronto, is an article referring to the demand for young women who are shorthand and typewriters. Their informant was a teacher of one of the best schools in an American city, a woman of the highest integrity and ability. She says the demand is far in excess of the supply, and that a very superior class of young women have adopted the business as a profession. Many, she says, of a class who formerly adopted teaching as a profession are now taking up the business of stenography and typewriting, and are occupying very high positions as such in insurance companies, law offices, and in most of the large corporations. Experts in these offices can earn from $12 to $20 a week. There are doubtless many girls in Peterborough who desire to work for themselves and be independent, and to whom no better field of labor is open than shorthand and typewriting. The first can best be gained by having a competent teacher; the latter qualification is acquired by practice only. Miss E. Harper, a graduate of Bengough's Shorthand Bureau, Toronto, and a competent teacher of the art, is prepared to receive pupils in shorthand at her rooms in the Mechanics' Institute building at most reasonable rates. Read her advertisement and give her a call.

Belleville's Building Operations.

Belleville is rejoicing over her prosperity is evidenced by "an unusual building boom in the Bay City." The Intelligencer heads the report of the building operations of the season of 1887, filling nearly two-thirds of a column, with particulars similar to those given in the EXAMINER of Saturday and Monday. It says: "Belleville has made a mighty forward stride during the year 1887. The building boom surpasses that of any year since incorporation. To give an idea of the money expended this season in building operations the following list, by Wards, has been prepared:" The total amount expended in building in Belleville in 1887 was $152,600. Of this total, however, two churches, $23,000 and $40,000 respectively, contribute $63,000, leaving $89,600 as the sum total for residences and business blocks. The latter were two, $4,000 and $4,500 respectively, and one hotel building, $14,000, making in all $23,500, leaving the amount spent for residences $65,600.

Young Peoples' Association.

There was a large attendance at the regular weekly meeting of the Young Peoples' Association of the George Street Methodist Church last night. Rev. Mr. Wallace occupied the chair. The opening number of the programme was a vocal duet, "The Hardy Norseman's House of Yore," very acceptably rendered by Messrs. Sherin and Henderson. Then followed an admirable recitation by Miss Nellie Saunders, "Alba Vane," given in a manner that riveted the attention of the audience. Miss Saunders is possessed of excellent recitative ability. To fill up a gap Mr. W. A. Dixon favored the assembly with a short exhibition of his imitative and ventriloquial powers, which, it is needless to say, was highly appreciated. Then came the event of the evening, the debate upon the subject of extending the franchise to women. Messrs. Armstrong, Stevens and Clegg upheld the affirmative, speaking in the order mentioned, and Messrs. Scott, Hill and Wright conducted the opposition in the same manner. The "pro" side contended that as women were the equals of men in every way, and as they formed a large part of society (in fact, there were some 18,000 more women than men in Canada), they should be allowed a voice in the government of the country, in whose welfare they were as deeply interested and concerned as the men. The negatives argued that woman's true sphere of life, as indicated by Divine authority, was the home, where her benign influence could be better exerted in training the youth of the land than in engaging in contests in the political arena of life. They urged too that if women were given the franchise and the privileges it brings to men, they would of necessity have to shoulder man's responsibilities and positions in life, which was a physical impossibility. They contended too that activity in political or municipal affairs would tend to degrade woman and rob her of all the charms which now surround and guard her. In conclusion the affirmative side were given a hearing. They denied that woman in accepting the franchise must of necessity accept man's responsibilities and positions. The franchise only called upon them to record their votes for certain candidates, which would in no wise be degrading. Their morality and love for the good and true, they contended, would, if they had a voice in electing representatives to councils and parliaments, tend to the election of moral men who were on the side of the right. Rev. Mr. Wallace, after suming up the evidence, gave his decision in favor of the affirmative, which was generally accepted by the audience as the correct thing. The singing of the National Anthem brought the proceedings to a close. These weekly meetings of the Y. P. A. are most enjoyable and instructive, and cannot but result in much good to those who take interest in it sufficient to warrant their attendance.

Peterborough's Progress.

Now that Peterborough is in the lists for becoming a city, her progress is a fair subject for consideration. A "city" of Ontario thinks it has "made a great stride" because it has erected this year buildings representing $152,000—"the largest amount since its incorporation." Peterborough is not yet a city, still its record is ahead of that. This year the buildings erected, with no extraordinary expenditure such as churches or other public buildings, amount to $200,000. In 1886 the the figures were $223,030; in 1885, $215,000, and in 1884, $205,000, making a total in four years of $843,000. These large figures are not made up of large lump sums, but they represent dwellings of moderate cost and business blocks called for by business requirements. This year $40,000 has been expended on business blocks, while the balance has gone for dwellings and factory buildings. Three large new factory buildings have gone up and two others have had their capacities largely increased. The progress of Peterborough is very satisfactory—what was once regarded as a building boom is to be regarded as an annual affair, only varying year after year by small amounts. The well known Jingo rhyme may pertinently be adopted:

If we want to be a city,
As many of us do,
We've got the buildings, got the pop.,
And we've got the money, too.

The Ravages of Fire.

Last night at a few minutes to seven o'clock a fire was found to be in progress in the barns and stables of Mrs. Joseph Dixon, Smithstown hill. The fire engine, hose cart and hook-and-ladder waggon were soon on hand, but there being no water in the vicinity nothing could be done. The strong wind from the west fanned the flames into greater fury, and quickly the work of destruction was accomplished. The loss is estimated at between $2,000 and $3,000, as the year's crops were housed in the barns. A quantity of implements and other material were also burned. There was a small insurance on the property. The origin of the fire is altogether a mystery. The sparks and glowing embers were borne by the strong gale as far east as Auburn, setting fire in their wake to the fences, stubble and even buildings. The residence of Mr. Coyle Brown and Kingdon's cooper shop in particular had narrow escapes. A large number of young men assisted in stamping out the flames along the route of the fire, and prevented any further damage resulting.

Police Court.

TUESDAY, Nov. 8.

Johnny Fligg, Robert Thornton, Eddie Johnston, and Fred. Bradley, the last named apparently about seven years old, were in court this morning to answer to the charge of having broken windows in Mr. W. H. Wrighton's house. Each of the first three named admitted having broken one window, but little Bradley said he didn't break any. After the magistrate had spoken to the lads on the extent of their crime, he ordered the three who admitted the offence to pay each 50c., the cost of the glass, and told them never to do the like again, or next time he would send them to gaol. The magistrate used young Fligg for the purpose of impressing upon the culprits the enormity of their offence, saying to the lad's mother: "Mrs. Fligg, your son has been guilty of a terrible crime, [impressive pause], and he is fined 50c." The little fellows seemed to take to heart the lesson, and will, no doubt, be better boys in the future.

Fruit Social and Entertainment.

The fruit social and entertainment in the Orange Hall last night was well attended, the room being nearly filled with people, who spent a most enjoyable evening. Mr. T. B. Collins, Grand Master of Eastern Ontario, occupied the chair, and in his opening address referred to the satisfactory progress of the Order in Canada, particularly in Manitoba, and to the principles of loyalty and benevolence inculcated by their constitution. A well rendered solo by Mr. D. D. Galletly, and a highly appreciated recitation by Miss Brown, were followed by refreshments, which were distributed in abundance. Another solo by Mr. Galletly preceded a lengthy and interesting address by Rev. Dr. Smithett, of Omemee, Grand Chaplain tracing the history of the British Empire from the time of its subjugation by Julius Cæsar to the present. It was a highly loyal and patriotic address. He referred to the failures of the gunpowder plot and the Spanish Armada, to which he attributed much of England's freedom and greatness. He also made mention of England's lead in the evangelization of heathen nations and in the general diffusion of Christianity throughout the world. The proceedings were then brought to a close in the usual manner.

A Solid Citizen.

A report comes to town from the back country of an incident happining a few days ago in the township of Apsley. A stalwart lumberman, Stuart Slavin, whilst accompanying a load of shanty supplies, had the misfortune to be thrown beneath the wagon. The wheels passed over his body diagonally at the shoulders, and when it is known that the load weighed over 1900 lbs. those who witnessed the accident concluded that the man was crushed; but he rose promptly and shaking the dust of his clothing, began to heartily anathematise the driver for his carelessness. He had not received the least hurt and his clothing was not even torn. There are two reasons, one was he is a man of giant build and strength and the other is that he had on a complete outfit of clothing and underclothing bought from gough the wonderful cheap man. The material was so good that even a loaded wagon had no effect upon it. It is only a sample of thousands of other suits to be found at the great gough's store on george street. The goods are first-class and cheap as sunshine. Before being victimized by high price dealers, go to gough's.

Cochrane, Peterborough, has sold out the right of manufacturing in the United States his new roller process flour mill, which he has been testing there during the past three months, to an American company for the sum of $200,000. Messrs. R. H. Mitchell, S. T. Flint, L. N. Quale, M. Chorchill and J. M. Brown were appointed a committee by the Toledo, Ohio, Business Men's Association to go to Peterborough to investigate the working of the new mill, and so well pleased were they with the work it did that they closed the bargain, giving him the amount he asked, $200,000."

THE STATE ELECTIONS.

The Democrats Carry New York by a Large Plurality.

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—Chapin has been elected Mayor of Brooklyn, and that city elects the entire Democratic city ticket except Sheriff. Brooklyn gives the head of the Democratic state ticket 8000 plurality. George polled 11,888 votes in Brooklyn. In this city Cook, head of the Democratic ticket, has a plurality of 45,397 over Grant. George polled 36,629 votes. In New York and Brooklyn Cook's plurality falls 12,000 short of that given to Hill, who carried the state for Governor in 1885 by 11,000, but Grant's vote in the country is not up to expectations, and the general result is believed to be that Cook has carried the state by 10,000 to 15,000, though later returns may modify this estimate.

Col. Follows has been elected by a plurality of over 20,000 over Nicoll for District Attorney. Post, the Henry George candidate, polled 36,000 votes.

Pennsylvania Strongly Republican.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 8.—The entire Republican state ticket is elected, but their principal municipal candidates were defeated in this city by small majorities. The Republican majority on the state ticket is about 20,000.

Governor Foraker Re-elected.

CINCINNATI, Ohio, Nov. 8.—Foraker (Republican) re-elected governor by increased majority.

Democratic Gain in Iowa.

DES MOINES, Ia., Nov. 8.—Meagre returns show a very light Democratic gain, but there will be no material change from last year.

Republicans Claim Massachusetts.

BOSTON, Nov. 8.—The Republicans claim a plurality in the State of 14,000, or perhaps 17,000.

At the Democratic headquarters they are making no claims except that the vote will be found to be close when the returns are all in.

A Light Vote in Nebraska.

LINCOLN, Neb., Nov. 8.—It has been raining all day and a light vote was polled, with a reduced Republican majority on the state ticket.

The Result Uncertain in Virginia.

RICHMOND, Va., Nov. 8.—The returns from twenty counties and cities do not show a gain or loss to either party, although the vote has changed in several instances, former Democratic counties electing Republicans, and vice versa.

NEWFOUNDLAND'S COMMISSIONER.

The Island Will be Represented at the Washington Conference.

HALIFAX, N.S., Nov. 8.—Hon. J. S. Winter, Newfoundland's representative at the deliberations of the International Fisheries Commission, goes to Washington in a sort of unofficial capacity. He has been delegated by the Newfoundland Government, of which he is a member, to attend the commission with the idea of imparting to the British commissioners a better understanding of what is desired for the colony.

A MURDERER RUN DOWN.

James Bowie, Who Killed a Man Four Years ago in Nova Scotia, Apprehended.

HALIFAX, Nov. 8.—Four years ago James Bowie, a French youth of 17 years, shot and instantly killed a farmer named Ronald McDonald at Tracadie, Antigonish County. The murder was deliberate and cold blooded and the result of a family dispute over a piece of land. Bowie's father stood by and prompted the son. The youth escaped to the United States and all trace of him was for the time lost. Recently information was received from East Cambridge, Mass., that the chief of police had his eye on a young man supposed to be James Bowie. The case was taken in hand by the authorities here with the result that the suspected party was arrested in East Cambridge this morning, Detective Power having gone on from here to apprehend him.

The accused gives the name of Pitts, and denies all knowledge of the crime with which he is charged. The Dominion and United States authorities are in correspondence on the case, and the necessary papers asking for the extradition will be forwarded from Nova Scotia. James Bowie's father is now serving a life sentence in Dorchester penitentiary for being implicated in McDonald's murder, having been present when the deed was committed, aiding and abetting his son. He was first sentenced to be hanged, but the sentence was commuted.

SIMCOE FARMERS' INSTITUTE.

To-Day Farmers Smith and Fuller Will Speak on Commercial Union.

BEETON, Nov. 8.—The South Simcoe Farmers' Institute met to-day, the attendance being small. At the afternoon session Mr. Brown of the Agricultural College read a paper on "The Improvement of Temporary Pasture as Shown in the Last College Bulletin." At the night session Col. Tyrwhitt, W. H. Hammell, Prof. Brown, Arch. Blue of the Industrial Bureau, Mr. Shaw of The Live Stock Journal and Dr. Bryce of Toronto delivered addresses.

A Commercial Union meeting will be held to-morrow, at which Goldwin Smith, Valancey Fuller and Mr. Shaw will speak. Opposition speakers are expected from Toronto.

Fire at Ambherstburg.

AMHERSTBURG, Nov. 8.—A fire to-day destroyed G. F. Forey's grocery store, loss $7000, insurance $3000; James Hamilton's dwelling house, loss $2000, insurance $1200; Thomas Graveline's dwelling house, loss $1200, insurance $600; the roller skating rink, loss $1200, insurance $900. Mr. Healy, damage to furniture in removal $100; Mrs. Bruce, damage to furniture $100. The Oddfellows occupied the rooms over Forey's store and owned the building, loss $2500, insurance $2000. The companies interested are the Citizens', Norwich Union, City of London and British North America.

Saw Mills at Reynoldsville Burned.

ST. CATHARINES, Ont., Nov. 8.—About 8 o'clock last night fire broke out in Reynolds & Secord's saw mill at Reynoldsville, on the Twelve Mile Creek, three miles south of this city. Owing to the inflammable nature of the building and the high wind prevailing at the time, the fire spread to the adjoining barrel-heading factory and lumber piles, completely destroying them together with B. F. Reynolds' stables. Loss about $15,000, on which there is an insurance of $5000.

With the Compliments of Mr. Chaplean.

Chaplean, Secretary of State, on behalf of the Canadian Government, of a case of books consisting of a most valuable collection of official, statistical, geological and other reports of all the departments. This addition to the library of the club was greatly needed and is very highly prized by the members.

TORONTO'S NEW SENATOR.

THE HONOR CONFERRED ON MR. JOHN MACDONALD.

A Meeting of the Railway Committee—The Stillwell Case—Judge Armour's Promotion—A Protested Election—Mr. Smith's Visit to New York.

OTTAWA, Nov. 8.—It is officially announced that Mr. John Macdonald of Toronto has been called to the Senate to fill the vacancy caused by the death of the late Hon. William McMaster.

There was a meeting of the Railway Committee of the Privy Council this morning to hear the dispute between the Grand Trunk Railway and the Brockville, Westport and Sault Ste. Marie Company with reference to the crossing by the latter company of the Grand Trunk track at Lyn, six miles west of Brockville. Messrs. Wood, M.P., Smellie and Hervey appeared on behalf of the Brockville, Westport and Sault Ste. Marie road and Chief Engineer Hannaford for the Grand Trunk. After considerable discussion it was decided that the Brockville, Westport and Sault Ste. Marie road should cross the Grand Trunk track at a place called the Manitoba Siding, near Brockville, instead of at Lyn.

No action has as yet been taken on the petition for Mr. Stillwell's release. Writing to friends in this city from Cornwall Jail Mr. Stillwell says that he was unjustly condemned, and while willing to be released by process of law, does not desire the exercise of executive clemency in his behalf.

The Free Press (Liberal) says editorially to-night: "The appointment of Mr. Justice Armour to the Chief Justiceship of the Queen's Bench Court of Ontario, will give general satisfaction. Judge Armour has always shown himself to be a fearless and conscientious dispenser of justice, and he well deserved the promotion."

A protest has been entered against the election of Mr. Rochon, M.P.P. for Ottawa County. The protest is made by J. B. Sayer, and alleges bribery and corruption by agents before and during the election, impersonations, and in fact there are charges in every clause of the act made in a general way. The specific charges will not be made until a short time before the case comes into court.

Sir A. P. Caron has postponed his visit to British Columbia.

Sir Hector Langevin continues to improve in health. Mr. Gobeil, Secretary of the Department, and Mr. Perley, Chief Engineer, have gone to Quebec to see him on departmental business. It is expected that he will return to the city next week.

Sir Chas. Tupper will return here from Cumberland on Friday.

The announcement made in several papers that Mr. Smith, Deputy Minister of Marine, had gone to New York as the official representative of the Canadian Government to receive Mr. Chamberlain and convey to him the factum of the Canadian Government in the fisheries case, is incorrect. Mr. Smith was not sent to represent the Canadian Government and had nothing to present to Mr. Chamberlain. He was granted a week's leave of absence and visited New York on personal business.

It is understood the Department of Inland Revenue has decided to close up the hop beer breweries in the northwest.

THE PAPAL ZOUAVES.

Subscriptions Will Be Taken in Canada for a Present to the Pope.

OTTAWA, Nov. 8.—The Papal Zouaves throughout the world and the wearers of Papal decorations are going to present Pope Leo with an address of congratulation and a gold crozier studded with diamonds. The presentation will take place at Christmas. The three honorary presidents of the movement are Gen. Charette of France, ex-Commander of the Zouaves, Hon. J. A. Chapleau and the Duc De La Rochefoucauld.

Mr. Chapleau, who is a commander of the Papal Order of St. Gregory, will do all in his power to promote the affair. Subscriptions will be taken up among the ex-Pontifical Zouaves in Canada.

London Bank Depositors to be Paid.

LONDON, Ont., Nov. 8.—The Bank of Toronto has taken over the management of the London head office and Dresden branch of the London Bank. They will commence the payment of depositors and redeem the notes after Nov. 11.

HOPE IS GROWING FAINT.

THE ANARCHISTS HAVE ONLY A SHORT TIME TO LIVE.

To-morrow the Sheriff will Begin Putting Up the Gallows on Which the Condemned Men Will Die—The Prisoners Watched Day and Night.

CHICAGO, Nov. 8.—Spies, Parsons, Fielden, Schwab, Fischer and Engel were let out of their cells at 9 o'clock this morning, and for an hour they stretched their legs in the cell house enclosure. Every movement of the condemned men was watched by bailiffs, one being assigned to each man. They were alert to prevent any attempt at violence or suicide. The Anarchists were not allowed to approach any of the other prisoners.

Miss Van Zandt and Mrs. Fischer were the only visitors at the jail except Rev. W. H. Bolton of the Methodist Church. Eight baskets of grapes for each of the condemned men were sent to the jail. Nothing edible is allowed to go to the prisoners from the outside for fear of poison being conveyed to them. The grapes were sent by John Brown, jr., son of the great emancipator, and were given to the wives and friends of the prisoners. Accompanying the fruit was a message stating that the sender was a foe to monopoly of any kind.

Mrs. Parsons Abandons Hope.

CHICAGO, Nov. 8.—Mrs. Parsons has abandoned hope. Last evening she said: "My husband is dead to me, and I return home to my children to mourn for him. I spoke goodbye to him for the last time this afternoon, for I will never cross the threshold of the jail again, to be insulted and humiliated. I want to live with the picture of my husband in a dungeon ever before my eyes. That will give me strength to bring up two revolutionists. Mr. Parsons will never sign any begging appeal. He will die, and I hope they will make a clean sweep of it and hang the whole seven. Let them hang them all, and let the men who cry for blood have all they want of it; the blood of my husband be upon them."

Appeals to The Governor.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. Nov. 8.—Over two hundred and fifty letters and petitions were received by Governor Oglesby this morning in reference to the Anarchist case; far the greater portion being, as usual from Chicago. It is asserted that the proportion of demands for execution was greatly in excess of requests for clemency. A rumor says two more threatening letters were received by the Governor this morning.

Warned to Keep Away.

ST. PAUL, Nov. 8.—H. J. Sanford, the juror who sat in the Anarchists' trial, and who, though threatened with death on the day of the hanging of the Chicago Anarchists, nevertheless expressed a purpose to go to Chicago and witness the execution of the condemned, has received a letter from State's Attorney Grinnell of Chicago, advising him not to go, as his life would certainly be in danger.

The Condemned Again Petition.

CHICAGO, Nov. 8.—A. R. Foster, who was associated with Capt. Black in his defence of the Anarchists before Judge Gary, has been retained to bring the case of Fielden and Schwab before the Governor. Fielden, Spies and Schwab signed a new petition this afternoon. It is in a milder tone than they have so far sent in.

No Fear of a Disturbance.

CHICAGO, Nov. 8.—Chief of Police Ebersold says the rumor that Anarchists are coming here from other places is erroneous. Instead of coming here, the few in the city are leaving it. "There need be no uneasiness," he said, "of any demonstration by sympathizers with the Anarchists. Guards are placed over the public buildings, at the waterworks, etc., merely to insure a feeling of safety and to guard against any possible contingency, not because we fear any actual violence." The proprietors of gun stores are making arrangements to store their stock of weapons in vaults and to place extra guards over them on the day of execution.

The Preparations for Friday.

CHICAGO, Nov. 8.—The police are as mysterious as ever concerning the extent and character of their preparations for Friday, and nothing can be learned except from observation. It is rumored that the Mayor will issue a proclamation closing the saloons that day in order to prevent the gathering of turbulent characters and shut off whisky from them.

Sheriff Matson said this afternoon that if he does not hear from the Governor by to-morrow night he shall at once begin the work of erecting the scaffolds. Jailor Folz and deputies will adjust the nooses and the Sheriff will be present to superintend the whole, while a force of deputy-sheriffs, police and bailiffs will be in readiness to render any assistance necessary. As provided in the statutes of this state a jury of twelve will be present, two of whom must be physicians, to view the bodies. They and the lawyers in the case and the press representatives will be the only ones allowed to witness the execution.

The Yellow Fever Report.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—Dr. Porter reports to the Marine Hospital Bureau from Tampa, Fla., that there were seventy-four cases of yellow fever and nine deaths during the past week.

THE CROWN PRINCE'S HEALTH.

He Will Undergo another Operation on the Growth in His Throat.

LONDON, Nov. 8.—The Times Berlin correspondent says: Private telegrams from the Imperial report the Crown Prince's condition as rather alarming. The answers sent by Dr. McKenzie to telegrams he has received from Queen Victoria asking about the Crown Prince are somewhat discouraging.

BERLIN, Nov. 8.—The Reichs Courier asserts that it is credited that the German Crown Prince will undergo another operation.

Great Excitement in Germany.

DUBLIN, Nov. 8.—O'Brien was to-day removed to the prison infirmary.

Murder by Moonlighters.

DUBLIN, Nov. 8.—A party of disguised moonlighters forced an entrance into a house near Tralee last night and shot the owner, named Quinlee, in the presence of his family. Quinlee was 70 years old.

To Avoid Criticism.

LONDON, Nov. 8.—The Cabinet have decided not to open votes Parliament until the end of February to avoid the embarrassment of parliamentary criticism of the course pursued by the Government in Ireland.

THE OBSERVER.

Lieut. A. K. Gordon, R.N., well-known in connection with Hudson Bay explorations, is giving up his term as Cockrville and leaving his duties at the Observatory to take command of the Canadian steamer Alert. He will proceed round Cape Horn to Vancouver and then take soundings for the proposed Australian cable. The first sale will be on Nov. 15.

Rider Haggard has sprung into a sudden success almost without parallel. His name is on every lip, and his books in everybody's hands at present. He was born in 1856, at Bradenham Hall, Norfolk, and is a true East Anglian. From 1877 to 1879 he was Master of the High Court in the Transvaal. It was, of course, during the time he was at the Cape that he acquired the local knowledge which he has turned to such account. He is still a practising barrister.

Peterborough's Dress Goods House

Read This.

STRANGERS in Town, who stay over Sunday, are always surprised when they see the crowds of men, women and children pouring out of all the different churches, and they very naturally conclude that the citizens of Peterborough are a good church going people. If you should get wedged in with the people, who throng the sidewalk, such conversation as this might be heard:—"Well Miss ——how did you like the Sermon this evening?" "Oh! very much indeed, I always like to go to church to see the new styles in dresses." "Is that what you go for?" "Well, really, I did not pay much attention to the Sermon, as I could not help wondering how Miss —— can afford to dress so stylishly for all seasons of the year."

"Well, I can tell you how it is, for I am following her example myself." She buys her dress goods at rowan's trade palace and I know myself that you can get nicer goods and cheaper there than at any other store in town. Now, look at these kid gloves, I only paid forty-nine cents for them and I often paid eighty-five cents for gloves not as good in other stores. You should just see how cheap their goods are marked and all in plain figures. Mother and Aunty are going with me this afternoon to buy these nice dress-es, won't you come along with us?"

Religious Instruction in the Schools.

The following correspondence has passed upon the subject of Religious instruction in the High and Public schools:—

PETERBOROUGH, ONTARIO,
Nov. 7th, 1887.

J. R. Stratton, Esq., M.P.P., Chairman S.S. Committee:—

DEAR SIR,—I beg leave to acknowledge the receipt of your letter (and newspaper clipping) of Saturday, in reference to the new regulations as to religious exercises in the Collegiate Institute.

May I ask you, however, whether I am to insist upon the bringing of their own Bibles by the pupils, or whether the Board will furnish Bibles for the pupils.

Will you, also, kindly provide about half a dozen "educational Series" leaflets for the use of the teachers.

I suppose, of course, that those pupils whose parents object to their taking part in the ordinary religious exercises, are still to be allowed to absent themselves. Am I correct or not? I am, dear Sir,

Yours respectfully,
J. H. LONG.

REPLY.

J. H. Long, Esq., M.A., LL. B., Principal Collegiate Institute.

DEAR SIR,—In reply to your communication of yesterday, I would say with regard to the religious exercises in the Collegiate Institute, that the resolution adopting the memorial did not authorize the procuring of Bibles for the pupils of the schools, it being understood that the parents if they saw fit would provide their children with Bibles. The committee does not feel inclined to assume the responsibility of procuring Bibles without instructions from the Board, since the procuring of Bibles at the expense of the ratepayers might establish a precedent for the procuring of all school books at the public expense.

With regard to the "leaflets" which you say are required, I have no doubt you may procure them on application to the chairman of the ministerial association delegation, or the secretary.

I assume that those pupils whose parents object to their remaining at the religious exercises will be allowed to absent themselves, as provided by the Regulations.

Yours truly,
J. R. STRATTON,
Chairman S.S. Committee.

N.B.—It seems to me that the School Board has no power to dictate to teachers as to their mode of use of the Bible or the Scripture Readings. The Education Department authorizes the use of both, leaving the matter of preference to the individual judgment of the teachers.
J.R.S.

Supposed to be Drowned.

Mr. Adam Scott brings the sad news of the supposed death by drowning at Toledo, Ohio, of Mr. John Fowler, son of John Fowler, Esq., of North Monaghan. The young man was employed as second engineer on a boat owned by his uncle, Mr. Leach. He was last seen on the docks in Toledo about 11 p.m. on Sunday, and it is supposed he fell into the water in the darkness and was lost. Another supposition is that he has been shipwrecked. He left his boarding-house Sunday evening for the purpose of securing passage on some out-going boat to Marine City, where his own boat was lying, in order to rejoin her for work on the following Monday morning. A heavy gale blew over the lake that day, in which it is supposed a number of vessels foundered, and it is feared he met his fate in this way. Be that as it may, no trace of him has since been found, though every effort has been directed to that end. The uncertainty as to his fate, which, it is feared, will be dispelled only to confirm their worst fears, is harrowing in the extreme to his family and relatives.

A Delectable Repast.

The lady friends of the new Canton excelled themselves in their preparations for the ball and supper last night, particularly in the latter respect. Those who were there remember with undying mouths the tables loaded to overflowing of delicacies and solids in abundance, which graced the guests' in the dining-hall. But perhaps there is one point in connection with it which has not yet come to their knowledge; that is, that the ladies very wisely selected the Palace grocery as the place to secure all necessary supplies in the line of groceries, provisions, etc. They took advantage of the exceedingly low prices of the excellent quality of goods Messrs. Elliott & Tierney offer to the public—an example that may be followed with great benefit by every housekeeper in town.

A New Business.

Mr. J. Murty, who has for a number of years been employed with Mr. Adam Hall, has started a hardware and tin business for himself in the block opposite the Oriental Hotel, Hunter street. His stock comprises stoves, tinware, coal oil, lamp goods and house furnishings. He solicits public patronage, promising the best value possible for the money in his line of business.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

WEATHER NOTES.—The hot weather came to a close after three farewell days in October, from which time a change of weather took place, and although the rain fall was light it fell at intervals during the month on 14 days, to the depth of 1 inch and 56/100 of an inch, the heaviest being on the 24th, when it fell 78-100 of an inch from 11 a.m. to 10 p.m. Considerable snow fell during the month which would in all amount to about 2 feet6in. The first of the year fell on the 11th, but the severest on the 29th, after a rain storm, drifting some. The old Canadian proverb has again been fully verified that there is never an October without snow. There has been considerable frost during the month, the coldest being on the morning of the 26th, the thermometer standing only 13° above zero, making the total average for the month 43° 23-31. Thunder on two occasions, but no Aurora lights. The first wild geese going south was on the afternoon of the 10th. The ploughs were first stopped on the morning of the 20th. Taking it all together the month has leathed to frost and cold. The following are the different points from which the wind was blowing at sunrise during the month respectively, namely:—South 5 days, east 2 days, south-west 6 days, north 1 day, north-west 7 days, south-east 5 days and west 6 days.

SAD BEREAVEMENT.—On Sunday the 23rd ult. John Twomey buried his eldest daughter, in her 20th year, after a few days illness of diptheria; and on the Saturday evening following two more of his sons, aged respectively 16 and 9 years, were laid in their graves. The bereaved family has the heart-felt sympathy of the whole community in this their day of trial and trouble. In the adjoining schools the trustees have wisely closed them, and every means is now used to keep the disease from spreading.

Imperial Federation League.

The regular meeting of the Peterborough Branch of the Imperial Federation League will be held in the Foresters' Hall, opposite the Golden Lion, George Street, on Wednesday evening, the 9th of November. There will be the reading of a paper and a discussion upon the military and naval defences of the Empire. All those who take an interest in the objects of the League, although not members, will be cordially welcomed.

Ladies! You will find Turnbull's the right house to buy yarns of all shades at right prices.

Gaol Population.

The present population of Peterborough's castle of correction is a large and varied one. There are fifteen inmates—about the average number—two imprisoned for non-payment of Scott Act fines, one for larceny, one for being drunk and disorderly, four insane persons and seven vagrants, four women and three men, one of the latter in on remand. Of the vagrants three are of the Brown family of idiots from Dummer. Their term of imprisonment expires to-day, but as they cannot safely be discharged they will in all probability be re-committed.

Reviving Bush Fires.

A resident of Peterborough who had occasion to drive out into Smith yesterday states that on his way home he had some trouble in places in getting through the dense clouds of smoke which were driven forward by the high west wind from the reviving bush fires, whose smouldering embers were fanned into flames by the violent gales that blew yesterday.

FOR THE RELIEF and cure of the inflammation and congestion called a "cold in the head" there is more potency in Ely's Cream Balm than in anything else it is possible to prescribe. This preparation has for years past been making a brilliant success as a remedy for cold in the head, catarrh and hay fever. Used in the initial stages of these complaints Cream Balm prevents any serious development of the symptoms, while almost numberless cases are on record of radical cures chronic catarrh and hay fever after all other modes of treatment have proved of no avail. eodw45

Beat anything in Canada either Wholesale or Retail; and why should they not, when I bought them at 50c. on the Dollar. When Wholesale Houses cannot compete with the Wonderful Cheap Man it is simply impossible for Small Retail Houses to compete. 60 per cent of the goods I sell, I buy at less than the First Cost of Manufacture, and hence the reason I can defy any Wholesale House in Canada to touch my prices. It is one thing to make an assertion and another thing to prove it. If any man doubts what I herein state let him come to my store and I will prove to his satisfaction that it is the absolute truth.

A VITROL THROWER.

Miss McMurchy, a School Teacher at Norwich, the Victim.

WOODSTOCK, Nov. 8.—Norwich was thrown into a state of wild excitement on Friday night by the report of a dastardly outrage on a young woman of that town. Miss McMurchy is a school teacher, and in fact one of the popular young ladies of that place. She was not known to have a single enemy. On Friday night, however, as she was returning to her home about 8 o'clock she passed a man at the corner of Stover-street. When he saw her he pulled his cap over his eyes and at the same time threw something at her head. He then made off. It proved to be vitriol. Some of the fluid struck the young lady in the back of the head, burning her painfully. Her jacket was also badly burned. Miss McMurchy went to the house of Dr. Sutherland near by, and was at once attended to. Fortunately she was not seriously burned, most of the acid having fallen to the sidewalk. What object the villain had in attacking Miss McMurchy is not known. It is supposed, however, that he was mistaken in the person. A little vigilance committee was promptly organized and started in pursuit of the cowardly perpetrator. Fortunately for himself he was not found.

IN BROAD DAYLIGHT.

Robbers Go Through the Thorndale Post-office—A Man Hunt.

THORNDALE, Ont. Nov. 7.—A daring robbery was committed at Thorndale on Sunday in broad daylight. Two well-dressed strangers were noticed around the village, but no particular attention was paid to them. Postmaster Salmon is also the proprietor of a general store. He attended church as usual, and on his return found that entrance had been effected to the store by a window, his safe broken open, and about $160 in stamps and money and a promissory note of considerable value taken. Mr. Salmon at once gave an alarm, and the villagers turned out en masse. They started in wagon loads of eight and ten, all armed, along the different roads, the majority coming towards the city, as it was thought the robbers would make for London. A man on his way to the Grove Church Sunday School reported seeing two men in a fence corner counting money a short time before the arrival of the first searching party, and consequently the vigilants rallied round there. It was believed the robbers had taken refuge in Trebilcock's swamp, but at latest accounts the searchers were still looking in vain. The farmers all around turned out, and scores of men joined in the hunt for the scoundrels.

A BENCH WARRANT ISSUED.

The Montreal Authorities Seem Determined to Get Mr. Sheppard.

MONTREAL, Nov. 8.—At the Court of Queen's Bench to-day Mr. Prefontaine, for the Crown, renewed the application for a bench warrant against Sheppard of The Toronto News for failing to appear before the Grand Jury as a witness in the case of the Queen v. Kribbs, and produced an affidavit from Captain Joseph Robert, stating that the Toronto editor's presence was absolutely necessary in the interests of justice.

Mr. F. S. MacLennan objected on the ground that Mr. E. Bousot had given his deposition to the effect that he had heard Kribbs swear during the trial of Sheppard that he (Kribbs) had written the article in question and was responsible.

"Then," asked the learned counsel, "why is it necessary to have Sheppard before the Grand Jury?" He designated it a dodge of the Crown to get Sheppard into their hands. He submitted that a bench warrant should not be issued.

After further remarks from Mr. Prefontaine, in which he asserted the good faith of the Crown in the matter, the judge took the case en delibere until the afternoon, when Chief Justice Dorion denied that a bench warrant should be issued, and a detective was despatched to-night with the warrant.

Stabbing Affray at Oshawa.

OSHAWA, Nov. 2.—On Saturday night last a street fight took place here, during which James Fair was stabbed in the neck and face by Daniel Healy, jr. A warrant was got out for the arrest of Healy, but, although he has lately been bound to keep the peace, secured by sondsmen to the amount of $600, he had slipped out when the trial was to take place yesterday. Search has been made for him but up to the present time his whereabouts is unknown.

It Helps And To The Point.

Dyspepsia is dreadful. Disordered liver is misery. Indigestion is a foe to good nature. The human digestive apparatus is one of the most complicated and wonderful things in existence. It is easily put out of order.

Greasy food, tough food, sloppy food, bad cookery, mental worry, late hours, irregular habits, and many other things which ought not to be, have made the American people a nation of dyspeptics.

But Green's August Flower has done a wonderful work in reforming this sad business and making the American people so healthy that they can enjoy their meals and be happy.

Remember:—No happiness without health. But Green's August Flower brings health and happiness to the dyspeptic. Ask your druggist for a bottle. Seventy-five cents.

A Sad Contemplation.

It is sad to contemplate the amount of physical suffering in the world. How many weary, broken down invalids there are to whom life is burdensome! The nervous debility and general weakness of those afflicted with lingering disease is best remedied by the invigorating powers of H.B.B. 2w44d

Diphtheria.

"Last January," says J. N. Temple, of Orwell, Ont., "there appeared diphtheria in our neighborhood. Doctors ran night and day, but I kept right to Hagyard's Yellow Oil and brought my children through all right. Yellow Oil cures all painful complaints and injuries. 2w44d

To Avoid Baldness or Grey Hair.

Use Dr. Dorenwend's Great German Hair Magic. It keeps the scalp clean and free from Dandruff, and promotes the growth of the hair. It prevents premature grayness and stops all falling out of the hair. On bald heads, where the roots have not perished, it will invigorate them and force a new growth of hair. Ask for Hair Magic. It is the only reliable. For sale by J. D. Tully and all druggists.

Reliable Remedy For Rheumatism.

Procure a bottle of Hagyard's Yellow Oil from your medicine dealer, and use according to the directions. It cured Ida Johnson, of Cornell, Ont., of that complaint, and she recommends it as a sure cure. For 25 years it has never failed to give satisfaction. 2w44d

A Narrow Escape.

People who are exposed to the sudden changes of our northern climate have little chance of escaping colds, coughs, sore throat and lung troubles. The best safe-guard is to keep Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam at hand. It is a quick relief and reliable cure for such complaints. 2w44d

The Modus Operandi.

The mode of operating Burdock Blood Bitters is that it acts at once and the same time upon the Stomach, Liver, Bower, Kidneys, and the Blood, to cleanse, regulate and strengthen. Hence its almost universal vaine in Chronic complaints. 2w44d

Cured By B.B.B. When All Else Failed.

Mr. Samuel Allan, of Lisle, Ont., states that he tried all doctors in his locality while suffering for years with Liver and Kidney trouble; nothing benefited him until he took Burdock Blood Bitters, four bottles of which cured him. 2w44d

HAIL! CANTON PETERBORO

Justitia Universalis.—Pax Aut Bellum.

The Concert and Presentation at the Opera House.—A Crowded Hall and Fine Programme.—A Banner Beautiful to Behold.—The Address and Reply.—The Dance! The Dance!

If the Oddfellows' demonstration in August last has been justly termed an "unparalleled success", what then can be said of the concert and ball in the Opera House Tuesday night, under the auspices of the new Canton Peterborough, No. 10? The vocabulary might be exhausted in the search for fitting qualifying terms with which to properly describe it.

On the 10th of August last the new Canton was mustered by Lieut.-General Underwood. Immediately upon organization the Chevaliers set to work to drill, and so faithfully and well have they performed their task that their present efficiency is a matter of surprise to all. In their gorgeous but neat uniforms they can compare most favorably with any other Canton Militant in the province. Following are the officers and chevaliers:—

CAPTAIN—A. McNeil.
LIEUTENANT—Jos. Mills.
REEVE—A. McFarlane.
CLERK—E. J. Kidd.
ACCOUNTANT—S. Clegg.
STANDARD-BEARER—W. H. Morris.
SEN. STANDARD GUARD—T. Workman.
JUN. " " —T. Emmerson.
TRUMPETER—Jno. Fraser.

CHEVALIERS—R. Nimmo, W. A. Smith, J. D. Tully, R. Smith, W. H. Dayman, T. Smiley, J. B. Ferris, Geo. J. Earley, C. H. Clementi, Jno. Mole, W. A. Foord, Geo. Stevenson, Rufus Stevenson, Alex. Elliott, D. H. Moore, H. W. Watson, Edgar Page, W. A. Sanderson, Jno. Fanning, R. Hamilton, Wm. Galley, James Long and James Hendry.

Chevalier D. H. Moore holds the office of Bannerets to the Colonel commanding the 1st Regiment of Ontario, with rank of Lieut; Chevalier C. H. Clementi is Commissary on the Battalion staff with rank of Lieut; Chevalier J. B. Ferris holds the position of Acting Commissary Sergeant on the Battalion staff.

At the time of the demonstration in August last, a number of ladies of the town, deeply interested in Oddfellowship and its members, made themselves of great assistance in providing entertainment for the visiting uniformed brethren at the rink. The unexpected success of this feature of the demonstration will be remembered. Encouraged by Mrs. Ryan, of Toronto, whose husband is an enthusiastic Chevalier of Toronto Canton, and at her suggestion, the ladies decided to follow up their first efforts by a still greater one, and the idea of presenting the new Canton with a banner on the occasion of their first concert quickly took shape and was perfected in what was certainly a most happy manner, at the opera house Tuesday night. The committee of ladies who had the matter in hand was composed of Mrs. Jos. Mills, Secretary; Mrs. S. White, Mrs. D. H. Moore, Mrs. R. Nimmo, Mrs. A. McFarlane and Mrs. Jno. Stanger. This committee also had the valued assistance of a number of other ladies deeply interested in the welfare of the Canton.

THE CONCERT.

At eight o'clock the opera house was filled almost to the doors, and before the concert began standing room was at a premium. The hall was tastefully decorated with flags and bunting, and painted emblems of the Order. Among those who attended on the occasion were Major Lender, of Belleville; Major Unit, of Toronto; Maut. Stevens, of Toronto, and Bro. J. R. King, Toronto, Grand Secretary I.O.O.F. of Ontario. At a few minutes before eight o'clock the Canton, headed by the Fire Brigade Band, left the rink and marched through the principal streets to the opera house, where the following programme was rendered:—

God Save the Queen—In Tableau.
[The Canton drawn up in line on stage, Messrs. Davis, Tierney, Jaques and Dunn leading in the singing of the National Anthem.]
Prof. Porter, Pianist.

The programme needs very little comment. The capabilities of the different performers are as well known in Peterborough that a few empty words of praise would be lost in the general exclamations of praise that greeted each effort.

The presentation, though, cannot be thus passed over. Upon the raising of the curtain in the second part the Canton were found drawn up in files of two. After going through the "Silent Manual", and being rewarded therefor by a liberal bestowal of applause, the Chevaliers at the word of command fell back against the rear and wings of the stage, forming three sides of a square, Captain McNeil standing in the middle. The committee of ladies then brought forward the banner to be presented, which was veiled in white. At the proper stage in the reading of the address the banner was unveiled and all its gorgeous beauty revealed to the audience, which gave expression to its delight by loud applause. Miss Florence White, in a clear distinct voice, then read the following address, the trumpet, a handsome silver one, being presented by a little daughter of Mr. McNeil, while her brother proudly displayed the kettle-drum referred to below:—

To the Commandant, Officers and Chevaliers of Canton Peterborough, No. 10. P. M., I.O.O.F.

CHEVALIERS.—The warmest friends of the Uniformed Branch of the Independent Order of Oddfellows, have ever been the ladies, whose love of chivalrous principles, splendor of equipment and marshall bearing, has invested with peculiar pleasure this opportunity of shewing their interest in the success is of that particular service of the Order, and their appreciation of the lofty principles underlying the grand fabric of Oddfellowship.

The most favored beneficiaries of the benaign Order of Oddfellowship are the wives, mothers and sisters of the brethren thereof. When disabling accident or illness enters the home and lays prostrate and helpless the support of the family, the Oddfellows enter that home like ministering angels, bringing with them tender care and substantial aid, which are rendered doubly welcome should death remove the stay and support.

The ladies recognize in the organization of its Uniformed Branch into the army of Patriarchs Millitant, the latest and highest development of the fraternal and beneficiary capabilities of the Order, which, in addition to the application of the cardinal principles of "Friendship, Love and Truth," involves the completing complement of the sublime principle of "Righteousness and Justice."

The ladies of Peterborough would recognize the increase of the claims of the Order upon their appreciation, implied in the organization of this great army of chosen brethren, banded together and pledged to the maintenance of moral purity, complete manliness, and chivalrous protection of the weak and the oppressed, and they gladly hail the pleasing opportunity of giving specific expression to that appreciation presented by the formation of the gallant Canton Peterborough, No. 10, Patriarchs Militant.

While splendid equipment, warlike trappings, and martial discipline appeal to their love for the beautiful, these have still stronger claims on their admiration as the symbols of the great contest waged between Purity, Truth, and Righteousness on the one hand, and Immorality, Error, and Oppression on the other.

Chevaliers, in order to more fully equip you for waging a successful warfare on the part of the noble cause you champion, the ladies of Peterborough request your acceptance of this banner, bearing upon it the grand motto of your calling, "Justitia Universalis —Pax Aut Bellum," and this silver bugle.

May the bugle's clarion notes rally together willing soldiers ever ready for the fray, and may the lustrous folds of the banner ever float over stainless Chevaliers, and point the way to victory, in the battle waged by undaunted soldiers, in obedience to the command of the Order to "Visit the sick, relieve the distressed, bury the dead, and educate the orphan."

Signed, on behalf of the ladies,
FLORENCE WHITE.

THE REPLY.

After the beautiful banner had been handed over to Standard-bearer Morris, Captain McNeil made a most fitting reply, speaking eloquently and earnestly. He said:—

MISS WHITE AND LADY FRIENDS:—

As commandant of Canton Peterborough No. 10., P.M., it affords me extreme pleasure to receive these handsome memorials of your esteem.

Although I feel my utter incompetency to suitably acknowledge the receipt of them, coming as they do from the hands of lady friends, whom the outside world might suppose take no interest in the Order.

To thank the lady friends of our new Canton for these elegant and substantial tokens of their favor, I consider a great privilege.

In the days of chivalry, when gallant knights broke lances in tournament, they thought it the highest glory, and it was considered their most coveted honor to receive a token from the hands of their fair companions.

To convey to you the heartfelt thanks of Canton Peterborough, No. 10 for this beautiful banner and trumpet, I would be most happy, if it was my good fortune to be master of sufficient eloquence, to respond to the requirements of the occasion.

A little over three months ago, upon the formation of the Canton, we were agreeably surprised to find the ladies taking such an interest in our welfare; never thinking at that time we would be the recipients of such strong evidence of that interest in the presentation of this handsome banner and trumpet. To have such tangible support given us as a Canton—by the ladies, certainly speaks well for our future prosperity, and the I.O.O.F. as a body.

The Good Book gives the credit to a gentleman, I think you have all heard his name before—by the name of Adam—as being the first man who discovered women, and if every there was a benefactor who deserved a monument erected to his memory, it was Mr. Adam. What a solace to men are the daughters of Eve? What would we do without them? Where would Canton Peterborough, No. 10, be without them? Echo answers nowhere! We feel that you have so far interested yourselves in the principles of Oddfellowship to know that there is a bond of union between its members—who are Oddfellows, in spirit and in truth—that is stronger than wealth, position, honor, military glory, everything alike. The hero of a thousand battles, the ruler of a nation, the humblest laborer, or the proudest capitalist, if buried by our Order are all buried with these same grand honors, these same beautiful rites, and these left behind them are cherished and protected.

When I look around upon many happy faces here to-night, and reflect that a few years ago we were comparative strangers to each other, it indicates to me that although we have increased in wealth as an Order, we have increased a hundred-fold more in all that makes life worth living. We have developed what the poet Tennyson sang of as the "larger heart and kindlier hand", mutual respect has ripened with many of us into warm and abiding friendship, we sympathize with each other in sorrow and affliction and rejoice with each other in prosperity, as you have so kindly said in your address. The aims and objects of Oddfellowship are to visit the sick, relieve the distressed, bury the dead, and educate the orphans.

The results have claimed public acknowledgement, and won for the Order general favor. Better still, our fostering care has never lessened, nor our beneficiaries ever failed to receive their just relief.

You may reasonably, ask why these showy uniforms? Why these glittering swords? Is it for the purpose of destroying human life? to maim the limbs? To gash and hew the body? To plunge the sword into the heart of a fellow creature? To strew the earth with bleeding frames and trample them under foot? To multiply widows and orphans? Are these honorable deeds? No! Such is not our mission. We have place among the reverend benefactors of the human race, the discoverers of arts, which alleviate human sufferings, which prolong, comfort, adorn, and cheer human life. We have thought it was honorable to heal, to save, to mitigate pain, and snatch the sick and sinking from the jaws of death.

In a word, we are the display element of Oddfellowship, having as our motto, "Universal Justice" so beautifully inscribed upon the folds of this handsome banner.

Again on behalf of Canton Peterborough, No. 10, I return your our sincere thanks for these handsome presents.

To Mrs. Ryan, of Toronto, we are especially thankful as being the first lady who inaugurated this praiseworthy undertaking. I trust we may long be spared to serve in the "Army of Patriarchs Militant," under the folds of this beautiful banner, and hope that no chevalier may ever be guilty of any act that will lose the respect of our lady friends.

To Bro. J. Stevenson, our worthy Mayor, permit me to return our thanks for his presentation of this brass kettle drum. His generous hand is not only felt by the Oddfellows of Peterborough, but by all its deserving subjects. May he long be spared to mete out the dictates of his large heart and generous hand.

THE SECOND PART.

At the conclusion of Capt. McNeil's address the Canton formed into marching order, and, headed by the new banner, marched off the stage. The second part of the programme was then proceeded with.

Upon the audience dispersing, the floor of the hall was cleared for dancing, which was kept up unremittingly till a late hour in the morning. Prof. Doscet's orchestra supplied the music. The programme of dances was a lengthy one, comprising twenty-three numbers. A hundred or more votaries of Terpsichore remained to participate in the pleasures of the dance. During the evening ample refreshments were served in the adjoining dining hall by the ladies, who in this as in all their undertakings were highly successful.

THE BANNER.

The banner is thirty-six inches wide by fifty-six long, supported by a polished walnut cross-bar and staff, surmounted by a gilt globe and crown. The material of the banner is heavy white silk on the face side, decorated across the top by a lambrequin of purple velvet edged with embroidery and fringe, and bearing the words "Canton No. 10, Peterborough," in raised gold letters. Beneath the lambrequin, occupying the central field of the banner is a shield-shaped plastron in black velvet and heavy raised gold border, bearing the emblems of the Order and on the chevron the motto Pax Aut Bellum in scarlet letter on an old gold background. Below is a scroll of purple velvet inscribed with "Peterborough, Ont.", in gold letters. The lower portion of the banner is filled in with "I.O.O.F.; presented by the ladies"; flanked on either side by the letters P.M. in large size, and all in gold. The entire banner is margined by embroidery and heavy gold fringe; three large tassels are suspended from the bottom and on each end of the cross-bar. The reverse side has a background of scarlet silk, with purple lambrequin at the top enclosing "No. 10, P.M.," a "Norman" shield in the centre and a pretty wreath of maple leaves in gold and silver at the bottom. The centre-piece contains a large heart of black velvet raised, with a crook and sword beneath, the ends only of which are showing. The heart is traversed by a scarlet strip bearing Justitia Universalis in letters of gold, while in an upper corner is a handsome crown. This side is also edged with gold lace and embroidery.

This banner is said to be by far the handsomest in Ontario, ranking ahead of Toronto's. It was made by W. C. Morrison, of Toronto, and cost about $200.

A Sudden Death.

A late issue of the Barrie Examiner contains a eulogistic obituary notice of the late Mr. Timothy Haggart, (father of Mrs. Hugh Quirk, of Peterborough), and one of Barrie's oldest residents, who died on Tuesday, Oct. 25th, aged 75 years. His death was very sudden, resulting from heart disease. While sitting in his chair talking pleasantly he suddenly fell forward, dead.

Office Work.

Our business course as it is now arranged, affords the student at least ten times as much office practice in 5 weeks as would be had in an ordinary business office in five months, and the work done is as accurate and infinitely superior in quality.

Declared Dormant.

Last night, at a regular meeting, McWilliam's lodge of True Blues, No. 25, was declared "dormant". Soon after the 12th of July the "warrant" disappeared and subsequently the roll book and banner, circumstances which made the above action imperative.

Oyster Rooms Open.

Anarchist Riots in Chicago.

A Terrible Time in the Windiest Metropolis—An Unconstructable Mob.

A despatch received over a private wire this afternoon at 2.30 o'clock states that a great anarchist riot is in progress in Chicago. The Clarke street and Rush street bridges have already been blown up by dynamite, and there is no telling where the fury of the mob will end. The police and soldiery are out but cannot stem the torrent of violence. A number of lives have already been lost.

CONTRADICTED.

A despatch per G.N.W. Telegraph Co. at 3 o'clock from the Toronto press despatch agency stated that nothing had been heard there of the reported Chicago riots.

News Nuggets.

—The Victoria College football club defeated Norwood on Saturday afternoon by two goals to one.

—Six carloads of iron have arrived for the locks loop line bridge. The first "boat" in the Ashburnham side is completed.

—Mr. E. B. Borland, formerly of Fenelon Falls, was a victim of the shipwreck of the propellor "Vernon" in Lake Michigan. He leaves a wife and family in Milwaukee.

—The banks have, during the past month, says the Port Hope Times, been receiving a considerable number of counterfeit Dominion $2 bills of the issue of 1878. The counterfeit is exceedingly good, but can be detected by the omission of the dots over the letter i's in the name "British American Bank Note Co." on the bottom.

—These Hastings factories which did not contract their August, September and October makes, and they are few, have now to dispose of their product. The price varies from 11 to 11½ cents. These factories labor under a disadvantage in having a number of their older cheese, August make, rejected as being off flavor.—Intelligencer.

Personal.

Toronto Globe:—"Mr. J. L. Gilmore, B.A., of McMaster Hall, is recovering from a severe attack of fever at his home in Peterborough. He will not likely return to resume his studies this session." Mr. Gilmore has entirely recovered from his illness.

Mr. N. H. Ramer, portrait artist, goes today to Guelph, where he has secured a lucrative engagement to give instructions in painting. Mr. Ramer has for some time been resident in Peterborough, and his excellent work as an artist has won admiration for his abilities, and his quiet, unassuming manner, have made him esteemed and respected on every side. His numerous friends will learn with regret of his departure from town, and hope that his absence will not be permanent.

To be First Used Next Sunday.

The work of putting in the steam heating apparatus for St. Peter's Cathedral is being pushed by Messrs. McAndrew & Noble, and it is thought that the auditorium and other parts of the sacred edifice will be heated by steam the first time next Sunday. A thirty-horse power boiler, made by the Wm. Hamilton Manufacturing Company, has been placed in the crypt, and Mr. Geo. Rose will about complete bricking it in to-day. Three lines of three-inch pipe will traverse the length of the nave, and pipes will also be laid inside the pews. The transepts will receive their heat from radiators and coils of pipe. The entire cost will be about $2,000, but judges say that the work in its excellence and adaptability to serve the desired purpose will be a good equivalent for the expenditure and conduce to a minimum of expenses for fuel, and a maximum of heating capacity.

Battalion Inspection.

Last night the Peterborough Rangers were out in force at the P.A.A.A. grounds for their weekly drill. It is expected the annual battalion inspection will be held to-morrow afternoon at 1.30 o'clock, before Col. Villiers, D.A.G. It may be postponed till Thanksgiving Day. At last night's drill the church parade arranged to be held next Sunday to St. Peter's Cathedral was withdrawn on account of the illness of the officiating priests.

For Public Inspection.

The banner presented to the Canton last night is on exhibition in the show window of Habiliment Hall.

A Requisition for a Writ of Extradition—The Surveys in Manitoba and The North-west—A Branch of the Imperial Federation League to be Formed.

OTTAWA, Nov. 9.—Bishop Grandin of Prince Albert, who has been in the city for some days past, has had an interview with Hon. Thomas White, Minister of the Interior, with reference to the better education of the Indians in his diocese.

It is understood that all the members of the Labor Commission have been summoned to Ottawa, and the first meeting of the commission will be held on Tuesday next. Nothing can be determined about the movements and actions of the commission until after it has met and organised.

There is a little difficulty between the city and the Government respecting the rent on a portion of the canal reserve, which was leased by the city in 1873 for a period of twenty-one years at $300 a year. At that time the city was putting in its waterworks system, and the land was held for piling pipes, etc., and the property was used and rent paid for it until 1878, but since then no rent has been paid, and the Government is now suing for eight years' rent, some $2400. The corporation wants to surrender the lease, as the property is no longer required, and an effort is being made to induce the Government to forego its claim.

THE CONVENTION CLOSED.

WHAT THE SCHOOL TRUSTEES ASSOCIATION DID YESTERDAY.

A Series of Resolutions Discussed and Adopted—Reforms Asked For by the Meeting—An Interview With The Minister of Education.

TORONTO, Nov. 9.

The Convention of the Provincial Association of Public and High School Trustees of Ontario was concluded yesterday in the Public School Board offices. President Farewell of Whitby occupied the chair.

The discussion initiated on the previous night was continued on the subject of the financial support of public and high schools.

Mr. Murgatroyd, Streetsville, advocated that it should be made imperative that every high school in the province should charge a uniform fee or graded fees for tuition, thereby removing the oft-made objection of the ratepayers that inasmuch as they already pay a large amount to the public schools for free education, those wishing a higher education than the public schools give should personally contribute to the same. If such sum were placed at a reasonable figure, it would work no hardship. It would add to the permanence and usefulness of the high schools, were it made imperative that every municipality should belong to some high school district. In case the Government did not legislate in this direction, he suggested that the high school boards be granted the power of levying a rate sufficient to cover the proportion of those attending from the outlying municipalities. As at present situated, the trustees of many of the high schools dare not enter into any engagements for building or repairing for fear of offending the ratepayers, who hold the rod of terror over them by threatening to petition themselves out of the high school district. He thought the present act did not place the trustees in a favorable position, either for taxing or borrowing, to raise means for these purposes.

Rev. Dr. Reid, Grimsby, said there was a very strong feeling in the country in favor of high school fees. The municipalities paid for the school and outsiders came in and received the benefit. He mentioned a school where one fourth of the pupils lived outside the school district. Those outsiders should pay. [Applause.] This ought to be enacted by law and not left permissive on the trustees.

A number of other trustees having taken part in the discussion Mr. Alex. Bartlett, Windsor, suggested that the matter be referred to a committee for the purpose of drafting a scheme to be submitted to the high school boards. They would then get a consensus of opinion on the subject and be prepared to deal practically with it. If they simply put this matter into the hands of county councils, he was satisfied that they would not be so well served. He then moved:

That the whole question involved in the subject under discussion be referred to a committee consisting of Messrs. Somerville, Bartlett, Bell and Morse, who shall deal with the same and communicate the result by circulars to the boards of high schools and collegiate institutes, with a view to ascertaining the opinion of such boards, and to report to the Executive Committee, who shall communicate the same to the Minister of Education.

Mr. W. F. Burton, Hamilton, seconded the motion, which after discussion was withdrawn.

It was then moved by Judge Bell, Chatham, and Rev. G. G. McRobbie, Ridgetown, and carried:

That the Provincial Association of High and Public School Trustees recommend to the Government that in view of the injustice of the present system of supporting high schools and collegiate institutes, and with a view of remedying the same, a scheme be introduced for apportioning the necessary expenses of supporting such schools on a basis similar, as near as may be, to the legislation now existing for distributing the expenses for the administration of justice in the case of a town separating from the county for municipal purposes.

The next topic of discussion was the law of assessment and the apportionment of taxes to public and separate schools. This was introduced by Mr. W. F. Burton of Hamilton, who pointed out some difficulty which had arisen at Hamilton, and referred to cases of friction between public and separate school boards. He proposed

That the Government be requested to change the law so as to admit of the landlord directing the application of taxes in respect to public and separate schools.

Mr. Burton thought this resolution went to the root of the evil referred to. There were cases in Hamilton similar to the one which had been discussed in the papers in relation to Kingston. The school board was powerless to intervene except for the administration of the law. It was not a matter of school board arrangement, but one of assessment of taxes. They ought to bring influence to bear on the Government to change the law.

Mr. H. B. Savage, Kingston, entered into an explanation of the friction which had arisen between the public and separate school boards of that town. He suggested that the Executive Committee write to the Kingston School Board on the matter.

Other trustees took part in the discussion, after which Mr. Burton's motion, amended as follows, was adopted:

That this association recommend that the Government be requested to submit a measure having in view the change of the law of assessment, so as to admit of the party actually paying the taxes (at any time before the same are paid) directing the application of the same so far as the same relate to school purposes.

It was next moved by Judge Horne, Windsor, seconded by Mr. William Gray, Woodstock, and carried:

That the following deputation be appointed to wait upon the Minister of Education and urge upon him the propriety of introducing such legislation as may be necessary to carry out the recommendations of this body respecting the subject of high schools and collegiate institutes, and such other legislation as this body recommend during their present session; and that the deputation consist of Rev. Mr. Somerville, Owen Sound; Judge Bell, Windsor; Mr. Johnson Belleville; Mr. Burton, Hamilton, and the President.

Mr. Wm. Johnson, Belleville, moved, and Mr. John Allen, Paris, seconded:

That in the opinion of this association sub-section 3 of section 131 of the School Law be amended so as to make all ratepayers primarily liable for public school taxes, and that the assessor shall so place them on the assessment roll unless the ratepayer shall himself express to the assessor that he wishes to be rated as a separate school supporter.

After several trustees had spoken Judge Bell, Chatham, deprecated the discussion of the motion. He did not think the grievance was of sufficient weight to justify the passing of the resolution. The discussion was already assuming a political aspect.

Mr. A. D. Weeks, Uxbridge, and Rev. James Somerville, Owen Sound, spoke to a similar effect.

Rev. Mr. Irving, Dundas, said the question was giving great uneasiness in many school boards. It was not a question of politics but simply one to facilitate the work of the assessor. He was in favor of the resolution.

Mr. John Henderson, Ottawa, said the question was a crying evil which was forced on the public attention every day. The evil was not so much felt in the western part of Ontario as it was in Ottawa. The law required amendment.

Mr. J. W. Poole, St. Mary's, maintained that no benefit would result from the discussion of the motions or the carrying of the resolution.

The motion was ultimately carried.

It was moved by Mr. William G. Broadfoot, Tockersmith, seconded by Judge Bell, and carried:

That whereas in spite of the earnest desire of this association to see the pupils in attendance at school during a great part of the winter season owing to the inclemency of the weather, the Minister of Education is repeatedly asked to introduce legislation enabling boards of trustees in such cases to appoint the midsummer and Christmas holidays in such way as to them seems best in the interests of their schools, retaining, however, the present aggregate number of holidays.

Mr. J. W. G. Armytage and Mr. Matthew Anderson, both of Fergus, protested:

That it is desirable that the School Act be so amended that the minimum age for the admission of pupils to public schools be six years instead of five as at present, except such admission is to schools having a Kindergarten department attached thereto.

Mr. Armytage, in support of his motion, said that public school trustees and municipal men had long complained of the ill effects of the attendance at school of very young children. Permanent injury was very frequently the result; and, if not, little or no benefit was derived by such children.

The motion was carried.

Rev. R. Cockburn, Uxbridge, moved and Mr. R. Murgatroyd, Smithville, seconded, and after a prolonged discussion it was resolved by 30 to 13:

That in the opinion of this association the time has come when a minimum of fifty cents per month should be imposed upon all pupils attending the high schools and collegiate institutes throughout the province, and that the Government be asked to provide the necessary legislation.

The following were elected officers of the association:

President—J. E. Farewell, Whitby.

Vice-Presidents—Rev. J. Somerville, Owen Sound; Judge Bell, Chatham.

Secretary—J. B. Dow, Whitby.

Treasurer—J. I. McCracken.

Executive Committee—The above named officers and J. W. G. Armytage, Fergus; W. F. Burton, Hamilton; Dr. Burns, Caledonia; S. S. Fuller, Stratford; W. S. Lee and James Lobb, Toronto; —McRobbie, Bridgetown; J. E. Simpson, Belleville; E. Teller, Collingwood; Henry Walsh, Weston; A. D. Weeks, Uxbridge, and J. M. Wilson, London.

At the afternoon session it was moved by Secretary Dow, seconded by Mr. J. E. Simpson, Belleville, and carried:

That the Minister of Education be requested to have sub-section 4 of section 13 of the "Act to Consolidate and Amend the High Schools Act" so amended as to permit one master, possessing the necessary qualifications in both departments, to fill the position of teacher of natural science as well as teacher of another department.

Rev. R. Cockburn, Uxbridge, moved and Rev. J. Somerville, Owen Sound, seconded:

That this association recognizes with satisfaction the introduction of a temperance text book into the public schools of the province; but inasmuch as there appears to be some doubt as to the meaning of the regulation requiring its use, this association requests the Minister of Education so to amend the said regulation as shall make the use of the text book compulsory in all the public schools of the province. Further, that the said text book also be made the text book in the model schools of the province, and that all model school candidates shall be required to pass an examination on the subject of temperance.

The motion was carried.

An Interview with the Minister of Education.

In the afternoon a deputation from the convention, consisting of President Farewell, Rev. J. Somerville, Owen Sound; Mr. W. F. Burton, Hamilton; Judge Bell, Chatham, and Mr. Henderson, Ottawa, waited upon Hon. G. W. Ross at the Education Department to report the resolutions which the convention had adopted. Judge Bell was the principal speaker. In reference to the financial resolution the Minister of Education pointed out that some of the high schools in receiving the Government grant, got more than they would if the question of work done was the sole consideration. If they were beginning de novo the proposition would be very easy. "Did it," asked the Minister, "occur to you to make a representation to the county councils?" Judge Bell replied that he thought it would be useless, whilst President Farewell said his opinion was that if the county councils were asked to give double there would be no objection.

Mr. Burton explained the resolutions respecting assessment and the separate schools. Mr. Ross pointed out that the present rule cut both ways. It was the same for Protestant and Catholic. As to the minimum charge of fifty cents per pupil at high schools, the Minister said that the trustees now had power to impose fees. He did not think it likely that the legislation in this respect would be altered. As separate school boards were not represented it would make it somewhat difficult to deal with the question.

On the holidays question Mr. Ross said that the returns of average attendance did not maintain the position which the supporters of the resolution had taken. He would obtain the views of the local inspectors on the subject. The proposal would have to be limited to certain townships in the north.

On the "age" question the Minister said what was proposed was practically provided for now. Kindergarten departments were increasing, and the minimum age for such was three years and the maximum six. To raise the age to six years for admission to schools was to legislate against the right which parents had had for forty years. He was strongly opposed to the alteration. He had not heard of any injurious effects on young children. Great care was taken of them; they got plenty of fresh air, and the schools were well ventilated.

The deputation asked the Minister if he could assist the association with a grant—say of $500 a year—towards carrying on their work. The money would be spent in conveening of meetings, advertising and notifications to members and a printed report of their proceedings. Mr. Ross replied that he thought the association might be very useful. They were practical men and could compare and deal with local difficulties. The work of the board might be of service to the Legislature and of use to him officially in many ways. He would consider the amendments they had submitted to him, but he reminded them that he had stated in the Legislature that his educational amendments were at an end for some time, and he should like to keep that promise as far as possible.

TO-MORROW THEO WILL DIE.

The Governor of Illinois will Wednesday Ink Clemency.

CHICAGO, Nov. 8.—The Tribune says Judge Gary has written a statement on behalf of the state that will undoubtedly result in saving Fielden from the gallows. The statement relates to some of the other prisoners, and cannot possibly affect their fate. It is not known what it contains. Chief Assistant State's Attorney Gallagher said he had not perused Judge Gary's statement. He said he had also made a plain statement of a few facts in regarding Schwab that he thought the Governor ought to know.

Judge Gary was yesterday elected judge of the Superior Court by an overwhelming majority.

Magic Said to be Insane.

CHICAGO, Nov. 9.—Dr. James G. Kiernan, the former warden of Cook County Hospital for the Insane, filed a petition in the County Court to-day which charged that Louis Lingg, the exiled Anarchist bomb-maker, is insane. He swore that a writ for the body of Lingg be issued and a verdict be made to determine the truth of his allegation. Judge Prendergast said he would not issue the writ without notice having been given to the States Attorney. The attorney at once wrote out a notice to Mr. Gallmadi and said he would try to have the other side represented at 2 o'clock.

Nina in the Spectrum.

CHICAGO, Nov. 8.—Nina Van Zandt was refused admission to the jail this morning, orders having been given not to admit her again until after the execution. She appeared very much disappointed. The order was given because of the young woman's habit of making scenes in the cage. Mrs. Engel was let in to see her husband.

Spies Ready to Die for All.

CHICAGO, Nov. 8.—Up to a late hour this evening the Governor was still holding private interviews with friends and relatives of the Anarchists. He has given no expression as to his intentions, and it is not likely that any decision will be given to-night. It was said this afternoon that Spies' brother would lay a letter before the Governor from Spies this evening.

It is claimed that Mr. Grinnell said in his speech that if Spies should be hanged the law would be satisfied. In his letter Spies asked that the sentence of his comrades be commuted and that he may die, thereby satisfying Mr. Grinnell's demand.

ACQUITTED OF A GRAVE CHARGE.

The Jury, by Instruction of the Court, Returned a Verdict of "Not Guilty."

MILTON, Nov. 7.—At the Halton Assizes to-day the only business was disposing of the charge of rape against J. Bolger. The alleged rape was said to have been committed in the neighborhood of Campbellville, some months ago. The girl admitted, however, that she had consented to come with the prisoner to Guelph, after the offence was committed, and had claimed to be his wife. Judge Galt advised the Crown counsel to withdraw the case, saying no man should be put on trial on such evidence as that of the prosecutrix. The Crown counsel accordingly withdrew the case from the jury, and a verdict of "not guilty" was entered for the prisoner. Mr. John Dower for the Crown; Mr. G. W. Field, Guelph, for the defence.

A DEPLORABLE OCCURRENCE.

Mr. John Westerman, an Old Citizen of Haldimand, Killed by a Fall.

CAYUGA, Ont., Nov. 9.—Politics in Haldimand were to-day temporarily overshadowed by the news of the death by accident of Mr. John Westerman, one of the oldest and most respected citizens of the Township of Rainham, in this county. Mr. Westerman had driven out from Cayuga in the evening. At the door of his house he was found dead, lying on the ground beside his buggy with his neck broken. There is no doubt that in getting out of the vehicle the deceased gentleman, who was of venerable years, tripped and fell, with the result above stated. From one end of the county to the other have come expressions of regret at the deplorable occurrence.

GRAIN AND PRODUCE MARKETS.

TORONTO, Nov. 10.

With the exception of a few business failures and embarrassments in the provinces, there is nothing particularly new to report in mercantile circles. The dry weather still keeps back the fall movement in dry goods, but the improvement in general dry goods already noted shows no signs of a retrograde movement. One good feature in the business outlook is that the grain market continues not only strong, but is steadily going higher. Barley and wheat, but the former especially, are mounting higher, and good, both as regards supply and demand. The street buyers were kept busy yesterday, there being fully 2000 bushels of barley in and 1000 bushels of wheat. Peas are scarce, and even the poorest quality brings a good price. Barley sold as high as 52 cents, and fall and spring wheat at 81, one cent higher than the previous day's quotation.

Peterborough's Dress Goods House

STRANGERS in Town, who stay over Sunday, are always surprised when they see the crowds of men, women and children pouring out of all the different churches, and they very naturally conclude that the citizens of Peterborough are a good church going people. If you should get wedged in with the people, who throng the sidewalk, such conversation as this might be heard:—"Well Miss ——how did you like the Sermon this evening?" "Oh! very much indeed, I always like to go to church to see the new styles in dresses." "Is that what you go for?" "Well, really, I did not pay much attention to the Sermon, as I could not help wondering how Miss —— can afford to dress so stylishly for all seasons of the year."

Read This.

"Well, I can tell you how it is, for I am following her example myself." She buys her dress goods at rowse's trade palace and I know myself that you can not since goods and cheaper there than at any other store in town. Now, look at these kid gloves, I only paid forty-nine cents for them and I often paid eighty-five cents for gloves not as good in other stores. You should just see how cheap their goods are marked and all in plain figures. Mother and Aunty are going with me this afternoon to buy three nice dresses, won't you come along with us?"

JAS. ALEXANDER'S Stock is now offered en bloc in Mail and Globe, and, to enable him to Reduce it, Goods will be sold at Great Bargains.

RAILWAY MONOPOLY AND NORTHWEST DEVELOPMENT.

One great object—and the only justifiable one in view of the immense debt—of the construction of the C.P.R. Railway, was the development of the illimitable agricultural resources of the northwest territory of Canada. If the development of the northwest had been in proportion to the cost of the road, the resulting advantages would have been ample justification of such an expenditure. But when the building and operation of the C.P.R. gives results tending to retard the settlement and impair the prosperity of the country, it is altogether another question. It is denied that railway monopoly is hurting the country. But let those affected by the monopoly testify. The Calgary Tribune says:

"Then you will find newspapers in the east who will argue that the railway monopoly is not hurting this country, and who will put business men on their argument by the statement that the great bulk of the people are in favor of the monopoly being maintained.

We will measure this fact by remembering some of the nonsense which recently appeared in the Peterborough Review. Commenting on an article that recently appeared in these columns, the Review says:—

'The Calgary Tribune makes a fierce attack upon the C.P.R., and suggests running a tributary line southward. Its grievance is that goods, with other freight, to the Pacific terminus, though having to pay more than to Calgary, is charged at a less rate per mile. Therefore the C.P.R. is censured as an exceptionally oppressive monopoly.'

We are not inclined to state that the Review makes a wilful misstatement of the argument used in our article to which the above relates, but whether it be done through wilfulness or simply through ignorance, the result is the same,—the readers of the Review are left to believe that we are attacking the railway unreasonably. We did not complain because our merchants are charged a greater freight rate per mile than Vancouver merchants are, but because freight from the same points in the east are carried past our door six hundred miles to Vancouver at just about one half the gross charge for delivery that would be exacted if they were dropped off at Calgary. The Review says that 'the weak point of the fractious opposition against the C.P.R. is that there has been nothing advanced but vague declamation and a few dubious figures.' We will give the Review some figures which are neither vague nor dubious and which we trust that newspaper will not forget to reproduce for the edification of its readers. The following is a table of the C.P. R. freight rates charged on the various classes of merchandise mentioned from Montreal to Calgary, and Montreal to Vancouver:—

	Montreal to Calgary	Montreal to Vancouver
1st Class	$2 85	$4 50
2nd "	2 31	1 84
3rd "	2 13	1 45
4th "	1 84	1 02
5th "	1 57	1 02

It will be seen at a glance that it costs nearly twice as much to bring 100 pounds of merchandise to Calgary as it does to bring 100 pounds of merchandise to Vancouver, although the latter point is about 644 miles farther removed than the former from the point of shipment. Calgary is 2,262 miles from Montreal, and Vancouver is 2,906 miles.

The contention we were making in the argument of the article which is misquoted as above by the Review, was that Vancouver enjoys these low rates because at that point the C. P. R. is brought into competition with the American transcontinental railways, and that if the C.P.R. monopoly did not prevent a road being built southward from Calgary to connect with the American railways, the road would soon be built, and Calgary would enjoy equally low, or even lower rates than Vancouver. Do you think, Mr. Review, if you were living in Calgary that you would join us in our "fractious opposition" as you call it? We rather think you would.

MR. CHAMBERLAIN, the British Commissioner at the Fisheries Convention, has stated that "circumstances will have to be modified" to prevent clashes in the future such as arose recently in the matter of the fisheries. There was no clash—there was simply aggression on the part of the Americans upon the fishing rights of Canada, recognized by well defined treaty agreements. If by "modification" Mr. Chamberlain means the abandonment of Canada's just claims, his mission to Washington will not meet with the approval of the Canadians. We have certain well-defined rights and must insist on their maintenance.

THE STATE ELECTIONS.

The Result in New York a Triumph for Cleveland's Administration.

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—The Sun says: "The Democrats carried New York yesterday by a fine majority. The combination combine of Fassett with Platt was beaten. The Republicans lost heavily to the Prohibitionists, who have made gains, especially in the western part of the State. The German vote in the country districts was light, and in was much lighter than was expected in this city and Brooklyn. The Democratic labor vote was small. In Ohio Foraker's majority has been fantastical largely, as a result of the Free Trade and Civil Service Reform campaign conducted by Mr. Pirrell, his Democratic opponent. Sam Medaine was beaten decisively by the Virginia Democrats, and Senator Riddleberger's successor will be a Democrat. The Maryland straight Democrats have given the Republican mugwumps and Democratic kickers another lusty drubbing. Amen, Republican, has been re-elected Governor of Massachusetts by a somewhat increased majority."

The Herald says: "The elections are a complete triumph for the Administration."

Commercial Union Opposed.

BOSTON, Nov. 9.—A Commercial Union meeting was held here to-day, at which Mr. Shaw, editor of The Live Stock Journal, and Goldwin Smith were the principal speakers. An amendment to a motion endorsing Commercial Union was carried by a large majority. The following is the amendment as carried:

That this meeting, while anxious to secure closer trade relations with the United States by the adoption of a reciprocity of trade between the two countries, based upon just and equitable terms, would, nevertheless, repudiate any scheme that would discriminate against the goods or manufactures of Great Britain, or would in any wise disturb the happy relations at present existing between us and the Mother Country, and we believe that the inhabitants of this great and prosperous Dominion would never tolerate any legislation that would attempt to loosen the bonds that so happily bind them to the great Empire, of which we so proudly form a part.

HER SKULL WAS FRACTURED.

A Stone Thrown by by a Blast Descends Upon a Woman's Head.

HAMILTON, Nov. 9.—A serious accident occurred on the mountain, about one mile east of the Jolley Cut, this morning. A man named William Ripley was blasting with dynamite. Mrs. Hill, who lives near by, went to the well to obtain water after the first explosion, thinking that she could do so with safety, but a quantity of the explosive which had hung fire went off, throwing fragments of rock a great height. In descending one of these struck Mrs. Hill on the head, fracturing her skull. She is in a critical condition. Dr. Shaw attended the injured woman.

THE CAFFAREL SCANDAL.

Several Witnesses Depose to Sending Money for Decorations.

PARIS, Nov. 9.—In the Caffarel trial to-day several persons deposed that they had sent money to Gen. D'Andlam in return for decorations. The public prosecutor in his address urged that the name of M. Wilson be expunged from the case, as the accusation against him had been retracted. The case now, he said appeared to be one of simple swindle, remarkable only on account of the rank of the persons accused. The letters from Gen. Thibaudin Gen. Boulanger and M. Wilson, which were found in the prisoners' houses, were only common place replies to questions and were devoid of importance.

DYNAMITERS IDENTIFIED.

A Statement that Shows the London Police to Know More Than is Supposed.

LONDON, Nov. 9.—Commissioner Monroe of the Detective Department asserts that he possesses the fullest written proof that the name of "Burchells," who has been mentioned in connection with the case of Cohen, the dead dynamiter, is Phillips, and that he is an accomplice of Melville. It was Phillips, Mr. Monroe says, who took the letter from box 38, Philadelphia Postoffice, on Oct. 24, and it was he who introduced Melville to David O'Brien, who, with one Weaver, may be found at Joel Bailey's, No. 719 Market-street, Philadelphia.

THE ANGLICAN SUNDAY-SCHOOLS.

Arranging for a Uniform System of Teaching Throughout the Dominion.

TORONTO, Nov. 10.

A meeting of the Church of England Interdiocesan Sunday School Conference was yesterday held at the Synod Office, the Bishop of Toronto presided. The object of the meeting was to arrange for a uniform scheme for the conduct of Sunday Schools under the auspices of the Anglican Church in Canada. Until recently every parish and mission adopted its own system of teaching, and prescribed such rules and methods as seemed best to itself. Even now there is no uniform system in operation, although a great number of the outlying districts and dioceses, follow the example set in Toronto, and adopt as the basis of its lessons the publications of The Church of England Sunday School Institute.

The Bishop briefly explained the objects of the meeting, and invited discussion. The dioceses represented were Huron, Niagara, Ontario, Montreal and Toronto.

Rev. H. Pollard, Ottawa, advocated the adoption of some uniform basis of instruction.

Rev. Robert Lindsay, Montreal, urged the necessity of teaching the children attending the Sunday Schools that the Anglican Church was a missionary one. He spoke in favor of unanimity among the members of the church, and moved that the publications of the Church of England Sunday School Institute be adopted as a basis of instruction in Canada.

Mr. C. R. W. Biggar, Toronto, favored the adoption of some uniform scheme, but thought that the church people of Canada ought to be able to devise one for themselves, and not depend upon England or America to supply the want. The other Protestant churches realized the great importance of Sunday school teaching and unity; they consequently derived all the advantages accruing from such a course of action. The Church of England (Old Country) manuals and instructors were sold in Toronto at 50 or 60 cents, while for about 15 cents they could be supplied with a manual or magazine in this country were the different dioceses and parishes to adopt a uniform basis.

Ven. Archdeacon Jones, Napanee, supported the object of the conference, and suggested that annual viva voce examinations should be held.

After a good deal of discussion the drafting of a scheme as a basis of future operations was submitted to a committee.

The conference re-assembled at 3 o'clock, when the committee reported that as the proposed scheme must be at first an experiment, it would be more likely to be adopted by the various synods if the period covered did not exceed three years. They therefore recommended the following scheme of lessons for three years beginning with Advent, 1888:

First Year—Lessons on the collects and lessons on the life of our Lord.

Second Year—Lessons on the Catechism and on the Old Testament.

Third Year—Lessons on the Prayer Book and the Acts of the Apostles; a portion of the Church Catechism to be recited every Sunday, in addition to the above lessons; and that a series of lessons for junior classes on the foregone subjects embraced in the above scheme, similar to the "Illustrated Leaflets for the Little Ones," issued by Rev. H. Holland, be prepared by a joint diocesan committee to be appointed by this conference.

The report was adopted, and a committee appointed to make arrangements for the publication and illustration of leaflets for junior classes. It was further decided to adopt the publication of the Church of Eng and Sunday School Institute as the basis of the teaching of the senior classes. A committee was appointed to select and report to the conference on a detailed scheme, on the subjects mentioned in the report. The scheme will be submitted this morning.

Sullivan In London.

LONDON, Nov. 8.—John L. Sullivan made his first public appearance in London in St. James' Hall to-night. Although the prices were doubled the hall was crowded and an enthusiastic reception was accorded the famous pugilist. Sullivan was introduced to the spectators by Jem Smith, the English champion, in a brief speech he expressed his thanks for the reception he had met with and said he hoped that Smith would beat Kilrain.

Smith himself also made a few remarks saying that he meant to beat Kilrain and would then do his best to beat Sullivan.

The American champion boxed with Ashton and three other leading pugilists and, although he appeared to be slightly out of condition, his smartness pleased the critics.

Smith, on being questioned as to his opinion of Sullivan's ability, said: "Sullivan is a good man, but I believe that I can beat him." Sullivan said Smith was cheaped well, but that he had expected to find him a bigger man. Sullivan was repeatedly applauded during the exhibition.

LONDON, Nov. 8.—Mitchell failed to meet Sullivan yesterday and arrange terms for a fight.

Give Them a Chance!

That is to say, your lungs. Also all your breathing machinery. Very wonderful machinery it is. Not only the larger air-passages, but the thousands of little tubes and cavities leading from them.

When these are clogged and choked with matter which ought not to be there, your lungs cannot half do their work. And what they do, they cannot do well.

Call it cold, cough, croup, pneumonia, catarrh, consumption or any of the family of throat and nose and head and lung obstructions, all are bad. All ought to be got rid of. There is just one sure way to get rid of them. That is to take Boschee's German Syrup, which any druggist will sell you at 75 cents a bottle. The Steam Engine Triumphant.

At a regular weekly meeting last night of the St. Peter's Debating Society a discussion took place upon the relative merits of the steam engine and the printing press in regard to their benefits to mankind. Mr. J. D. McIlmoyle, president, occupied the chair. There was a large audience present. The debate was carried on vigorously, the cud of the press being upheld by Messrs Dan. O'Brien, J. Weatherhead, J. Lynch, Joe Phelan and J. J. Sheehy; the negative arrangement was carried forward to successful issue by Messrs. A. B. Houlihan, D. Henry, C. O'Leary, T. Dwyer and — Giroux. The chairman gave his decision on the side of the steam engine supporters. A short musical and literary programme was also rendered, consisting of a reading by Mr. J. J. Sheehy, "The Ballad of the bridge;" a recitation by Dr. Brennan, "Oyster Jos," and a song by Messrs. E. Bagley and C. O'Leary. The next meeting of the society will be held Monday evening next at the Separate School building, in connection with that of the League of the Cross, when the subject of debate will be:—"Resolved, that intemperance has been the cause of more deaths than war." The affirmative will be led by Messrs. E. D. Gough, J. O'Meara, T. Hurley, Dr. Collins and C. Roach; the negative by Messrs. J. J. Sheehy, Dr. Brennan, L. M. Hayes, P. Henry and A. B. Houlihan.

A Romantic Bruuna.

The Oil City, Pa., Derrick says:—"The managers cannot be commended too highly for affording an Oil City audience the pleasure of witnessing Mr. J. S. Murphy in the romantic Irish drama entitled "Kerry Gow." Those who did not go missed the richest dramatic treat of the season, those who did go were delighted, and there was every reason for their being so. "Kerry Gow" opened a new path in a rich field of fancy, which has only yet been partially explored. To Falconer, Boucicault and others the public are indebted for peeps into Irish life in dramatic representation; but the "Kerry Gow" is of a quiet order, turning upon incidents in connection with families, the key of the whole being love, that old theme, but which is ever new. In the unfolding of the plot we learn the value of true love, and how the tender passion emits the Village Vulcan into a hero, able to endure, but truthful to the "light of his eye" as the needle to the pole. There was not an inferior actor in the company, but every member of the troupe was an artist and a favorite with the audience. Even old "Ronan," who has held up his head as a fast trotter in this community for the last century, behaved with the dignity of an old circus horse. He walked up the main stairway, through the opera house and stood upon the stage as nicely as he would in any city amith shop. The forging of the horse shoe upon the stage and the driving of it was a feat as natural as if performed at a regular farrier's. Give us more dramas like Kerry Gow and a like company." J. S. Murphy & Co. appear in Bradburn's opera house Tuesday and Wednesday, November 15th and 16th.

That Perambulating Bean.

The perambulating, walking, or moving bean exhibited in McClelland's jewelry store is certainly peculiar, but this variety of bean is not the only inanimate object possessed of the powers of movement. The other day a farmer assisted at a little scene in a George street shop which was a parallelled to the walking bean. He went into the shop and after staring about for a time laid a little leather satchell on the counter and carefully unfaried a string rolled many times around it, took out a slip of paper covered with portraits and fancy printing. The lower right hand corner contained the signature of the President of the bank of Montreal, and the $10 bill was in payment for one of gough's splendid overcoats, which would have cost at the very least $15, at any other store in Canada. The coat was put on and fitted "like the paper on the wall". Then the coat, in imitation of the walking bean, moved away with the happy man inside of it. gough's is the grand place for all sorts of overcoats, ready-made clothing and underclothing at the most marvellously low prices. "Go west, young man" is a played out motto, but go to gough's young men and old, is pertinent, pointed and practical.

Boys' Suits and Underwear to fit all ages at Turnbull's.

In New Form.

The Canada Lumberman, published by Mr. A. G. Mortimer, is issued this month in an entirely new outfit. Besides being a neatly printed journal, the Lumberman's contents are most valuable and interesting to manufacturers and millers. The publisher says:—"Whilst transforming the mechanical appearance of the paper we have also endeavored to elevate it in a literary sense, and while yet open for many improvements, we hope to make it more and more valuable to the trade throughout the Dominion." This evidence of the Lumberman's prosperity is a signal proof that the journal's efforts in behalf of the allied industries of Canada are practically appreciated by those whom it benefits. May its star of prosperity and progress never fade away.

Arrested for Forgery.

Last night P. C. Pidgeon arrested a young lad named Robert Howland, over whose head a charge of forgery has been hanging since midsummer. Howland was employed by Mr. J. J. Turner, mail and tent maker, and it is alleged forged a cheque in his name for a small amount on the Bank of Toronto. The lad left the town, but was seen by the officer at the Salvation Army barracks last night and arrested. He will appear for trial in the police court on Saturday.

Defrauding the Gallows.

Louis Lingg, the Condemned Chicago Anarchist Suicides.

(Special despatch to Examiner.)

CHICAGO, Nov. 10, (11 a.m.)—Louis Lingg, one of the seven condemned anarchists lying under sentence of death to be executed tomorrow, committed suicide in a most determined manner this morning at nine o'clock. Taking a fulminating cap in his own hand, and holding it to his head, he applied a candle to the other end and the resulting explosion blew the top of his head off.

NOT DEAD YET.

A despatch per C.P.R. telegraph line states that Lingg's attempt at suicide was not fatal; he is still alive.

A House-Warming.

Wednesday evening the residence of Mr. Henry Stewart, Otonabee, was given a "house-warming" by about thirty of his young friends from town, who were well entertained and had a jolly time. The party arrived home about six o'clock this morning, wet and weary, but singing of Henry with right good heartiness, "He's a Jolly Good Fellow." A few tours into the ditches along the roadside and a number of narrow escapes from upsetting, consequent upon the intense darkness, did not in the least dampen the spirits of the party, though the rain most effectually saturated their garments.

On the Move.

A partial removal of the plant (patterns, etc.) of the Central Iron Bridge works to their new premises on Water street began Wednesday. The heavy machinery or anything necessary to carrying on operations will not be transferred for a couple of weeks yet, when the new works will be ready for occupation and a general removal will take place.

Farmers are pretty well through ploughing, and in good spirits over the high prices of barley.

Grain goes to Peterborough markets from six miles west of here.

Gen. Sexsy's barn, house and contents were entirely destroyed by fire last Friday night; supposed to be an accident from stove pipes. Loss partly covered by insurance.

Thos. Stephenson, Esq., had a narrow escape from being killed by falling out of a waggon.

Usual celebrations here 5th November. Supper at Clark's hotel.

The large black bear seen two miles east of the village has not yet been captured, although a detachment of No. 5 Company, 45th Batt., accompanied by citizens, has been in pursuit. Brin seems too crafty to be caught yet.

The dance at McGregor's last Friday night was attended by some from Peterborough. It passed off quietly and orderly. Thirty-five couples present.

A supper and celebration at Clarke's Hotel, 5th Nov. night. Songs and speeches made up a very enjoyable evening.

Died at Young's Point.

The sympathy of the wide circle of friends of Mr. C. Young, of Young's Point, is extended to him on the occasion of his sad bereavement in the death of his wife, which took place on Wednesday night. The deceased lady was a daughter of Mr. John Pope, Peterborough, and very many both in her former and in her late home will mingle with their sorrow at her demise recollections of the many amiable qualities which endeared her to her friends, and which make her loss so greatly felt. She leaves a young family of seven children to mourn her loss. The funeral will take place to-morrow (Friday) at 10 o'clock, to the Roman Catholic Cemetery, Peterborough.

Brutal Butchery of a Cow.

The particulars of an unusal exhibition of the spirit of revenge perpetrated Wednesday are as follows. A certain citizen had been enjoying so lengthened a round of dissipation that his money ran short. To raise funds, he drove the family cow away and put her up to raffle. While the raffle was going on the wife, having heard of her husband's escapade, secured the cow and drove her back home. The husband on discovering the action of his wife, became infurated with rage, and going home seized the axe and forthwith killed the cow by crushing in its skull. A neighbor afterwards cut the animal's throat to allow it to bleed, so that the flesh would be fit for eating.

Large Make of Cheese.

The total make of cheese in the Warminster factory for the season will amount to about $11,500 worth, the largest and most valuable make in the county. The cheese made at this factory has been of such good quality that no rejections have been made during the entire season. The maker is Mr. S. R. Payne.

FOR THE RELIEF and cure of the inflammation and congestion called a "cold in the head" there is more potency in Ely's Cream Balm than in anything else it is possible to prescribe. This preparation has for years past been making a brilliant success as a remedy for cold in the head, catarrh and hay fever. Used in the initial stages of these complaints Cream Balm prevents any serious development of the symptoms, while almost numberless cases are on record of radical cures chronic catarrh and hay fever after all other modes of treatment have proved of no avail. eod w45

LINGG'S HORRIBLE DEATH.

HE CHEATS THE GIBBET BY SUICIDING IN HIS CELL.

The Governor Pardons Fielden and Schwab, but Withholds Clemency From Spies, Parsons, Fischer and Engel, Who Will Die on the Scaffold To-day.

CHICAGO, Nov. 10—9 a.m.—Louis Lingg, the bombmaker, has just committed suicide by shooting himself through the head while in his cell. How he secured the weapon with which the deed was committed is a mystery. Lingg has always been regarded as the most desperate Anarchist of the lot. It was he who manufactured the bombs for the Haymarket riot and in whose cell the bombs were found last Sunday.

Lingg ended his life by means of a fulminating cap. He held the case in his mouth and lit it with a candle, which was burning in his cell. All day yesterday it was thought that Lingg acted in a peculiar manner. On Tuesday night he gave his "farewell address," which was written for The Alarm, Parsons' old paper. In it he recited at length his grievances, and closed as follows: "Now, with a last and earnest farewell to all friends and comrades, and with final wishes for their prosperity; I close in view of the certainty that I shall never have the chance of seeing you again, my beloved comrade, with an earnest and hearty wish for your future success in life, your comrade, Hoch die Anarchie. Signed, Louis Lingg."

O'Neil, one of the two guards who remained on duty before Lingg's cell throughout the day, declared that Lingg was the coolest man in the jail. He was very pale, but his appetite was good, and he slept well. Immediately after the explosion had occurred, Deputy O'Neil rushed into Lingg's cell, which was completely enveloped in smoke. There he found the young Anarchist lying on his back, with great holes in his head, from which the blood was rushing in torrents. He was at once carried into the jail office and placed on a table. He was still breathing faintly, and while Dr. Gray was examining him he coughed slightly, and the blood poured forth again from his terrible wounds and from his mouth and nose. The physician said the man could only live an hour or so at the most, and he expects his death every moment. At 10 o'clock he was still alive. Jailer Folz made an examination of the cell, and on the floor he found the shell of a fulminating cap. The Sheriff said there had undoubtedly been dynamite in it. The supposition that the man put a shell in his mouth and deliberately applied the candle flame is undoubtedly correct. The explosion was terrific. It startled the officials, who thought it was a bomb, the noise was so great. The shell was so small as to have allowed the smuggling of it into the jail without trouble. At 10.15 o'clock Dr. Gray made a further examination of Lingg, and found that the tissues of the throat, neck and front of the head had been torn away.

Captain Black arrived at the jail at 10 o'clock and went to the room where the doctors were working with Lingg.

"Lingg, do you know Capt. Black," asked Deputy-Sheriff Morgan.

Lingg opened his eyes, looked steadfastly at the captain and nodded his head. The rags and strings of flesh that hung to his face waved to and fro and the captain, almost overcome, left the room.

Lingg died at 2.30 p.m.

Beyond a glance of recognition to Capt. Black who came into the room for a moment and said, "poor, poor fellow" there was nothing to break the horrible agony of the six mortal hours wait for death's approach. The Rev. Dr. Bolton, a Methodist minister attending Fielden, went in to see Lingg, but got no answering look from him. Lingg's breathing gradually became slower. The pallor on the forehead deepened. A slight glaze was noticed in the sunken eyes. Someone said "he is dying," and the reporters made ready for a rush to the nearest telephones. In a moment the little room was empty of all but the ghastly corpse of the bomb-maker, Louis Lingg. The coroner's inquest will be held on Wednesday in Lingg's case. The members of the jury have been selected, and are all business men.

The scene in Lingg's cell after the explosion was ghastly. Teeth, bits of jawbone, shreds of flesh and blood were scattered all over the narrow compartment. A little trail of blood marked the way over the stone flagging to the room where Lingg was carried.

Jailer Folz at once gave orders to have every one of the other cells searched, and Parsons was the first one a descent was made upon. Three deputies entered his cell, took him by the wrists and shoulders and led him to the jailer's office. There he was detained until his cell was thoroughly searched. Nothing was found. The ex-editor of The Alarm shivered with excitement, fear and curiosity. His face was white and his eyes looked ready to start from their sockets. He was in his shirt and trousers and a wide felt hat shaded his face. He looked as if he would have given worlds to know what had happened, but no information was vouchsafed him. It is believed by some of the reporters that something was found on Parsons, although the jail officials deny this. Parsons was given a new suit of clothes to put on and was taken to another cell, where he now is, with two deputies standing guard over him. One of them stands at the back of his cell and the other at the door.

The other men and their cells were also searched, but nothing was found. When Engel was being searched he completely broke down and cried like a child. He is still protested that he has not yet been put back in a cell, but is in the jail library in charge of deputies.

Sheriff Matson says Lingg was stripped and carefully searched yesterday and the day before. The agent with which he accomplished his work was a fulminating cap, a little over an inch long. It had been filled with fulminate of mercury. The news of Lingg's death created the most profound excitement. When his cell was searched a second candle was found. At the top of it, barely concealed by the ends of the wick, a second fulminating cap was found. So it is supposed Lingg's attempted suicide was committed with one similarly hidden. The candles were furnished by the jail so that the caps must have been put in by Lingg himself.

In 1883 Lingg was forced to leave his native town in Germany. After a good deal of wandering about Germany he landed in Switzerland. There he continued to fight the "Bloss," as the social democrats are called by the red followers of Most. It was then that the official organ of the German Socialists published a notice declaring Lingg to be an informer and spy of the German Government. He came to America in 1885, and upon reaching Chicago joined the North side group of the Internationals and soon began the manufacture of the bombs, one of which was used at the Haymarket. When two policemen went to arrest him the next day one of them entered his room while the other stayed outside the house. The latter soon heard shouts for help and running into Lingg's room found that the Anarchist had thrown his partner on the floor and was only prevented from shooting him by the policeman who had a grip on the revolver which Lingg was endeavoring to use. The second officer, after a desperate struggle, succeeded in placing handcuffs on his wrists. Placing a pistol to his head the policeman ordered him to come on, but Lingg refused to move and said, "Shoot me! shoot me!" "It's a pity I didn't accommodate him," said the officer, who was at the jail this morning, as he stood looking at Lingg, "it might have saved all this trouble."

Lingg Was a Fine Looking Man.

The following description of the dead Anarchist appeared in The New York Journal a few days ago:

His face is as beautiful as that of a statue by Praxiteles. Delicate features, a straight nose, a perfect mouth, a high, broad white forehead, and a luxurious growth of a rich, warm auburn head hair, strongly suggestive of the hirsute head covering of Mrs. Lingtry, are among the physical attractions of this remarkable prisoner. The warmth of the jail causes him to go without a coat, but his attire was neat, and the bright scarlet neck scarf tied in a sailor's knot is emblematic of the redness of the wearer's views on all subjects, social and political. Born in Baden, Lingg came to America charged with the extreme Communistic theories of the school of Bakunin, who believed it a duty to destroy all constitutional authority by assassination or any violent means the most convenient. He is well educated, although possessing but a limited knowledge of the English tongue. He has been the most daring and reckless of all the armed group of revolutionary communists who have terrorised Chicago by their threats and menaces. A red-cheeked girl, said to be his sweetheart, glued her face to the grating and poured low whispered words in the ear of the handsome prisoner placed on the cold iron on the opposite side.

The Others Informed of the Tragedy.

The explosion in Lingg's cell created a decided sensation in the jail. The jailer approached Parsons' cell with the news. "Lingg has killed himself," said Mr. Folz.

"Great God! is that so?" exclaimed Parsons.

"Yes, it's a fact," was the reply.

"Well, my God," exclaimed Parsons, "I wish I had some dynamite myself. I would kill myself only too quickly."

August Spies was then informed of the tragedy. "I expected nothing else," said Spies, quietly. "Ever since the finding of the bombs in his cell last Sunday I was satisfied that if it was possible he would make away with himself. For my own and my comrades' sake I am glad he is out of the way."

According to Jailer Folz, all of the remaining Anarchists are completely broken down. They look on the suicide of Lingg as placing him in the category of an extreme Anarchist, which place they do not wish to occupy themselves.

The Governor's Decision.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Nov. 10.—The decision of the Governor was announced in front of the Mansion at 7 o'clock to-night by the private secretary of the Governor. The sentences of Fielden and Schwab were commuted to imprisonment for life. The rest were denied clemency. Thus Spies, Fischer, Parsons and Engel will be executed to-morrow.

The Last Interview.

CHICAGO, Nov. 10.—When the news of the commutation of the sentences of Fielden and Schwab was received at the jail there was an extraordinary scene of activity. The news was sent to all the relatives of the condemned men, and in a short time they began to arrive at the jail. The first of the women to come in was Mrs. Schwab. Soon after Schwab was brought from his cell to the main office. His wife quickly advanced to him and throwing her arms about his neck burst into tears. Schwab returned the embrace in a calm manner and soon the two were chatting quietly together. After this Spies and Fischer were brought from their cells and taken to the library. Engel was brought to the private office of Mr. Folz. This was done for the purpose of allowing the relatives to take their last interviews.

The first of the women to arrive after Mrs. Schwab was Miss Ezzel, the daughter of the condemned Anarchist. When the two met in the private office there was an outburst of grief which it is impossible to describe. Father and daughter clung to each other and sobbed convulsively. Their conversation was in German and listened to only by Deputy Colson. Then came Mrs. Spies, the mother of August. She had been waiting outside for an hour and a half. Her sobs could be heard through the corridors of the building. She did not stay long in the library with her son, and on her exit from the jail Mrs. Fischer was admitted. She went into the library, and her lamentations were heard above the tramp of the deputies who swarmed about the place. But the crowning scene of all was the visit of Nina Van Zandt, the proxy wife of Spies. She was conducted to the library by Deputy Colson. The moment she saw August a complete change in her demeanor was noticed. There was a look, then a gasp and in a trice the lovers were in each other's arms. The interview lasted nearly half an hour.

The Military Under Arms.

CHICAGO, Nov. 10.—The entire Second Regiment is held in readiness to move at a moment's notice to-night, and in all probability will remain in the armory until after the execution has taken place. Ten companies of police of twenty-six men each, all bearing rifles, will be posted about the jail and the streets in the vicinity.

Fischer a Martyr to the Cause.

NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—The Freiheit to-day publishes the following letter from Adolphe Fischer, the condemned Anarchist, to Herr Most:

COOK COUNTY JAIL, Nov. 5, 1887.—My Dear Friend Most: As only six days remain for me on earth I think it time to bid you farewell.

When you have read in the newspapers that four of us have asked for grace, that is commutation of sentence, demanding either liberty or death, you can imagine that the answer would be nothing else—death. You can believe me, John, that the thoughts which come in my mind at this supreme moment of my wife and three children make my heart very heavy. But resolution! Be firm. The social revolution brings sorrow and our noble cause of anarchy must have its martyrs. So let it be.

I am ready to deposit life at the altar of the good cause. When stupid young peasants are willing to give their lives for King and Kaiser, who rule by the "grace of God and tyranny" in royalty, should we, the warriors of liberty and anarchy, not be willing also to give our lives for the highest and noblest principles? Should we let ourselves be considered by our friends and be afraid of harm coming to us? No! Never more; never more. We must show our enemies that Anarchists are ready and willing to die for their cause.

I have endorsed and praised our true principles, and am ready to go to the scaffold for them. I say again, farewell. Be true to our cause as you always were and carry forward our banner with powerful grasp, even though a storm should arise and difficulties beset you. I hope that you may take part in the last final contest. How readily would I be at your side, holding firm on the beloved red standard. But it is not to be. It was stated that I should be the pioneer or advance guard in this battle and should lose my life.

Be happy. Long life to the social revolution. Long may anarchy reign. I give you a brother's embrace and remain, Yours affectionately, ADOLPHE FISCHER.

P.S.—Give my kind regards to my relatives and friends. See that my family knows no need and that the children have a good education.

A Strange Telegram From New York.

CHICAGO, Nov. 10.—An extra edition of an evening paper says: The following despatch was received by Capt. Black to-night:

NEW YORK, Nov. 10.

Capt. Black, Chicago: I hold proof showing sentenced Anarchists to be innocent. Guilty man in New York; located. Have telegraphed to Gov. Oglesby. Proof is under oath. How shall I communicate it?
AUGUST H. WAGNER, 59 Third-avenue, Counsellor-at-law.

Capt. Black left at 9 to-night for Springfield, after wiring the New York lawyer to leave there at once for the same point.

Governor Oglesby's Message.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Nov. 10.—In his decision on the petitions of the condemned Anarchists Governor Oglesby says:

"· · · · Satisfied as I am of their guilt, I am precluded from considering the question of commutation of the sentences of Albert R. Parsons, Adolph Fischer, George Engel and Louis Lingg to imprisonment in the penitentiary, as they emphatically declared that they will not accept such commutation. Samuel Fielden, Michael Schwab and August Spies unite in a petition for "executive clemency." Fielden and Schwab in addition present separate and supplementary petitions for the commutation of their sentences.

"While I am satisfied of the guilt of all the parties as found by the verdict of the jury, which was sustained by the judgments of the courts, a most careful consideration of the whole subject leads me to the conclusion that the sentence of the law as to General Fielden and Michael Schwab may be modified so as to each of them in the interest of humanity and without doing violence to public justice, and so to the said General Fielden and Michael Schwab the sentence is commuted to imprisonment in the penitentiary for life.

"As to all the other above-named defendants I do not feel justified in interfering with the sentence of the court. While I would gladly have come to a different conclusion in regard to the sentence of defendants August Spies, Adolph Fischer, George Engel, Albert R. Parsons and Louis Lingg, I regret to say that, under the solemn sense of the obligations of my office, I have been unable to do so."

Their Last Night on Earth.

CHICAGO, Nov. 10.—Shortly after 7 o'clock this evening Sheriff Matson came to the jail. He wanted to give personal notice to Spies, Engel, Fisher and Parsons that they would have to suffer the extreme penalty of the law. He would only say, after coming out, that none of the condemned showed any signs of breaking down. It was at 7.20 o'clock that the Rev. Dr. Bolton of the First Methodist Church called on Parsons. His visit lasted about three minutes, and his efforts to get Parsons to consider spiritual matters were of no avail. Supper was brought in from a neighboring restaurant. All of the Anarchists partook of cream toast. Fischer indulged in steak and Engel ate some mutton chops. All took coffee.

At 8.20 o'clock Spies, Fischer and Engel were taken from the rooms in which they had made farewell to their relatives and consigned to their cells. Three men were closely guarded. An armed deputy stood in front of each barred door. Inside the cell of each prisoner was a lantern, while a table was placed outside and on this was a lamp, thus giving the guards an opportunity to watch the movements of each prisoner.

A Demonstration in New York.

NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—There was a large peaceable procession of sympathizers with Socialism in this city to-night to protest against the hanging of the six surviving Anarchists in Chicago to-morrow. The paradise were all orderly and no sign of disturbance occurred. The scene was particularly impressive as the long line of men, 3000 strong, passed down the street with the red and black flags all heavily draped in crape, bands playing the Dead March from Saul and the Marseillaise. There were many transparencies, too, bearing the words "Beware of the Insurrection," "Gallows Centre Liberty," "To Sons of Toil Awake to Glory," and "Allons! Enfants de la Patrie."

HAMILTON, Nov. 10.—That the schooner Bessie Barwick has been wrecked and all her crew drowned is now almost assured. All the points on the north shore of Lake Superior where the schooner would likely go in for shelter in case of any accident have been visited by other vessels and yet no tidings of her have been received. THE INTERPROVINCIAL CONFERENCE.

The [illegible] over for, those Tory journals, which were weeping themselves limp over the alleged humiliations of the "anti-Confederation platform" as the provincial Premiers to the Interprovincial Conference would drink. The full text of the resolutions adopted was given on Thursday, and there is nothing in them [illegible] provinces, except for the dismemberment of the Confederation. The main resolutions, twenty-one in number, may be summarized as follows:—

The preamble recites the necessity of amendments to the British North American Act of 1867, and it was resolved

(1) That it should be amended by taking away from the Central Government the power of disallowing Provincial statutes, and that the power of disallowance be exercised only by His Majesty in Council as before Confederation, and upon the same principles as it is exercised in the case of Federal Acts.

(2) That there should be equal facilities to both Federal and Provincial Governments for promptly obtaining judicial determination respecting the validity of the statutes of both the Federal and Provincial Governments.

(3) That the constitutionality of Federal and Provincial statutes should not be open to question by private litigants except within a limited time (say two years).

(4) That the term of office of Dominion senators should be limited, and that vacancies in the Senate should be filled by the province to which the vacancy belongs, this course to be pursued till, at least, half the Senators representing any province shall have been chosen by that province.

(5) That an express provision be made in the Confederation Act, that Lieut-Governors of every province, as representatives of the Sovereign have the same executive authorities as the Governors and Lieut-Governors of other British colonies and provinces.

(6) That the power be withheld from the Federal Government of withdrawing from provincial jurisdiction provincial works, without compensation and without the concurrence of the Provincial Governments, except as regards cases covered by sec. 29, sub. sec. 11 of the Quebec Resolutions.

(7) That voters' lists and qualifications for election of members of the Dominion Parliament should be the same as those of the provinces, and that the qualifications of members be the same.

(8) That amending legislation should be procured to confirm to the provinces the power of appointing stipendiary, police and other magistrates and all officers under the jurisdiction of provincial Legislatures.

(9) That the Provinces be declared entitled to all fees paid or payable on legal proceedings in the Provincial courts, and to enjoy or deal with the revenue therefrom.

(10) That Lieut.-Governors be empowered to issue commissions to hold courts of assize, nisi prius, oyer and terminer, and general gaol delivery, subject to Provincial statutes.

(11) That Provincial acts defining the powers, privileges and immunities of Provincial Legislatures and councils should receive Imperial confirmation the same as Federal acts of a like nature, and that amending Imperial Legislation should be prepared declaring that a Provincial Legislature has the same powers as the Federal Parliament has with reference to such Parliament.

(12) That upon an address of the House of Assembly, the elected representatives of the people, Her Majesty, the Queen, may by proclamation abolish the Legislative Council, or change the constitution thereof, provided that the address is concurred in by at least two-thirds of the members of such House of Assembly.

(13) That the Confederation Act should be amended so as to make clear and indisputable in its technical effect, as well as its actual intention, that all lands belonging to any province shall belong to the province in which they are situate, and not to the Dominion.

(14) That in the absence of any Federal law on the subject of bankruptcy and insolvency (as is now the case,) each province be allowed to deal with the matter subject to any Federal law.

(15) That the power of dealing with all matters relating to the execution of provincial laws be confirmed to the Lieutenant-Governor in Council of each province, leaving (if deemed desirable) the power of the Federal Government to apply to other cases. This amendment refers more particularly to the provincial power to pardon prisoners.

(16) That the whole northern boundaries of Ontario and Quebec should be determined and established without further delay.

(17) (Respecting provincial subsidies.) "That this conference is of opinion that a basis for a final and unalterable settlement of the amounts to be yearly paid by the Dominion to the several provinces for their local purposes and the support of their governments and legislatures, may be found in the proposal following, that is to say:

Instead of the amounts now paid, the same hereafter payable yearly by Canada to the several provinces for the support of their Governments and Legislatures, to be according to population and as follows:—

(a) Where the population is under 150,000 ..... $100,000

(b) Where the population is 150,000 but does not exceed 200,000 150,000

(c) Where the population is 200,000 but does not exceed 400,000 180,000

(d) Where the population is 400,000 but does not exceed 800,000 220,000

(e) Where the population is 800,000 but does not exceed 1,500,000 320,000

(f) Where the population exceeds 1,500,000 240,000

Instead of an annual grant per head of population now allowed, the annual payment hereafter to be at the same rate of eighty cents per head, but on the population of each province, as ascertained from time to time by the last decennial census, until such population exceeds 2,500,000; and at the rate of sixty cents per head for so much of said population as may exceed 2,500,000.

"The amounts so to be paid and granted yearly by the Dominion to the provinces respectively to be declared by Imperial enactment to be final and absolute, and not within the power of the Federal Parliament to alter, add to or vary.

(17-18) "That this Conference is of opinion that the several provinces should take the earliest opportunity to pronounce upon the above resolutions, and if they are approved of should take practical steps to secure the enactment by the Imperial Parliament of the amendments suggested."

The provincial delegates also cut out some work for themselves. It was resolved:—

(19) That no action shall lie against any justice, judge or magistrate or any officer for any act done under the supposed authority, of an act whose passing may afterwards be declared ultra vires.

(20) That the laws of the several provinces for the enforcement of debts be assimilated, and that "this conference is of opinion that such assimilation should include provisions against preferences by insolvent debtors, and provisions for the examination of debtors, and for taking speedy possession of an insolvent's estate for the benefit of his creditors; so far as these subjects can be dealt with [illegible] Legislatures."

That this conference approves of there being legislative provision in the several provinces of the Dominion for rendering effectual in all the provinces (subject to proper conditions) probates and letters of administration granted in any one of them."

(22) That the same provision be made with reference to the United Kingdom.

The following additional resolutions were adopted, declaring

(1) That unrestricted reciprocity between Canada and the United States would be of advantage to all the provinces of the Dominion.

(2) "That this conference desires to express its sympathy with the people and Legislature of Manitoba in their struggle for the rights of their province."

Very many of the above resolutions are of the utmost importance, and will bear detailed examination.

STRUCK BY A TRAIN.

William Wylie of St. George Fatally Injured on the G.T.R. Near Copetown.

HAMILTON, Nov. 10.—A serious accident occurred on the Grand Trunk Railway near Copetown this afternoon. As William Wylie, wood-turner, living in St. George, was walking along the track the Atlantic express from the west struck him and knocked him into the gutter. He fell on his head and received a severe scalp wound, from which he will likely die. He was also badly injured internally. The train was stopped and the wounded man brought to the city. Dr. Mackelcan was summoned, and after doing all he could for Wylie the unfortunate man was taken to the hospital in the patrol wagon. Wylie was in Galt last Tuesday looking for work, and while there he was arrested on a charge of drunkenness. After he was discharged the next morning he started to walk home on the railway track. When Wylie was brought to the station here a constable from Galt recognised him as the same man that went through his hands.

THE CROWN PRINCE DOOMED.

Dr. Mackenzie Admits That the Growth in the Prince's Throat is a Cancer.

BERLIN, Nov. 10.—A despatch from San Remo to The New Free Press says Dr. Mackenzie admits that the growth in the Crown Prince's throat is a cancer, and deprecates an operation, which he declares would be both useless and dangerous. The Crown Princess also opposes an operation. The Crown Prince will return to Berlin immediately.

A Microscopical Examination to be Made.

BERLIN, Nov. 10.—It is officially announced that the consultation of physicians at San Remo has not removed the fears concerning the Crown Prince's complaint which were recently expressed by Dr. Mackenzie. A final decision regarding the further treatment of the patient has been postponed until after a microscopic examination of a portion of the growth has been made.

Examination Impossible at Present.

BERLIN, Nov. 10.—A despatch received from San Remo by The National Gazette this forenoon says: "An effective examination of the Crown Prince's throat is impossible at present owing to a recurrence of the swelling of the larynx. It will be necessary to wait until the swelling subsides, and it will be probably two days before an examination can be made. The physicians will remain in attendance.

In Brief, And To The Point.

Dyspepsia is dreadful. Disordered liver is misery. Indigestion is a foe to good nature.

The human digestive apparatus is one of the most complicated and wonderful things in existence. It is easily put out of order.

Greasy food, tough food, sloppy food, bad cookery, mental worry, late hours, irregular habits, and many other things which ought not to be, have made the American people a nation of dyspeptics.

But Green's August Flower has done a wonderful work in reforming this sad business and making the American people so healthy that they can enjoy their meals and be happy.

Remember:—No happiness without health. But Green's August Flower brings health and happiness to the dyspeptic. Ask your druggist for a bottle. Seventy-five cents.

A Sad Contemplation.

To Avoid Baldness or Grey Hair.

Use Dr. Dorenwend's Great German Hair Magic. It keeps the scalp clean and free from Dandruff, and promotes the growth of the hair. It prevents premature grayness and stops all falling out of the hair. On bald heads, where the roots have not perished, it will invigorate them and force a new growth of hair. Ask for Hair Magic. It is the only reliable. For sale by J. D. Tully and all druggists.

Reliable Remedy For Rheumatism.

Procure a bottle of Hagyard's Yellow Oil from your medicine dealer, and use according to the directions. It cured Ida Johnson, of Cornell, Ont., of that complaint, and she recommends it as a sure cure. For 25 years it has never failed to give satisfaction. 2w44d

End of the Chicago Anarchists.

The Death Sentence Executed Against Four of Them—Spies, Fischer, Engel and Parsons.

The following despatches, direct from Chicago, were received to-day at the C.P.R. telegraph office. Chicago time is just an hour slower than Peterborough time:—

CHICAGO, 9:45 a.m.—Clear, cool. Business will meet with delays to-day. No unusual crowds on streets. All quiet around jail.

9:50.—Execution will take place at 10.15 a.m. Death warrant to be read to the men; understood to be no speech-making. Condemned men lost much sleep. At midnight Parsons sang "Annie Laurie" before lying down to rest.

10:20.—Drop will not fall till about 11:20. Mrs. Parsons taken to police station for raising disturbance at gaol doors.

11:15.—Parsons breaking down. All men took slight lunch except Parsons. The men have been called for. Dr. Moyer says they are bearing up well.

11:24—Sheriff is now reading death warrant.

Sheriff shakes hands with men and bids them good-bye. About 200 persons present to witness execution.

Spies being strapped up and warrant being read to Fischer.

11:40.—Putting white shroud on. Spies turns pale and haggard.

11:50.—At cage door they bid good-bye and are all now ready.

11:55.—The procession moves.

11:57.—They have reached the scaffold.

12 (noon).—The nooses are adjusted.

12:01.—The white caps are adjusted.

12:02.—Traps fall. Spies, Parsons, Fischer and Engel expiate their crime and the law is vindicated.

12:02.—As drop fell Fischer cried, "Long Live Anarchy."

12:06.—Fischer dies hard.

12:08.—Men not dead yet.

12:09.—The pulses of all men just stopped beating.

12:10.—No gathering of people allowed. Police keep people moving on. No trouble apprehended.

A Wayward Youth.

The boy Howland, arrested Wednesday night charged with forging the name of J.J. Turner, is apparently bound to make his mark in the world. Unfortunately, though, that mark will be a long, black one, extending from the gaol to the penitentiary, unless he realizes the errors of his way and reforms. He is one of a family of English people who have lived in Peterborough for some time. The mother died some years ago, and the family became scattered, some being adopted into other families and others taken out into service. Young Robert has had, in a measure, to look after himself. Mr. Turner, and tent manufacturer, became acquainted with the lad, and being pleased with his intelligent appearance and broad English accent of speech, which reminded him so forcibly of his own native land, took him into his family as one of his own. He furnishes the following particulars. Pretty soon suspicions as to the lad's honesty were aroused, and finally, after several sums of money were missed, he was caught in the act of theft and arrested by the police. After being incarcerated a day or two, and on promising to do better, he was released; and once more he accepted the prodigal into his home. Thinking that the best way to encourage him was to allow no appearance of doubt to rest upon his honesty, he was put to work at collecting accounts; but very soon after his re-instatement an opportunity to cheat his employer occurred and was taken advantage of. Young Howland is a cute little criminal, and played the note game with success. During Mr. Turner's absence in Brighton, among the accounts given him to collect was a small one for $2 on Mr. Geo. A. Cox. On presenting the bill he was given a cheque for the amount on the Bank of Toronto. He presented it for payment, but as it was not endorsed it was not, of course, cashed. He was told what would be necessary to render it valid, and going to his home signed Mr. Turner's name. Again he was refused, the teller explaining that it must be signed in Mr. Turner's own handwriting. He took it away and again returned it, this time duly endorsed by what he stated was Mr. Turner's personal signature. The money was paid over and the lad levanted, taking with him some $17 in cash which he stole from Mr. Turner's trunk. The forgery was soon discovered and a warrant got out for his arrest. He was not seen since until Wednesday night, when he was arrested by P.C. Pidgeon and remanded for trial on Saturday. The lad had, it seems, been stopping at Young's Point since leaving Peterborough, and had just come to town when arrested. He told another lad since his arrest that he once saw Mr. Turner at the Point but managed to evade him. The boy is apparently incorrigible.

Directors' Meeting.

A meeting of the directors of the West Riding Agricultural Society was held yesterday afternoon, at which there were present: President Rutherford, Messrs. Collins, Davidson, Garbutt, Forster, Fair, Tully, McGill (Treasurer), and Gallatly (Secretary). Several protests which had been disposed of at the last meeting were again brought up, but the decisions already arrived at were allowed to stand. The award of a diploma to Porter Bros. for collection carriage work was confirmed. Mr. J. W. Crosby presented an account for lumber amounting to $7, used in erecting a stand in the Central Exhibition building. As he had paid for space in the building he considered the directors were bound to defray the expense. On this matter there was considerable discussion, the bill finally being rejected. It was decided, however, to allow those who erected stands in future the privilege of having first chance in the selection of exhibition space, in order to avoid the necessity of a similar expenditure every year. A communication was received from Mr. Platt Hinman, of Grafton, a representative of the Eastern Dairymen's Association, regarding the meeting of the Association which is to be held in Peterborough on November 30th. The Treasurer's statement was read, showing the expenditure for 1887 to have been $3,006.80, and the receipts $2,679.16, leaving a deficit of $327.64; which, with the standing debt from 1886 of $1,000, brought the total indebtedness up to $1,327.64. All the prizes have not yet been paid, but satisfactory arrangements were made to wipe out the whole debt. The directors adjourned to meet November 30th. The question of forming a Farmers' Institute is elsewhere referred to.

Not an Electrical Phenomenon.

About midnight last night flashes of light in rapid succession were emitted from the electric wires leading into A. L. Davis & Co.'s bookstore, at the point where it passes under the doorway. It attracted a large crowd of late pedestrians. It was caused by the pressure of the wire on the sharp edge of the iron top of the door frame, which cut through the coating and allowed the electricity to pass out of the wire at that point, producing vivid flashes of light.

A Farmers' Institute.

Steps Taken for the Inauguration of one For West Peterborough.

At a meeting of the directors of the West Riding Agricultural Society, held on Wednesday, Mr. J. R. Stratton, M.P.P., was heard in reference to the desirability of establishing a Farmers' Institute for West Peterborough.

Mr. Stratton said that he had received communications regarding the establishment of such an Institute and he appeared before them to elicit the views of the directors upon the subject; their opinion in view of their being representative farmers would be especially valuable. He briefly outlined the steps necessary to be taken to establish an Institute. Upon the due organization of it, the Ontario Government and the County Council would each make an annual grant to the Institute of $25. This grant would be conditional on the Institute holding at least two meetings in the year for the discussion of agricultural subjects. The Institute which was now in existence in the East Riding had been productive of much good to the farmers holding membership. The chief objects of the Institute were to afford facilities to farmers for meeting and discussing subjects connected with their calling. In order to facilitate the establishment of an Institute in the West Riding, Mr. Stratton said he would do the necessary preliminary printing free of cost, and in whatever form — circulars or posters — the directors thought best. In conclusion he suggested that the Institute, if organized, should affiliate with the "Permanent Central Farmers' Institute of Ontario."

The directors expressed their high approval of the scheme suggested by Mr. Stratton, and their determination to give their best assistance to the promotion of its success.

It was decided to issue posters calling a public meeting of the farmers for the formation of a Farmers' Institute for West Peterborough, the meeting to be held in the Council Chamber on Wednesday afternoon, Nov. 9th, at two o'clock.

A Sensation!

Opinion of a Fashionable Woman of the World.

"Do you expect to win in your dress reform movement," was asked of Mrs. Annie Jenness-Miller, 19 E. 14th St., New York, editor of Dress.

"I hope to!"

"Why do you object to the present style?"

"It is ungraceful, deforming and injurious."

"Do ladies generally support the reform?"

"Yes, very generally. My correspondence is very heavy. Next to Mrs. Cleveland's mine is said to be the largest daily mail of any woman's in the United States, and from not only every state in the Union but from almost every country of Europe."

"Is the magazine, Dress succeeding?"

"Very handsomely, indeed. Dress has been published less than a year, and I am gratified with reports from all over the world of the acceptance by ladies of the very highest rank, of the reform which Dress advocates."

Mrs. Miller is a comely woman in appearance, and is very enthusiastic in her dress reform agitation. As the New York Graphic says: "She herself is young and attractive, with a figure so harmoniously developed as to suggest strength, power and beauty."

The reform which she is urging with so much eloquence and grace seems to be the coming one. Mrs. Jenness-Miller has the advantage of high social position, being of the same family with the late Wendell Phillips, and the poet, Oliver Wendell Holmes.

"It is in the fashionable world, of course where all the styles are determined, and where the change must begin," she says. "How do you endure so much work and keep so well?"

"I dress myself according to my own ideas, and furthermore, I give myself the best of care and treatment. Six years ago, I was nearly exhausted from my work of lecturing, writing, etc."

"Indeed, you do not look like it now!"

"No? I am not now. I am now a perfectly well woman and intend to remain so. You see I understand the laws of life too well to be, or remain ill, but strange as it may seem for one to say who is opposed to medicines on general principles, if I find myself tired or feeling ill I fly to the one single remedy which I do endorse, and that is Warner's safe cure, which gives new energy and vitality to all my powers. It is indeed what I sometimes call my 'stand by.' I have many opportunities to recommend, it, and embrace them gladly, because I know that it is thoroughly reliable, and for women especially effective. Indeed, I often find myself recommending it to my friends as warmly as I do my magazine, or indeed my improved garments, and this I would not do did I not personally know of its virtues!"

Mrs. Miller insists that all women can and must be beautiful, and will be so if they follow her style of dress and self treatment.

"Will you not state, briefly, in just what your reform consists?"

"Oh, with pleasure! I propose a jersey fitting garment to be worn next to the body, making of woman a vision of loveliness!

II. "Over this I put a cotton or linen garment, of one piece, without bands or binding, covering the entire body also.

III. "In place of the petticoats, I propose one complete body covering garment called 'legleties.'

IV. "We abandon the corset entirely as totaly unfit for use, in its common form, and we substitute therefor a supple supporting waist, and then we make the outside gown as beautiful as artistic skill and common sense can design."

Mrs. Miller's words of counsel, which every woman should heed, will undoubtedly give to the woman of America some new ideas upon a subject so very near to each of them.

It is a rousing good piece, laughter provoking, vivacious and full of repartee. It is useless to add that Mr. Murphy was good; in the delineation of Irish character he is inimitable, as a vocalist he possesses great power and feeling. Mr. Murphy was well supported, especially so by the gentlemen who took the parts of "Donovan" and the "Dominie". J. S. ANARCHY'S BLACK FRIDAY

THE FOUR CHICAGO BOMB THROWERS STRANGLED.

Spies, Engel, Fischer and Parsons Pay the Penalty of Their Crime on the Scaffold—Scenes of Sorrow at Chicago After the Execution.

CHICAGO, Nov. 11.—At 11 o'clock last night Spies lay down on his cot and closed his eyes, but he did not sleep. Several times he got up for a drink of water, but his every movement betokened a firmness which was astonishing. So it was with the rest of the Anarchists. Parsons had the nerve to entertain his guard with a song. His selection was "Annie Laurie." He sang the song entirely through, and when he had finished he rested his head on his hands for a few moments and then repeated the song. His fortitude was the wonder of all who heard him.

At 4 o'clock a reporter made a tour of the lower corridor of the jail where Spies, Parsons, Fischer and Engel were confined. In each cell were two stalwart guards, who stood watch over the Anarchists. The former chatted in low tones and whispered jokes among themselves to while away the time. But the talk and whispered jokes were all lost on the prisoners. Each one was in the heaviest of slumbers. Spies lay on one side with his head on his arm and slept as peacefully as a babe. Fischer had turned over on his back and the consequence was that he frequently let out a snore that resolved in a startling manner through the silent corridors of the building. Engel lay motionless, as did Parsons, except that at times the latter started uneasily as if dreams were coursing through his mind.

Then at intervals the silence was broken by the stealthy walk of an armed guard who made rounds of the lower corridor to see that all was well. The only other disheartening element was the mewing of the jail cat, which kept up the noise so persistently that at last a deputy removed her to the basement.

It was just 6.45 o'clock when Engel awoke. Within the next ten minutes his three doomed companions opened their eyes. They tumbled out of their cots and hastily dressed themselves. No conversation took place between the Anarchists and their guards. Spies and Parsons simply bade them good-bye, and in a few minutes the deputies emerged from the cell room. They were relieved by others. Fischer was the first to emerge from his cell, accompanied by two deputies. He stepped over to the plain iron sink and took a good wash. His every movement was closely watched. Spies next performed his ablutions and seemed to enjoy them. Old man Engel followed the young Anarchist, and the last to wash was Parsons.

Spies on coming out of his cell declared that he had no reason to be afraid and launched forth in a tirade against the courts. He asserted that all the judges who had any connection with the case had reason to tremble, while the Anarchists could hold up their heads and walk to death with steady footsteps. Rev. Dr. Bolton asked Spies if he would not accept of spiritual consolation. Spies, with a haughty shake of the head, declared that he had no use for a clergyman. "I'll pray for you all night," said the doctor. "Pray for yourself," returned Spies, "you need it more than I."

At 7.20 two waiters from Martell's restaurant brought the prisoners their breakfast. The Rev. Dr. Bolton arrived at 7.45 and passed into the cell room, passing first into Parsons' cell. He attempted to engage the doomed Texan in religious conversation. What passed between them was not divulged. In the meantime Spies called for paper and envelopes and began writing. After a stay of eighteen minutes in Parsons's cell Dr. Bolton emerged, and walking to Spies' door stood looking as that individual, but receiving no recognition he walked away. Writing materials were furnished to Parsons and Fischer, who immediately set about preparing statements.

The active preparation for the execution began at 8 o'clock, when Chief Baliff Cahill arrived at the jail and assigned the deputy sheriffs to their various positions for the event. It was announced that Jailer Folz, with Galpin, Spears and Cleveland, would conduct the prisoners to the scaffold and superintend the actual hanging, which was fixed for 11.15.

Within a few minutes of 9 o'clock a message came from Mrs. Parsons, through a bailiff, applying at the jail for admission. The request was sternly refused.

At 10 o'clock Parsons, Fischer and Spies asked for twenty minutes each on the gallows in which to make speeches. The sheriff did not immediately return an answer to the request. Fischer then began singing the Marseillaise, in which the other prisoners joined.

At 10.20 the Governor telegraphed Sheriff Matson that he saw no necessity for any further communication with him on the subject of the execution, and concluded his telegram by telling him to proceed with his duty.

At 10.55 200 newspaper men, local politicians and others, among them the twelve jurors who were to view the body after the execution, had passed through the dark passage under the gallows and began seating themselves. Parsons was given a cup of coffee a few minutes before the march to the scaffold was begun.

At 11.20 the doomed men partook of lunch. Dr. Mayer, the Assistant County Physician, passed through and rapidly walked to the cells of the condemned. He asked each if there was any desire for stimulants and all save Engel replied in the negative. Engel asked for some port wine. It was given him at once and he gulped down three large glasses. Spies requested water and, seemingly consumed by a burning thirst, swallowed nearly two tumblers of the pure cool liquid.

At 11.30 the sheriff entered the cage door and the death warrant was read to each of the four doomed men in turn. They took the matter coolly and when they were pinioned marched with firm step to the scaffold. When the shroud was put on Spies he turned pale. There was no speech-making, and the proceedings outside were brief.

The Bravado of Red Hearts.

CHICAGO, Nov. 11.—A more utter contempt of death was probably never shown by any four men. From the first moments of the morning till the day closed upon them they would not see a shadow either of ignominy or the hereafter. The seven hours from dawn until they passed into eternity were crowded full with events stirring as a day of battle. Beginning with a flat refusal in the very teeth of death to accept a word of comfort from a reverend minister of religion, one of their number, Fischer, sang as the jail and the world the music of the French revolution, the famous "Marseillaise." Then, with seemingly not a thought of the dread massacre at the Haymarket, the four proposed for their march toward the gallows almost as if it were a pleasant holiday excursion.

Extraordinary as were the scenes presented at this moment it was not till the first man stepped out upon the gallows that the great climax came. The 200 or more writers with nimble fingers waiting to spread the news in the farthest bounds of the earth had almost to a man been gathered in the north corridor of the jail. There for just an hour they were imprisoned in front of the dull red scaffold. Not many of the 200 were present that did not sit uneasily upon his chair thinking rapidly of the coming doom of four fellow-creatures, or perhaps even more of the vague possibility of the jail and all within its walls being blown to the blue sky by Anarchistic dynamite.

The long hour was not yet half completed when in the jail's distant south corridor, unseen and unheard by the main body of the reporters, big Sheriff Matson, at 11.23 a.m., accompanied by grim old Jailer Folz, the manly-looking Rev. Dr. Bolton and a score of stalwart deputies stepped up close to the open door of August Spies' cell, preparatory to reading the death warrant to the four condemned men. Twenty minutes were occupied in this trying formality, rendered doubly an ordeal by the horrible silence prevailing and by the sickening odors coming from the room where lay the bloody corpse of their comrade, Louis Lingg, the suicide.

Directly above in their cell doors appeared the dark beards and darker eyes of the two commuted Anarchists, Sam Fielden and Michael Schwab. Sheriff Matson, with quick breath and heart beating high, carried unsteadily in his hand the documents ordering him to carry out the sentence of the law. They were written on a type-writer and all duly attested. The huge iron door swung back on its hinges, and Spies stepped forward firmly in front of his guard to listen to the reading of the document. With his head bared and slightly inclined forward the sheriff began reading. Commencing in a low voice, scarcely audible six feet away, he slowly and carefully pronounced every separate word. As the reading progressed he gradually assumed his natural tone of voice. Not a syllable was uttered by any one but the sheriff, and no other sound but his voice was heard, save the subdued ticking of a telegraph instrument a few feet away. Spies listened carefully to all that was said, but his face did not change for an instant during the reading, though it occupied at least four minutes. When Sheriff Matson finished Spies looked at him a moment steadily, but without malevolence, and then said, sententiously: "Sheriff, you are now about to commit a judicial murder." He said nothing more but stepped quickly from the cell threshold giving himself to be pinioned and then to be hidden in one of the snow white shrouds of which a deputy carried an armful.

Spies while being bound was seen to be dressed in a pair of dark woolen trousers and shirt of light grey flannel fastened at the throat with a tiny red cord. Taking his watch from his pocket he handed it to a deputy, requesting him to deliver it to his mother. A strong leather belt was then passed round his body, securely fastening his arms straight down to where a pair of bright nickel-plated manacles behind him fastened his wrists together. A moment later his body was completely enveloped in a shroud, loosely gathered about the neck.

The sheriff then addressed Fischer, who was even more indifferent than Spies. Like Spies he told the sheriff that it was a judicial murder. Fischer had his slouch hat on, but removed it as he stepped out of his cell. He was neatly dressed. He nodded to Spies in a pleasant manner and asked him in German how he felt. Spies smiled good naturedly and replied that he felt first rate.

Engel heard the reading of the death warrant with stolid indifference, and did not utter a single word of comment. A few minutes later, while standing beside Spies and Fischer, he said: "Well!" as if to infer their feeling. Spies and Fischer replied by smiling cheerily and nodding. Before they were pinioned all of the men shook hands with Jailer Folz and the deputies surrounding them.

Parsons' warrant was read last. He seemed to have nerved himself up to a great tension, and had nothing to say in reply. Like Engel, he was clad in a full suit of black dress clothes, even to a Prince Albert coat. He stepped lightly from his cell, when the reading was finished, but drew back involuntarily at the sight of the three ghostly looking figures bound and shrouded before him. Again he stepped out, now with a look of defiance. "Bind me tight," he said, "and be sure and make no mistake." The deputy complied too well. Parsons had him reach under the shroud and ease one of the straps. "That's better," he remarked, with a smile. "Now I am ready."

Forming in double file each of the four Anarchists, side by side with a deputy, were now headed east and started for the gallows. A stop at the iron door of the cages gave the four a chance to turn their heads in the direction of the second gallery of the jail and bid good-bye several times to Schwab and Fielden, receiving broken guttural farewell salutes in return. Here again spiritual consolation was offered by the Rev. Dr. Bolton, now for the last time. A sarcastic smile lit up the faces of all four men as they resumed their tread along the corridor and turned slowly into the dark east angle, disappearing like ghosts up the steps of the gallows.

The Gibbet Claims Its Prey.

CHICAGO, Nov. 11.—It lacked just 7½ minutes of the hour of high noon when a single white shrouded figure, above which was a face of yellowish pallor, the face of August Spies, passed the first post of the gallows. He looked calm and glanced at the reporters with a trace of his old time cynical smile. He walked firmly over the drop, guided by the grasp of a deputy, to the farthest edge of the gallows. Following close came Fischer, close enough to touch Spies' shroud, had his hand not been pinioned under the white muslin. Fischer's countenance had a peculiar glisten, totally unlike the ashiness of Engel's heavy features and in strange contrast with the dead lack of color in the pinched lineaments of Parsons. The once jaunty, vivacious Texan came last, a withered old man. He had aged 20 years since the day and hour scarcely twelve months before when he tripped lightly into the court before Judge Gary and flippantly declared that he was ready to be tried as once for his life. The moment his feet touched the scaffold Parsons seemed to completely lose his identity and to feel that his spirit was no longer part of his body. He had wrought himself to an ecstacy of solemn self-glorification. Only he, the one American, seemed to realize to the full that he must die in a manner to impress, if possible, on all future generations the thought that he was a martyr. The squatty form of Engel alongside, with stupid, wide-jawed face, made a hideous contrast to Parsons' assumption of the halo of a martyr. Fischer was head and shoulders taller than the other three, making his only occasional looks of too evident bravado more noticeable than otherwise, as a sorry disadvantage compared with the steady coolness of Spies. The latter's exhibition of quiet, thorough nerve far surpassed as a wonder the demeanor of any of his comrades.

The four burly deputies standing in the rear of the four condemned began without delay to adjust the ropes. Spies' noose being the one first placed. He did not appear to regard it of any more consequence than a new linen collar. The knot was slipped down the cord close against his neck. Spies did not show a tremor, but when the same process was being carried out with Fischer he turned and quietly whispered to the bailiff some suggestion concerning the same. Fischer's occasional ardor was quite momentarily lessened when he felt the nemper strand, and Engel bit his under lip hard when his turn came. Just then Dr. Murphy, a young physician, standing back of Engel, whisperingly cracked a joke at Engel's ear. Incredible as it may seem the low-browed Anarchist laughed outright with the rope around his neck and while another was being fastened on Parsons by his side. But the grotesque laugh stopped in a single instant, and Parsons, meekly as a saint, cast eyes upward as the dangling line above him. Before the four Anarchists had an inkling of what was to be done the white caps were deftly slipped upon their heads and drawn quickly down to the necks, shutting off the view of each as completely and with less warning than does the camera cloth of a photographer.

August Spies was the first of the four doomed men to make use of his wits while he could. In a tone of intense bitterness and spirit he, the man who wrote the infamous revenge circular, hissed out between his tightly clenched teeth: "There will come a time when our silence will be more powerful than the voices they are strangling to death."

The last syllable of Spies' concluding words, hoarse with suppressed passion, had not reached an end, when Engel raising his voice wildly cried "Hurrah for Anarchy!"

Fischer caught the fire of the utterance, and still more loudly exclaimed, "Hurrah for Anarchy;" adding, "this is the happiest moment of my life."

There was a silence like the grave, broken abruptly by the slow-measured intonation of Parsons, like a white-robed priest before the altar of sacrifice. Not as a dying request, but rather like a commander's warning, he sounded forth: "May I be allowed to speak?" Then, with slow entreaty, came: "Will you let me speak, Sheriff Matson?" There was another agonizing pause. Muffled through the shroud broke out in unnatural hollow accents: "Let the voice of the people be heard."

A crash as of a falling house thundered through the corridors. The slender ropes were taut. In full view of the 200 men in front were the four white writhing shrouds.

The ropes could be seen slowly tightening about the necks that between cap and shroud could be noticed blackening and purpling. Nine minutes passed. Then it was known to a certainty that not a neck had been broken. The four Haymarket murderers had been literally throttled and strangled by the law.

The bodies of Spies, Fischer and Parsons were taken away from the jail about 1.45 this afternoon. For Spies a hearse had been provided. There was some trouble in getting away from the crowd that failed on to the last wagon, but rapid driving freed the procession from this annoyance. Followed by a string of cabs and preceded by a carriage containing the committee, the hearse and wagons moved speedily along. There was no excitement and only a few persons gathered. The corpses were taken to an undertaker's shop, where they will be dressed and allowed to rest until they are taken to the homes of their relatives this evening.

Sheriff Matson, in an interview to-night, expressed himself as satisfied with the result of the duty imposed upon him. The sheriff stated that he had delayed the execution to 12 o'clock merely to give the men all the chance to escape their doom that existed. He had heard that Capt. Black was at Springfield pleading with the Governor, and decided to hold off and give them the benefit of their counsel's exertions.

Sorrow's Sad Scenes.

CHICAGO, Nov. 11.—Letters were written this morning by order of the Sheriff to the relatives of the doomed men, notifying them that they could take possession of the bodies after the hanging, and make arrangements for the funerals. The letters were delivered in person by Deputy Johnson. Mrs. Spies, August's mother, lives at 154 Bryson-street, where a most affecting sight met the deputy's gaze. Mrs. Spies sat at the table wailing as if her heart would break. The lamentations of the household could be heard across the street. Mrs. Engel keeps a little toy and notion shop at 286 Milwaukee-avenue. Entering, the deputy confronted Mrs. Engel, she was calm, passionless and pale. There was no excitement. Deputy Johnson found Fischer's house locked, silent and deserted. This was in a German neighborhood, at No. 4 Dean-street, where few English-speaking people could be found. The letter was left with a neighbor. Mrs. Parsons lives at 735 Milwaukee-avenue, but she was not at home, being down at the scene of excitement. Deputy Johnson says the grief displayed by Spies' family is something terrible to contemplate, but the relatives of the other men were not visibly affected.

There was mourning at the house of the Van Zandts. Mother and daughter were almost prostrated. The ravages of heart anguish, unremitting and sleepless nights, were apparent on their faces. Strange to say, the elder seemed the deeper sufferer. For a while Nina was plainly in deep emotion. Her mother wore a countenance of unutterable woe. When they got the order they stepped into the cab and instructed the driver to convey them to the county jail. The driver whipped up his horse and the cab speeded southward toward the jail. When the cab reached the line of policemen, which blocked the avenue leading to the County Jail, it was stopped. The cabman then turned about, and Nina, breaking into tears, fell upon her mother's shoulder. In this attitude they were driven home.

About 9 o'clock a little excitement was created. Mrs. Parsons, with red glistening eyes and dressed in widow's weeds, accompanied by her two children, a boy and girl of tender years, and closely followed by Mrs. Holmes, ex-editor of The Alarm, Mrs. Fischer, Miss Engel and one other woman appeared before the police at the corner of Clark and Michigan streets. Mrs. Parsons was spokeswoman, and when she was stopped by the police, who gently informed her that she could go no further, she cried:

"I must go," as her dark eyes flashed forth fire. "I am Lucy Parsons. These are my children. We must go to the jail. They must see their father."

There was little sympathy in the hearts of the police.

"It is impossible," exclaimed two officers in chorus. "No one can pass here. Entrance can only be had at Dearborn-street."

"I will go," exclaimed Mrs. Parsons, and with a determined effort she darted under the ropes. In an instant four stalwart officers had her in hand. She was lifted over the ropes and again stood outside the lines.

"You must obey the law," they said, "or it may go hard with you."

"The law," she yelled, "what do I care for the law and my husband being murdered; shoot me, kill me, if you will." She finally succumbed and turned to go. Her companions, with the exception of Mrs. Holmes, left her, but together the two women, with the little children straggling behind, walked down Clark-street to Kinzie and thence around to Dearborn-avenue. A crowd of large proportions followed. She heeded them not. On she went until she met another cordon of police and another rope. Her resistance here was so stubborn when opposed that Capt. Buckley was at last compelled to order her arrest. Every effort of gentle restraint, persuasion, argument and entreaty was employed to no effect. Finally a call was sent in for the East Chicago-avenue patrol wagon. The four prisoners were led to the corner of Illinois-street and Dearborn avenue, where the wagon drew up. Little Albert Parsons, jr., and his still smaller sister were lifted in and, while breathing sentiments of commingled rage and despair, Mrs. Parsons was assisted to accord. Mrs. Holmes disdained assistance and mounted the wagon with a show of offended feeling. A tremendous crowd had centered at that point, and it was only after a squad of officers had rushed upon the throng with drawn clubs that the wagon was able to pass out. Once at the station the prisoners were given seats in the basement registry room. They were not booked nor locked in a cell.

Mrs. Parsons, with Mrs. Holmes, and the two children of the former, were released from the station at 3.10 o'clock this afternoon. She looked very sad and down-hearted. In meek tones she asked a reporter:

"Is the bloody business over?"

When told that it was she made no answer but proceeded to explain why she was at the jail. She was told by a deputy last night to call at the jail at 8.30 o'clock this morning so that the children might see their father. At the appointed time she made the request to be allowed to enter, and was sent from one street to another until 10.30 o'clock. Then she made an effort to pass under the rope and was prevented. Accompanied by a reporter she walked south on Clark-street to Indiana without apparently being recognized by any one. Every moment a newsboy would shove a paper in her face and cry, "Full account of the execution." She frequently broke down and sobbed, and as they passed along took her boy more firmly by the hand and walked more rapidly, keeping her head bent down.

Incidents of the Day.

CHICAGO, Nov. 11.—At 2.30 o'clock this afternoon two Anarchists, giving their names as Charles Lobenstein and Gustav Haine, were arrested on the front platform of a Randolph-street car. With a companion they were talking in a very loud and threatening manner of what they were going to do to-night "to get even for the death of their friends and the friends of the laboring man." The passengers on the car became frightened and many of them got out before the car crossed the bridge. At the corner of Canal-street Officer Henry Smith was signalled by the conductor and, jumping on the car, he undertook to arrest the men. Lobenstein caught the officer by the throat and made an effort to get possession of his revolver. An exciting struggle followed, in which many citizens joined. The two men were at length overpowered and taken to the Desplaines-street station. Their companions escaped. Both men, who gave their ages as 38 and 27 years respectively, wore crape on their hats. Officer Smith was wounded in the Haymarket riots last spring.

About two o'clock two bombs, reported to be heavily charged, were found in an omnibus which runs between the Union Depot and Lincoln Park. They were of gas pipe each ten inches long. They were taken to the Desplaines-street station.

Word comes from the West Chicago avenue Station that Milwaukee-avenue is thronged with people and the officers fear trouble.

The police had strict orders not to allow crowds to congregate, and the people who walked along the streets leading to the jail were kept moving. It was a good-natured, well-dressed crowd, and not a word was heard that could be interpreted as an attempt to create excitement. At 10 o'clock there were fully 10,000 persons surrounding the police, but all were moving except where they congregated two blocks from the jail and stood in little groups watching the sombre building. The largest number of persons to be seen was at Dearborn-avenue and Illinois-street, the nearest point to where the gallows was erected. On the moment that the trap fell and the word reached the outside a half dozen incidents simultaneously occurred to throw the crowded streets into a scene of the wildest excitement. As the throngs were crowding forward and clamoring to obtain confirmation of the news, the East Chicago wagon with the gong in full play and the horses at a break-neck gallop dashed down Clark-street. "Fire!" "Look out for the engine!" "Make way, make way!" A thousand such cries were raised and the crowd, dividing in halves at the middle of the street, rushed with crushing force upon the walks. Through this uncertain passage the horses flew until, at the corner of Kinzie-street, the wagon encountered a mass of struggling beings that could not possibly give way.

In the centre of this confusion a half dozen policemen were struggling with a prisoner and endeavoring to clear an avenue of exit. The arrest of this man was over before that crowd became aware of its existence, and the tumult and rush of men was unnoticeable.

The prisoner had attracted attention by the loud and insurrectionary remarks he delivered from the curb at the corner of Clark and Kinzie streets. Officer Gearity of the day squad pushed through the crowd, and raising the order by the shoulders shoved him along with instructions to "move on." As he did so the officer struck the man across the face with his club. The blow gave back a sharp metallic ring that could come from neither flesh nor clothing. Instantly the man wheeled and whipped a large revolver from his hip pocket. Just as quickly Officer Gearity, also of the squad, seized the man's wrist and wrenched the pistol from his hand and administered an open-handed blow upon the man's ear. In the vigorous clutches of the officer the man was dragged to the patrol box, and amid the consternation around and swelling tumult a "heavy" call was sent in. It was in response to this that the patrol wagon dashed up.

The prisoner was locked up at the East Chicago-avenue Station, where he said his name was Edward Lass of Logansport, a freight conductor by occupation. He was booked for disorderly conduct; carrying concealed weapons and assaulting an officer.

The saloon at the corner of Fullerton and Lincoln avenues, which is quite a rendezvous for the Socialists of the north side, was closed up this morning by the police, who mounted guard there all day to prevent its being opened.

Late last night a crowd of about 200 people assembled in front of the store formerly kept by Engel on Milwaukee-avenue, and was harangued by the brother of the deceased man, who spoke in English and in German. He protested against the hanging of his brother, and called it the murder of an innocent man by the Government, which was for the benefit of the few and at the cost of the many. As he spoke the clamor and rumble of a patrol wagon from the West Chicago-avenue Station was heard, and ten or a dozen policemen cleared the place in an instant, pushed Engel into his store and made him look the place up and put out the lights.

Crape and Red Flags in New York.

NEW YORK, Nov. 11.—Herr Most's office in William-street was the gathering place of the Anarchist clans in this city to-day. In the gray of the morning Anarchists Tomchaidt and Jesselman came down town carrying a roll of crape and a score of red flags. With these they bedecked the windows, doorways and walls of Most's office and the adjoining rooms on the same floor. The time worn sign on the chief Anarchist's door "No reporters allowed" was almost hidden from view by crape and red bunting. Most appeared at 9 o'clock and for an hour afterwards the stairs creaked under the tread of arriving Anarchists. The doors at the head of the stairs were tightly closed to prevent intrusion, but Most was heard speaking in emphatic German and hoarse cheers came at intervals.

At the office of The Leader another crowd gathered. There also was a profusion of crape, and placards were exhibited on the walls bearing the words "Martyrs for Liberty," "Beware of the Insurrection," "The American Revolution is At Hand." It is The Leader's last day of life, Editor Shevitch and his followers having decided that it should cease publication on the day the condemned Anarchists were put to death. By 10 o'clock the editorial room in rear of the second floor was full of Anarchists.

Col. Hinton mounted a chair and harangued the assembly on the event of the day in Chicago. He glorified "Lingg's heroic death, the only mercy the blood hounds of capitalism had left him to enjoy. The blood that is shed to-day," he continued "will be amply avenged. They can assassinate these four men, but 4000 will spring up to emulate them in their fight against tyranny."

Anarchist Wilzig succeeded Col. Hinton.

At this moment Julius Bardolfe, business manager of The Leader, suddenly became aware of the dangerous presence of reporters, and pushed them out of the room. As far as could be ascertained there were no formal meetings of any of the Anarchist groups.

Justus Schwab, a well-known Anarchist, in an interview said: "I do not believe in precipitating riots or resorting to unnecessary bloodshed," but the down-trodden workingmen of Chicago had been goaded on to utter desperation by the Pinkertons and the regular police. One poor fellow was hurled to his death and the rights of a man to sell his labor and to organize for mutual protection were denied by the arbitrary police authorities. But I can risk and dare quested with the American public, who allow themselves to be governed by policemen's clubs. The hired minions of capitalism are even trying to deny us the right of which Americans have so long boasted—the right to gather and speak freely upon any question concerning the public weal. That right has been denied us in Chicago and New York. Even in king-ridden Germany the people of our belief are not prevented from peacefully meeting and discussing our ideas. Let the blood of the martyred five and the doom of the others rest upon the heads of the unreasonable and unjust men who have hounded them to their death out of pure revenge."

A reporter saw Herr Most at his office. In reply to the question whether there would be any demonstration to-day he said: "There will be no demonstration. We can't demonstrate every day. The newspapers have been the cause of the hanging. They are the real murderers."

A Jersey City Anarchist.

JERSEY CITY, Nov. 11.—Herman Tuber, the Union Hill Anarchist, was to-day fined $150 and costs by Judge Lippincott. The judge in passing sentence said: "This may be taken as a warning by the class of people you represent. You are only the firebrand which was thrown by others and which came very near precipitating a difficulty that would have resulted seriously. The Court gives you this chance to inform yourself upon our constitution and laws in the hope that you may become a good citizen."

People little realize the losses and troubles and hardships of the young. They little realize the loss of the father and mother to the family, and especially to the little children, who are unable to take care of themselves. It is a sad sight to look upon a number of little helpless children deprived of a father's and mother's care, left to themselves in this cold world, and very often neglected and abused. No one heeds their cries. No one sympathizes with them in their sore troubles, and no one listens to their supplications. They wander about with no one to guide them. They cry aloud for mother and get no answer, for she who once tenderly nursed them and sang them to sleep is gone, and her loving voice is heard no more. And so the children wander around, listless and not knowing what to do. And when cold and hungry, as they oftentimes are, how few feed them, clothe them or take them in. If you go into the great towns and cities you will see innumerable little children, poorly clad and looking perished and hungry, wandering the streets asking for help and oftentimes sent away with cold, hard words, and so wandering on sorrowful and crying, with no one to care for them and no kind hand to guide or to comfort them. And when night comes they often have to lie down upon the cold ground or crawl into some dismal recess and there wait the dawn of day, when their weary wanderings begin again.

God help the orphans for they need
Our Father's watchful care indeed;
Out in the cold, while we lit alone,
Where strangers speak with freezing tone.
With none to take them to their heart,
And dry the burning tears that start
From sunken eye and hollow cheek,
That want, neglect and hunger speak.

Two years are their father died,
And soon their mother by his side
In one cold grave—are laid to rest,
And joined the everlasting blest.
The greatest pain she felt at death
Was whispered with her dying breath,
"God keep my boys when I am gone,
Poor helpless orphans all alone."

Ah, how they struggled for their bread,
And oft went supperless to bed,
And sometime neither bed nor board
Their scanty pittance could afford.
Oft in the storm, and wind, and sleet
They travelled on with wet, cold feet,
And sought that kindly manners by
Would pity the poor orphans' cry.

Sometimes a crossing neatly swept
By one at either end was kept,
When now and then an honest cent
Was caused by them with great content.
As long as work is brisk they feel,
No evil tempting them to steal,
Or beg, or whine, or feel dismayed,
Or of their lot feel half afraid.

Dear Christian people help such boys,
Who little know of earthly joys.
Be speak to them with kindly tone,
And make the orphans cause your own.
Try if your purse can spare a cent,
Or e'en a dime—to God 'tis lent,
And make their sad and painful lot,
By kindness, almost half forget.

Two small orphan children, who had wandered the streets of a great city in sorrow and trouble, had accidentally heard of the beautiful country, where the grass was green and where flowers bloomed and where the birds sang sweetly on the trees. So one day in the early springtime, they thought they would like to go and see. They got into a train just about to start, not knowing whither it was going. Fortunately for them it passed into a beautiful part of the country, dotted here and there with farm houses, and the children looked out of the car window and wondered at the beautiful sight. By-and-by the kind conductor came along and asked them for their fare. They looked at one another, and whispered a few words, and then said they had no money. The conductor heard their history and, coming to a comfortable farm house, he stopped the train and took the children in. He told the farmer and his wife all he knew about them, and asked to let them remain. They saw that the children had once seen better times, and saw that they were modest and good. And they consented. The conductor then went his way and a few years after had occasion to call at that farm house, where he saw these children, now grown greatly, and the farmer said they were an honor to themselves and a blessing to him. And they lived there and showed themselves grateful for all the favors bestowed upon them, and they grew up and became well to do in the world and worthy members of society. And they were honored and respected by the old farmer and his wife, and by all who knew them. So, pity the orphans, and do not refuse to help them on their way. A great many of the poor waifs whom we see wandering the streets, destitute and striving hard to live, have seen better days. Have been in comfort and happy till suddenly deprived of their protectors, have been cast out upon the world to exist as best they can. They would do better if they could, but they cannot. All alone in the world, scolded and kicked, their appeals for help disregarded, driven away from the door, cold and hungry; all this is left them is to wander on, and thankful indeed are they if, after a hard day's work, they succeed in getting enough to keep them from starvation. And when their few short years are passed and then their little dead bodies are put into the ground by careless workers, and they are seen no more. The following verses tell of a little child whose home was once rich and happy, but who was left alone, and, in the darkness, was taken by some kind person and placed in a hospital under a kind nurse. It is but a type of thousands more of just such cases, and tells of the instability and uncertainty and sorrows of human life:—

"The child is dying," so the doctor said,
As with the nurse he left a bright-eyed boy,
Who, heavily consolous, raised upon the bed,
But also shared the white a restless boy.

For ten long weary months that toy had been
His joy in health, the solace of his pain;
And still he played it with alternate tires,
Though now too weak to play with it again.

The nurse came back, and, stooping with a sigh,
Smoothed his fair curls and pressed his tiny hand;
And she soft whispered, "Tom, you're going to die,
You'll have to leave us soon: Tom, do you understand?"

His thin lips quivered, but his strength was spent,
Though still the toy was held against his breast;
But the kind nurse, as after the child she bent,
Knew he had heard her, for her hand he pressed.

And in some minutes' space, still standing by,
She caught this whisper as he cried anew,
"Nurse, do you promise me that when I die,
"You'll put my toy into my coffin too."

And as she recompensed the dying boy,
Upon his face she saw a glad smile creep,
As, closing close yet his broken toy,
He kissed it and fell peacefully asleep.

And the good, kind nurse laid his little body carefully and tenderly away in his tiny grave. And often when she could take a short time from her onerous labors she would run over and look at his little grave, and drop a tear of sympathy and sorrow for him, whose days were so short and so full of trouble. But he is gone where there is no pain or sorrow. He is gone to the beautiful golden city, to the arms of a loving Savior, who, when on earth, said, "Suffer little children to come unto me, for of such is the Kingdom of God." How little the world knows and how little it cares for the trials and troubles and sufferings of the poor orphan. Cast out in its infancy among strangers unable to make its wants known, its cries seldom heard. It is left to wander barefoot and weary, exposed to the pitiless elements, oftentimes without food or clothing. It feels lonely and sad. Father and mother gone, with no provision for the poor children left behind, is it any wonder that they suffer and die? Everybody is intent upon his own business, his mind is occupied with his own cares, and he thinks he has no time to attend to the wants of others, especially of those who are so young and helpless. It is in the large wicked cities where we see poverty in all its ugliness. Where we see poor little helpless children, wandering the streets and crying for bread, whose little bodies are exposed to the storms, and who know not what to do nor whither to go. They oftentimes cry aloud in their misery to father and mother, but no kind help or kind word comes from them. So the little wanderers wander on and when night comes they lay themselves down, and when morning comes they are no more. They have gone to their mothers and a kind Savior will forever protect and care for them.

Overcoats! Overcoats!

THOUSANDS TO SELECT FROM.

Any size from four years old, up to size 44 breast; ranging in prices from $2.00 to $18.00 I wish to call particular attention to

OUR $18.00 OVERCOAT

It is made of an English Knap Beaver, lined throughout with Black Satin, Mother of Pearl Buttons, and being made by one of the best Tailors in Canada, it is therefore equal to the finest of fine Custom Made. This Overcoat I sell for $18.00. if you left your measure for it, it would cost and be considered cheap at $30.00. Any Person in want of a very fine Overcoat Should not fail to see it.

Our Overcoats at $3.00 $4.00 $5.00 $6.00 $7.00 $8.00 $9.00 & $10.00,

Beat anything in Canada either Wholesale or Retail; and why should they not, when I bought them at 50c. on the Dollar. When Wholesale Houses cannot compete with the Wonderful Cheap Man it is simply impossible for Small Retail Houses to compete. 60 per cent of the goods I sell, I buy at less than the First Cost of Manufacture, and hence the reason I can defy any Wholesale House in Canada to touch my prices. It is one thing to make an assertion and another thing to prove it. If any man doubts what I herein state let him come to my store and I will prove to his satisfaction that it is the absolute truth.

My Stock of Suits & Gents' Furnishing

Is as Large and Complete as my Overcoat Stock, and therefore whether it is an Overcoat, a Suit, or Shirts or Drawers you want, take a Friend's Advice and follow the crowd to 27th. ANNUAL SEASON. 27th.

Our Stock of Furs for the Season of 1887 is one not inferior to any in the best retail stores in any City. When we say this we base the same on our knowledge in selecting the material for our manufacture, which is of the Choicest. The long winter of last season had run our stock very low, many lines, such as Men's Coats in Racoon, being completely sold out, but of which we now have on hand a large stock made of good seasoned skins in the natural color. None kept of unseasoned skins, which require coloring dark to hide bare spots.

Fenelon Falls.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

We are requested to announce the death of Elizabeth Wallace, wife of the late James Patten, who died Oct. 22nd, 1887. She and her husband were born in the County Down, Ireland. They came to Canada in the year 1832, and took up their abode in Peterborough, and remained there about 12 years, then removed to Otonabee township, where they remained till about the year 1863. They then moved north to Verulam township, near Fenelon Falls, remaining till their death. Her husband died twelve years ago, at the age of seventy-three. She leaves two sons and three daughters, forty grandchildren and six great-grandchildren to mourn her loss.

Oh, softly weep we for the dead,
Nor let our grief be loud!
So shall we hear his voice of love,
Within the light-lined cloud.

A few short years of evil past,
We reach the happy shore,
Where death-divided friends at last
Shall meet to part no more. —COM

Give Them a Chance!

That is to say, your lungs. Also all your breathing machinery. Very wonderful machinery it is. Not only the larger air-passages, but the thousands of little tubes and cavities leading from them.

When these are clogged and choked with matter which ought not to be there, your lungs cannot half do their work. And what they do, they cannot do well.

Call it cold, cough, croup, pneumonia, catarrh, consumption or any of the family of throat and nose and head and lung obstructions, all are bad. All ought to be got rid of. There is just one sure way to get rid of them. That is to take Boschee's German Syrup, which any druggist will sell you at 75 cents a bottle. Even if everything else has failedyou, you may depend upon this for certain. eodw

FOR THE RELIEF and cure of the inflammation and congestion called a "cold in the head" there is more potency in Ely's Cream Balm than in anything else it is possible to prescribe. This preparation has for years past been making a brilliant success as a remedy for cold in the head, catarrh and hay fever. Used in the initial stages of these complaints Cream Balm prevents any serious development of the symptoms, while almost numberless cases are on record of radical cures obronic catarrh and hay fever after all other modes of treatment have proved of no avail. eodw45

A Sad Contemplation.

It is sad to contemplate the amount of physical suffering in the world. How many weary, broken down invalids there are to whom life is burdensome! The nervous debility and general weakness of those afflicted with lingering disease is best remidied by the invigorating powers of B.B.B. 2w44d

Diphtheria.

"Last January," says J. N. Teeple, of Orwell, Ont., "there appeared diphtheria in our neighborhood. Doctors ran night and day, but I kept right to Hagyard's Yellow Oil and brought my children through all right. Yellow Oil cures all painful complaints and injuries. 2w44d

To Avoid Baldness or Gray Hair.

Use Dr. Dorenwend's Great German Hair Magic. It keeps the scalp clean and free from Dandruff, and promotes the growth of the hair. It prevents premature grayness and stops all falling out of the hair. On bald heads, where the roots have not perished, it will invigorate them and force a new growth of hair. Ask for Hair Magic. It is the only reliable. For sale by J. D. Tully and all druggists.

Reliable Remedy For Rheumatism.

Procure a bottle of Hagyard's Yellow Oil from your medicine dealer, and use according to the directions. It cured Ida Johnson, of Cornell, Ont., of that complaint, and she recommends it as a sure cure. For 25 years it has never failed to give satisfaction. 2w44d

A score of young men and women are now filling lucrative positions in Toronto, Dundas, Hamilton and other places as Shorthand writers and Typewriter operators, who learned the art in a few months at the Peterborough Business College.

A Neighbourly Act.

Owing to the sickness and deaths in Mr. John Tweomey's family, Eastmore, his neighbors on Monday, to the number of thirty, turned out with their teams and ploughed a large portion of his farm. Such philanthropic actions in which Eastmore township always takes first place are most commendable.

Mr. W. Clarton is shipping the balance of contract, October cheese, 457 boxes, the product of six factories:—Keene, 174; Glenthorne, 33; Central, 23; Otonabee Union, 35; Shearer, 74; Pine Grove, 118.

The New Works.

The prospects of a new and the works for Peterborough, at one time considered almost a certainty, is vanishing. The gentlemen who have been endeavoring to effect the establishment of the industry, have about given up the project. They have not been very successful. The town's offer of a site and buildings was generous enough, besides which the promoters had another suitable building in view, and Peterborough is a most desirable location for a manufactory, but when its monied men and influential citizens fail to "take hold of a good thing when they see it," as one of the interested parties puts it, the establishing of such an industry is impossible. A capital of $10,000 was one of the conditions upon which the town would grant to the new company the site and buildings, and of that amount some six or seven thousand dollars have been subscribed. But all efforts to secure the required amount have been fruitless. The projectors of the scheme say they are in despair at what they consider the unaccountable apathy of Peterborough's solid citizens towards a movement which, if successful would be of such benefit to the town. They have received a magnanimous offer from Belleville capitalists, which they will accept in case the movement here falls through, as at the present time appears most probable.

Returned From Europe.

And will be at Snowden's Hotel, Monday and Tuesday, Nov. 21 and 22. Professor Dorenwend, the well-known Hair Goods manufacturer of the Paris Hair Works, Toronto, has visited the principal cities of Europe, such as London, Paris, Berlin, &c. The tour was chiefly made for the benefit of his business. He has returned with some new ideas and has now in addition to his well assorted stock of Ladies' Hair Goods, the newest and most becoming styles that ever were shown on the American continent. He has seen the Wigs and Toupees made by the leading manufacturers of Europe, and he has made improvements on them. Every lady and gentleman make a note of this and call at his show rooms in Snowden's Hotel, on Nov. 21st and 22nd. Gentlemen who are bald should look out for the visit of Prof. Dorenwend. He will have with him a big stock of fine Wigs, Toupees, etc.

Not Bad at All.

The Lindsay Post says:—"In view of the fact that diphtheria has again broken out in several places in the province, Whitby and Peterborough being mentioned, it would be well for our health authorities to redouble their exertions so as to lessen the danger of an outbreak here. In Whitby there are evidently a good many cases and some schools have been closed. In Peterborough the existence of the dread disease is kept quiet, but we have heard of three cases in Emily said to have been brought from that town. Great care should be exercised in all quarters. Danger is not confined to diphtheria." As far as Peterborough is concerned the Post's scare is groundless. There are but two cases in town, of a mild type, and these are known to the authorities and carefully watched, the buildings placarded and the strictest isolation enforced.

The Bishop In Cobourg.

His Lordship Bishop Dowling is paying a visit to the parish of Cobourg. He left town yesterday morning. The Cobourg World publishes the following programme of his movements while there:—"He will arrive in the morning by the 10 o'clock train and will be met at the station by a number of our citizens, who will accompany His Lordship to Father Murray's residence. At 8 o'clock in the evening he will hold a levee in the hall of the Separate School house, where matters of interest to the diocese and the parish will be discussed. On Sunday morning at high mass (10 o'clock) he will preach. Vespers will be said at 7 o'clock p.m., and will be followed by a sermon from His Lordship. This will be the first occasion of his visit to Cobourg of the new and learned Bishop of Peterborough."

Fall Assizes.

The fall assizes open at the court house here on Monday, Chief Justice Armour presiding. The following cases are on the docket:—

JURY CASES.—Hammond vs London and Liverpool Insurance Co.; Ryan vs Drew, Lewis & Co.; Johnston vs Johnston; Irwin vs Mansfield; Mumford vs Palmer; O'Shea vs King; Price vs Belleghem.

NON JURY.—Faucher vs Erskine; Dumble vs McWilliams; McNaughton vs Weir.

CRIMINAL CASES.—Queen vs Montgomery, receiving stolen goods.

The Shanty Burglars.

Apparently others have been implicated in the burglary of Mr. J. M. Irwin's shanty in Anstruther, for which the three Windover boys and one Montgomery have been sent to the Central Prison for a year each. The Lindsay Post says:—"A brakesman on the Victoria division of the G.T.R. named T. Simpson was arrested Wednesday at Haliburton, being charged by J. M. Irwin, the lumberman, with the theft of blankets. He was brought to Lindsay and immured in the 'dungeon deep'."

Poor Prices For Cattle.

The Campbellford Herald says that Mr. James Kakins, cattle dealer of Peterborough, returned with a carload of beef cattle from Montreal Wednesday, he being unable to realize anything from them on account of the market in that city being overstocked. Their sale would have been a loss to him of about $5 per head. The car containing the cattle passed through Campbellford Wednesday.

Learning the Typewriter.

Typewriting requires very careful attention while the student is practicing or careless habits, awkward fingering, and unnecessarily rough usage of the instrument will follow. These things are carefully attended to at the Peterborough Business College.

Market Items.

There was a large market this morning. Meat was the principal offering. Roll butter sold at 20 to 22c.; tub butter, 18c.; eggs, 18c.; turkeys, 70 to 85c., for largest; ducks, 60c. per pair; chickens, 30 and 35c.; geese, 50c.; potatoes, 80c. to 90c.; apples, scarce, 75 and 80c., for good fruit; beef, 3½ to 4½c.; mutton, 7c.; pork, 6 and 7c. per lb.

Masonic Visit.

Yesterday R. W. Bro. B. Shortly, D.D.G.M., accompanied by Bro. (Rev.) W. C. Bradshaw, District Secretary, paid a fraternal visit to Lindsay and Fenelon Falls Masonic Lodges, returning home at noon to-day. He found both lodges, Fenelon Falls in particular, in flourishing condition.

Police Court.

SATURDAY, Nov. 12.

Robert Howland, charged with forgery, was further remanded till 3 o'clock this afternoon. Mr. J. J. Turner gave evidence corroborating the facts of the case as given in yesterday's EXAMINER, but the County Crown Attorney not being ready to proceed, the case was enlarged. Mr. John O'Meara took the defence in hand.

DISCHARGED.

Jas. Wilfred, the tramp arrested for stealing an overcoat from a rig under the Snowden House sheds last Saturday night, and held on a charge of vagrancy, was this morning dismissed on both complaints. The coat having been recovered the party from whom it was stolen did not wish to prosecute, and as the town has enough vagrants in gaol already it was thought better to let him go.

MORE BAD BOYS.

Peterborough seems to have the worst lot of bad boys in the province. Scarcely a day passes now but some appear in court in answer to charges of misdemeanor. This morning six lads, averaging about 14 years of age, were arraigned on a charge of breaking into a house and stealing preserves and cake; and next week probably half a dozen more will appear in connection with the freight car robbery. The names of the culprits on the docket this morning are:—Daniel Hoolihan, Bert Hudson, Timothy Cronin, John Daley, George Barrette and Henry Welch. They were charged by Mrs. Mary Gorman with having broken through a window into her cellar and stolen some preserves and cake. She stated that she was continually annoyed by the lads, and wanted the thing stopped. The damage was estimated at about $2.50 The magistrate lectured the boys upon the seriousness of their crime, if committed as alleged, which included both house-breaking and larceny, and told them if they did not settle with the plaintiff before the case came up again, they would be punished if the charge was proven against them. He then enlarged the case till a week from next Monday. It seems that the night the depredation was committed a party of youths held a charivari outside Mrs. Gorman's residence upon the occasion of her daughter's marriage. They were not entertained as they expected to be, and took this means of possessing the coveted sweets.

Church Chimes.

George street church—The Quarterly services of this church will be held to-morrow. Love Feast in the morning at 9.30, and the Lord's Supper at the close of the evening service. The pastor will conduct all the services of the day. Strangers welcome.

Special Addresses to Young Men.

The International Committee of the Young Men's Christian Association have announced the date of the World's Week of Prayer for Young Men this year for Nov. 13th to 19th. The local Association are arranging for the observance of these days by holding a series of meetings to be addressed by the various church pastors of the town. The meetings will be for young men only, and will be held in the Association Hall every evening during the week except Wednesday, from 8 to 9 o'clock. The subjects and speakers are as follows:—Monday, Nov. 14th, "Lot", Rev. F. H. Wallace, M.A., B.D.; Tuesday, Nov. 15th, "The Rich Young Ruler," Rev. A. Bell; Thursday, Nov. 17th, "Absalom," Rev. I. Tovell; Friday, Nov. 18th, "Joseph", Rev. E. F. Torrance, M.A.; Saturday, Nov. 19th, regular Young Men's Meeting; Sunday, Nov. 20th, 7 p.m., meetings in St. Paul's and George street churches, to be addressed by Hon. S. H. Blake, Q.C., and S. Caldecott, of Toronto; Sunday, Nov. 20th, 8.30 p.m., men's meeting, George street church.

Gilbert, has never been produced in town. Its great merit receives full justice by Mlle. Rhea's interpretation of it, assisted, as she is, by a very strong and efficient company. Plan of seats at Hartley's music store. Prices, $1, 75 cents and 50 cents.

The Bible in the Schools.

To the Editor of the Examiner:—

The subject of the Bible in the schools is too important to be passed over lightly. While as a Christian people we wish to have the Bible everywhere yet we must not forget that the reading of its contents should be conducted with solemnity and decorum. Even among grown up people it is not an easy matter in some instances to do this, and if they were compelled to read or to listen to its reading at unusual hours, this difficulty would be greatly increased. We are told that there is a time to laugh and a time to pray, and to attempt to force people to leave their daily avocations and to sit down or stand up and read the Bible when their minds are occupied, and necessarily occupied, with their worldly affairs, the result would, in all probability, be that they would perform that duty carelessly and irreverently, and that more harm than good would result from it. Now, if this would be the case with grown up men what will it be in a school room with several hundreds of thoughtless and noisy boy and girls who rush into school half out of breath, and who generally think of nothing else than how quickly they can get through their lessons and run out to play again? And now, under such circumstances could they be expected all at once to become still and serious and to give their whole mind to the solemn and serious duty of reading or hearing read the Scriptures? And if the teacher read the Bible to the best of his ability, how many of these breathless, noisy children would listen to such reading with becoming gravity, and how many of them would derive any benefit from it? And how many of them would laugh and make faces at the teacher whilst he was engaged in a duty outside of his secular teaching, and a duty especially for others to perform? I don't believe that there is even one of the ministers, who urged the reading of the Bible in the schools, who really in his heart believes it will do any good. These men know what human nature is as well as others, and they must know that such a course of study would be worse than a farce and that it would do more harm than good. But, no doubt, they thought it would sound well for people to read of their pretended anxiety for the young, and would give them great praise for their feeble efforts to convert the children and make them pious and good. And if they could but succeed in creating a belief of this kind they would succeed in throwing upon the already overburdened teachers a work which does not properly belong to them, and a work which they cannot perform. Our schools are secular schools, designed to impart secular education, and our teachers are employed to give this kind of education. And in doing this work they have already quite as much as they can possibly perform. And it is not their business to teach religion to their pupils. That special duty is for those who profess to be religious teachers, and they are paid to perform these religious duties, and they cannot get rid of their responsibility by trying to throw upon our secular teachers a work which belongs to themselves. I have always understood ministers to say that they are the proper and the appointed men to expound the Scriptures to the people. They claim to be this both by their training as well as by their calling as ministers of religion, and that it would not be advisable to place the Bible in the hands of those to teach whose calling is secular and who have had no sufficient religious training. And if this be true how can it be right to entrust the religious training of our children to worldly men, and at a time, too, when first impressions become so difficult to eradicate?

A Domestic Drama.

Scene—John Plane's Sitting-room—Saturday Morning.

JOHN—Polly!

POLLY—Yes, John.

JOHN—I got a letter to-day from Emma Ann, and she wants us to come down Christmas and bring the whole gang!

POLLY—Oh, how splendid! I would like to go, but—the children and I will have to have new dresses.

JOHN—Bother the new dresses!—always new dresses. Talk about new dresses with tax bills to pay, coal bills to pay, wood bills to pay, and ——— to pay generally—Don't say anything more about it—Tottie, get my slippers.

POLLY—But John, we might manage—Ah, I have it! I was down street the other day with Mrs. Scraps, and we dropped into the Golden Lion—she wanted to see some remnants. And I'm glad I went. For of all the heaps of remnants I ever saw that beat all; and John, you know, there was every kind of dress goods as cheap as dirt. There isn't enough to make a whole swell dress, but I can get some pieces of velvet and cashmere and fix up my old black cashmere to look as good as new, and it won't cost hardly anything.

JOHN (the average husband)—Why the deuce didn't you say so before? Why haven't you got your dresses fixed already? I'm sure you had plenty of money: I gave you a dollar and a half to run the house last week, and you might have taken what was left and got stuff at Fair's and had your dresses all ready now.

POLLY—But, John, $1.50 don't go far in filling five mouths, and they have such appetites, especially this little darling—(hugging Tottie till the buttons flew off her boots).

JOHN (relenting)—All right, old girl, you're a little trump, anyway. You don't waste the money; you feed us well, and you shall have all the money you want. It would be a burning shame to miss such bargains, as there are in remnants at Fair's. Come to think, I read about them in the EXAMINER. Here, Lucy, bring me to-night's paper; there it is on the sofa—blamed if the kid hasn't dropped asleep on it—pull it from under him gently. Here it is—"Remnants! Remnants! Remnants! at the Golden Lion. A splendid lot of dress goods remnants to be cleared out regardless of price." You must have the money, Polly, though it's rather scarce and I would like to pay the coal bill and wood bill, but the coal and wood man can afford to wait better than we can afford to miss those big bargains in remnants at the Golden Lion.

POLLY—Of course they can. It's a good thing when money is so scarce to get a chance to buy something good and cheap. How the money goes! for milk tickets, bread tickets and—why good gracious, its nine o'clock. Lucy, take the children to bed. Good night Tottie—good night darling. (Exeunt kids)

JOHN—Get me a bit of sponge cake, Polly, and a mug of that older Poison left this morning and we'll turn in too. You must get up early and go down to Fair's. Tog yourself and the kids out regardless, and we'll have a jolly Christmas down at Emma Ann's.

MR. LAURIER HONORED.

THE TORONTO LIBERALS ENTERTAIN THEIR LEADER AT LUNCHEON.

Speech by Mr. Laurier—The Liberal Leadership—Opinions on the Results of the Interprovincial Conference.

A luncheon was tendered Hon. Wilfrid Laurier at the Reform Club on Saturday afternoon, the leader of the Liberal party being in the city on his way home from campaign work in Haldimand. A number of prominent Reformers were present, including Hon. Oliver Mowat, Hon. C. F. Fraser, Sir W. P. Howland, J. D. Edgar, M.P., G. B. Smith, M.P.P., Dr. Gilmour, M.P.P., H. H. Cook, M.P., J. A. Proctor, Joseph Tait, Peter Small, Charles Doherty, Peter Ryan, Dr. J. S. King, Robert Jaffray, Ald. Fleming and N. Gordon Bigelow. Hon. Oliver Mowat presided and proposed the health of Hon. Mr. Laurier, the mention of whose name provoked great applause. Mr. Laurier had long been well known, Mr. Mowat said, to the Liberal representatives at Ottawa, as a man of culture, thought and reading, and profoundly imbued with Liberal principles. Knowing these things they had chosen him as the successor to Mr. Blake, Canada's greatest son.

Mr. Laurier replied: I am sure, hampered as I am in your language, I cannot find any adequate expression to convey to you my thanks for the kind, the more than kind manner in which you have drunk my health. As was said by you, Mr. Mowat, I am a Canadian of French origin. I had nothing to do in the selection of my origin. (Laughter.) But I must tell you candidly that if I had had the choice I would have chosen first to be a Frenchman. I belong to a proud and gallant race which, I am sure everybody will admit, has done a great deal in the past for the civilisation of mankind. But I must say also, in all sincerity, that when I recollected how the great struggle between France and England was at last settled upon the Plains of Abraham by the victory of Wolfe over Montcalm, though as one of French origin and French blood I could not help feeling sympathy and regret, yet in one sense I never regretted it, because every one of French origin in the Province of Quebec to-day knows full well that French Canada has enjoyed much more true liberty under the British flag than she would have found if she had remained a Colony of France. [Applause.] It is as you have said, I am a Liberal, and being a Liberal, liberty is a primary consideration with me, and for this reason it is that I claim to be a true and loyal subject of Her Majesty the Queen. I know that upon a certain occasion, when I had expressed my opinion as to the treatment of a down-trodden race in the Northwest, I spoke my feelings and my opinion of the Government in language as strong as was in my power, and I hope it was my good fortune to shock Tory ears and Tory loyalty. But, although I am French, I have this much of British sentiment, that I know a true Briton will never submit to tyranny and oppression. [Applause.] And this if the reason why I never hesitated when I was called upon to come to Ontario to meet my foes and repeat in Ontario what I had spoken in another Province. You have referred to the circumstance that I have been chosen leader of the Liberal party as successor to Mr. Blake. I do not pretend to take his place. I do not believe that any man could take his place. My friend Mr. Edgar knows how diffident I felt about accepting that position, and that it was only after the strongest pressure of my friends that I did so. And I am sure he will testify that my refusal was no mere sham; that I did not say as the bishop-elect is wont to say, "nolo episcopari." But when my friends insisted that I should be leader, the necessity for the solidarity of the party left me no alternative but to accept the responsibility laid upon my shoulders. No thing, however, would have induced me to accept had I not at that time believed and hoped as I do now believe and hope, that before long I would be able to place the command in the hand of the man to whom it belongs—the Hon. Edward Blake. (Applause.) Sir, I am glad to say, and not only glad but proud to say that notwithstanding my origin, the English Liberal party, imbued as they are with true Liberal principles, have overwhelmed me with kindnesses ever since I entered Parliament, and their kindness has culminated in the honor which last session they conferred upon me. Nor can I say that this honor was to myself purely. It is a consequence of the political events of many years. I believe that the Liberals of Quebec, differing as they do in origin from the Liberals of Ontario, are perhaps united to them more closely than all the Liberals of the Maritime Provinces. Of course we are all of the same political religion, if I may use that phrase. But it seems to me that there is more cordiality between the Ontario and Quebec members of the party than between any section of the party. The reason is probably that we have been associated together for a longer period. Our alliance dates from the beginning of Liberalism in the two provinces—the days of Baldwin and Lafontaine—(applause)—when we had to originate responsible government and to carry it on. And perhaps it is from long association in noble struggles for reform that there has sprung up that feeling which has resulted in so great a trust being reposed in me. Our chairman, has long been associated with the Liberal party. I cannot speak of him as I would, he is too near me, I must spare his modesty. [Applause and laughter.] But he has just done such good work in the Quebec Conference that his name must become dearer than it ever was before. [Applause.] We have been for some time anxiously expecting the result of that Conference. We know that it was a great event; the circumstances that brought it about were in themselves great. It has far exceeded all my expectations, though I expected that a great deal of good would be the result. When I read the resolutions adopted and saw their bearing and purport, I was glad to see that they were such that the Liberal party as a whole, in all the provinces of the Dominion, must rejoice at their adoption. I see in them a brilliant future for the party. (Applause.) No one can deny that the administration of the Confederation for the last few years by Sir John Macdonald has been such as not to strengthen but to weaken the tie which binds us together. The administration has, in my judgment, been directed, not for the benefit of the country, but for one purpose, that is to say, for the confirmation of the power of one man. (Applause.) The principles of the Confederation have been violated day after day, and Mr. Mowat knows it better than anybody else, though it was his privilege to defeat all the attempts that were made against his province—(applause)—while some other provinces have not been so successful. As a [illegible] wishing for the welfare of my country, I hope that in the not distant future the races which Providence has placed side by side in Canada may become one nation. [Applause.] And I rejoice at the resolutions of the Quebec conference, because I believe that if carried out the design of Confederation to make of us one nation will be greatly promoted. [Applause.]

Referring to his visit to Haldimand, Mr. Laurier said: I hope for victory there, but I agree with Sir John that there is nothing as uncertain as an election and a horserace—[laughter]—and I fear the enemy's mode of fighting. And now, he continued, I have only one task to perform, and that is to convey to you my sincere thanks for the kind manner in which you have received me.

Mr. Laurier left for his home in Arthabaskaville, Que., at 8 o'clock Saturday night. He was suffering somewhat from sore throat, occasioned by his speeches in Haldimand, and his luncheon speech had aggravated the ailment somewhat.

COMMERCIAL UNION.

A Letter From Prof. Goldwin Smith to the New York Chamber of Commerce.

The committee appointed by the New York Chamber of Commerce to consider the matter of a Commercial Union between the United States and the Dominion of Canada recently received the following letter on the subject from Prof. Goldwin Smith:

TORONTO, Nov. 7, 1887.

DEAR SIR,—In reply to your letter of Nov. 5, let me assure you that I deem it a great honor to be invited to express my views on the subject of a Commercial Union between Canada and the United States to a committee of the Chamber of Commerce of the State of New York.

The advantages of continental free trade to Canada are too manifest to require demonstration. In her soil, her forests, her waters, and her mines she has natural products far in excess of her own wants, which seek access to the continental market. She has also a fund of labor of the best quality, which the development of these resources would employ. She would, at the same time, greatly benefit by the importation of those manufactured articles which she cannot produce for herself, or which can be better or more cheaply produced in the wealthier and more scientific country.

To the United States Commercial Union would bring the full enjoyment of all the natural wealth of Canada, which American capital would develop, as well as an extended market for American manufactures. That Canada at present, with her resources imperfectly developed, is not so rich as the United States, forms no reason for believing that the union with her would not be profitable. Scotland at the time of her union with England was a comparatively poor country, yet the union proved highly profitable to both parties.

It is impossible to look at the map of this continent without seeing that exclusion of the Canadian provinces, geographically identified with it as they severally are, from a commercial pale, is a struggle against nature and a renunciation of the benefits which she proffers to the continent as an economical whole. Each of the four blocks of Canadian territory—the Maritime Provinces; old Canada, comprising Ontario and Quebec; the newly-opened region of the Northwest, and British Columbia, is inseparably connected by commercial bonds with the states of the Union adjoining it to the south, while those states reciprocally have in them their natural complement and partner.

By Commercial Union the fisheries question would be settled, and it is difficult to see how it can be settled satisfactorily and permanently in any other way.

It is hoped also that a part of the arrangement would be such an extension of the Ashburton Treaty as would relieve the continent from the incentive furnished to commercial dishonesty by the existence of an asylum for fugitives from justice on each side of the line.

The movement in favor of Commercial Union among the Canadian people has been perfectly spontaneous. Their thoughts having been turned by the fisheries dispute had some other circumstances to their commercial relations with their neighbors, the conviction that unrestricted reciprocity is their true interest had impressed itself upon their minds, and has been spreading rapidly without the aid of organized agitation or wirepulling of any kind. Out of 30 Farmers' Institutes in the province 28 have declared, and as a rule unanimously, in favor of Commercial Union, one only being adverse, and one being still in suspense. Our Commercial Union Club in this city has just been formed in response to repeated solicitations, and to supply a manifest need. Those connected with the great natural industries of the country—the farmers, the miners, the lumbermen and the fishermen seem to be almost unanimous in favor of the scheme. The commercial opposition appears to consist of those among our manufacturers who think they have reason to fear American competition, the banks which have advanced them capital, and a certain number of wholesale houses, the manufacturers, being better organized and more political than those who are connected with the natural industries. The opposition appears more powerful than it really is, and the aspect is rendered yet more imposing by its concentration in the great cities. But our leading journals advocate Commercial Union. That the boon of Free Trade with our own continent, if fairly offered to the Canadian people, would be accepted, there can, I think, be no serious doubt.

The difficulty and the danger of miscarriage arise in this, as in similar cases, chiefly from the entanglement of a commercial question vitally affecting the material interests of the entire people with questions of party politics to which it has no relation, and with the struggles of political leaders for power and place. Were it possible to submit the subject divested of party influences to a convention composed of commercial representatives of each State of the Union and of each of the provinces of Canada, with instructions to frame a plan for submission to the Legislatures, there would be more hope of a result in accordance with the real interests and wishes of commerce and industry on both sides of the line. GOLDWIN SMITH.

RIOTS IN LONDON.

A SERIES OF SEVERE FIGHTS IN TRAFALGAR-SQUARE.

Several Processions Encountered and Driven Back—The Police Admirably Handled by Sir Charles Warren—About 100 Persons Sent to Hospitals—Mr. Graham, M.P. and Socialist Burns Arrested.

LONDON, Nov. 13.—The conduct of the unemployed of London, who were really tools in the hands of Socialistic leaders, has been intolerable to the shopkeepers of the West End and to the general public, and it was felt that some steps should be taken to put a stop to the dangerous nuisance. On Friday a deputation waited upon the Home Secretary, and he promised to give the matter his immediate attention. After consulting with his colleagues, Mr. Matthews instructed Sir Charles Warren, the Chief Commissioner of Police, to proclaim any meeting that might be held.

The meeting for to-day was called by the Radical Union, an organization controlled by the Socialists, for the ostensible purpose of demanding the release of William O'Brien. Upon the proclamation being made public Mr. Cunningham Graham, M.P. for North west Lanarkshire, announced his intention of testing the legality of the proclamation. As a matter of fact Trafalgar-square is Crown property and the rights of the Crown and Crown officers over it are protected by act of Parliament, and anyone who sets foot on it may be prosecuted as a trespasser. The First Commissioner of Works has charge of it, and authority is conferred on the police to deal with obstruction. The law officers of the Crown, having considered the whole question before the proclamation was issued, advised the Ministers that they had absolute power to close the square to public meetings.

In the afternoon to-day the thoroughfares converging on the square were crowded by fully a hundred thousand people, and immense processions carrying banners, with banks of music were marching in the direction of the square. To meet this disturbance, which had all the appearance of an actual revolution, a force of 4000 policemen, admirably handled by Sir Charles Warren, were present.

By 3 o'clock there was an immense concourse of people packed on the steps of St. Martin's Church and Morley's Hotel and on the roofs of the houses in the adjacent streets. The majority seemed to be reputable persons attracted by curiosity. The rest were loafers of the worst classes.

An excited movement was visible at 4 o'clock at the Strand entrance of the square when, amid a mingling of cheers and hoots a body of police was seen escorting Mr. Graham and Mr. Burns to the centre of the square. Inspector Hume says that Graham, who was bareheaded and was leading 400 men, made a determined effort to break the police lines in order to enter the square. They were unarmed, but used their fists freely. The police drew their batons and Graham received a blow on the forehead and bled freely. Burns was arrested without receiving a blow. After Graham's wound had been dressed by the police both prisoners were taken to the station. Graham was released on bail but Burns remained in custody.

In the meantime bodies of paraders had arrived by every debouching avenue, but they were dispersed and compelled to yield their flags and banners before arriving at the square. Numbers crowded the omnibuses and hansoms from the knife boards while the vehicles slowly traversed the front of the square and Charing Cross, the crowd cheering wildly. Then a procession of seven brakes crowded with men carrying small red flags drove past St. Martin's Church and tried to stop in front of the National Gallery. The police compelled them to move on and they turned down the west side and attempted to make the circuit of the square. The police rushed to the horses' heads, but finding that it would create a disturbance to suddenly turn the paraders off the square allowed them to complete the circuit. Several futile attempts were made to address the crowd. Many persons who were hustled by the police while asserting their right of thoroughfare became incensed and raised their sticks against the officers. They were speedily disarmed and driven away with outfit by the police, who had been ordered to refrain from using their batons unless it became absolutely necessary for the purpose of defence. The passage to and fro of vehicles in the vicinity did not cease during the whole day and this increased the work of the police. Had the square been entirely closed there would have been no difficulty whatever, but the continual traffic enabled the crowds to form there without ceasing.

At 4.15 o'clock loud cheers heralded the arrival of a cavalry force, with Col. Talbot at its head, from Whitehall, and Magistrate Marsham prepared to read the Riot Act in case such warning should become necessary. But the crowd became good humored, in marked contrast with their demeanor on the arrival of the police. While the Guards trotted abreast around the square cheers went up, accompanied by shouts "Bravo, Marsham; we want free speech; we are all true Englishmen. Irishmen and Scotchmen; we only want our legal rights as citizens of London." A second circuit of the square by the Guards elicited opposition from a mob of roughs in the crowd, who shouted, "Britons shall not be ruled by lead and bayonets." Three groans were given for the Home Secretary. Then the Guards patroled the square several times and turned into the adjacent streets. They succeeded in sweeping the roughs and in greatly thinning out the crowd.

At 5 o'clock the Grenadiers held the square with bayonets fixed and with twenty rounds of ball cartridges in their pouches. They were accompanied by an ambulance. They halted in front of the National Gallery in open lines. The mob was thus caught between the lines of police and military, and the roughs were compelled to run the gauntlet. They were hastened on their way by a shove from one police man, a cuff from another and a kick from a third. Some of them showed a disposition to resent, but the soldiers brought their bayonets to the charge position and the sight of the cold steel quickly decided them to retreat. The officers of the Grenadiers rushed to the front and ordered the men to replace their arms, and the soldiers then contented themselves with pounding with their rifles on the toes of the crowd. Boxing the ears of the turbulent roughs with vigor seemed to delight the policemen. The crowd now hooted the military.

Soon after 5 o'clock the police made a series of violent charges with their batons in a determined effort to clear the vicinity, many points of which had been crowded all afternoon. During one charge the window of an electrical shop fell with a crash. The crowd asserted that the window was broken by the hoofs of some of the policemen's horses. The police, however, assert that bricks were thrown at the window. The loafers made a rush for the contents of the window but the police recaptured many articles and arrested the thieves. A minute later the window of a refreshment room was smashed by the pressure of the crowd. There were one or two similar cases in the course of the charges, but by 6 o'clock there was no fear of more trouble.

At 6.30 o'clock the whole force of Life Guards again patrolled the square and finally succeeded in clearing it.

Charged With Counterfeiting.

LONDON, Nov. 13.—D. Williams and H. Doostater, two Indians, were arrested on Saturday at Oneida village, they being accomplices of Schuyler and Powles, two counterfeiters, who are now in London jail for making and passing spurious coin. The dies and moulds used by this quartet were found on their premises in Oneida. The quarter and half dollar counterfeits produced by them are poor imitations of the genuine. The prisoners will be tried on Nov. 18.

Canadian Securities.

LONDON, Nov. 13.—The uneasiness in foreign markets due to the Crown Prince's illness and other causes had an adverse influence this week on Canadian and American stocks. Nearly all Canadian railways, except Northern of Canada, have fallen on the week. Grand Trunk preferences declined only fractionally. Canadian loans are unchanged. Miscellaneous shares a trifle weaker.

MONDAY, NOVEMBER 14, 1887.

THE Y. M. C. A.

Among the numerous practical combinations of religious and secular philanthropy, owing origin to the development of Christian civilization, that of the Young Men's Christian Association occupies a leading position. The virtual inception of these associations dates from the year 1837, and their founder's name, George Williams, will have a peculiar significance to those interested in the work in Peterborough, on account of its identity with the name of the late Secretary of the local Association. Williams was an apprentice who had yielded to the claims of religion, and he gathered his associates in his rooms for Bible reading and prayer. This line of work developed to considerable proportions, but it was not till June 1844 that the first Young Men's Christian Association was regularly organized, in London, England. The first Association organized on this continent was in 1851 at Montreal. From their humble origin these Associations have grown to gigantic proportions, till there are now in existence in Europe, North America, Turkey, Syria, India, Ceylon, China, Japan, South Africa, New Zealand, South America, etc., 3541 Associations. There are in Canada and the United States 1176 Associations, with an aggregate membership of 155,000, holding net property of the value of $6 053,239. Of these 116 own the buildings they occupy; 436 have libraries aggregating 295,000 volumes; 503 have reading rooms; 779 Bible classes and over 1500 prayer and Gospel meetings are regularly held.

The primary object of the existence of these Associations is, of course, the promotion of the spiritual welfare of young men, but, while this is the main object, the means for the improvement of young men intellectually, socially and physically is not lost sight of. The first object is, of course, supplementary, but in no case antagonistic to the work of the churches. Owing to the peculiar positions, changing homes and new surroundings of young men, there are thousands of them upon whom the church loses its hold, and the estrangement from the services, not being corrected by the degeneracy of apostolic zeal of many of the ministers into mere perfunctory performance of pastoral duties, these young men lose all aspirations towards a spiritual life and with this loss the seductions of evil associations constitute the facilis descensus to vicious courses.

In like manner opportunities for intellectual improvement are denied to thousands of young men, and these the Y.M.C.A. succeeds fully aim to supply through the medium of reading rooms, libraries, educational classes for the teaching of shorthand, book keeping, mechanical drawing, etc. In Montreal, classes of over 350 members are in satisfactory operation, and in New York 1231 members of the Association avail themselves of the advantages of the educational classes.

The social appetite is catered to by means of supplying, where there are the necessary facilities, lecture rooms, social halls, parlors, etc. Social receptions and musical entertainments furnish opportunities of social enjoyment and amusement combined.

The requirements for physical culture are met by the establishment of gymnasiums, football clubs, lacrosse clubs, and the introduction of other manly, invigorating and muscle-making games. The efficacy of these means to the desired end are much emphasized by the influence of other features of the association. The enervating and health-destroying effect of late hours and dissipated habits are not exercised upon young men brought under the influence of the Association, and exercises, tending to physical development, having better material to operate upon, produce better results.

The above features form an harmonious whole, leading to the one grand result. A sound body argues a sound mind; a sound mind incites to intellectual culture; intellectual culture sweetens and ennobles social relations; social relations, involving Christian associations, tend to draw the young men to the aimed-at goal of a high and pure christian life and experience.

However, some of the features are not capable of practical application without the Association possesses premises owned by itself, and arranged with reference to the effective performance of all its theoretical functions. Just here in may not be out of place to call attention to the necessity the local Association feels of having its own buildings. Admirable and valuable as is the work it is doing, with improved facilities for enlisting the aid of every agency available in the conduct of its work, its capacity for doing good would be increased in direct ratio to the increase of facilities involved in the possession of new premises. To Christian people the aiding or the Association in this respect comes in the light of a duty. Others may be influenced by a desire to see the town adorned by a fine public building or the hope of incidental personal or business advantage. It would be idle to insist, in general terms, upon the importance of a religious life; of intellectual culture; of social relations with refining and moral influences or of the development of the highest form of physical condition. There are, however, claims of the Association upon the practical sympathy of the community in which it exists. Parents with wayward boys who are in danger of contamination by reason of vicious associations, should hail the Young Men's Christian Association as a harbor of safety into which they should help guide the young lives committed to their charge. They should be ready with both moral countenance and material aid. Business men, who know the temptations to which their employes, who spend their evening time in questionable haunts, are subjected, know that the money required for their expen-reeeations are not without suspicion of crooked ways of egress from his till. He will find that by aiding the Y.M.C.A. and helping to extend its influence so as to include his employes, the latter will be better servants in every way, and the result will be a clear cash gain to him, not to speak of any higher gain. A consideration of the claims of the Young Men's Christian Association is suggested by the fact that yesterday the universal week of prayer for young men especially, began.

HE SUSPECTED THE WORST.

The Latest Bulletin Advises an Heroic Operation on the Crown Prince.

LONDON, Nov. 12.—It transpires that Crown Prince Frederick William has for a long time suspected the nature of his malady and is reported to have said, when informed that he was afflicted with cancer: "I thought it was something of that sort." In a letter written to his mother a few days ago the Crown Prince appealed to her to pay no attention to newspaper reports of his condition, but to rely solely upon the information which he himself would cause to be sent to her. The Emperor has read his son's telegrams with an ill-concealed feeling of deep emotion. He will not allow his secretaries to read them to him, but insists upon a personal perusal of each one. Queen Victoria sends telegrams to the Crown Prince daily, and is promptly informed of every change in his condition.

The latest report from San Remo is that the swelling of the larynx is subsiding and that the patient's condition is thus favorable to an operation through the mouth, which will undoubtedly be performed in Berlin. The Crown Princess insists that Dr. Mackenzie shall perform the operation while other members of the Imperial family prefer Prof. Bergmann, and it is probable that the patient himself will have to decide the question. The appearance of the Crown Prince is unchanged except that he has assumed a yellow wax-like color, which a French expert attributes to the increase of virus in the blood.

The only eminent defender of Dr. Mackenzie is Prof. Vertell of Munich. He maintains that Mackenzie did not select the wrong treatment, that he continued that begun under Bergmann and Gerhardt, and that an operation in the spring would have been utterly useless.

The following semi-official summary of the opinions of the physicians in attendance at San Remo is issued to-night:

Dr. Schroeter holds that the new growth below the vocal chords is cancerous and advises the complete cutting out of the whole larynx. He claims that an immediate operation would be very advantageous, but says he would consent to a postponement, as in the meantime the malady can be combated by tracheotomy. Dr. Schroeter is convinced that the life of the Crown Prince might be preserved by the total excision of the larynx. Although the operation is very dangerous and its effect uncertain, it might be attended with good results. An excision from the windpipe, he maintains, would only defer death a few years.

Dr. Krause states that the new swelling prevents him from expressing a decisive opinion. The affection appears to be cancerous, but he opposes a complete excision of the larynx and advocates tracheotomy only.

Dr. Mackenzie considers the growth to be cancerous and advises that a small piece of it be extracted for submission to analysis by Prof. Virchow, on whose report the final decision of the physicians should be based.

The Emperor is naturally much affected by the serious nature of the Crown Prince's illness, but the rumors that he has had a relapse threatening death are untrue. He has appeared daily at the palace windows at the time for relieving the guard, and bowed and saluted the crowd waiting for him. He looks hale and works at his desk for some time before dinner.

News comes from Coblentz that the Empress is worse. No bulletins about her condition have been posted, and it is feared her illness is serious.

A Narrow Escape.

People who are exposed to the sudden changes of our northern climate have little chance of escaping colds, coughs, sore throat and lung troubles. The best safe-guard is to keep Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam at hand. It is a quick relief and reliable cure for such complaints. 2w44d

The Modus Operandi.

The mode of operating Burdock Blood Bitters is that it acts at once and the same time upon the Stomach, Liver, Bower, Kidneys, and the Blood, to cleanse, regulate and strengthen. Hence its almost universal raise in Chronic complaints. 2w44d

NEGLECTED COLDS, pains in the Chest, and all diseases of the Lungs, are cured by using Allen's Lung Balsam. mtdw

Comparison is courted. No other work has the BRILLIANCY and FINISH.

WHY?

Because experience and close study has developed talent in Chemistry, Lighting, and Posing. In days when such learning was required impressively in successful photography Mr. Sproule was practising the business and today it places his work ahead of competitors. He uses only the best materials are used. No other establishment in Canada is using throughout the same class of materials. He works with an cheap instruments. His Studio is lighted and furnished the best, and all combined to give the subject ease and elegance.

His prices are not higher than competitors. He charges no names or persons to travel through the Country to puff up his business or work. It don't require such. dw

Beat anything in Canada either Wholesale or Retail; and why should they not, when I bought them at 50c. on the Dollar. When Wholesale Houses cannot compete with the Wonderful Cheap Man it is simply impossible for Small Retail Houses to compete. 60 per cent of the goods I sell, I buy at less than the First Cost of Manufacture, and hence the reason I can defy any Wholesale House in Canada to touch my prices. It is one thing to make an assertion and another thing to prove it. If any man doubts what I herein state let him come to my store and I will prove to his satisfaction that it is the absolute truth.

When we say this we base the same on our knowledge in selecting the material for our manufacture, which is of the Choicest. The long winter of last season had run our stock very low, many lines, such as Men's Coats in Racoon, being completely sold out, but of which we now have on hand a large stock made of good seasoned skins in the natural color. None kept of unseasoned skins, which require coloring dark to hide bare spots.

THE FUNERAL PROCESSION.

Fifteen Bands of Music Play Dirges Over The Dead Anarchists.

CHICAGO, Nov. 13.—The entire squad of the central detail of police officers were on duty this morning at 9 o'clock. About twenty of the men had been on reserve all night and spent the day in the station instead of being assigned to positions on the line of march. About 12.45 o'clock word was received that the funeral procession had started from August Spies' late home. Capt. Hubbard called on the men to fall in, and assigned those who had not been on night duty to stations on the line of march. Four men were placed at each street intersection. The most striking view of the procession was obtained at the corner of Lake and Desplaines streets, for it brought to mind the scenes of May 4, 1886, when the bomb was thrown. It was just 1.45 o'clock when the head of the line reached the spot. At the hour above mentioned the first line of men could be seen crossing the Desplaines-street viaduct where, in 1877, a bloody fight took place between the police and the railroad strikers. There was no advance guard of police. Chief Marshal Charles Hepp, with two aides, led the way. They were no red but simply black clothes and crepe on their arms. Then came a brilliantly dressed corps of musicians dressed in the colors of the German army and on their heads spiked helmets. It was a strange scene. The bandmaster carried a sword in his hand and bore a striking resemblance to King William of Prussia. As the band passed Zepf's Hall, which was open and filled with drinking Anarchists or sympathisers, it struck up a dirge, as did in fact every other band in the procession, and there were at least fifteen of them.

Following the first corps of musicians walked the Defence Committee, the men who had charge of collecting the funds with which it was hoped to save the Anarchists. Geo. A. Schilling led the committee and carried in his hands a floral tribute. Following them marched eight abreast nearly 200 members of the Aurora Turn Verein, of which Spies was a member. After the societies came the feature of the procession, the hearse of August Spies. There were no nodding black plumes on it, but the top was so covered with floral tributes that nothing else could be seen. Inside was the richly covered casket. Standing out in bold relief against the black broadcloth of the coffin was a great sash of red silk. It was all the more striking because no flowers had been placed inside to interfere with the idea of having Spies' beloved colors shown to the public even after his death. Following came members of the Central Labor Union, behind them the hearse in which lay the coffin of Adolph Fischer. Then more societies and the funeral carriage of Albert R. Parsons. On the box by the driver sat a man holding in his hand a floral emblem of such immense dimensions that the inscription of flowers, "From K. of L. Assembly, No. 1207," could be seen 100 feet away. This is the assembly of which Parsons was a member until it was kicked out of the order. After Parsons' hearse came butchers and bakers and representatives of all sorts of trade. Behind were drawn the hearse of Geo. Engel and Louis Lingg. They were friends in life and lived together, and in the funeral pageant were placed in close proximity. All through this, which may be called the first part of the demonstration, were interspersed the carriages containing the relatives and a few near friends of the dead Anarchists.

The next feature of the procession was the turn out of people who followed after the hearses. Down from the viaduct around the corner into Lake-street they marched. In ranks of four to eight deep tramped husbands, wives, children and sweethearts side by side. A most noticeable feature of this part of the pageant was the showing made by the two local assemblies of Knights of Labor, composed wholly of women. They were aflame with red scarlet in their hats, bows of crimson at their throats and long streamers of crimson. It took the marching party just twenty-eight minutes to pass the corners. After those on foot came carriages to the number of fifty. They were overloaded with people of all ages and sizes. When the procession reached the Wisconsin Central depot the coffins of the four men who had paid the penalty of murder on the gallows, and that of Louis Lingg, the suicide, were borne on the shoulders of the pall-bearers through a side entrance to the depot and deposited in a combination baggage and smoking car, to which was attached an engine ready to start for Waldheim Cemetery.

Removed to the Penitentiary.

CHICAGO, Nov. 12.—Schwab and Fielden left Chicago for Joliet at 1.02 o'clock this afternoon on the Chicago and Alton train, which pulled out of the depot two minutes behind schedule time. A few acquaintances of Fielden were at the station and a few idlers gathered around the car in which the two convicts were placed, but that was all. On arriving at the prison they were shaved, arrayed in the convicts' garb and assigned to cells. On Monday they will be put to work in the shops.

In Brief, And To The Point.

Dyspepsia is dreadful. Disordered liver is misery. Indigestion is not to good nature. The human digestive apparatus is one of the most complicated and wonderful things in existence. It is easily put out of order.

Greasy food, tough food, sloppy food, bad cookery, mental worry, late hours, irregular habits, and many other things which ought not to be, have made the American people a nation of dyspeptics.

But Green's August Flower has done a wonderful work in reforming this sad business and making the American people so healthy that they can enjoy their meals and be happy.

Remember:—No happiness without health. But Green's August Flower brings health and happiness to the dyspeptic. Ask your druggist for a bottle. Seventy-five cents.

Chief Justice Armour, the presiding Judge at the fall assizes here, did not arrive in town this morning, and in consequence there was no sitting of the Court. The assizes will be opened at 9 a.m. to-morrow.

Tea and substantial refreshments will be served at 7 o'clock. Free to all—all cordially invited. Music and brief impromptu speeches will be a feature of the entertainment.

Office Work.

Our business course as it is now arranged, affords the student at least ten times as much office practice in 5 weeks as would be had in an ordinary business office in five months, and the work done is as accurate and infinitely superior in quality.

Learning the Typewriter.

Typewriting requires very careful attention while the student is practicing or careless habits, awkward fingering, and unnecessarily rough usage of the instrument will follow. These things are carefully attended to at the Peterborough Business College.

Yarns a specialty at Turnbull's. All kinds now in stock at right prices.

Light and Bright as Ever.

"How green the trees were in the days when life was in its spring! The heart was light, the world was bright, when George the Fourth was King." These are the words of McLachlan, the poet, but the heart is just as light and the world is just as bright now, because Messrs. Elliott and Tierney sell the best groceries in town. You can save many a dollar by dealing at the Palace Grocery, where the purest, best, and cheapest groceries and provisions in town can be procured.

M'lle Rhea.

W. S. Gilbert's charming play of "Pygmalion and Galatea," with the famous French actress, M'lle Rhea, as Galatea will be the attraction at the opera house on Saturday evening next. M'lle Rhea is to-day the representative society actress of our age, and her appearance here should be an occasion to be remembered as an unusual event. The Fall River Gazette says of M'lle Rhea as Galatea: "The Pygmalion and Galatea of last night's performance at the Academy was a surprise and a pleasure to the large and fashionable audience which had gathered to see M'lle Rhea in Gilbert's exquisitely poetic creation and there was no part of the play which was not thoroughly enjoyed. M'lle Rhea made a charming Galatea, and her decidedly Parisian accent, while giving a pronounced peculiarity to the rendition, detracted nothing from its merits, and made it if anything, more piquant and refreshing. And in all she said or did she was charmingly natural yet poetic, graceful and simple, and there was a vein of pathos and feeling in her every phase and of womanly sympathy and passion in her lightest utterances. M'lle Rhea has given to the world many exquisite creations of the dramatic art, but in none of them has she been so attractive and beautiful as in Galatea. A sterling good company backed M'lle Rhea in the play."

A Perfect Conception.

The St. Joseph Herald says:—"It was a pleasure to observe the cordiality of the welcome extended last evening to this old St. Joseph favorite. The house was crowded and the audience was very demonstrative in its manifestations of appreciation. Few changes have occurred in the cast of "Kerry Gow" since its last presentation here. Miss Virginia Marlowe, we believe, had not previously appeared before a St. Joseph audience. Her conception of the character of Nora is almost perfect—nothing exaggerated or overdone, but the affectionate and dutiful daughter and the faithful and trusting sweetheart just as they exist in real life. Miss Ada Shattuck also made a very favorable impression as Alice Doyle. Of J. S. Murphy himself there is nothing new to be said. In his peculiar line of light Irish drama he has claimed a field by right of discovery, and still holds undisputed possession." J. S. Murphy and company appear in Bradburn's opera house Tuesday and Wednesday evenings, Nov. 15th and 16th. Reserved seats at Hartley's.

School Notes.

The Entrance Examination will be held on Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday, Dec. 21, 22 and 23.

Drawing book No. 5 will be required from candidates at the Entrance Examination.

Should a text book on Agriculture be authorized by Jan. 1st, 1888, a paper on that subject will be set for the following July Examination for entrance, but the subject will be optional and the marks a bonus.

The December Examinations are usually more difficult than those held in July. High school courses are usually laid out to run from September to June, and no doubt the Entrance Examinations are made more difficult at December to prevent candidates passing who would be unable to take up the course at such an advanced stage. There will be but one Examination a year after 1887.

Opposition to the Canal.

The Orillia Times says:—"A new Georgian Bay and Lake Ontario railway is spoken of, but it is doubtful if it will every become a reality. It is proposed to run it from Trenton to Collingwood, via, Angus. It will go pretty close to the Township of Flos, but will not come nearer here than that. It is said it will forever annihilate the Trent Valley Canal scheme. How it is to do this the Collingwood papers do not tell, but it seems strange to us to be informed that this far-off railway will overthrow a project that is steadily growing in public favor in spite of the opposition of the Grand Trunk, which by the bye, has been in operation for years. It is of no use multiplying railways; it is a canal that is wanted."

The Rev. Dr. Wild's Sermons.

The Canadian Advance is the name of a new 8 page religious, literary and home journal, published at Toronto by Yeigh & Co. Having succeeded to the Parkdale News it publishes the only authorized and verbatim reports of the Sunday-evening sermons of the well-known divine, Rev. Joseph Wild, D.D. Besides being a religious journal in a broad and unsectarian sense, it represents the Canadian Congregationalists, and judging by the ability displayed in the number before us, editorially and typographically, it is an organ which reflects credit on such an influential denomination. The subscription price is only one dollar a year, and it is on sale at all the newsdealers.

Visit of Laurence, the Optician.

Mr. B. Laurence, the eminent optician, will be at Mr. John McKee's Drug Store on Saturday next, Nov. 19th. Persons in need of the finest aids to sight manufactured, should make a note of the date of Mr. Laurence's visit. His skill in adjusting glasses suitable to the condition of the eye, will be at the disposal of all who call, without extra charge. It is a great benefit to be able to purchase the B. Laurence pebble and other spectacles and eye-glasses, but it is more important, in order to secure the best results, to have them adjusted, by an expert, to the exact requirements of the eyes.

Situations.

A score of young men and women are now filling lucrative positions in Toronto, Dundas, Hamilton and other places as Shorthand writers and Typewriter operators, who learned the art in a few months at the Peterborough Business College.

Special Address to Young Men.

The first special address to young men, under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A., will be held in the Association Hall this evening at 8 o'clock, by Rev. F. H. Wallace, M.A., B. D., subject, "Lot." All young men cordially invited.

Mr. G. A. Schofield to-day received by express a handsome new clarionet. As soon as he makes himself familiar with the instrument, Mr. Schofield will connect himself with the Peterborough Amateur Orchestra.

Police Court.

SATURDAY, Nov. 12.

The case against the lad Howland was resumed at 3 p.m. Mr. E. W. Crabbe, teller of the Bank of Toronto, testified to paying the amount of the cheque. Mrs. Turner also gave evidence as to the boy's leaving their employment on that date.

The prisoner was committed for trial at the Assizes, which open to-morrow.

BEFORE P. M. EDMISON.

Court was held at Ashburnham in the afternoon by P.M. Edmison. The Scott Act case against Wm. Pearson was dismissed, there being no evidence of a convicting nature.

The Brown family of idiots from Dummer were also brought before the P.M. at the Court House, charged with vagrancy. They were remanded till December 3. In the meantime their case will be placed before the Dummer township council and the Grand Jury.

MONDAY, Nov. 14.

Eleven small boys, ranging in age from 10 to 13 years, stood in a line before the police magistrate this morning to answer to a charge of having stolen 22½ pounds of confectionery from a G.T.R. freight car about a week ago. Their names are:—W. Weese, B. Weese, H. Sabin, T. Sabin, James Bell, E. Waghorn, P. Waghorn, G. and H. Morton, Geo. Benton, jr., and H. Robinson. Amongst the large audience gathered were a number of anxious-looking parents. Detective Spence and station-master Brundrette were also in court.

The magistrate, in his severest tones, read the charge, followed by the question, are you guilty or not guilty? They all pleaded guilty, and on being questioned a couple of the lads, B. Weese and Geo. Morton, two of the smallest, stood forth and admitted that they had broken open the car by twisting off the wire.

The magistrate spoke to the boys upon the severe punishment their crime merited, and said that if they were a little bigger he would send them all to gaol. As it was he administered a fine of $1.00 each, and 40c. for compensation to the railroad company, or ten days in gaol. The fines were all paid.

The Directors and the Diploma to Porter Bros.

An Authentic Explanation of the Matter.

The reports which have, from time to time, appeared in the newspapers in reference to the awarding of a diploma to Messrs. Porter Bros. for the "best collection of carriage work" at the recent Central Exhibition, do not indicate the exact position of some of the directors in connection therewith, and they have requested us to publish the facts, which are these.

The prize list stated that a diploma for the best collection of carriage work made during the year 1887, would be awarded. The judge in this department awarded the prize to Messrs. Porter Bros. Afterwards Messrs. Fitzgerald & Stanger entered a protest on the ground that a wagon exhibited in the collection was not built in 1887, but had been exhibited before, and the directors, believing the protest to be justified, passed a resolution of the board, sustaining the protest and instructing the Secretary not to issue the diploma. It turned out, however, that the diploma had been issued and was in Messrs. Porter Bros.' possession, before the above resolution was passed. Accordingly at the last meeting of the Board the resolution sustaining Messrs. Fitzgerald & Stanger's protest was, with the consent of the directors, withdrawn by the mover and seconder. In view of the fact that the diploma had already been handed over to Messrs. Porter Bros. the award of the diploma as originally made was allowed to stand. On the other hand Messrs. Porter Bros.' position is that the diploma was fairly won and the vote of the directors was taken without hearing their statement of the case.

Personal.

Messrs. Albert Loch and Wm. Hamilton, Jr., are confined to the house by illness.

Mr. Wm. Metheral is suffering from an attack of typhoid fever, and has been taken to the Nicholl's hospital.

Capt. Pople, late commander of the Salvation Army corps here, was in Town Saturday. He is now in charge at Hamilton.

The last issue of the Canada Gazette says: "57th Battalion, Peterborough Rangers, No. 4 Company, Peterborough—To be lieutenant Second Lieutenant Hill No. 6 Company, to be captain, Lieutent Brennan, from No. 5 Company, vice Cooper, left limits."

Mr. H. A. Hammond arrived home on Friday from a summer's visit in England. He crossed the "pond" on the steamer Sarmatian, which experienced a stormy passage.

—The Haliburton correspondent of the Independent says:—"On Saturday the usual visit of fur buyers took place, the 5th of November being the date assigned by custom for the fur sales. The open weather of the past week or two has had the effect of keeping the trappers in the woods, and on Saturday only a few came in to sell. Mr. Loch, of Peterborough, and Mr. Stero, of Kingston, were the chief purchasers but only about $500 worth of fur was bought. On Monday and Tuesday some further sales were made, but the quantity brought in was less than usual, and even when all the trappers come in their total quantity will be short of the average."

A High Duty.

The Mail to-day says:—"Two oil paintings, valued at $300, had to pay a duty of $102 on entering Canada Such a tax is calculated to discourage the importation of works of art. It is gratifying to note that the Minister of Customs intends, on proof that the pictures are of the high class represented, to cause the duty to be refunded." The paintings referred to belong to Mr. H LeBrun, who made known his grievance to the Minister with the above result.

Town Taxes.

Only two more weeks for the payment of taxes are yet to elapse before Collector Cummings imposes an extra five per cent. upon dilatory tax-payers. Those who have not their taxes paid by the first of December can only hold themselves responsible if they are compelled to pay the extra twentieth. The wise will not wait till the last day, and then rush to the office only to find so many others ahead of them that it is impossible to attend to them all. By paying early they may not only save themselves a considerable sum but will relieve the collector of a vast amount of trouble.

This preparation has for years past been making a brilliant success as a remedy for cold in the head, catarrh and hay fever. Used in the initial stages of these complaints Cream Balm prevents any serious development of the symptoms, while almost numberless cases are on record of radical cures chronic catarrh and hay fever after all other modes of treatment have proved of no avail. eodw45

SCENE—John Plain's Sitting-room—Saturday Evening.

JOHN—Polly!

POLLY—Yes, John.

JOHN—I got a letter to-day from Emma Ann, and she wants us to come down Christmas and bring the whole gang!

POLLY—Oh, how splendid! I would like to go, but—the children and I will have to have new dresses.

JOHN—Bother the new dresses!—always new dresses. Talk about new dresses with tax bills to pay, coal bills to pay, wood bills to pay, and ——— to pay generally—Don't say anything more about it—Tottie, get my slippers.

POLLY—But John, we might manage—Ah, I have it! I was down street the other day with Mrs. Scraps, and we dropped into the Golden Lion—she wanted to see some remnants. And I'm glad I went. For of all the heaps of remnants I ever saw that beat all; and John, you know, there was every kind of dress goods as cheap as dirt. There isn't enough to make a whole swell dress, but I can get some pieces of velvet and cashmere and fix up my old black cashmere to look as good as new, and it won't cost hardly anything.

JOHN (the average husband)—Why the deuce didn't you say so before? Why haven't you got your dresses fixed already? I'm sure you had plenty of money: I gave you a dollar and a half to run the house last week, and you might have taken what was left and got stuff at Fair's and had your dresses all ready now.

POLLY—But, John, $1.50 don't go far in filling five mouths, and they have such appetites, especially this little darling—(hugging Tottie till the buttons flew off her boots).

JOHN (relenting)—All right, old girl, you're a little trump, anyway. You don't waste the money; you feed us well, and you shall have all the money you want. It would be a burning shame to miss such bargains, as there are in remnants at Fair's. Come to think, I read about them in the EXAMINER. Here, Lucy, bring me to-night's paper; there it is on the sofa—blamed if the kid hasn't dropped asleep on it—pull it from under him gently. Here it is—"Remnants! Remnants! Remnants! at the Golden Lion. A splendid lot of dress goods remnants to be cleared out regardless of price." You must have the money, Polly, though it's rather scarce and I would like to pay the coal bill and wood bill, but the coal and wood man can afford to wait better than we can afford to miss those big bargains in remnants at the Golden Lion.

POLLY—Of course they can. It's a good thing when money is so scarce to get a chance to buy something good and cheap. How the money goes! for milk tickets, bread tickets and—why good gracious, its nine o'clock. Lucy, take the children to bed. Good night Tottie—good night darling. (Exeunt kids)

JOHN—Get me a bit of sponge cake, Polly, and a mug of that cider Polson left this morning and we'll turn in too. You must get up early and go down to Fair's. Tog yourself and the kids out regardless, and we'll have a jolly Christmas down at Emma Ann's.

KILLED BY HIGHWAYMEN.

An Old and Respected Farmer is Brutally Murdered by Tramps.

ST. THOMAS, Nov. 15.—On Saturday night last, Thomas Hatherly, an old and respected farmer, was waylaid by three highwaymen on the Fingal-road and clubbed into insensibility. Mr. Hatherly after the occurrence was taken home and regained consciousness for a short period, but early yesterday morning he died. His spine had been broken. During his conscious intervals the unfortunate man related the circumstances of the attack, and on his statement three prisoners were arrested. The prisoner gave their names as Wm. McLaughlin, John McLaughlin and Wm. Richardson. They are hard looking characters and had been shadowed by the city police on account of their suspicious looks and actions. The two McLaughlins are brothers, one being an umbrella tinker and the other a cigarmaker. Richardson says he is a doctor. They all claim to belong to Buffalo, N.Y.

MR. O'BRIEN'S NEW SUIT.

It is Not the Vulgar Prison Garb But a Nice Blue Material.

DUBLIN, Nov. 14.—The Freeman's Journal says the clothes offered to Mr. O'Brien in Tullamore Jail were made at Mountjoy Prison and were of blue material. They were totally unlike the ordinary prison garb.

Dr. Moorehead has had an interview with Mr. O'Brien. He says he found him fiercely excited and coughing frequently.

A committee with 130 members and composed of highly influential citizens has been formed in Dublin to receive Lord Hartington and Mr. Goschen on their intended visit to the city. The Express predicts that the meeting these two gentlemen are to attend will be the greatest gathering Dublin has seen in a century.

DUBLIN, Nov. 14.—A meeting of Land Leaguers was held yesterday in front of Lisfarney Castle, Waterford, the residence of Mr Pyne, member of Parliament, for whose arrest a warrant has been issued. Mr. Pyne has taken refuge in the castle, which he has fortified and entrenched. He addressed the crowd through an aperture in the castle. He boasted that the building was perfectly fortified and he defied the police to make an assault.

DUBLIN, Nov. 14.—Detectives tracked Mr Cox, M.P., to his hiding place at Kildysart and pursued him. He escaped in a small boat however, and took refuge on an island.

DUBLIN, Nov. 14.—A reception was given to Mgr. Persico, the Papal envoy to Ireland, at Conliffe College in this city to-day. An address was presented to him by the clergy and municipal authorities. The Lord Mayor and councillors were present in their robes of office. There were 3000 persons in attendance. Mgr. Persico, in expressing his thanks, said that the occasion was a demonstration of loyalty and fidelity to the Holy See.

DUBLIN, Nov. 14.—The City of Limerick has been proclaimed under the Crimes Act.

THE TRAFFIC IN DECORATIONS.

Three of These Involved in the Caffarel Scandal Convicted.

PARIS, Nov. 14.—The Temps, The National and The Liberte announce that the preliminary examination in the case of M. Wilson has resulted in a demand for his prosecution. The statement has created a sensation in the legislative Chambers as it is said to involve the resignation of President Grevy.

Three of the persons charged with connection with the Legion of Honor decoration scandals have been convicted. Gen. D'Audlas was sentenced to prison for five years, to pay a fine of 3000 francs and to be deprived of all civil and political rights. He has never appeared for trial. Mme. Ratazzi was sentenced to thirteen months' imprisonment and to pay a fine of 3000 francs. Mme. Courteuil was condemned to two months' imprisonment. St. Janveur was acquitted.

Rev. Dr. Bacon, of the Independent Presbyterian Church, Savannah, Ga., has been dismissed from his pastorate for holding advanced views on the color question.

MANITOBA AFFAIRS.

Fe Word From Mr. Holt—A Scheme of Icelandic Immigration.

WINNIPEG, Nov. 14.—Captain Jonas Bergman of West Selkirk has a scheme to bring out the 75,000 Icelanders still remaining in Iceland. It is to charter a steamer or steamers, and not only bring the Icelanders, but also their stock of cattle, horses, etc. The cattle, he thinks, would prosper well in this country.

Orville E. Collins, the swindling agent of the New York Mercantile Protective Association, who victimized Winnipeg merchants in various amounts, was to-day sentenced to one year's imprisonment at hard labor.

The Local Government has not received any thing definite from Holt, as yet, in regard to the Red River contract. Much surprise is expressed at the non-receipt of any intelligence.

A Hospital for Collingwood.

A most laudable project is on foot at the prosperous town of Collingwood. A "Marine and General Hospital is about to be established." An Act of Incorporation was obtained at the last session of the Dominion Parliament giving authority to carry on this important work. Subscriptions and land have been obtained and an early commencement of the work is anticipated. Further assistance, however, is urgently needed, and the trustees under the charter are making an appeal to the benevolent to aid in this truly charitable and important work. We cannot doubt that the response will be as liberal as the case is urgent. Nearly $160 is in hand and a lady generously offers to give another thousand as soon as $2000 shall have been raised. $40 entitles the donor to life membership. Subscriptions will be thankfully received by Mr. H. B. Macdonell, Secretary Mr. W. B. Hamilton, President, or the Bank of Toronto, Collingwood.

THE FISHERIES QUESTION.

HOW THE UNITED STATES SENATE MAY REGARD THE COMMISSION.

Some Conflicting Opinions—Mr. Chamberlain's Appointment and its Probable Adverse Influence on the Work of Settlement.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—The anonymous interview with a New England Senator, which was printed a few days ago, has attracted a great deal of comment in New York as well as this city. The New York Evening Post of last Tuesday treated the interview editorially and suggested that the senator does not voice the sentiments of the majority of the senate when he says that no treaty which may be negotiated will be ratified. The Washington Post follows the same line of argument as that advanced by the New York paper, and while it admits that the Protectionists in the senate will probably do all in their power to oppose the forthcoming treaty, it claims that the President did not exceed his authority in the slightest when he asked Messrs. Bayard, Putnam and Angell to meet the British Commissioners. These comments on the original interview have attracted some attention to the subject to-day, and among the few Senators now in the city there has been more talk than usual upon the probable treaty. No Senator could be found who was willing to express a belief that the action of the Senate can be forecast at the time; on the contrary the impression seems to be general that the outcome of the negotiations will be respectfully considered in the Senate without reference to the fact that Congress disapproved the idea of a commission. Several expressed the belief that the English have the best of the arrangement thus far. The reason for this belief is that the gentleman who is to accompany Mr. Chamberlain as a sort of adviser is the most shrewd treaty manipulator in the British diplomatic service. Whatever the result of the negotiations may be, therefore, the convention when submitted to the Senate will be handicapped to a greater or less degree by the fact that a great many Senators will be prejudiced against anything that may be offered for ratification. It may be set down as a certainty also that the Protectionist element will be opposed to anything that hints toward Free Trade. It is the bugbear which had a good deal to do with the unfavorable vote upon the proposition to submit the differences between the United States and Canada to a commission last year. The commissioners are expected here on Wednesday or Thursday.

The policy of the Government of the United States towards all foreign countries is such that the people at large take very little interest in affairs which relate to other countries, even when those affairs are directly connected with their own. This explains to some extent the apparent difference of the press of the United States to the forthcoming meeting of the commission. Aside from the men who compose the Committee on Foreign Affairs in the House and Foreign Relations in the Senate, there are very few members of Congress who can give an intelligent idea of the points of the controversy between this country and Canada. For this reason it is difficult to get a member to express his views upon the probable outcome of the meetings to be held. There is no trouble, however, about views upon the connection of Chamberlain with the commission. No matter how slight may be the knowledge of the individual Congressman upon the merits of the controversy itself, he will quickly tell you that he thinks that Chamberlain's appointment will be exceedingly detrimental to an amicable settlement of the troubles. Every one has read of the speeches of the commissioner and his utterance have been extensively discussed. The remarks of The Globe, which have all been reproduced here through the

THE RIOTS IN LONDON

SEVENY-FIVE OF THE RIOTERS ARRAIGNED AND PUNISHED.

Comments of the Press on the Disturbances—Mrs. Besant Seeks Notoriety—Two of the Leaders Reconciled—Mr. Gladstone Counsels Patience.

LONDON, Nov. 14.—Seventy-five men who were arrested for taking part in disturbances here yesterday were arraigned in the New street Police Court this morning and charged with rioting. Many were fined and others sentenced to from 4 to 6 months' imprisonment at hard labor.

LONDON, Nov. 14.—The Morning Post commenting on the riot, says it hopes this will be the last attempt to resist those upon whom the preservation of lives and property of citizens mainly depends.

The Daily News says: "We may congratulate ourselves that the trouble ended in nothing worse than broken heads. This fact speaks volumes for the mutual forbearance of the police and the crowd. The proceedings can benefit nothing but the political interests of the Tories. If they could make the country believe that the Liberals were the allies of lawlessness and disorder they would be secure in office and power for another generation."

The Daily Telegraph says: "The history of the metropolis presents few sadder pictures than that exhibited yesterday. It is absurd to talk of the right of meeting and speech being assailed. It never has been for an instant in jeopardy. The power of agitators and rioters must be summarily checked or the fatal contagion of Anarchy will be sure to spread."

The Daily Chronicle thinks the police acted with forbearance. "We cannot," it adds, "justify the action of the paraders, but the chief blame rests with the authorities for provoking a conflict by the invasion of a long-cherished public right."

LONDON, Nov. 14.—It is stated that Mrs. Annie Besant, who was with one of the sections desiring to enter Trafalgar-square yesterday, made an earnest request to be arrested with Burns and Graham.

LONDON, Nov. 14.—Graham and Burns were remanded for trial. They were released on bail.

LONDON, Nov. 14.—Mr. Gladstone, replying to the secretary of the London Radical Club, wrote as follows to-day: "I think you will expect me to meet your request by an explicit answer expressing the best judgment which, while absent from the spot, I am able to form on the deplorable disturbances of yesterday. As I understand the matter the Home Secretary stated on Saturday for the information of the public that he intended to prevent yesterday's meeting in Trafalgar-square, and believed that its prevention was within his legal power. The question is one of great moment to the inhabitants of London, particularly to those who are at present unemployed and in circumstances of distress. It will be generally felt that the state of the law in regard to it ought to be promptly tested and ascertained. Until a decision can be had it is the duty of every citizen to refrain from all resistance to the decision of the Executive Government, which is clearly entitled to administer the laws according to what it may be advised is their true construction. Such abstinence is, I think, due alike to the high character of London for the maintenance of public order and to the respect we owe to the law and the mode in which it is usually applied through the medium of the admirable police of the metropolis. But I must add that an appeal to Parliament and the nation on the grave and solemn issues now raised by the proceedings of the Government in Ireland would suffer disastrous prejudice were it to be associated in any manner, by those who make the appeal, with the metropolitan disturbances.

LONDON, Nov. 14.—Lord Salisbury, after an interview with Home Secretary Matthews to-day, sent Sir Charles Warren the thanks of the Government for his admirable plans to suppress a disturbance in Trafalgar-square yesterday. In response to numerous offers Mr. Matthews proposes to enroll householders as special constables to assist the police against the mob if rioting is threatened next Sunday.

LONDON, Nov. 14.—Mr. Bradlaugh, M.P., has written a letter protesting against the prohibition of meetings in Trafalgar-square. He denounces what he calls the brutal conduct of the Government, but appeals to workmen to leave the right of holding public meetings to the law courts and the vindication of Parliament. His advice, combined with that of Mr. Gladstone, will be potent with the Radical clubs. Already the feeling among these clubs is that enough has been done to test the question.

TORONTO TOPICS.

TORONTO, Nov. 15.—The latest candidate for the Mayoralty is Ald. Rogers, the coal merchant. He is the nominee of the temperance party. The other candidates in the field so far are E. F. Clarke, M.P.P., proprietor of The Orange Sentinel, and Ald. Defoe. Other names are mentioned as probable candidates.

The charter of the Toronto Street Railway Company expires in a year or two and the City Council has appointed a committee to have printed all documents relating to the city's contract with the company. There is a growing sentiment in favor of having the city take over and manage the street car system, and it is in view of this fact that the matter above referred to has been ordered to be printed and made public.

E. E. Sheppard left town rather suddenly last evening. It is presumed that he has gone to Buffalo to dodge one of those Montreal warrants.

The old man Thomas McLauchlin, who attempted to commit suicide at Parkdale on Friday night by cutting his throat with a knife was last night in a very precarious condition. Since the rash act he has been delirious, and has so frightened his daughter, Mrs. Lynch, with whom he has been living at 63 Gardenavenue, that she will not remain with him

GLADSTONE AND BOULANGER.

What They Have to Say of the Execution of the Anarchists.

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—A telegram was sent by The World to the well-known Europeans—William E. Gladstone and Gen. Boulanger—asking them for their views on the execution of the Chicago Anarchists. The following responses were received:

HAWARDEN, Nov. 13.

To the Editor of The World:

I regret not to have a comprehensive knowledge of the circumstances, without which I fear an opinion from me would be wholly valueless.

W. E. GLADSTONE.

CLERMONT-FERRAND, FRANCE, 12 Nov., 1887.

To The World, New York:

Suis très heureux de votre demande et vous en remercie. Pourtant que, comptant de droit commun, les Anarchistes de Chicago méritaient une répression severe. Mais quant à la condamnation prononcée, je me permets [illegible] mais suis de Paris, samedi compris de cette politique de Pothuau, pour demander une commutation de la peine de mort. GEN. BOULANGER.

[TRANSLATION.]

CLERMONT-FERRAND, Nov. 12, 1887.

Merci [illegible] your request for my opinion, I hold that, as guilty of an offence against common law, the Chicago Anarchists merited severe punishment. But with reference to the sentence which has been pronounced I should, taking into consideration the political circumstances of the case, have joined my friends at Paris in petitioning for the commutation of the penalty of death. GEN. BOULANGER.

AN OPERATION INEVITABLE.

The Doctors Do Not Pronounce the Crown Prince's Recovery Impossible.

BERLIN, Nov. 14.—The Emperor slept well last night. Prince William, who has just returned from a visit to his father at San Remo, was received at noon by the Emperor.

Drs. Bergmann and Schmidt hold that laryngotomy is inevitable in the case of the Crown Prince. They would only resort to tracheotomy to save the Prince's life in case suffocation was threatened. They maintain that it would have been better to have performed the operation months ago and assert that the delay has lessened the chance of success, although they do not regard the Prince's recovery as impossible.

SAN REMO, Nov. 14.—Dr. Mackenzie left today for London. The swelling in the Crown Prince's throat continues to diminish.

BERLIN, Nov. 14.—After the Emperor received Dr. Schmidt yesterday a medical conference was ordered at the palace. There were present the physicians of the household, with Drs. Wegener, Bergmann, Gerhardt, Tobold and Schmidt. Count Von Stolberg, the minister of the household, presided. A paper was unanimously signed declaring that the throat affection of the Crown Prince is cancerous and that partial removal of the larynx is no longer advisable. Complete excision of the larynx is referred to as recommended by the physicians at San Remo, but in the meantime objected to by the Crown Prince.

The Emperor afterward received Count Von Stolberg and Dr. Schmidt and asked that the Crown Prince return to Berlin at the earliest possible moment. The Crown Princess replied, objecting to her husband's traveling in his present condition. It is reported that the Crown Prince is now more willing to submit to an early operation.

To-day the Emperor, after an interview with Prince William, held a family council which was attended by Prince William and his wife and Prince Henry and Princess Charlotte. In the afternoon the Emperor was actively at work. He heard reports on important matters presented by Gen. Albedyll, Privy Councillor Wilmowski and Count Von Stolberg.

COMMITTED TO THE MERCER.

A Servant in a Hamilton Hotel Convicted of Stealing a Guest's Watch.

HAMILTON, Nov. 14.—A young woman named Ida Richards was among the prisoners in the Police Court dock this morning. She was charged by Mrs. Cuthbert Cooper with the larceny of a gold watch and a silver chain. Mrs. Cooper came to this city a few days ago and registered at the Simcoe House, King-street east. On Saturday she was not well and ordered her dinner to be taken to her room. Ida Richards, a servant at the hotel, was instructed to wait upon Mrs. Cooper, and while giving her order Mrs. Cooper thought she saw the girl taking something from her bureau. She told the girl to send her little son up to her, and this aroused the suspicions of the servant, who, thinking that Mrs. Cooper had seen what she had taken, threw the watch and chain into a closet. Mrs. Cooper informed the proprietor of the hotel of her suspicions and her loss, and Detectives Campbell and Reid were notified. They arrested Ida Richards, who, after saying that she knew nothing of the watch, at last admitted that she had taken it and told where she put it. The girl pleaded guilty of the charge this morning and was sent to the Mercer Reformatory for six months. The girl came here from Jackson, Mich., some months ago, and, it is believed, purposed going back there again.

THE RED RIVER RAILWAY.

An Injunction Restraining the Company From Entering on Dominion Lands.

WINNIPEG, Nov. 14.—His Lordship Mr. Justice Killam delivered judgment on Saturday morning on the motions for injunctions, made before him in the two informations filed by the Attorney-General of the Dominion against the defendants Ryan, Haney, Norquay, Wilson and the Attorney-General of the Province of Manitoba, to restrain them from further proceeding with the construction of the Red River Valley Railway across the lots mentioned in the bill, which lots were situated in the parish of St. Agathe and which were shown to be Dominion lands.

His Lordship's judgment extended to seventy-five pages of foolscap closely written and holds that the injunction must go in the terms of the prayer of the information; restraining the defendants Ryan, Haney, Norquay and Wilson until the hearing or further orders.

Is Commercial Union Desirable?

To the Editor of the Examiner:—

It is an old and a true saying that what is worth doing is worth doing well. This rule especially holds good in reference to the question of Commercial Union. There is no present subject that I know of that requires to be better examined and well understood than Commercial Union, for in its success is locked up all the best interests of our country. Politicians, for their own ends, may try to make much of it and oppose it, but politics alone must not be allowed to stand between the people and prosperity and comfort. And I hope all classes will make this matter their most careful study, and do that alone which will be most for their own interests. Prejudice may influence the people more or less in politics, perhaps or in religion, but on a subject of this kind all prejudice must be laid aside, for it is a question which affects everyone alike and everyone should be ready to treat it fairly and honestly. The time has come when something must be done to benefit us. When something must be done to lift our country out of its present depression and poverty. When something must be done by the people and the farmers more especially to rid themselves of their indebtedness and to free their properties from the mortgages everywhere upon them. Mortgages which are gradually but surely eating up the land and driving the owners from their old homes, out into the wide world to seek to get another foothold and to try to live over again. Some of them in their old ages, after many years of hardship, and some of them just beginning and not knowing whither to go or what to do. According to a reasonable estimate the alone amount to more than a hundred millions of dollars. The annual interest upon this debt, including costs and charges of all kinds, fully equals ten millions of dollars. And all this money must be raised as best may be, and paid, or the land will be sold, no matter at how great a sacrifice, to pay, if possible, both principal and interest. Now how is this to be done under our present circumstances, and what reasonable encouragement is there that the property owners will be able to do this in the face of the grinding taxes in behalf of our country, and which are sucking from them their very life's blood and leaving them without hope and destroying their energies for the work which is before them? I don't suppose the people have ever really estimated the moneys which they have to pay yearly on account of our public debt, our annual government expenses, our customs duties, our indebtedness upon mortgage and our monopolies and our protective laws. Just let us see what these all amount to in one single year. Estimating them by heads of families of one million, I make their personal liabilities, from our public debt of three hundred millions of dollars, which is not far from the mark, at $300 each, the annual interest on which is $18. Estimating our national expenses at forty millions of dollars, which may be a trifle over the amount, the amount payable by each head of a family in the Dominion is $40. Estimating our customs duties at ten millions of dollars, the yearly cost to each man would be $10. And estimating the money wrung from the people through our monopolists and protective policy at ten millions, the cost to each man would be $10 more. And estimating the annual sum paid yearly on the mortgages upon the lands at ten millions, the amount paid by

will be $10. And then estimating, if you can, what the people lose by the duties paid by them in selling their produce, and grain, and lumber in the United States. I fix this amount at $100 to each farmer, and something less to other persons, though to the lumberman it is a great deal more. In taking all these expenses together, I think they will make the large sum of $300—to each head of a family in the Dominion. Now, how can the people live and pay off their mortgage debts upon their properties when they have to give away every year two hundred dollars in the manner above stated. I heard a farmer say, the other day, that he sold every year, on an average, five hundred bushels of barley on which he lost fifteen cents a bushel for duties paid in going into the United States, where most of our barley is sold. This would amount to a yearly loss of $75 a year. And well might that farmer ask how long he would be paying off his mortgage if he had that $75 a year in pocket, and which he would have if we possessed Commercial Union. And so it is with the farmer so it is with every one else, for every man has more or less of one thing or another which he would dispose of in the United States if trade between the two countries was free. I often look at a farmer's wagon passing along laden with barley for our market. And assuming each load to contain forty bushels, I count up, at fifteen cents a bushel duty on that one load of barley that that farmer lost six dollars in that one load alone. And just so with every other load, not only of himself but of every farmer besides. Now those six dollars, if we had Commercial Union with them he could have bought dresses or his wife and family, or he could have bought groceries enough to last his house for three months; or he could have put them with other moneys saved in the same way and paid off his debts at the store, or paid an instalment on his mortgage, if he had one. But as things are and have been, all these moneys have gone on duties into the treasury of the United States, and the farmer has home left to buy the dresses and the groceries, and to pay the merchant, or the instalment on his mortgage, with other moneys in the best way he could. But you will be told by the politician and the monopolist and the manufacturer that to advocate Commercial Union is disloyal and means annexation, and therefore that you must bear your losses and your poverty and your troubles in the best way you can. You must do nothing to help yourselves, and you must continue on pouring your hard earnings into the pockets of these monopolists and manufacturers, and into the government coffers, and make them rich—however much your doing so may make you poor. And then when you can't stand this any longer, you can go away to some other country and there begin life again, and there try to make a home for yourself again. But while you are in Canada all you will be permitted to do is to work on and then to your lords and masters, the politician, and monopolists, and manufacturers. Now, let me ask, will you do this? If not, then let me tell you that the price of your liberty is eternal vigilance. That you have got to be wide awake and not be duped any longer. Let me tell you that you have wily enemies to deal with, who know just how to humbug and deceive you. You much watch them, and when an election again comes on, and when they offer you bribes to vote for men who will surely deceive you, you must drive them from you, and you must take care to select representatives who will do your bidding and who will aid you in your efforts to free yourselves from the wrongs and oppressions which are now dragging you to certain ruin. What is a bribe of even fifty dollars compared to the losses which you have now to bear and which must be multiplied by the five years of the duration of parliament? You, the people, have the power in your hands to put an end to these abuses. You are the parties interested in a change. If you want relief you can have it. But remember that relief must come from yourselves. You should agitate these things now whilst there is time. And when your enemies talk to you about disloyalty and annexation, tell them (this drowning men catch at straws. Tell them that there is nothing wrong in the people looking after their own interests. Tell them that people have a right to save themselves from ruin. Tell them that self preservation is the first law of nature.

WOULD HAVE GONE INTO THE FARMER'S POCKET.

NOT FOR PARTY,
BUT FOR MY COUNTRY'S SAKE.

ANOTHER JUDGE APPOINTED.

The Labor Commission—Queen Gloomship Projects Discussed With Ministers.

OTTAWA, Nov. 14.—A line of steamers between Halifax and Jamaica is in contemplation, and Mr. James Woods of the former place is here laying the scheme before the government. It is not improbable that the line will be established. A delegation from St. John, N.B., also waited on the members of the government in reference to subsidizing a fast freight line between St. John and Liverpool. Sir John made no promise, but stated the views of the deputation would be seriously considered.

Mr. John F. Bain of the Winnipeg bar has been appointed judge of the Manitoba Court of Queen's Bench, rendered vacant by the death of the late Chief Justice Wallbridge.

Mr. F. Purcell, M.P. for Glengarry, waited on the Minister of Justice to-day and expressed a desire that clemency should be exercised in the case of Mr. Stillwell of The Glengarrian, sentenced to a month's imprisonment by the late Judge O'Connor for libelling Mr. Purcell. No action has as yet been taken in the matter.

The first sitting of the new Dominion Exchequer Court was held this morning in the Supreme Court room, Judge Burbidge presiding. The case of Clarke & Barbour, paper manufacturers, against the Queen for $75,000 breach of contract was referred to Messrs. Cassels, the Supreme Court registrar, and Mr. Chamberlain, Queen's printer, for investigation and report.

Mr. Cunningham Stewart, chief of the money order branch of the postoffice, who is now on his way home after investigating the postoffice systems of England and other European countries, was invited by the Imperial authorities to spend a week longer there in order to make them more fully acquainted with the postal methods of Canada. Mr. Stewart was informed that Canada's money order system is the best in the postal union.

Mr. R. D. Evans, commander in the United States navy and naval secretary, writes to the Department of Marine with reference to the necessity of erecting light-houses on Pelee Island, Washington Territory. The matter was considered by the board at its session held on Nov. 3, when the decision was arrived at that a first-class Babbit Trumpet should be established at the point in question as a fog signal, but that a light at this point is not considered necessary.

FOR THE RELIEF and cure of the inflammation and congestion called a "cold in the head" there is more potency in Ely's Cream Balm than in anything else it is possible to prescribe. This preparation has for years past been making a brilliant success as a remedy for cold in the head, catarrh and hay fever. Used in the initial stages of these complaints Cream Balm prevents any serious development of the symptoms, while almost numberless cases are on record of radical cures chronic catarrh and hay fever after all other modes of treatment have proved of no avail. ex1w45

SPROULE'S THE BEST PHOTOGRAPHS Are made at STUDIO SPROULE'S STUDIO On Hunter Street.

Comparison is courted. No other work has the BRILLIANCY and FINISH.

WHY?

Because experience and close study has developed talent in Chemistry, Lighting, and Posing. In days when each learning was required imperatively in successful photography Mr. Sproule was practicing the business as it is to-day it places his work ahead of competitors. Because only the best materials are used. No other establishment in Canada is using throughout the same class of materials. He works with no cheap instruments. His Studio is fitted and furnished the best, and all combined to give the subject ease and confidence.

His prices are not higher than competitors. No canvas no person or persons to travel through the Country to puff up his business or [illegible] doesn't require such. dw

OUR $18.00 OVERCOAT

This Overcoat I sell for $18.00, if you left your measure for it, it would cost and be considered cheap at $30.00. Any Person in want of a very fine Overcoat Should not fail to see it.

Our Overcoats at $3.00 $4.00 $5.00 $6.00 $7.00 $8.00 $9.00 & $10.00,

Beat anything in Canada either Wholesale or Retail; and why should they not, when I bought them at 50c. on the Dollar. When Wholesale Houses cannot compete with the Wonderful Cheap Man it is simply impossible for Small Retail Houses to compete. 60 per cent of the goods I sell, I buy at less than the First Cost of Manufacture, and hence the reason I can defy any Wholesale House in Canada to touch my prices. It is one thing to make an assertion and another thing to prove it. If any man doubts what I herein state let him come to my store and I will prove to his satisfaction that it is the absolute truth.

TORONTO SPORTS ON THE STAND.

Progress in the Bingham-Bethune Caples Case at Montreal.

MONTREAL, Nov. 14.—It is seldom the Practice Court holds so many of the sporting persuasion as were present to-day, when the Bingham-Elliott case was in progress. The proceedings were, perhaps, more interesting than on Saturday. To the uninitiated peculiar revelations were made as to the true inwardness of the average alleged "foot race." George Moester was the first to take the stand, and his evidence greatly resembled that of John Laird on Saturday. It was in substance that Elliott, Bethune, McKay and himself had chipped in $10 apiece to pay McKay's expenses to Toronto and there arrange a race with "an unknown" whom Bingham was to produce. Bingham was to be given to understand that his man would be permitted to win, and when Bingham's money was up Bethune was to run the race out. Bethune, however, was beaten, but witness was of impression that he did his best to win. Witness had also seen two trials between Bethune and "the unknown," and he was satisfied the latter was the best runner of the two.

Ex-Ald. J. E. Mitchell of Toronto and John Cowan testified as to Bingham's character.

Edward Perkins of Ottawa had seen the race and did not see anything unfair in it.

At 10 o'clock a warrant was issued for the arrest of A. R. Elliott on a charge of perjury. The point at issue is that in his first deposition he stated under oath that Bingham had induced him to bet on Bethune, whilst in his examination in the caples case he stated positively that Bingham had never personally approached him on the question. Elliott, hearing that a warrant was issued, gave himself up and found bail to the extent of $4000, James Guest and Napoleon Cardinal being his securities.

During the morning session Mr. Macmaster moved for permission to add to the petition an allegation that as the contract was made in Ottawa the case was subject to the law of Ontario and not Quebec. The permission was granted, and under this allegation Mr. Taylor McVeity of Ottawa was put in the witness box and examined concerning the law of Ontario covering betting, of which he gave a succinct exposition. He gave it as his opinion that in bets where a greater sum than $10 was at stake the loser could not recover from the winner, although a case might lie against the stakeholder if he had been served with notice of protest previous to handing over the money. He also gave it as his opinion that the Ontario courts would throw such a case out, as both sides were parties to a fraudulent contract. In support of his opinion, Mr. McVeity cited the case of Davies v. Hewitt, recently decided by Chancellor Boyd, Batterby v. O'Dell, Housen v. Hancock, and several others. After a close cross-examination by Mr. Greenshield, Lem Felcher was sworn. He was proprietor of the Woodbine saloon, Toronto. Had known Bingham for about ten years. Also knew Bethune and McKay. Was not in Ottawa on the day of the race. After the race in Ottawa Bethune, in company with others, came to his saloon. The party were drinking wine. Bethune had evidently been drinking previously. In course of conversation Bethune made a demand on one Flynn or Flint for $125. Mr. Felcher could not remember exactly the conversation, but he remembered that Bethune had said he was not going to fall down for a man he could give yards to and then be made a "sucker" of and let other people win. Then he said something of $200 being won and he wanted half of it, and at Flint's request Fitzgerald handed over $125. Then Bethune said he wanted $300 more, as some man with a plug hat had bet $700 on him and he would not have done it unless he got a "steer" from Fitzgerald.

Felcher then gave the definition of "a steer," and remarked that he had only got one "pointer" in his life and then he went "broke" on it. In the course of his evidence Felcher said that Fitzgerald dealed all knowledge of the man in the "plug" hat. Then Bethune began to get angry and Felcher advised that a settlement be come to, as he wanted no disturbance in his house, and finally the trouble was avoided by the payment to Bethune of another $100. He had asked Bethune how much he had made out of the race, and Bethune had answered "my piece will be over $2000."

The cross examination did not bring out any other important development except perhaps Felcher giving vent to the sentiment that "a sporting man's capital is his honor."

George A. Maguire, barrister of Ogdensburg, N.Y., was the next witness. He knew Bethune and McKay, and had seen them both in Ogdensburg on Thursday of last week. The latter was going under the name of Goodwin. He had a conversation with Bethune. The latter had said he could beat "The Unknown" any time, and did not say anything justifying his defeat. He was quite well satisfied with the result of the race. McKay had also said to him that it was a big race, big money and little trouble winning it. They had "turned the Montreal party over," had got quite "divvy" and had expected work. Maguire understood from what McKay said that Elliott was the principal loser.

Give Them a Chance!

That is to say, your lungs. Also all your breathing machinery. Very wonderful machinery it is. Not only the larger air-passages, but the thousands of little tubes and cavities leading from them.

When these are clogged and choked with matter which ought not to be there, your lungs cannot half do their work. And what they do, they cannot do well.

Call it cold, cough, croup, pneumonia, catarrh, consumption or any of the family of throat and nose and head and lung obstructions, all are bad. All ought to be get rid of. There is just one sure way to get rid of them. That is to take Boschee's German Syrup, which any druggist will sell you at 75 cents a bottle. Even if everything else has failedyou, you may depend upon this for certain. eodw

A Narrow Escape.

People who are exposed to the sudden changes of our northern climate have little chance of escaping colds, coughs, sore throat and lung troubles. The best safe-guard is to keep Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam at hand. It is a quick relief and reliable cure for such complaints. 2w44d

Light and Bright as Ever.

A Serious Accident.

Mr. Joseph Burgoyne, of Peterborough, aged 67 years, who is at present in Brockville, the Times of that town says, was seriously injured one day last week while at work with a circular saw in a wood yard in Brockville. The saw, which had been cracked for some time, flew into pieces whilst in motion, and a piece of the flying wheel struck Mr. Burgoyne on the nose. The doctor has but slight hopes of his recovery. This should be a warning to persons who are running saws similarly defective.

M'lle Rhea.

Seldom a chance occurs for our theatre-goers to witness a dramatic performance such as will be given by M'lle Rhea, the famous French actress, on Saturday evening next. A recent critic says, of M'lle Rhea:—"Rhea has come, has seen, has conquered. Whatever favorable impression may have been created by report, certainly the high ideas formed prior to her advent have been more than confirmed by the display of her marvellous gifts on the last three evenings. We have seen her in high emotional acting and in light comedy, and the verdict can only be that she is pre-eminent in both. Her art is perfection, and many there are, apt and candid in criticism, who will hold her to be the peer of Bernhardt, Modjeska, Morris, or Davenport. It is impossible to deny that she has genius. Combined with this is the essential of beauty, in face, in form and in movement; and, above all, an art that is consummate in all its phases. Her versatility is of comprehensive range, and, whether it be the portrayal of a role tragic and emotional or light and frivolous, she is in each at home, abundantly equipped to meet every demand of the play, and to sustain the action in a manner that is throughout finished and complete. Her repertoire is wisely selected and particularly well adapted to her abilities, her support is strong, her stage settings excellent, and her wardrobe a veritable revelation. What wonder, then, that her appearance everywhere calls forth expressions of admiration and respectful homage."

A Crane Hunt.

The news flew like wildfire among the stores on the west side of George street between Hunter and Simcoe, yesterday afternoon, that a live crane had alighted on one of the roof-tops in rear of the block. In less time than it takes to tell every clerk in the neighborhood was on hand. One person swore he saw it alighting, and another was positive that it had not got settled when seen by him. There sat his craneship on one of the highest peaks, with head aloft, the body erect and still, and not deigning to even look about—as if to say, here am I, who dares touch me? A gun was procured, and one of the number, whose bravery in times of danger is unimpeachable, cautiously climbed to the roof and crawled on hands and knees behind the parapets until he got a good position. He blazed away. Still the long-legged dweller among the swamps stirred not. Shot after shot followed, and after the bird had been riddled and its head blown to pieces the wary hunters decided to investigate the wherefore and whyness of the case. When their inquiry was completed they looked tired, and no wonder; the object of their attentions turned out to be a stuffed crane resting on a block of wood which had been set out, evidently, as a joke. The bird, or rather the portion of it that was not shot away, still remains in position, but there is now no more temptation for the boys.

League of the Cross.

Instead of the usual meeting of this association a reunion of the Literary and Temperance Societies took place, on Monday evening A debate was held on the question : "Resolved : that intemperance is more destructive to mankind than war." Mr. E. D. Gough led on the affirmative side of the question, and was supported by Messrs. J. O'Meara, T. Hurley, C. Roach and Dr. Collins. The negative was handled by Messrs. J. J. Sheehy, P. Henry, A. B. Hoolihan, J. Hackett and Dr. Brennan. The chairman, Mr. J. D. Mellmoyle, summed up the evidence and, after commenting on the style and language of the various speakers, decided that the affirmative was entitled to success on the arguments adduced. The subject for debate at the next meeting is "Resolved: that the American colonies had not sufficient cause for separation from the mother country." Messrs. Phelan and Lynch will lead on the affirmative and negative, respectively. So far the meetings of these two societies have been very successful and every meeting witnesses the entrance of a number of new members.

The Play To-Night.

This evening J. S. Murphy & Co. present "Kerry Gow" at Bradburn's Opera House. Of the play the Buffalo Times says :—"That the beautiful and deeply interesting Irish drama, "Kerry Gow," has lost none of its former popularity, has been made evident by the immense audiences that have witnessed its presentation at the Academy the past week by J. S. Murphy and an excellent support. Mr. Murphy is the same pleasing type of the true-hearted, happy, traditional Kerry Gow as of old, and is sure to carry his audience to the highest pitch of enthusiasm every time. Miss Virginia Marlowe gave an exceedingly pleasing personation of Norah Drew, giving the love passages with a sweetness that captivated all hearts, and manifesting a fine spirit of self-reliance when required."

Mrs. Scott-Siddons.

Mrs. Scott-Siddons appears in Bradburn's Opera House on Tuesday the 22nd. The Montreal Gazette says of the performance there on Friday:—"The 'Sleep Walking Scene from Macbeth' was magnificent in its rendering, 'The Revenge,' of Tennyson, bold and patriotic, and Scott's 'Death of Constance,' pathetic and sweet. Mrs. Siddons is at the head of her chosen profession; her voice is bell-like and sweet in its intonation, her manner graceful and her reading the perfection of histrionic culture. One learns something from the entertainment and all who were present last night appreciated it." The sale of seats for her engagement here has been surprising and those who wish to be present should secure a seat at once as standing room will likely be at a premium. The P.A.A.A. are to be congratulated on securing such an attraction.

After a Pair of Boots.

Yesterday afternoon an old Irishman, well known about town, apparently the worse for liquor, entered the boot and shoe store of Mr. R. Neil, and after sitting by the stove a while, walked out. As he passed through the door he picked up a pair of boots. The theft was soon discovered, and Mr. Neil shortly after found the man on the market square exhibiting them to others. The booty was handed back without a murmur. The old fellow is a pensioner with a large family depending upon him, so after a word of warning he was let go without being arrested.

High Court of Justice.

Queen's Bench Division—Peterborough Assizes—Chief Justice Armour Presiding.

The autumn assizes opened at the Court House this morning at 9 o'clock, Chief Justice Armour presiding.

The bar was represented by R. C. Chute, Belleville ; Geo. T. Blackstock, Toronto ; J. A. Barron, M. P., Lindsay ; J. Kearns, Belleville ; F. Titus, Brighton ; D. W. Dumble, C. J. Leonard, W. A. Stratton, Geo. Edmison, R. E. Wood, C.C.A., and W. J. Bennett, Town.

GRAND JURY.

The Grand Jury was empannelled as follows :—

A. McNEIL, Foreman.

Robt. Burgess	Matt. Brookeridge
John Coughlin	Alex. Drummond
Hugh Davidson	Geo. Elliott
Jos. Edwards	John M. Fife
John Garbutt	Edward Hawthorne
D. R. Moore	Geo. Nelson
Richard Meade	Robt. Neil
Jas. Richardson	W. Scott
W. W. Johnston	W. B. Kelly
Jas. Kendry	A. R. Kidd
S. Sheldrake	D. J. Parker
E. Foley.

His Lordship, in addressing the jury, pointed out that their duties on this occasion would be very light, there being only one criminal case demanding their attention—Queen vs. Howland, the boy charged with forgery. His Lordship explained to the jurors the nature of forgery, stating that a person might be guilty of forgery even though he did not himself negotiate the paper, if it could be proven it was his intention to defraud. In this case, however, the attempt to defraud was clear, as Howland had negotiated the note in person. He then dismissed them to examine into the sanitary condition of the gaol and report, also urging them to see that no persons were confined therein who should not be there.

CIVIL DOCKET.

The first jury case called was O'Shea vs. King ; Dumble and Leonard for plaintiff, Edmison for defendant. This action was brought by Jno. R. O'Shea, of Asphodel, against James King, also of Asphodel. Both are farmers living on adjoining farms. Between their farms there was an unopened concession line and swamp, and on either side of it a continuation running into the defendant's land on the west side and the plaintiff's on the east. The defendant's land next the swamp was covered by "slash" woods, while on the plaintiff's side there was woods of first-class quality. The defendant wished to clear the wood off his land by burning, but the plaintiff objected on the ground that it would endanger his property. The plaintiff in this case charged that the defendant last August, despite his protest, set fire to the woods on the concession line of his own land adjoining, and by reason of it the fire spread through his own woods into the plaintiff's woods and consumed about six acres of valuable timber. The action was to recover damages.

JOHNSTON VS. JOHNSTON.

While the Jury were out agreeing upon a verdict in O'Shea vs. King, the next case was called, Johnston vs. Johnston. His Lordship dispensed with a Jury in this case. It was an action of ejectment, for the recovery of possession of the Johnston farm in Ennismore. The defendant set up a claim for improvements under mistake of title, and under a certain deed from the father to himself. The plaintiff claimed under a prior trust deed. Stratton and Blackstock for plaintiff; Dumble & Leonard for defendants.

At three p.m. this case was in progress. The Jury had not yet returned a verdict in O'Shea vs. King.

COURT NOTES.

The suit Hammond vs London and Liverpool Insurance Company has been settled out of court, the plaintiff, widow of the late J. E. Hammond, who brought suit to recover $5000 death indemnity, accepting $2000.

The criminal case Queen vs Warner, for perjury, will not come up at this assizes, the defendant, who was allowed out on bail having disappeared. A Queen's Bench warrant has been issued for his arrest.

Lot, the Self-Seeker.

The Rev. F. H. Wallace, M.A., B.D., opens the Series of Special Addresses to Young Men in the Association Hall.—Lives of Abraham and Lot Contrasted.—Practical Lessons for Young Men.

Mr. Geo. M. Roger, President of the Y.M.C.A., occupied the chair at the meeting, and after the opening hymn explained that the object of the series of meetings to be held during the week, was to join with hundreds of the other Associations of the world in a week of special prayer on behalf of their work for young men. He then asked that two or three of the members to offer prayer, after which he called on Rev. Mr. Wallace to address the meeting on the subject above named. Mr. Wallace stated that he would in his address deal specially with the wrong choice of Lot. He pictured Abraham and Lot upon some pre-eminence overlooking the plains of Jordan and the country round about. He said Abraham acted the true gentleman in the large-hearted, generous way in which he gave his nephew, Lot, the first choice. Obedience to God was the paramount desire of Abraham's life. In contrasting the two characters he said Lot, although trained under Abraham, did not develop the same traits. He chose simply what seemed to be for his own material, worldly interest. Self-interest was prominently first in all his actions—that was his character. "How many Lots there are to-day! How few Abrahams!" How many young men in the choice of business and associates were following Lot's example. In conclusion he called attention to the evil consequences of Lot's choice. At the end his family and property were swept from him and he compelled to find a home in a cave. Abraham, on the contrary, grew wealthy and at the eventide of life was surrounded by a large family and all the comforts of life. He closed his address by quoting the 33rd verse of St. Matthew, 6th chapter, "Seek ye first the kingdom of God and its righteousness and all these things shall be added unto you." The Secretary announced that the subject for this evening would be "The Rich Young Ruler", and asked the members to assist in trying to gain the attendance of the many other young men of the town. After singing a hymn the Rev. Mr. Wallace pronounced the benediction.

New Desks.

All the desk accommodation at the Business College has been taken up, and two new desks are being added this week. The young people are coming from near and from far to attend what is now one of the very best business training schools in the country.

Government Indifference and "Callous Neglect."

To the Editor of the Examiner :—

DEAR SIR.—Allow me space in your valuable columns to present a few facts regarding the unfair and dishonest manner in which myself and partner have been used by the Department of Railways and Canals. In 1884, in deference to a much felt want of the public, we purchased a steamboat to ply on the back lakes, and during the season were prevented from running by the lowering of the water in connection with government works. This lowering of the water caused us to lose no inconsiderable amount of money. The action of the government or its agents being the cause of our loss, we, naturally, applied to the Department for compensation, but we were flatly refused. We next applied to have our claim investigated, but even this small measure of justice was denied us. We think we have reason to complain that we were harshly and unjustly dealt with. If the government had denied all responsibility for damages sustained through the results of operations carried on under their authority, we would not have so much cause for complaint. But they have sown money broadcast in paying compensating damages for drowned lands, and, if so disposed, it could be shown that the grossest favoritism to political friends has been shown in this respect. Fancy damages have been awarded to "faithful" friends, the money of the people has been scattered with a prodigal hand to reward political wirepullers for election services or to keep them in good working trim. Under these circumstances we think it is a gross injustic that our claim should not only be ignored but that insult should be added to injury by a refusal to even investigate it. Our claim is as good as any man's, and more valid than that of many. By being compelled to tie up our steamer, we suffered a direct loss, but more than that, we were compelled to disappoint the public, so that in showing unfair discrimination against us, the Government is disregarding public convenience. I submit that our claim is just as valid as those of the land owners. Many cases exist where alleged damages to land have been compensated by sums out of all proportion, but in all these cases the recipient was a pet of the Government. The Government represents the people, and in their sight one man's rights should be as sacred as those of another.

Yours very truly,
B. M. EDEN.

Lakefield, 14th Nov., 1887.

Thanksgiving and Thanksgiving.

There is nothing more becoming to dependent mortals than gratitude. A poet truly sings : He that's ungrateful hath no crime but one—all other vices pass for virtues in him." This is a very appropriate subject for consideration at this season. All the churches are uniting in thanksgiving services for the blessings of the past season. This is done in obedience to the proclamation of the Governor-General. Some persons have their own opinion of expressions of gratitude to order, but there are occasions and circumstances, which provoke outbursts of thanksgiving which cannot be suppressed. Such an occasion is the immense and boundless stock of ready-made clothing, overcoats and underclothing to be found at the store of gough, the wonderful cheap man. No one can be sufficiently grateful that this presents a chance for making one dollar do the work of two. Many cannot see how gough can sell such cheap goods, but he does, and that is enough for the public, who appreciate and are grateful for the chance of securing unrivalled bargains in all kinds of clothing. gough's is the place, and let the shivering, with thin clothing and thin-lined purses, hasten there and be clothed at a price possible nowhere else.

A Domestic Drama.

SCENE,—John Plume's Sitting-room—Saturday Evening.

JOHN—Polly!

POLLY—Yes, John.

JOHN—I got a letter to-day from Emma Ann, and she wants us to come down Christmas and bring the whole gang!

POLLY—Oh, how splendid! I would like to go, but—the children and I will have to have new dresses.

JOHN—Bother the new dresses!—always new dresses. Talk about new dresses with tax bills to pay, coal bills to pay, wood bills to pay, and ——— to pay generally—Don't say anything more about it—Tottie, get my slippers.

POLLY—But John, we might manage—Ah, I have it! I was down street the other day with Mrs. Scraps[] and we dropped into the Golden Lion—she wanted to see some remnants. And I'm glad I went. For of all the heaps of remnants I ever saw that beat all; and John, you know, there was every kind of dress goods as cheap as dirt. There isn't enough to make a whole swell dress, but I can get some pieces of velvet and cashmere and fix up my old black cashmere to look as good as new, and it won't cost hardly anything.

JOHN (the average husband)—Why the deuce didn't you say so before? Why haven't you got your dresses fixed already I'm sure you had plenty of money: I gave you a dollar and a half to run the house last week, and you might have taken what was left and got stuff at Fair's and had your dresses all ready now.

POLLY—But, John, $1.50 don't go far in filling five mouths, and they have such appetites, especially this little darling—(hugging Tottie till the buttons flew off her boots).

JOHN (relenting)—All right, old girl, you're a little tramp, anyway. You don't waste the money; you feed us well, and you shall have all the money you want. It would be a burning shame to miss such bargains, as there are in remnants at Fair's. Come to think, I read about them in the EXAMINER. Here, Lucy, bring me to-night's paper; there it is on the sofa—blamed if the kid hasn't dropped asleep on it—pull it from under him gently. Here it is—"Remnants! Remnants! Remnants! at the Golden Lion. A splendid lot of dress goods remnants to be cleared out regardless of price." You must have the money, Polly, though it's rather scarce and I would like to pay the coal bill and wood bill, but the coal and wood man can afford to wait better than we can afford to miss those big bargains in remnants at the Golden Lion.

POLLY—Of course they can. It's a good thing when money is so scarce to get a chance to buy something good and cheap. How the money goes! for milk tickets, bread tickets and—why good gracious, its nine o'clock. Lucy, take the children to bed. Good night Tottie—good night darling. (Exeunt kids)

JOHN—Get me a bit of sponge cake, Polly, and a mug of that older Poison left this morning and we'll turn in too. You must get up early and go down to Fair's. Tog yourself and the kids out regardless, and we'll have a jolly Christmas down at Emma Ann's.

COUNTY COUNCILLORS ON C.O.

The Question Is Discussed by the York County Council.

TORONTO, Nov. 16.—At a meeting of the York County Council yesterday Mr. Thorne introduced a resolution favoring Commercial Union.

He said that he supposed a good many people would say that the Council had no right to discuss the question of Commercial Union. But he believed it was a question upon which a body largely composed of farmers had a right to speak. There was no doubt that it was to the farmers' interest to buy in the cheapest market and sell in the dearest. Canada had great natural resources, but they would never be developed unless they had Commercial Union. The talk about disloyalty was all bosh. Those men were the most loyal to their country who were doing their best for the country's interest. He believed that Commercial Union instead of hurting our manufactures would build them up. There was not a state in the Union which had such great national advantages as Ontario had. Yet instead of Canada advancing she was helping to build up the United States; a million Canadians had crossed the border. Mr. Robert Bruce, Reeve of Markham, seconded the resolution. He said he believed that the mover of the resolution had formerly been a supporter of the National Policy. Glowing promises had been made as to what the N.P. would do. It had now been in force for nine years, and none of these promises had been fulfilled. The proposition before the chair was that they should resume the position which was occupied during the old Reciprocity Treaty. Providence evidently intended that Canada and the United States should trade freely. Further discussion on the question was adjourned until this afternoon, when it will be again ventilated.

TORONTO TOPICS.

TORONTO, Nov. 16.—Yesterday the Sheppard case came up before Mr. Justice Rose, the point before the court being whether the Police Magistrate should not be compelled to back the warrant issued by the Criminal Court in Montreal. Mr. Sheppard's counsel applied for security for costs, but both that and the other point were reserved till Monday next.

A meeting of the Executive Committee of the Commercial Union Club was held in the Rossin House yesterday afternoon. The names of J. Lockhart Gordon and W. H. P. Clements were added to the committee. It was arranged that Thomas Shaw and V. E. Fuller should address a meeting at Napanee on Nov. 25, Goldwin Smith and Mr. Fuller at Newmarket Dec. 1, and Messrs. Shaw, Fuller and E. H. Britton at Ridgetown on Nov. 17. At the latter meeting Mayor Patterson and E. R. Gossnell of Chatham will be on hand to oppose Commercial Union. Hereafter the club will meet in their rooms in the Yonge-street Arcade.

The petition against the return of Mr. Clancey to the Legislature for Kent will be taken up this week. At the conclusion of the hearing in this case, the personal charges against Mr. Campbell, who has already been declared unseated for the same constituency for the Commons, will be gone into. Mr. Justice Osler will preside.

Kent is already vacant, East Northumberland is practically so, and a couple more may be expected at an early date. It is not likely, however, there will be another bye-election before Christmas.

The knowing ones said yesterday that one of the judicial vacancies would be filled by the appointment of Mr. W. P. R. Street, Q.C., of London, and that the choice for the second lay between Mr. Falconbridge and Mr. J. F. Smith (of Smith, Smith & Rae), Toronto. About the third vacancy it is said that nothing has yet been decided upon, though it is believed that Mr. Walkem of Kingston is not to be the man.

CHAMBERLAIN SPEAKS.

BEFORE THE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE IN NEW YORK.

His Chairman of the Feast Makes a Pithy Speech in Welcome of the Guest, And Mr. Chamberlain Makes a Happy And Interesting Reply.

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—The annual dinner of the Chamber of Commerce of New York was held to-night at Delmonico's. Covers were laid for 212. In the centre of the guest table sat the President of the Chamber of Commerce, Charles H. Smith. At his right sat Secretary of the Treasury Fairchild, and at his left Secretary of the Interior Lamar. Then on the right were ranged the Right Hon. Jos. Chamberlain, Chauncey M. Depew, Sir Geo. Campbell, Samuel D. Babcock, John Bigelow, Judge Fancher, Rev. Dr. L. J. Chamberlain, Congressman W. Bourke Cochrane and Collector of the Port Daniel Magone. On the President's left were Mayor Hewitt, J. C. Carter, Holley Stewart, M.P., Carl Schurz, Maj.-Gen. J. M. Schofield, Congressman Samuel S. Cox and J. M. Brown.

Among those at the other tables were Wilson G. Hunt, Eugene Kelly, Geo. P. Rowell, Jesse Seligman, Seth E. Thomas, Gen. Horace Porter, United States District Attorney Walker, C. L. Tiffany, Capt. A. P. Cooke, U.S.N., Roswell P. Flower, Geo. Carey Eggleston, St. Clair McKelway, Thos. Ratter, Erastus Wiman, Orlando H. Potter, Whitelaw Reid, Andrew Carnegie, Eugene Blackford and Gen. Stewart L. Woodford.

After three hours' attention had been given to the menu, President Smith arose and addressed the assemblage. At the conclusion of his address letters of regret were read from President Cleveland, Governor Hill and Senator Sherman. In his letter the latter wrote: "You will always have my co-operation in the general objects proposed by your organization. Perhaps the most important subject for the immediate future is the extension of our commerce, especially into Mexico and the South American States. The enormous development of our internal industry has now made it necessary to seek foreign markets for our surplus production. The most hopeful field for such operations is in the growing demands of the American continent for many articles that the United States, better than any other country, can furnish them."

After the toast of "The President" had been drank and responded to by Mr. Lamar, "The Queen of Great Britain" was drank standing, and then Chauncey M. Depew responded to the toast of "The United States; with a government by the people and for the people. They are the friends of honest labor, the enemies of Anarchism."

Toasting the Guest.

In proposing the health of Mr. Chamberlain, the president said: "We are very glad to welcome as our guest to-night a gentleman still in the prime of life, to whom fame has come early; whose name is know wherever the English tongue is spoken and who, like his colleague, John Bright, has always been conspicuous in his friendship for this country. He has come to us representing the Government of Great Britain upon a most important diplomatic service, in the hope of settling a question which has been the cause of bad blood between our Canadian neighbors and an important section of our country. It seems to me, gentlemen, that our guest is fully equipped by long business as well as public experience to accomplish the desired result. I hold it to be a good omen for the satisfactory settlement of the fishery question that Mr. Chamberlain, as Cabinet Minister, as member of Parliament, and in private life, officially and unofficially, has shown himself on all occasions to be the strong friend and protector of the sailor. We may be sure that as far as justice will permit his sympathies will be extended to the seamen, who have the largest interest in the settlement of this question. I ask you, gentlemen, to fill your glasses and drink to the health of the Right Hon. Joseph Chamberlain and to the success of his mission."

Mr. Chamberlain's Reply.

Mr. Chamberlain said: "I thank you for the kindly words in which you have introduced me to the Chamber, and I assure you I appreciate the honor you have done me in inviting me to share the hospitality of this honorable and representative institution, and, if I may be allowed, I should like to take this public opportunity to say how much I have been touched by the unusual kindness with which I have been met since I landed on your shores. It has deepened the feeling of good will and regard which I have always expressed for the people and institutions of your country. [Applause.] I have been in my time rather considerable of a traveler on the continent of Europe, but I feel here that although I am further away from Europe than ever before I am yet nearer home, among a people whose language and institutions are more nearly like those of my own land. The Englishman will always find much to interest him, much to astonish him, in your country; but after all the differences between us are less than the resemblances—[applause]—and it is only a new phase of the development of our common civilization, and I am more than ever impressed with the thought in regard to these two great nations, whose history and traditions are our joint heritage and pride, that their general amity and good will are the guarantee of the prosperity and progress of the world. [Applause.] I am well aware that the kindness with which I have been received is not due to any personal merit or claim of my own, but it is due to my official position as well as to the representative and pacific character of the mission I have undertaken. I bring with me also to the fulfilment of my task, I assure you, the universal sympathy of every Englishman whose opinion is worth having. [Applause.] And in the settlement of the task I feel that neither side will permit any open question to remain which might develop into something which might impair the good relations which have existed hitherto between the two countries, which have now been brought so closely together that old prejudices have disappeared, and personal intercourse has given increased respect and consideration and added friendliness, and I do not doubt that we shall be able to settle amicably any differences which may have arisen.

I do not look forward to any settlement of the question which we have to discuss, which shall give undue advantage to either party. I do not think it at all likely I could gain such an advantage in discussion with the representative of the shrewdest nation in the world; but if I could I would not do it, for it is not in the interest of any great nation to make a settlement which is not satisfactory to all parties concerned. [Applause.] Such a settlement can be made between kindred men as will be satisfactory. If we can lay aside party questions, which have no reference to the question in dispute, and which will only tend to impair and prevent such settlement. You know that "great events from trivial causes spring." Some of the fiercest wars have sprung from petty misapprehensions, and it is the highest patriotism to remove the causes of friction which otherwise might cause irritations. I appeal to you, gentlemen, as representatives of the interest which constantly makes for peace to strengthen our hands and assist us in the settlement of these questions. I have no doubt that the consideration of the interest you feel in the settlement of the controversy between Great Britain and the United States will prevent any obstacles arising. These two great countries cannot afford to have any serious differences, for they are the greatest customers of each other.

If you will permit me, I will say one word about my impressions of this country. I have seen very little, I have heard a great deal—(laughter)—but I think it may be summed up in a sentence. I am simply amazed at the enterprise and capacious activity with which you pursue avocations. You have carried to the highest point and development the science of the production of wealth. But that is only one step in a nation's progress, and you are likely to be confronted sooner or later, and if I do not mistake the signs of the times it will be sooner rather than later, with other problems important to humanity, when you will have to find employment for the wealth which is now being created. In the meantime I doubt that there is any other country where there is such munificence in the distribution of wealth. But your greatest safeguard is your reverence for law—that innate guiding idea of the American people. In my own country I am counted a Radical and Democrat of an extreme faith. I admit the soft impeachment, for I hold three things: That the people should make the laws; that the people should enforce the laws; and that the people should respect them."

Mayor Hewitt then responded to the toast, "The City of New York."

George William Curtis responded to "The English Speaking Race" and Hon. W. P. Creamer, M.P., to "The Peace Delegation."

James C. Carter made the concluding response to "The Bench and the Bar."

CONDITION OF THE CROWN PRINCE.

The Cancerous Growth in the Throat Gradually Increasing.

BERLIN, Nov. 15.—The present growth in the Crown Prince's throat is gradually increasing. As the Prince has declared himself opposed to the extirpation of the whole larynx, difficulty of breathing will sooner or later arise and probably necessitate tracheotomy. The physicians recommend that he spend the winter in the South, where it will be more possible to maintain his present strength. Precautions have been taken at San Remo to have surgical assistance in readiness in case tracheotomy is decided upon.

The Emperor, replying to an address of sympathy from the West Prussian Synod, says: "The pious wishes expressed by the synod have done good to my troubled heart. May this heavy affliction upon my house and our fatherland soon pass away, through God's omnipotence and grace."

The Disease Not Due to Smoking.

SAN REMO, Nov. 15.—Before leaving for London yesterday Dr. Mackenzie reported that the cancerous growth in the Crown Prince's throat was still very small. He denied that the trouble was due to excessive smoking, and concurs in the doctrine that the germ of cancer is born with the individual.

PRESIDENT GREVY'S SON-IN-LAW.

The Evidence Goes to Show That He Received Large Bribes.

PARIS, Nov. 15.—Baroness de Seilliere testified before the Wilson Inquiry Commission to-day that her husband informed her that he gave M. Wilson 2,000,000 francs in order to procure contracts, but did not receive much in return.

It is reported that the examination magistrate recommends the prosecution of the prefect and sub-prefect of police, as he holds that they are responsible for the alteration of the Wilson letters.

The Temps says that M. Wilson will be prosecuted as an accessory of M. Gragnon, Prefect of Police.

DE LESSEPS NEW SCHEME.

He Proposes to Cut a Passage Across the Isthmus as a Temporary Work.

PARIS, Nov. 15.—M. De Lesseps, in a letter to Premier Rouvier asking authority to raise a loan for the Panama canal by the issue of lottery bonds, states that he is negotiating with Engineer Eiffel for the purpose of ensuring the digging of a passage across the isthmus for a traffic of 7,500,000 tons yearly, reserving the completion of the work for the future, as in the case of the Suez Canal. He says that the funds for completing the work will be derived from the annual profits.

Spurgeon and the Baptist Union.

LONDON, Nov. 15.—Rev. Mr. Spurgeon, referring to his secession from the Baptist Union, says that when he entered the conflict he made up his mind that even if he were left alone he would be none the less decided as to the propriety of his course. It is pleasing to find, however, he says, that many valued friends approve of his action. He urges that continual prayers be offered

NEWS FROM THE CAPITAL.

The Baker Commission Sitting—Stillwell Will Probably be Released.

OTTAWA, Nov. 16.—Sir John Macdonald will be acting Minister of Justice during the absence at Washington of Hon. Mr. Thompson.

The Lahey Commission met to-day for the first time since its appointment. Nothing was done further than get the Commission in shape for going on with their business. On Friday the Commission will proceed to Toronto and take evidence there on labor matters. Eight members compose the Commission.]

The Stillwell case continues to excite interest hereabouts. There is a well founded rumor in circulation that His Excellency will issue an order to-day or to-morrow for Stillwell's release.

NEWS FROM MONTREAL.

Navigation Nearing Its Close—Evictions in the Kingdom Caples Case.

MONTREAL, Nov. 15.—The steamship Lake Huron arrived to-day, bringing in the last batch of immigrants for the season. About sixty arrived during the week. The Canadian Pacific Railway will have three offices at the wharf next season to ticket immigrants for points West.

John Livingston, late editor of The Herald, is succeeded by M. St. John, Mr. McConnell, late of The News, filling the vacancy left by him. Mr. Livingston remains in the city for about two weeks, and then will go to Toronto.

It is expected that the steamship Scotland will be the last steamer to leave this season. Her date of sailing is about Nov. 20 or 23. Eight more arrivals are due before navigation closes. The Allans have the Parisienne; the Dominion Line, the Quebec, Dominion and Montreal; Rodford's, the Scotland; Hamm Line, the Beanwell; the Beaver Line, the Lake Huron; Furniss, the Kate. The Allan Line steamships have made 71 trips this season, Rodford's 61, Dominion 39 and Beaver 38.

There was another gathering of the sporting fraternity in court this morning to watch the proceedings in the Elliott-Bingham caples matter. P. M. Duffy, Ottawa, swore he had attended the recent Bethune-Unknown race. Bethune had informed him before the race that he would be beaten, and after the race declared that he could give the Unknown two yards and "lick" him badly. "Biden" Renaud, Ottawa, stated that the race had been a put-up job. He did not think there was a man on earth to beat Bethune as badly as the Unknown did at Ottawa if he ran a bona fide race. In further evidence it was distinctly sworn that Bethune had wilfully lost the race and that such an arrangement had been arrived at before the start.

In the Elliott-Bingham caples case this afternoon, in answer to Mr. Greenshields, Bingham said that the "Unknown" in the Bethune-Unknown race at Geneva was John Anderson of Connecticut.

A COMPLICATED CASE.

A Large Fortune Depending Upon the Validity of a Jewish Divorce.

MONTREAL, Nov. 15.—A complicated case, and one that is almost without a precedent, is about to be brought before the courts. A Russian Jew, who had been divorced from his wife, left his home forty years ago and emigrated to the United States, leaving his two children with their mother. He settled down in New York and married there a lady with a little money, enough to start him in the fishery business in the Gulf of St. Lawrence. Fortune smiled upon him, and at his death, four years ago, he left a large fortune to his second wife and her three children. His first wife died two years ago, and her two children, who were now grown up and married, emigrated to Canada and settled down, one in Montreal and the other in Quebec. Hearing a few days ago of their father's death, they instituted an action to recover the fortune left by him, alleging that their mother had persistently refused to sign certain papers which were necessary to make the divorce valid according to Hebrew law.

A DAZZLING TALE FROM THE WEST.

Gut There Anyone Can Scrape Gold from the Rocks with a Jack-knife.

CHICAGO, Nov. 15.—A Prescott, Ariz., special says the recently discovered gold mine ten miles from here on the Hassayampa River is richer by far than any thing ever discovered in the world. The ore averages $1000 per ton, and thousands of tons are in sight. Two men yesterday with a common mortar pounded out $600 in less than one hour. The gold clings to the rock in the purest scales. A man with a knife can scale off a handful in a few minutes. There is every indication of the ledge containing fabulous wealth. This river has produced millions in years in placer mining, and on one occasion a pocket was found which yielded $100,000 in a few weeks. People are flocking there in great numbers.

Election Trials in Progress.

The trial of the petition against Mr. Archibald Campbell, M.P. for Kent, was resumed yesterday at Chatham. The Hadley bribery charge was taken up, the defendant being found guilty and sentenced to pay a fine of $25 and two days' imprisonment.

FARMERS' INSTITUTES AND FARMERS' "INSTITUTES."

There is no doubt that the most important calling in this county is that of the farmer and it is the fact that the members of it are not sufficiently alive to the importance of organization for the protection of their peculiar interests. Almost every other class has combined in the manner in this latter respect. The merchants have boards of trade, labour has its unions, the lawyers, doctors and druggists their associations, teachers combine for their own good, and even school trustees have formed an association, for looking after their own interests. In many parts of Canada, Farmers' Institutes have been organized on the best means of combination, with a view of protecting and promoting agricultural interests. There is no doubt of their utility and benefit to the farmers who avail themselves of the privileges of membership. There are many things which affect all farmers alike, and the importance of unity of action in reference thereto cannot be understood. In these days farming is a progressive calling. The old prejudice against scientific farming is passing away, and all see that the farmer who puts the most thought into his things succeeds best. Many progressive farmer every year discovers something new, which tends to facilitate operations or make cultivation more profitable. If he is a member of a Farmers' Institute, he can at all regular meetings give all present the benefit of his discovery or improved methods. A general interchange of ideas and of information puts every member in possession of the information of everybody else, and the result cannot but be the acquisition of much valuable information. Farming is a subject which is much more difficult to exhaust than it is to exhaust the land. Continually new discoveries are being made, new methods originated, or new applications of old methods introduced, and these can only be brought strongly to the Farmer's personal attention through the medium of Farmers' Institutes. At the Government Experimental Farm, Guelph, continuous experiments to learn the best fertilizer for certain soils, the best system of crop rotation, the best breeds of cattle for special purposes, are being conducted, and the results of these farmers can be best informed through the professors of the Agricultural College, who can be secured to visit the meetings of the Institute. The action of the Ontario Government gives facilities for the formation of an Institute. Upon the fulfilment of certain conditions an annual government grant of $25 is made to each institute. The main conditions are that a sum of not less than $25, be voted by the County Council; that the Institute shall not be composed of not less than 50 members; that at least two meetings for the discussion of agricultural subjects be held in the Institute year, from July to July. The farmers of the West Riding of Peterborough are not lacking in enterprise nor in keenness of vision in looking after their interests. Therefore it is to be expected that there will be a numerous attendance of farmers at the Council Chamber, Peterborough, on Wednesday, Nov. 30th a meeting having been called by the West Riding Agricultural Society for that date, to organize a Farmers' Institute for West Peterborough. The membership fee is only the nominal sum of 25 cents per year, and every farmer going to the Institute will secure benefits equivalent to ten times that amount. Every farmer is urged in his own interest to fix the date in his mind and to be present at the above meeting.

Lakehurst.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Successful revival services have been recently held in the new Methodist church, Lakehurst, which was built last summer, and not long since dedicated. The pastor, Rev. Mr. Adams, assisted by his amiable wife and true ministerial help mate, and Rev. Mr. Wilson, of Bethanyperce, labored energetically and acceptably, the results of the services being the conversion of a host forty souls, and a proportionate addition to the membership of the church.

Mrs. Adams was a few days ago prostrated by a sudden and severe attack of illness. She was at one time very low, but under the care of Dr. Fraser (Caldwell & Fraser), Lakefield, she is recovering rapidly.

The old cheese factory plant, owing largely to the energetic exertions of Messrs. Wm. Irwin and Robert Telford, will be removed to Halsted's Corners, where the business will, next season, be vigorously prosecuted.

The farmers have been sadly inconvenienced by the lack of rain. Some have to drive their cattle long distances to water.

THE CENTRAL BANK SUSPENDS.

A Run at the Head Office in Toronto Yesterday.

TORONTO, Nov. 15.—For some time past unfavorable rumors as to the solvency of the Central Bank have been in circulation. Yesterday it was proved the reports had not been groundless. Early in the afternoon there was a run on the bank, and at 3 o'clock the doors of the building on Yonge street were besieged with depositors demanding their money. The rush kept upon till 5 o'clock, and paid all demands up to that time, which was the rule. As a corollary of the disaster last night the following statement was made public:

"TORONTO, Nov. 15.—In consequence of the unprecedented withdrawals the Central Bank have not been able to continue over the counter enough to meet immediate demands upon it to-day therefore, for the present, suspended payments by order of the Board.

"A. A. ALLEN, Cashier."

The resolution adopted by the bankers was:

"Owing to there not being time to receive information sufficient to estimate the amount of assistance necessary to aid the Central Bank, the unanimous opinion of the directors of the Bankers of the Central Bank to suspend in the meantime in order to enable them to realize on their assets."

The Globe says editorially: After a brief but discussion apparently the Central Bank yesterday suspended payment. It has been the current talk of financiers for months past that the question "how much will out." The management appears to have been actuated with the idea that in the banking world the skies are always clear. The small paid-up capital of the bank and its liquidity were invested in securities of a more or less unrealizable class. On the dark ground of adversity the collapse came. The bank might, and probably would have weathered this little storm had it not been for the recent action of the Bank of Montreal in calling in very large sums of money and raising the rate of discount. That action, together with the tightening of the money market consequent upon the shortness of the crops, caused a crisis in the affairs of the Central for which the bank seems to have been utterly unprepared—even to the extent of not being able to satisfy the other bank managers as to what its position really is.

The last monthly statement of chartered banks issued by the Government contains the following statistics, furnished by the bank of Toronto themselves, regarding the Central Bank.

THE FAMILIES OF THE ANARCHISTS.

The Defence Committee to Raise a Fund to Support Them.

CHICAGO, Nov. 15.—It is announced that the Amnesty Society and the Defence Committee will join forces and assume the responsibility of providing for the families of the dead Anarchists, and a permanent fund will be started for that purpose. There will be, after the final accounting of the expenses of the funeral a surplus of about $1,500 or $2000 in the hands of the Defence Committee, which will form a nucleus for them to start the fund with. It is intended to make the new organization national in extent. There is another object in establishing this fund. One of the leaders yesterday said he expected there would be more money required for purposes of defence. He did not expect that the prosecutions would stop here, but thought that others who made themselves conspicuous in the movement would be prosecuted under various charges, and this would necessitate a permanent defence fund.

Rather Rough Treatment.

TOLEDO, O., Nov. 15.—August Schmidt, who is employed in the bolt and metal works, was extolling Spies and other Anarchists yesterday, when his fellow workmen became enraged and, putting a rope around his neck, strung him up to a lamp-post until he grew black in the face. He was then let down and resuscitated, but repeating his Anarchistic utterances was tossed into a tank and rolled down a steep embankment. His collar-bone was dislocated, but he was otherwise uninjured. It has just been learned that there is a strong organization of Anarchists in this city.

The Man Who Carried the Flag.

CHICAGO, Nov. 15.—Detective James Bonfield, brother of the captain who commanded the police at the Haymarket, prosecuting Howell Trogden, the man that persisted in carrying the Stars and Stripes in front of the Anarchist funeral, a worthless, lying loafer, who itches for notoriety. Bonfield says Trogden was at one time used by the police as a "pigeon" to associate with thieves and betray them.

FOR THE RELIEF and cure of the inflammation and congestion called a "cold in the head" there is more potency in Ely's Cream Balm than in anything else it is possible to prescribe. This preparation has for years past been making a brilliant success as a remedy for cold in the head, catarrh and hay fever. Used in the initial stages of these complaints Cream Balm prevents any serious development of the symptoms, while almost numberless cases are on record of radical cures of chronic catarrh and hay fever after all other modes of treatment have proved of no avail. eodwd5

MEETING OF THE LEAGUE.

The Big Men of the International Gather in Toronto.

TORONTO, Nov. 15.

It was after 7 o'clock last night that a majority of the International Baseball League friends and followers put in an appearance at the Rossin House for the annual meeting of that organization. They had expected to have made connections at Hamilton, and thus been here in the afternoon, but failed to do so. The first to arrive were State Senator J. D. Edwards and M. F. Macarthy of Jersey City, N.J. The 1.30 train over the Hamilton branch of the Grand Trunk Railway brought in Sheriff R. S. Gilbert, James Franklyn, C. W. Cushman and C. E. Fitzgerald of Buffalo; Ald. Dicso and John Patterson of Hamilton; A. R. Dickinson and J. Fraser of Syracuse; J. W. Collins of Newark, and Secretary C. D. White of Utica. Accompanying the party were Manager James Mutrie of the New York Club, Manager Chapman of the Buffalos, Manager Patsey Powers of the Jersey City Club, and Mr. J. M. White, representing Spalding Brothers.

The annual meeting of the Board of Directors was held at 8.30 o'clock last evening in one of the hotel parlors, President F. T. GIBSON of Buffalo in the chair.

Those delegates were in attendance:
Buffalo—F. T. Gibson.
Hamilton—James Dicso.
Jersey City—J. D. Edwards.
Newark—J. W. Collins.
Syracuse—C. E. Fuller.
Syracuse—A. R. Dickinson.
Toronto—E. S. Cox.
Rochester and Wilkesbarre were unrepresented.

Secretary White furnished this statement of the percentage of the championship games:

Toronto	.643
Buffalo	.611
Syracuse	.611
Newark	.609
Hamilton	.575
Jersey City	.494
Rochester	.455
Binghamton	.389
Toronto	.257
Wilkesbarre	.257

The championship pennant was then formally awarded to the Toronto Club.

The treasurer's report showed a balance on hand of $600, which was ordered to be divided equally among the nine clubs remaining in the league at the end of the season. Fines, amounting to $50, imposed on members of the Toronto team, were remitted. A motion for the remission of fines imposed by Umpire Pierce on Murphy and Battin, of the Syracuse Club, at Newark on Sept. 8 was lost. It was decided that no International League club shall be allowed to play in Monitor Park, near Jersey City, as the survey of that territory showed that those grounds were in too close proximity to that club's premises. A committee, composed of Messrs. Cox, Collins and White, was appointed to consider any proposed amendments to the league constitution.

Baseball Revisers in Session.

PITTSBURG, Nov. 14.—The joint committee of the National League and American Association on the revision of baseball rules met here to-day. The meeting is secret, but it is probable that the rule allowing a base hit for a base on balls will be abolished and that the rule relating to "bunting" will be further amended.

A resolution was adopted that a majority of each delegation from the league and association shall be necessary to adopt any amendment changing the playing rules, and that the unanimous recommendation of the joint committee will accompany the report of such changes to the two respective associations.

The afternoon session lasted until late this evening. After adjournment the committee announced that they had agreed upon the following changes in the rules:

Rule 29, sec. 3, referring to score cards, has been amended so that any contemplated changes in teams after the publication of the score card must be submitted to the umpire for his approval.

Rule 47, relating to batsmen, has been changed as follows: If on the third strike the ball hits the person or clothing of the batsman he shall be declared out. Also after two strikes have been called if the batsman attempts to make a foul hit he shall be declared out.

Rule 4 has been changed from four strikes and five balls to three strikes and five balls.

The rule allowing a base-hit on five balls has been abolished, but at the suggestion of President Day five balls will still be considered a factor in earned runs. A base on balls shall be counted against the pitcher in the error column.

Rule 30, Sec. 4, has been amended, allowing a runner to take a base if the ball hits the umpire. If a ball struck by the batsman hits a base runner after an attempt has been made to field, the runner shall not be declared out. If a base runner knocks down or runs into a fielder he shall be declared out.

A resolution was adopted providing for the appointment of a representative from each association to prepare an official report of the changes to send to their respective organizations.

BOSTON, Nov. 16, 3 a.m.—It is reported that the Carney-McAuliffe fight is taking place this morning.

That is to say, your lungs. Also all your breathing machinery. Very wonderful machinery it is. Not only the larger air-passages, but the thousands of little tubes and cavities leading from them.

When these are clogged and choked with matter which ought not to be there, your lungs cannot half do their work. And what they do, they cannot do well.

Call it cold, cough, croup, pneumonia, catarrh, consumption or any of the family of throat and nose and head and lung obstructions, all are bad. All ought to be got rid of. There is just one sure way to get rid of them. That is to take Boschee's German Syrup, which any druggist will sell you at 75 cents a bottle. M'lle Rhea.

The charming French actress, M'lle Rhea, will, on Saturday evening next, appear as Galatea, one of her greatest characters. She has been called the ideal Galatea. She will be supported by an excellent company and every detail of the production will receive the greatest attention. The costumes will be historically correct. The music, written expressly for this production, is charming so that a performance of unusual merit can be anticipated. The Baltimore American says of Rhea as Galatea:—"In Pygmalion and Galatea last evening M'lle Rhea only added to the good impressions already created. The part has been essayed by many, but never has more beauty and feeling been drawn from the old myth than is seen in Rhea's charming interpretation. Her tall, handsome figure in its severely classical drapery was almost a dream. Her statuesque posing and exquisite gracefulness of movement was absolute perfection. Her conception of the innocence and wonder natural to her entrance upon mortal life was delightful, and the touching motives she displays upon being introduced to the ways of the world was admirable for its simplicity and sweetness. The more pathetic scenes were full of force, the working of the master passion of love being brought out with much feeling. Altogether, her impersonation was extremely artistic and full of merit."

The Kerry Gow.

The opera house was crowded last night to the doors. The attraction was the presentation of "Kerry Gow" by J. S. Murphy and company. This play was given in Peterborough two years ago, and its popularity and the public appreciation of Mr. Murphy and his company of artists was attested by the size of the audience last night. J. S. Murphy as "Dan O'Hara" and Miss Marlowe as "Nora Drew", his sweetheart, gave vivid representations of their characters—he the jovial good-natured, quick-witted and intrepid Irish lad; she as the true and tender hearted maiden who holds his love. The remainder of the company gave excellent support. The scenery was elegant, and everything passed off pleasantly and without interruption barring a little exhibition of contrariness on the part of one of the doves, which, in bringing home news of the race upon which so much depended, refused to be caught, and led the actors a lively chase about the stage for a few minutes, to the great amusement of the audience. To-night "Shaun Rhue" will be presented. This play is too well known to need commendation. There will, no doubt, be another crowded house.

The Poet at Home.

The poetical shuttlecock, who spends his time largely in crossing and re-crossing the ocean, Mr. J. Dickson Morgan, has again arrived in England, and as his movements are a subject of engrossing public interest, the EXAMINER hastens to lay before its readers the following copy of a letter received this morning:—

30, Lonsdale Square, London, N., Eng.

DEAR SIR,—I arrived in my native land last Monday, the 25th inst., by the Allan Liner, "Corean." I am suffering from temporary lameness, in consequence of injury to right foot. Health otherwise good. Mr. John L. Sullivan, the great pugilist, makes his debut at St. James's Hall, Piccadilly, on the 9th of next month. I am anxious to meet my friend!

Yours truly,

A Smash.

Monday morning about ten o'clock Conductor Woods, of the Midland, was going out of Port Hope with his train, says the Times, when the pins of the driving rod and one of the cylinder heads broke. The engine, with Ralph Clark in the cab, was just in front of Walker's furniture establishment, when the driving wheels slipped on a wet rail. This caused the trouble. The pressure required to draw the heavy train set the slipping wheels whirling with lightning revolutions. One of the driving rods on the right hand side flew up and tore a slice off the cab; on the other side both bars were wrenched off and the cylinder head burst out. The disabled engine was taken back to the yard. It will be some time before the repairs are completed. It is fortunate that the accident happened when the train was moving slowly, else the barn might have been hurled through the cab. It is said that if the repairs are done in Port Hope, as they is all probability will, they will keep the men busy until Christmas.

High Court of Justice.

Queen's Bench Division—Peterborough Assizes—Chief Justice Armour Presiding.

O'SHEA VS. KING.—A verdict was given for the defendant.

JOHNSTON VS. JOHNSTON.—A verdict was given for plaintiff, with costs.

RYAN VS. DREW.—Action to recover an account; referred to the County Judge of Leeds and Grenville to ascertain the amount of the account, before coming to trial.

IRWIN VS. MANSFIELD.—Action for trespassing on timber limits in Cavandish township; referred to the Master at Peterborough to take account. Gen. Edmison, for plaintiff; Barron & Campbell, of Lindsay, for defendant.

MUMFORD VS. PALMER.—Action to recover damages for breach of agreement. The parties to this suit live in Northumberland county. A verdict was given for plaintiff for $1,142.55. Clute and Titus, for plaintiff; no one appeared for defendant.

PRICE VS. BELLEGHEM. An action for damages on account of an accident in defendant's furniture factory, brought under the Compensations to Workmen's Act of 1886. The case was settled out of court, the plaintiff accepting $76 compensation without costs. E. B. Stone for plaintiff; Hatton & Wood for defendant.

FAUCHER VS. ERSKINE.—Action for illegal distress. The plaintiff alleges that last March he paid the rent due upon the hostelry he occupies at Hale's Bridge to Mrs. John Erskine and daughter, owners thereof, by a note made by one Scobell. Defendants gave a receipt as if the payment had been in cash, acknowledging receipt of the rent in full up to the first of March last. The defendants afterwards discovered that the note was doubtful security, and went to the plaintiff for the purpose of handing it back to him. When they reached plaintiff's premises they found the maker of the note there and Faucher absent. They handed the note back to Scobell, and he put it in his pocket and kept it. They distrained for the rent, and this action was brought for illegal distress, the plaintiff claiming that the note should have been returned to him. It was dismissed with costs.

The judgment will be moved against before the full court.

DUMBLE VS. MCWILLIAMS.—An action brought by the trustees of the late Thomas Henry Dunnville to set aside a tax sale made to Mr. J. B. McWilliams of a certain property in Belmont, through which runs two lines of railway. The defendant set up that at the time of action brought he had sold the property and had no interest therein. To which the plaintiffs replied that the sale was fraudulent and without consideration, and made to harass them in their action. The Judge ordered that the new purchaser should be made a party to the suit, and that the defendant should get his costs after the statement of defence, and the plaintiff should get no costs up to the statement of defence. C. J. Leonard, for plaintiff; Stratton and Blackstock, for defendant.

MCNAUGHTON VS. WEIR.—Action to set aside a deed as being fraudulent, verdict for plaintiff; Lynch, Campbellford, for plaintiff; Flint, Belleville, for defendant.

ACQUITTED.

The only criminal case on the docket, Queen vs. Howland, for forgery, came up for trial, and the prisoner was found not guilty. The same evidence as adduced at the police court was given. The prisoner was discharged.

This concluded the business of the present sitting.

GRAND JURY PRESENTMENT.

The Grand Jury assembled at the fall assizes of the County of Peterborough, respectfully beg leave to felicitate your Lordship upon your elevation to the highest judicative position in Ontario. We hail with thankfulness the appointment of one so able, just and righteous in judgment, and we beg, most respectfully, to assure your Lordship that the honor bestowed upon you could not be more highly esteemed and more fully appreciated than by the members composing the Grand Jury.

In accordance with your Lordship's commands we have inspected the county gaol and found it scrupulously clean, and in so far as we could judge it is in a satisfactory sanitary condition.

We regret, however, to have to repeat a complaint previously referred to by Grand Juries, viz.:—The lack of provision for the accommodation of idiots. We found three helpless female idiots confined in the gaol.

We ask that your Lordship communicate to the parties in authority our feelings of regret at the lack of provision for their suitable accommodation, and ask for a speedy removal from their present place of confinement.

A. MCNEIL, Foreman.

GRAND JURY ROOM,
Peterborough, Nov. 16th, 1887.

His Lordship, in reply, coincided in the opinions of the Grand Jury regarding the inadequate accommodation for lunatics and idiots. It was a deplorable state of affairs that so many of this class were confined in the county gaols, but he had found the same thing in pretty nearly every county where Assizes were held. He said he would order the presentment to be forwarded to the provincial secretary. He knew personally that efforts were at the present time being made to improve the condition of things and afford better accommodation for these unfortunates. His Lordship referred explicitly and at some length to the manner of treating lunatics and idiots, stating that it was not advisable in all cases to send them to asylums upon the appearance of the first symptoms, as a great many suffered from temporary attacks, which, during a month's residence in gaol or other place of strict confinment, passed off. He, however, regretted, as much as did the jury, the state of affairs existing at present, but from his own knowledge of facts knew that steps were being taken to provide more suitable accommodation for this class of persons. He thanked the jury for their kindness in noticing his elevation to the position he held, and hoped that his acts as Chief Justice of Ontario would prove that the trust reposed in him had not been misplaced.

"One Thing Thou Lackest."

The Rev. Mr. Bell Speaks to Young Men.—The Rich Young Ruler his Theme.—A Code of Morals.

The series of special addresses to young men were continued in the Association Hall last evening. After the usual opening exercises the chairman, Mr. Griffin, stated he had very great pleasure in asking the Rev. Mr. Bell to address the meeting on the subject of the "Rich Young Ruler."

He said it might be difficult for most of us to understand the difficulty that was in the young man's mind in coming to Christ, as he was rich, and most of us probably would get along better and we a little more of this world's goods.

The incident from which he was to speak was recorded in Mark x., commencing at the 17th verse. The preceding verses of the chapter showed the mothers bringing their children to be blessed. This young ruler, undoubtedly, standing near by, became interested in this new Prophet. Look at the young man! He was young, rich; was respected by his fellow citizens, was a Ruler. His character was alright. Jesus did not charge him with an untruth when he said, "All these things have I kept from my youth up." So far, as represented to us, everything is favorable. His question: "Good Master, what must I do to inherit eternal life?" It did not come out that he believed in Christ as God. His manner towards Christ was patronizing. The answer Christ made was "If thou wilt be perfect, go and sell that thou hast and give to the poor, and thou shalt have treasure in heaven, and come and follow me."

He wanted eternal life. Christ now put him to the test. Was there ever such a test before? Yes. The father of their nation, Abraham, had forsaken lands, friends and all and went out, not knowing whither he went, to do God's will. We were told the young man went away sorrowful, for he had great possessions. Grieved because he could not get life, but would have been far more grieved to have given up his possessions. Money was his stumbling block, covetousness his sin. In referring to his morality Mr. Bell said it was not sufficient for eternity. It might be very beautiful to look upon in this life but would not stand the test of the Judgment.

Christ required of all who became his followers a whole hearted surrender, and if they kept anything back he would not receive them. He concluded his remarks by presenting the following code of morals; 1 Have no attachment to the world, but in proportion to the short duration of life. 2. Serve God with all that fervor which the need thou hast demands. 3. Labor for the other life that awaits thee and consider the time it must endure. 4. Strive to escape the fire out of which, if once cast in, you can never escape. 5. If thou hast temerity enough to sin, measure before hand the strength thou shalt require to endure the fire of hell and the chastisement of God. 6. When thou wishest to transgress seek a place where God cannot see thee. The next address will be on Thursday evening. Subject: "Absalom."

Complimentary Supper.

Monday evening about a dozen of Mr. C. H. Gaele's most intimate friends entertained him, in the rooms over the Bank of Toronto, to a complimentary farewell supper, on the eve of his departure for Montreal, to which place he has been promoted. The evening was spent in a jolly manner, after which Mr. Gaele was escorted to the train and bidden a final farewell. Mr. Gaele has been employed in the Bank of Toronto here for a number of years, and he will be missed not only in social circles, but the choir of St. Luke's Church, of which he was a prominent member, will feel his loss greatly. Mr. Gaele has scores of friends in Peterborough who will unite in wishing him unlimited success in his new home. His place here will be taken by Mr. C. Shaw.

John—I got a letter to-day from Emma Ann, and she wants us to come down Christmas and bring the whole mag!

Polly—Oh, how splendid! I would like to go, but—the children and I will have to have new dresses.

John—Bother the new dresses!—always new dresses. Talk about new dresses with tax bills to pay, coal bills to pay, wood bills to pay, and ——— to pay generally—Don't say anything more about it—Tottie, get my slippers.

Polly—But John, we might manage—Ah, I have it! I was down street the other day with Mrs. Scrape, and we dropped into the Golden Lion—she wanted to see some remnants. And I'm glad I went. For of all the heaps of remnants I ever saw that beat all; and John, you know, there was every kind of dress goods as cheap as dirt. There isn't enough to make a whole swell dress, but I can get some pieces of velvet and cashmere and fix up my old black cashmere to look as good as new, and it won't cost hardly anything.

John (the average husband)—Why the deuce didn't you say so before? Why haven't you got your dresses fixed already! I'm sure you had plenty of money: I gave you a dollar and a half to run the house last week, and you might have taken what was left and got stuff at Fair's and had your dresses all ready now.

Polly—But, John, $1.50 don't go far in filling five mouths, and they have such appetites, especially this little darling—(hugging Tottie till the buttons flew off her boots).

John (relenting)—All right, old girl, you're a little trump, anyway. You don't waste the money; you feed us well, and you shall have all the money you want. It would be a burning shame to miss such bargains, as there are in remnants at Fair's. Come to think, I read about them in the Examiner. Here, Lucy, bring me to-night's paper; there it is on the sofa—blamed if the kid hasn't dropped asleep on it—pull it from under him gently. Here it is—"Remnants! Remnants! Remnants! at the Golden Lion. A splendid lot of dress goods remnants to be cleared out regardless of price." You must have the money, Polly, though it's rather scarce and I would like to pay the coal bill and wood bill, but the coal and wood man can afford to wait better than we can afford to miss those big bargains in remnants at the Golden Lion.

Polly—Of course they can. It's a good thing when money is so scarce to get a chance to buy something good and cheap. How the money goes! for milk tickets, bread tickets and—why good gracious, its nine o'clock. Lucy, take the children to bed. Good night Tottie—good night darling. (Exeunt kids)

John—Get me a bit of sponge cake, Polly, and a mug of that older Pekoe left this morning and we'll turn in too. You must get up early and go down to Fair's. Tog yourself and the kids out regardless, and we'll have a jolly Christmas down at Emma Ann's.

FISHERY COMMISSION.

THE BRITISH AND CANADIAN MEMBERS AT WASHINGTON.

Pinkerton Detectives in the Party—Unsuccessful Attempts to Interview Mr. Chamberlain—An Early Meeting of the Commission to be Arranged.

Washington, Nov. 17.—Mr. Joseph Chamberlain, the English member of the Commission which will try to negotiate a treaty to settle the fisheries difficulties, arrived at Washington at 4.30 this afternoon. In his party were W. Maycock, his private secretary, J. H. G. Bergne, head of the Treaties Department in the British Foreign Office, and Sir Charles Tupper, the Canadian Commissioner, who joined them in New York. Besides these gentlemen were the following from Ottawa: Hon J. S. D. Thompson, Minister of Justice; Maj.-Gen. D. R. Cameron, Wallace Graham, C. C. Chipman, and Geo. Johnson. Less prominent in the party were four quiet, plainly-dressed citizens, who proved to be Pinkerton detectives, who are constant in attendance upon Mr. Chamberlain. Sir Lionel Sackville West, the British Minister, was at the station to meet the party, and he accompanied them to the Arlington hotel, where he took dinner with them. The British delegates will meet the American members of the Commission at the State Department early to-morrow morning, when they will come to some understanding as to the time of the conference. They will be presented to the Secretary of State by Sir Lionel Sackville West, but will not call upon the President until Saturday.

During the evening a number of reporters and correspondents called at the hotel and endeavored to see Mr. Chamberlain, but the detective who stood guard over the august diplomat brought back word in every instance that Mr. Chamberlain was too tired to see anyone this evening. He would be willing to see all comers and answer all questions which might be addressed to him to-morrow, and appointed 5 o'clock as the hour which would be most convenient for meeting the questioners. One of the detectives was asked how long he had been traveling with the party, but he declined to give any information beyond the fact that he and his confreres had been with them since they arrived in New York. He said that the Secretary of State would perhaps make public any desired information on that score, and he intimated that he had been employed by the Government to look after the welfare of the British party. Mr. Putnam, who is one of the American commissioners, said to-night that neither he nor Mr. Angell had yet met Mr. Chamberlain or Sir Charles Tupper. He said that as soon as they come together an effort will be made to secure an early business meeting. It was his desire, and he thought that the other American commissioners shared the desire, that the whole matter should be gotten through with as soon as possible, as it is desirable that the treaty, if one is forthcoming, shall be submitted to the Senate for approval at the earliest possible moment.

Mr. Chamberlain's Mission.

Toronto, Nov. 18.—A Globe's special cable says: The interest in Mr. Chamberlain's doings is not particularly keen here, as it is generally felt that the serious business he has undertaken has not been really touched yet. No one, knowing Mr. Chamberlain, attaches any importance to the statement that he is in the best spirits and confident of success, since Mr. Chamberlain was never known to be otherwise respecting any work in hand. Satisfaction is felt at the more diplomatic tone of his recent utterances.

Stanley's Mad Time in Africa.

Brussels, Nov. 17.—News received by mail from the Congo says Tippon Tib failed to keep his promise to reinforce Explorer Stanley at Yambuya. Whether his failure was due to treachery or to the opposition of neighboring tribes is not known. It is unofficially rumored here that there has been fighting between the natives and Stanley's force and that the rear guard of the latter has been cut off.

THE BLOOD-SPOTTED MONSTER.

Mayor Howland's New Name for Strong Drink.

Toronto, Nov. 18.

At the Thanksgiving service at the Cherlestreet Presbyterian Church last night Mayor Howland spoke at great length and with vigor on the drink question. He described the fearful drunkenness of Chicago, which he had recently witnessed. He had then a "thanksgiving" day on account of the better state of things in Toronto. He should like to see the man who would advocate such a state of things for this city. How far into Lake Ontario they would pitch such a man! [Applause.] He would not sweep taverns away, but he would purge them of the drink and its inseparable evils. Having enlarged on this, he said: "I hate the infernal traffic. No pleas can excuse it; its effects are fearful—how much so no tongue can express." [Applause.] Those who sanctioned it sanctioned wickedness and dire results. The drink traffic was corrupting and destroying our manhood and womanhood every day. He would say of the saloons: "Out with them; they are evil, and their effects are foul!" [Applause.]

The Mayor then severely condemned church members and so-called temperance men for palliating what was evil, and that continually. He graphically depicted those evils, spoke of the "murdered souls" which it caused, the domestic misery, the lost reputations, and the prison life. He would rather die than sanction such results by any vote he gave. They ought to seek to remedy and prevent these evils and not to perpetuate them. [Applause.]

The time had come, said His Worship, when no Christian church should recognize anyone directly or indirectly connected with the drink trade. [Renewed applause.] The cry should be, "Out with the blood-spotted monster." The Mayor next denied that it could be possible that there should be more drinking with less facilities thereto. The contrary was asserted by those only who were connected with or in sympathy with the liquor trade. Next His Worship gave statistics showing the great decrease in cases of drunkenness in each province and town which had adopted the Scott Act. He gave what he said were official figures and claimed that they proved, spite of all interested statements, that a wonderful result had been achieved. He had over and over again listened to and successfully refuted the arguments of those who sought to prove the Scott Act had been a failure, but as regarded decrease of drunkenness and general order and sobriety he maintained without fear of contradiction that these desirable results had been promoted. [Applause.] There was nothing really effective except Prohibition, and if they listened to their "temperance" friends they would die of their boasted remedies. High licenses and regulations would not cure the evil. They must in this—the most important question of the time—be "out and out" and not be humbugged by the sophistries of so-called "temperance" and "moderate" friends. [Applause.]

He had, he confessed, an abhorrence of "half and half" men, and would not, and he hoped his audience would not, promise a vote for any one who on the question was not "out and out." [Renewed applause]. The Mayor enlarged on the evil results of the "moderation" system, and said it was a mournful sight to go through our cemeteries and read the "carved lies" of the victims of those who had been killed by drink. There was no other such fearful curse, and those who on any pretense indulged in the "vile thing" were on a dangerous downward course, although professing to be safe. Tragic illustrations of this were given by the Mayor, who concluded an hour's vigorous speech amidst great applause.

TORONTO TOPICS.

Archbishop Lynch has made the following changes amongst the clergy of the diocese of Toronto: Archdeacon Cassidy has been removed from Dixie to Adjala; Father McSpiritt goes from Adjala to Toronto Gore; Father Whitney from the Gore to Caledon; Father Gallagher from Caledon to Flos; Father McPhillips from Flos to be assistant at St. Catharines with Dean Harris; Father Harold from Niagara to Dixie; Father Shanahan from St. Catharines to Niagara; Father McMahon from Smithville to Brechin; Father Davis from Brechin to assist Father Harold in Dixie; Father Minnehan from Brockton to Penetanguishene Reformatory; and Father Nevin from St. Michael's Cathedral to be assistant at Brockton. Father Maguire, late of Quebec, has been attached to the staff of St. Michael's Cathedral.

The Board of Regents of Victoria College are summoned to meet this morning in the Metropolitan Church at 11 a.m., to consider the appointment of a successor to the late Principal Nelles. Among the names mentioned are those of Dr. Burwash, Dr. Sutherland, Dr. Ryckman, Dr. Burns and Dr. Carman. All of these divines received their training at Victoria. Dr. Burwash is said to be the probable man—certainly the one most favorably mentioned.

The Refuge for Fallen Women, conducted by the Salvation Army, at Victoria-street and Wilton-avenue, is being enlarged and renovated. A new drain is being put in, and yesterday noon whilst one of the workmen was digging 12 ft. 6 in. below the surface of the street a large mass of the sandy excavated earth fell upon him and buried him. Mr. William Paget, 73 McGee-street, the contractor, came up at the time and seeing only the top of the man's hat projecting over the earth realized what had happened and dug his man out. He was no worse for his temporary burial and after restoratives had been applied continued his work.

A report was current yesterday that the Grand Trunk had secured control of the Northern Railway. A director of the latter road, when questioned by a friend, declined to say whether it was so or not. Mr. Van Horne wired to Toronto that he had heard nothing of it. General Manager Barker is in England.

The other day Richard Goode, 3rd Con. Whitchurch, near White Rose, was going through a field near his house, when his dog suddenly treed a lynx, which he afterwards brought down with a rifle ball. It was found to be 5 feet 2 inches in length from the nose to the tip of the tail, and stood nearly two feet high. This is the second shot in those parts this fall.

Rev. John Langtry, M.A., rector of St. Luke's, has been appointed rural dean of Toronto and its surroundings.

ECHOS FROM TRAFALGAR SQUARE.

Ex-M.P. Saunders Discharged From Custody—The Radicals Jubilant.

London, Nov. 17.—Wm. Saunders, an ex-member of Parliament who was arrested last week while addressing a crowd in Trafalgar-square, was arraigned in court to-day. He was charged with disorderly conduct in speaking at Trafalgar-square and thereby causing a disorderly assemblage. He was also charged with obstructing the police. Crown Counsel admitted that the charges were unsatisfactory and requested that they be dismissed. Mr. Saunders insisted on a conviction. The magistrate, however, dismissed the charges on the ground that a breach of the prohibitive order of Gen. Warren, the Police Superintendent, did not form a statutory offence. The Radicals are jubilant over the result of the arrest and may possibly revoke their decision not to meet in Trafalgar-square on Sunday.

AFFAIRS IN IRELAND.

The Verdict of the Ballinrobe Jury Quashed in Queen's Bench.

Dublin, Nov. 17.—Mr. Harrington, M.P., in a letter published to-day says the Irish Members of Parliament always know where to find Mr. Parnell, who is never absent when Irish politics urgently demand his presence.

A warrant has been issued for the arrest of Mr. Sheehy, M.P., who failed to appear before the court at Castlerea in answer to a summons.

Lord Dufferin's Tenants Ask a Reduction.

Dublin, Nov. 17.—The tenants, including the householder, of the County Down estates of Lord Dufferin, have asked a 40 per cent reduction of rents and an extension of time for paying them.

Goschen's Advice to Liberal-Unionists.

London, Nov. 17.—Mr. Goschen, addressing a meeting of Liberal-Unionists, urged the Unionists to continue in active co-operation with the Conservatives. They need not fear reactionary measures by the Government. On the contrary, the Cabinet's legislative program would command the support of advanced Liberals, as it would deal with many questions affecting social and industrial interests, and would leave on the statute book measures of a truly liberal spirit.

O'Brien Starving Himself.

Dublin, Nov. 17.—Visitors to Tullamore Jail declare that Mr. O'Brien has greatly changed, and that he refuses to take nourishing food.

During an eviction near Dungarvon to-day four policemen, several bailiffs and twenty spectators were injured. The members of the evicted family escaped from the house by an underground passage.

A Verdict Quashed.

Dublin, Nov. 16.—Notices have been posted in the County of Clare ordering a boycott of the Shannon Steamship Company for conveying prisoners to the Limerick Jail.

The Freeman's Journal says that the Government has decided to abandon the prosecution of Lord Mayor Sullivan for publishing in his paper, The Nation, reports of meetings of suppressed branches of the National League.

The Express and Irish Times comment on what they call the undoubted uprising and spread of loyalty in the south of Ireland. They say the country has recognized that the Government will not permit a defiance of the law with impunity.

The tenants on the County Down estates of Lord Londonderry, the Lord Lieutenant, have declined to accept an offer of a fifty per cent. reduction of their rents and will carry out their determination to enter the land court.

Dublin, Nov. 16.—The Court of Queen's Bench has quashed the verdict of the coroner's jury at Mitchelstown in the case of the victims of the police shooting of Sept. 9. The court takes ground that the inquest was illegal, the jury was irregularly empanelled and the coroner's conduct was illegal and partial.

The Pope Disapproves.

London, Nov. 16.—The Times says it is reported that the Pope has entirely disapproved the lawlessness and political fanaticism of the people in Ireland and has sent instructions to the clergy with reference to their future attitude regarding the relations between landlord and tenant.

THE TRAFFIC IN DECORATIONS.

Evidence that M. Wilson Tampered With Letters in the Caffarel Case.

Paris, Nov. 16.—M. Wilson appeared before the examining magistrate to-day. He insisted that the letters produced at the Caffarel trial and which, it was claimed, were ante-dated, were actually written in 1886. An expert was called who declared that the letters were written recently. The manufacturer of the paper on which they were written swore that the paper was not woven until 1885. The magistrate has summoned Wilson's secretary who wrote the disputed letters.

Mme. Ratazzi, who has been condemned to thirteen months' imprisonment in connection with the decoration scandals and other prisoners convicted of the same offence, have appealed from their sentences, offering to testify and prove that General D'Andlau accepted money for obtaining Legion of Honor decorations.

On the Eve of a Grave Crisis.

Paris, Nov. 14.—The Right has decided to force a debate on the Wilson affair in the Chamber of Deputies to-morrow. The Extreme Left, being in favor of a prompt settlement, will support the Right. Intense agitation prevails among the deputies who recognize that they are on the eve of a grave crisis.

THE ARCH-ANARCH IN JAIL.

Here He Gets into Trouble From His Inflammatory Utterances.

New York, Nov. 17.—John Most, the Anarchist, was arrested at noon to-day by Inspector Byrnes' detectives. He was found in his office at 167 William-street and was taken to police headquarters, where he was locked up. Most was indicted this morning by the grand jury. The indictment charges him with using violent and seditious language at the Anarchist meeting last Saturday night. The police-men who were at the meeting furnished the testimony on which Most was indicted.

When Most was arrested he protested his innocence, declaring that he had always obeyed the laws and always intended to do so. The crime charged against him is misdemeanor and it is punishable with a year imprisonment or a fine of $250, or both. Most was arrested on the same charge on April 23, 1886. He was convicted and received a sentence of both fine and imprisonment.

The "Alarm" Again to be Heard.

Chicago, Nov. 17.—To-morrow The Alarm, of which Parsons the Anarchist was editor, will be issued for the first time since the conviction. The leading article, written by Dyer D. Lum, the successor of Parsons, says: "The former editor of The Alarm has been strangled to death by the state. The zeal of legal disapproval has been placed upon free speech. Henceforth workingmen and women must keep silent, or only clamor for relief through the lines laid down for them."

DOINGS OF THE DYNAMITERS.

Nine Months, Gentlemanly and Very Small in Their Contributions.

Pine Bluffs, Ark., Nov. 17.—Last evening in the switch yard of the St. Louis, Arkansas and Texas Railway a locomotive passed over a dynamite shell which exploded and seriously injured John Ross.

Gas Pipe Bomb at an Orphanage Door.

Cincinnati, Nov. 17.—At 10 o'clock last night the door bell of St. Joseph's Orphan Asylum in Cumminsville rang and the attendant, on going to the door, found a gas pipe bomb nearly two feet long with a fuse attached. The fuse was quickly cut off.

A Bomb Under a Building.

Troy, N.Y., Nov. 17.—The postoffice at Schaghticoke was robbed last night. Six cents in money and $200 worth of postage stamps were taken from the safe which was blown open. It was discovered that an attempt had been made to blow up Canfield & Scougal's carriage factory by means of a dynamite bomb, which was found under a corner of the building.

A Suppposed Dynamiter Set Free.

London, Nov. 17.—Cowtaish, the man who was arrested at Greenock on landing from a steamer from America because he had dynamite cartridges in his possession, has been released.

The Anarchists Compared with the Saviour.

Hartford, Conn., Nov. 17.—A petition was yesterday freely signed by members of Unity Church calling a special meeting to take action in relation to Rev. J. C. Kimball, the pastor, who has created contempt by his Sunday sermon, comparing the Chicago Anarchists with the Saviour. There will be a call for his resignation.

AMERICAN FISHING INTERESTS.

Meeting at New York of the National Fishery Association.

New York, Nov. 16.—The National Fishery Association met to-day in this city with Pres. F. B. Babson of Gloucester, Mass., in the chair. He made an address on American fishing interests past and present. He claimed that the fisheries and their attendant industries had become a matter of strong national interest and that it was of vital importance that the Government should at once take action to protect its interests.

Reports from different parts of the country were presented, showing that the fishery interest was in need of legislation to save it from destruction.

Secretary Wilcox reported that there were 121 firms in the association and that a movement is on foot to send a fleet of Atlantic fishermen to the Pacific slope where the trade has not been developed. The mackerel fishermen did fairly well off the New England coast this year, and the cod fishery off Labrador did better than ever before. The demand for fish has been greater than ever.

Treasurer Pew spoke against Commercial Union with Canada on the ground that it would destroy the fishing industry, Canada, he asserted, would never consent to a union that she did not have the best of. The policy of the United States should be to build up its own commerce not that of another country.

The committee on the plan of action presented a report recommending that the representatives of the association in each locality interested should be considered a committee to collect money for the support of the association and look after its interests, and that F. L. Babson be appointed as the agent to represent them at Washington.

Resolutions were adopted demanding the recognition of the fishery industry as an important national affair which should be placed on equality with other industries by protection against the importation of foreign fish and securing equal rights for fishermen in foreign ports accorded to foreign vessels in our harbors.

A BANQUET DECLINED.

A few days ago several prominent citizens of Peterborough waited upon Mr. Geo. A. Cox to tender him, on behalf of the citizens, a banquet on the occasion of his removal to Toronto. Mr. Cox gratefully and gratefully acknowledged the honor implied in the offer, but said in view of the high esteem in which he stood in the citizens of the people of Peterborough, but he begged to decline the proposed banquet on the ground that it would be his permanent removal from Peterborough, and he did not wish such an idea to go abroad. He explained that the expansion of his business had necessitated the establishment of an office in Toronto, and this required the presence of some members of his family in the city. Therefore, he had purchased a residence in Toronto and his home would be, in effect, in both places. That is he would spend the first three days of the week in Toronto and the remainder in Peterborough. He would consider this town his home, as much as he would Toronto. The people of Peterborough will be glad that the rumour of Mr. Cox's permanent removal from town has resolved itself into this satisfactory compromise, and that we still retain the citizenship of the leading financial gentleman of Ontario, whose active and personal association with the growth and prosperity of Peterborough would make his withdrawal from the town a fact to be publicly and generally deplored.

A Day of Thanksgiving.

A Large Congregation in St. Andrew's Church hold Thanksgiving Services.

Seldom has St. Andrew's church contained a larger congregation than assembled Thursday forenoon to participate in the union Thanksgiving services of the Methodists and Presbyterians. Rev. Alex. Bell, pastor of St. Andrew's, opened with prayer. There were a number of appropriate hymns sung at intervals throughout the services. Prayers were also offered up by Rev. Messrs. Tovell and Cleland of Port Hope, the addresses being delivered by Rev. Messrs. Wallace and Torrance.

Rev. Mr. WALLACE said that on Thanksgiving Day it was only natural that people should ask themselves if they have more reason for cheerfulness or despondency, for hope or fear, for thanksgiving or for humiliation. There were many pessimists who took the gloomiest possible view of the present Christian world. The reverend speaker referred to the ancient example of this same class in the twenty-first chapter of Isaiah, where the question is asked, taunting in view of the calamities of Judah. "Watchman, what of the night?" And the answer then and now is, the morning cometh and also the night—the morning for God's Church, the night for God's enemies. The modern form of that taunting question refers to the

and vices rampant in Christian lands. The speaker then ran over the list of specifications illustrating the point, in the various spheres of life and thought, naming amongst them the doctrine of socialism. Then, he said, let the measure of truth there is in these accusations against the Christian church be granted; but it was to be remembered that while Grumbler & Co. did a large business, they were a most unreliable firm. He next drew their attention to the bright side of the picture; to the vast body of reliable and honest business and public men; to the great valor of many a man who dies at his post on a railway to save the passengers, and men like Gordon and Stanley, who open out the dark continents to civilization and Christianity. And also to the great amelioration in the various conditions of life, to the application of modern science, to the high state of education in our Christian lands to-day; to that freedom which makes it possible; for us to boast, slaves cannot breathe in Christendom to-day. He also mentioned the political progress which has marked our time. In all times of transition and change there is more or less inconvenience; and there are thoughtful men who, not liking

THE DUST KICKED UP

by their own generation, and not being able to pass it, lag behind it. He then referred to the condition of the Christian church and the charge that the churches had become worldly, that christian faith has decayed, and that the whole structure of christianity, like ice, must melt before the sun of modern thought. He pointed out that if the men who say these things had themselves rejected christianity, they were likely to suppose that the rest of the world had rejected it also; but the facts give no reason for such alarm. The various enterprises of the christian church were never so widespread and successful as to-day, in spite of Voltaire's assertion 100 years ago that christianity would disappear before the nineteenth century. He thought the heart of the church was proved to be sound by the increasing spirit of unity and brotherly love, and because the thought of the church centred more than ever around the work and person of Christ.

And all is well, though faith and form
Be rendered in the night of fear;
What reeds the storm to them that hear
A deeper voice across the storm.

The day he said was not yet fully dawned, and the light we see is not that of fading evening, but that of opening morning. The prospects of Christianity are as bright as the promises of God, and in such reasons as to give thanks, not only for our own individual and national mercies, but for the general spread of Christianity throughout the world.

REV. MR. TORRANCE

based his few remarks on the 14th verse of the 50th Psalm: "Offer unto God thanksgiving, and pay thy vows unto the Most High." He spoke of the fact that so many people forget to thank God for their mercies, and asked why it should be so. He enumerated the various reasons offered for ingratitude, on the part of the people, and pressed upon the congregation the many causes for gratitude and thanksgiving they had, exhorting them to lead an earnest Christian life.

A large collection was taken up in aid of the Midnight Mission.

Several members from St. Paul's church choir lent their assistance. The organ was presided over by Messrs. Parker and Jaques.

THEY FAVOR COMMERCIAL UNION.

Resolution Passed by the Farmers' Institute of East Kent.

Kinnowen, Nov. 17.—A very large and representative meeting of the Farmers' Institute of East Kent was held here to-day. The subject under discussion was Commercial Union, the principal speakers being Mr. Valancy E. Fuller and Thos. Shaw, both of Hamilton. The chair was occupied by Mr. C. Darling. Considerable surprise was occasioned by the fact that the several gentlemen who had been invited to speak against Commercial Union failed to put in an appearance although they had promised to be on hand. Among them were Mayor Patterson and R. D. Gaswell of Chatham, who promised to meet Messrs. Fuller and Shaw on the same platform. This is the second time they have failed to come to the scratch. In his remark Mr. Fuller clearly defined the position of Commercial Union, and pointed out the numerous advantages accruing to the agriculturalists in the event of such a union being consummated. Mr. Shaw delivered a very able and logical address, and was listened to with great attention. At the conclusion of Mr. Shaw's address, a manufacturer named Patterson of Chatham, urged that Commercial Union meant annexation to the United States. This theory was laughed at by the farmers present, and Mr. Fuller brought down the house by reminding Mr. Patterson that the farmers of Ontario could manage their own affairs in their own interests independent of the advice of Montreal or Toronto manufacturers. Before the meeting broke up the following resolution was presented:

Moved by Sylvanus J. Shaw, seconded by Mr. Jas. Hurst, that owing to the distressed condition of the agricultural industry of the Dominion of Canada, this meeting, composed of both political parties, desire to express their opinion in favor of Commercial Union or unrestricted reciprocity between the Dominion of Canada and the United States, and that a free commercial policy between the two countries would tend to decrease the distress now experienced by the farmers of Canada, and also that a free commercial policy would not lessen our loyalty to Queen Victoria or endanger British connection.

The resolution was carried almost unanimously only ten, some of these not farmers, voting against it. The farmers of this part of the Dominion are almost a unit for unrestricted trade with the United States.

A meeting of the Farmers' Institute of West Kent was held at Flesherton on the 10th inst., Mr. Mitchell being given by Archibald Campbell, M.P., David Wilson, ex-Warden, Lieut.-Col. Martin and others. Mr. V. E. Fuller made a telling speech in favor of Commercial Union and a motion was passed in favor of it almost unanimously.

THE BASEBALL SPLIT.

The International Association of Professional Clubs resumed its work of effecting an organization at the Rossin House at noon yesterday. President H. B. Cox was in the chair and all the club representatives were present.

The committee appointed to amend the constitution reported several unimportant amendments which were adopted.

Messrs. C. W. Cushman of Buffalo, W. Macpherson of Toronto and J. T. Roberts of Rochester were appointed the Schedule Committee.

The Spalding ball was adopted as the permanent ball.

Secretary White was instructed to engage two umpires at a salary of $200 per month. He was likewise instructed to visit Troy, N.Y., and Utica, N.Y., with a view of ascertaining the desirability of having these two cities in the league.

During the meeting a telegram was read from Mr. Byrne stating that the association would be given recognition and protection under the national agreement.

It was decided to hold the next meeting of the league in Buffalo, on March 17, and that the clubs now in the league shall have the holiday games in Canada and the United States.

The National League Still in Session.

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—The National Baseball League resumed its session to-day. President Young said there had been no progress made so far as he knew toward the settlement of the disputed percentage question, and anticipated that much time would be consumed in its discussion. There was nothing new in the Brotherhood matter.

At the afternoon session a compromise was effected on the percentage question by which the guarantee was fixed at $150, or 25 per cent. of the gross receipts. This is practically a victory for Detroit.

The Brotherhood Committee was admitted to the convention. The players demanded that a committee be appointed to confer with them and after a short fight a committee was appointed.

An Amateur Vindicated.

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—At the meeting of the sub-committee of the National Association of Amateur Athletes of America, the charges against the champion amateur runner, E. C. Carter, of professionalism, were dismissed.

Carter won two medals at the Canadian association's meeting in Toronto this fall, but declined to accept them until these charges were disposed of. It will now be in order for the medals to be sent on to him, if this has not already been done.

HIS TROUBLE IS MOST MALIGNANT.

Satisfactory to His Physicians - His Highness Relies on His Constitution.

SAN REMO, Nov. 17.—Notwithstanding a cold rain the physicians are satisfied with the condition of the Crown Prince. The swelling has entirely disappeared and there is no immediate fear of difficulty of breathing or swallowing. The other local symptoms are satisfactory. There is no fear that tracheotomy will be necessary at present.

Constitution Versus Physic.

BERLIN, Nov. 17.—A despatch to The National Gazette says the German Crown Prince confidently hopes that his good constitution and unbroken physical strength will be of more service to him than medical remedies or the knives of the physicians.

The Prince's Ailment Clear.

LONDON, Nov. 17.—Despatches received here to-day from San Remo say that there has been a discharge of green matter from the Crown Prince's throat which proved to be cancerous. In view of this fact his case is considered much worse, as this type of soft cancer is of the most malignant kind and is regarded as incurable. The German doctors, the report says, are trying to deny the serious, almost critical development of the Prince's ailment which is now clinically and pathologically clear.

Sympathy for the Sufferer.

BERLIN, Nov. 17.—The Imperial Advertiser says that since the saddening news of the serious illness of the Crown Prince was announced the warmest sympathy for the sufferer and for the Emperor has been manifested throughout the German Fatherland and from far abroad. The heavy blow to the heir to the throne and the hard trial of the Emperor and the whole royal household have everywhere produced profound feelings of sympathy. This has found unequivocal expression in the numerous addresses which have reached the Emperor from Germany and from foreign countries, particularly Austria, Russia, France, Belgium, Holland, England, Italy and Spain. Many of the letters received by the Emperor recommend remedies and methods of treatment to effect a cure of the Prince's malady. Some of the writers say they have been afflicted with a similar disease and narrate their own experience. The Emperor is deeply affected by these marks of universal sympathy for his son, and has ordered that all the addresses that have been sent to him be brought to the knowledge of all concerned.

M. WILSON TO BE PROSECUTED.

The French Chamber Decide Against President Grevy's Contention.

PARIS, Nov. 17.—A Committee of the Chamber of Deputies to-day decided that M. Wilson should be prosecuted. The decision was telegraphed to him and he was informed that before proceedings were begun he would be given an opportunity to be heard. He replied that he had no statement to make.

After a brief debate on the report the Chamber, by a vote of 527 to 3, approved the demand for the prosecution of M. Wilson.

The Ministers, after meeting at the Palais du Bourbon to consider the situation, went in a body to the Elysee Palace and informed President Grevy of the decision of the Chambers. M. Maseau then placed his resignation in the hands of M. Grevy, and the President entrusted Minister Falliere temporarily with the duties of Minister of Justice.

The Extreme Left continues to cling to M. Grevy. At the conference of the ministers today President Grevy expressed no intention of resigning.

It is reported that the new telegraph convention which gave the Great Northern Telegraph Company a monopoly for sixteen years has been rejected

In Brief, And To The Point.

Dyspepsia is dreadful. Disordered liver is misery. Indigestion is a foe to good nature. The human digestive apparatus is one of the most complicated and wonderful things in existence. It is easily put out of order.

Greasy food, tough food, sloppy food, bad cookery, mental worry, late hours, irregular habits, and many other things which ought not to be, have made the American people a nation of dyspeptics.

But Green's August Flower has done a wonderful work in reforming this sad business and making the American people so healthy that they can enjoy their meals and be happy.

Remember:—No happiness without health. But Green's August Flower brings healthand h happiness to the dyspeptic. Ask your druggist for a bottle. Seventy-five cents.

Peterborough Selected.

The Toronto Globe, referring to Rev. S. J. Shorey's acceptance of the call to the pastorate of the Charlotte street church, Peterborough, says :—"Mr. Shorey had several other calls in his hands when he signified his acceptance, and his name had been frequently heard mentioned in connection with the Metropolitan church of this city."

Sold by weight! What? Blankets that are Blankets, at Turnbull's.

The Ball.

Eighty couples attended the ball under the auspices of the Peterborough Baseball Club in Snowden's Hall Wednesday evening. It was one of the most successful affairs of the kind ever held in Peterborough. Each member of the committee did his best to make it a success, and the result was most gratifying. Music was furnished by an orchestra composed of Messrs. R. Armstrong, H. Sherwood, A. Wallis and W. Maxwell. Mr. E. Welch, the popular restaurateur, supplied a supper for the large number in attendance that did credit to his skill and enterprise in that line.

A World to Conquer.

About two months ago Messrs. T. Dolan & Co. opened a branch store at Port Perry, and a few days ago the stock was sold to Messrs. P. McCrea & Son of that place. No sooner was the transaction closed than Messrs. T. Dolan & Co. received a telegram from Montreal asking them to find a first-class man to look after the disposal of the bankrupt stock of Southern, Cathro & Marks, Lindsay. Mr. James Dolan, who was about to return to Peterborough, having been freed from Port Perry, was selected as manager and he arrived in town on Wednesday and went Thursday morning to Lindsay to enter upon his duties. Mr. James Dolan is the most experienced merchantile missionary in the country and he will, doubtless, speedily dispose of the Southern, Cathro & Marks stock.

Mrs. Scott-Siddons.

The rush for chairs at Hartley,s for Mrs. Scott-Siddons' engagement on the 22nd inst. is phenomenal and surprises her most ardent admirers. The Ottawa Citizen says :—

"Mrs. Siddons returns to America in the full flush of her European triumphs with her loveliness at its height and with increased artistic powers, and although successful on the dramatic stage she prefers the platform as it gives her a wider scope for her many powers. It would be difficult to speak honestly of Mrs. Scott-Siddons' performance without drawing largely on the superlatives. Her appearance is regal, her face quite as beautiful and infinitely more expressive than mine out of ten professional beauties, and her voice is delightfully resonant."

The P. A. A. are to be congratulated on their efforts to give the lovers of dramatic recitals a treat, and we are glad to learn that their efforts are meeting with such grand success.

The Peterborough Rangers.

Annual Inspection of the 57th Battalion —The Men Praised by Col. Villiers.

The annual inspection of the 57th Battalion, Peterborough Rangers, took place on the Riverside Park Thursday afternoon, before Col. Villiers, D.A.G. About two o'clock the Battalion, comprising the six companies, each with nearly its full complement of men, left the drill shed proceeded by the Battalion Band, and marched down George Street to Hunter and thence to the Park, to the inspiriting strains of "General Boulanger's March," the new piece of military music presented to the band by Mr. S. Hartley. Arrived at the park, battalion and company drill was performed in a manner that gave the officers and spectators a high opinion of the volunteers of Peterborough. The officers present were :—

Col. Villiers, D.A.G., inspecting ; Major King, district paymaster; Lieut.-Col. J. Z. Rogers (mounted), commanding officer ; Major Greer and Major Bell, both mounted. Staff officers—Surgeon Kincaid (mounted), Paymaster Capt. Howard, Quartermaster Miller, Asst.-Surgeon Gemmo. Company officers—No. 1, Lieut. Donaldson, Lieut. Mason ; No. 2, Capt. Langford, Lieut. Lee ; No. 3, Lieut. Peck ; No. 4, Capt. Birdsall, Lieut. Hill; No. 5, Capt. Burke; No. 6, Capt. Brennan, Lieut. Hammond.

WORDS OF PRAISE.

The parade and inspection were witnessed by a large number of people. Upon returning to the drill shed, after the roll-call, Col. Villiers addressed the Battalion. He began by referring to the inspection last year before General Middleton and himself, upon which occasion the Peterborough Rangers had not done themselves much credit; and when he arrived in town this morning, he said, he was afraid that they were going to be about the same as last year, and he wished in his heart that the Peterborough Rangers was a rural battalion again, for as such they used to be one of the best regiments in the camp. And, he said, had his fears been realized he was prepared to give them a piece of his mind. "But, men of the 57th," he said, "I am delighted with you." He went on to say that they were a fine lot of able-bodied young men, their general appearance was very clean and very soldier-like and their movements on parade grounds—particularly their marching—were excellent. "Why," said he, "your marching is as good as the best of the city corps I have seen. It does you a great deal of credit from the Colonel down. I am delighted." He hoped that now the battalion was in good form the men would not allow themselves to retrograde by neglecting drill during the winter. He assured them that if he returned next fall and found them gone backward he would reduce them to the standing of a rural battalion. [This closing remark by the Colonel was accompanied by a knowing glance, which said plainly that he was not the least bit afraid of such a catastrophe.

Lieut-Col. J. Z. Rogers also spoke a few words of commendation to the men, and, after giving out an official order, the men were dispersed.

OFFICERS' SUPPER.

In the evening, at the Morgan House, a supper was held at which all the Battalion officers who attended parade in the afternoon, and Col. Rogers and Capt. Stapleton, of the cavalry, attended. The supper was an informal affair. Military topics formed the subjects of discussion, the new armoury and the advisability of forming a Battalion Rifle Association being talked over among other things.

M'lle Rhea.

An opportunity to see an actress of the many qualities and great reputation of M'lle Rhea is afforded theatre goers only once in a lifetime. Her appearance on Saturday evening next in her great impersonation of Galatea is an event in dramatic annals that may never occur again. She will be supported by an excellent company and a performance of unusual excellence can be anticipated. The Victoria News says of M'lle Rhea :—

"A brilliant dramatic season was inaugurated at the Victoria last evening by M'lle Rhea, and a splendid company of artists. Gilbert's mythological comedy, Pygmalion and Galatea was presented in a manner well calculated to arouse the admiration of our theatre-goers. Rhea's conception and portrayal of the character of Galatea showed the true artiste. Her transition from the chiselled beauty of a lifeless statue to moving, living, breathing flesh and blood, a woman in the full bloom of womanhood, was indeed a marvelous piece of her acting. Again when it flashed upon her as yet untrained mind that Pygmalion did not love her as she loved him, the wild despairing, yet resigned look and action, betokened the true and innocent woman. M'lle Rhea is an artiste such as our city has not seen before."

A False Alarm of Fire.

Last night about eleven o'clock there was an alarm of fire for No. 4 Ward. The brigade, with all the paraphernalia of their business, turned out in a twinkling, but the fire was a bogus one. It appears that a gentleman in town, on hospitable thought intent, undertook to show a gentleman from a neighbouring village the working of our fire system. The former strapped a Babcock on his back, and, intentionally or accidentally, rang No. 4 alarm. Instantly all was bustle and commotion, the firemen were on hand, the horses rushed from their stalls and in a "jiffey" the whole brigade was out. The man with the Babcock, seeing what was to pay, and not being able to loosen the Babcock, took refuge behind the door. In a few minutes back rushed the brigade, the boys disgusted and enraged at the false alarm. One of them rushed at the stranger and shouted, "That's the man that done it." The latter was terribly frightened. He felt he was accused of something terrible, and expected to be thrown into the river or have the hose turned on him. But after a while the trouble was amicably adjusted.

Festivity and Farewell.

The Annual Social Reunion the Occasion of a Pleasing Ceremony—Magnificent Testimony to the Popularity of Mrs. Geo. A. Cox—Address and Presentation —Remarks of Mr. Cox in Reply—Meeting With the Bold.

The Charlotte Street Methodist church was the scene of a large gathering on the double occasion of the annual social re-union of the members of the congregation, and of paying a farewell tribute to Mrs. Geo. A. Cox on the eve of her removal to her Toronto home. In the earlier part of the evening tea was served on the good old gospel plan—free—to every member of the congregation, who desired to be present. Tea edibles as is invariably the case in Charlotte street were of an unusually excellent quality, and a very large number was in attendance, the body of the church, to which adjournment was made after tea, being comfortably filled. Mr. Wm. Clarkson, occupied the chair and on the platform were Rev. L. Tovell, pastor and Rev. F. H. Wallace, M.A., B.D.

After the singing of a hymn and prayer by the pastor, the CHAIRMAN gave a short speech referring in particular to a special part of the cause of the gathering—to give an address to Mrs. Cox on the occasion of her going to Toronto to reside. He called on Mr. James Stevenson, M.P., who read the following

ADDRESS:

MRS. GEO. A. COX :

DEAR MADAM,—The members of the Charlotte street Methodist church learn with the deepest regret of your approaching departure from Peterborough, and, consequently, of the severance of your active connection with the congregation. We hardly need assure you that your absence will, in many ways, be deeply felt.

For the past fifteen years you have been connected with the Charlotte street Methodist church, and during that time have been actively and zealously associated with the promotion of its every interest—spiritual, social and material.

Your religious relations with the church have afforded the example of a uniform, equable, unostentatious and consistent Christian department, and to this you have added a worthy example of energetic participation in the work of the promotion of the more material interests of the church.

In the Sunday School you have been a faithful and acceptable teacher, regular in attendance, and indefatigable in your efforts for the advancement of this nursery of the church.

As President and member of the Ladies Aid Society, you have done a noble work—you have supplied encouragment and hope at all times, but especially when encouragement was most needed and hope was faintest. Of the means which God has given you, you have bestowed with no illiberal nor grudging hand; no appeal in the interests of the church or church work has been made to you in vain—indeed appeal was unnecessary; for you have ever been ready to anticipate such wants and to promptly supply them.

If full expression of our appreciation of your good qualities and valuable services were given it might be thought flattering by those not fully acquainted, as we are, with the course and incidents of your past relations with us in these respects, but we may be permitted to say that in being deprived of your presence amongst us, we lose one of our most respected and best beloved church members, one of our best friends and one of our most active co-operators in all good words, but we are sure that the work which circumstances make it necessary for you to lay down here, will be taken up in another community and in connection with another church, for you love the Master's work too well to retire from the vineyard before the plaudit-signal, "Well done, good and faithful servant", is heard.

We are cheered by the hope that your separation from us may not be complete. We know and feel that your interest in the Charlotte Street Methodist Church, can never pass away, and we hope to have frequent opportunities of here renewing the sacred and social relations, which have so brightened our church gatherings in the past.

Therefore, we make our farewell not good-bye but, au revoir, and in token of our love and respect, we ask your acceptance of this present, to remind you that while the flight of time is marked by its dial, you will be held in remembrance as our true friend in prosperity o: adversity.

In conclusion we pray that you and yours may be happy in your new home, and that you may gather about you, if possible, as many and as warm friends as those you leave in Peterborough. We can find no more fitting words to give emphasis to our farewell prayers and good wishes, than the sublime benediction of Holy Writ—"The Lord bless thee and keep thee; the Lord make his face to shine upon thee, and be gracious unto thee; the Lord lift up his countenance upon thee, and give thee peace."

Mr. STEVENSON, in addition to the address, said that he could scarcely realize the fact that Mrs. Cox was going to Toronto. She was bound to Peterborough by so many near and dear ties—the associations of a lifetime—that he had no doubt we should often see her in Peterborough. She would be missed in the church—there would be a vacant pew which had seldom been vacant for the past fifteen years. The example of her regular attendance at church had been an incentive to the attendance of others. He said that it was largely due to Mr. and Mrs. Cox that they possessed the handsome church they worshipped in ; without them they would not have had the organ, and their services on behalf of the church could not be easily estimated. For himself he regretted that Mr. and Mrs. Cox were going to Toronto, and he hoped they would soon return to Peterborough. He did not know how Mrs. Cox's place would be supplied. In her removal to Toronto the church was losing its best member and its best friend.

Mr. Cox, speaking in behalf of Mrs. Cox gratefully acknowledged what he termed the flattering sentiments of the address and returned thanks for the splendid present. It was said that the most tender part to touch a business man was his pocket, but to-night he had been touched in a tenderer spot than his pocket. He was affected, touched and exceedingly grateful at the gratifying expression of esteem which Mrs. Cox had received from the congregation of the Charlotte street Methodist Church. He, however, wished to protest against one idea involved in the address—that of removal. He was sorry to have the idea go abroad that he was leaving Peterborough. He explained that the expansion of his business made it necessary to establish an office in Toronto, and this made it necessary that a residence should also be provided there. He himself spent two or three days in the week in Toronto and one of his sons had removed there last June. Though Mrs. Cox would be in Toronto, his establishment would be still maintained here—his son-in-law Mr. Davis keeping the Peterborough house open and it was probable that both himself and Mrs. Cox would spend considerable time in Peterborough, and keep up their connection with the church here. He did not intend to abandon his pew nor any church or other interest in Peterborough. Thirty of the most pleasant years of his life had been passed in this town; Mrs. Cox had lived here all her life and had formed strong ties of friendship and association, and both he and she would be sorry to see those ties broken. They would always regard Peterborough as their home and their friends here would always find a warm welcome at 460 Sherbourne street, Toronto. (Applause.) They were not going to leave Peterborough—they expected to spend half their time in town. He reiterated his thanks for the kind address and the splendid present to Mrs. Cox. He was almost as proud of it as he was of her. (Applause.)

Mr. CLENDON, in a brief speech, gave expression to his high appreciation of Mr. and Mrs. Cox, and to the great loss the church and town would sustain by their departure.

Rev. Mr. TOVELL also extended his felicitations on the occasion.

The present referred to is a magnificent mantle clock in black marble, with French movement. Each side of the dial is flanked with columns of green veined marble. It is a beautiful specimen of art and is completed by a silver tablet affixed to the base bearing the engraving :—"From the Members of the Charlotte street Methodist Church to Mrs. Geo. A. Cox, as a Token of Respect and Esteem." The present included a beautiful companion pair of bronze statuettes about two feet in height, of French workmanship, representing "Distress and Succor",—a shipwrecked mariner and his rescuer.

At the conclusion of the presentation ceremony a movement was made to reduce the debt on the church from $7,300 to $3,000. The sum of $3250 was soon subscribed, with a prospect of securing the required balance early next week, when full particulars will be available for publication.

St. Andrew's Society.

The adjourned meeting of the St. Andrew's Society was held on Thursday evening. In the absence of the President, Mr. Jas. Hendry, first Vice-President, occupied the chair. The committee appointed to audit the Treasurer's accounts presented their report, showing a balance of $67.29, which was received and adopted. A report from the celebration committee was read, and on motion the offer of Mr. Daly, of the Grand Central Hotel, to supply the supper was accepted. Tickets were placed at 75c. each, and the committee was instructed to proceed with the further arrangements immediately. The following resolution of condolence was passed before the meeting adjourned :—

Resolved—That we, the members of the St. Andrew's Society of the Town and County of Peterborough, desire to express our sorrow for the loss we have sustained of two of our most valuable members, by the death of our late ex-President, John Erskine, and our late 3rd Vice-President, John Stewart.

The prominent part which the late Mr. Erskine had taken in promoting the welfare of the Society, especially during the period he held the position of President, makes our loss all the more keenly felt now. Besides being a painstaking officer, he was a man of rare integrity and uprightness of character, and his good name will be cherished and remembered by all who came in contact with him.

By the death of the late Mr. Stewart the Society suffers the loss of an energetic member, an enthusiastic Scotchman, and a true lover of social intercourse among the Scotch. Being possessed of a congenial and warm hearted disposition, he will be missed from our ranks for his cheerfulness and encouragment under every circumstance.

We, therefore, beg to convey to the members of the bereaved families of our late departed officers, our expression of condolence at their great loss, as well as to put on record this testimony of the warm respect in which they were held by this Society.

A Double Headed Business Man.

The Romans worshipped a god, Janus, with two faces, one looking before and one behind, but there are some live business men who look both ways at once, and no stroke of enterprise from them is a surprise. Such a man is the nationally notorous gough, the wonderful cheap man. If he sees a bargain in the interests of the people he snaps it up like a terrior would a rat. The other day a C. P. R. train was bowling along over the Northwest prairies with an $18,000 stock of spick and span new dry goods en route for British Columbia. A hitch occurred—the original bargain was cancelled and gough bought the entire stock of $18,000 at 50c. on the dollar. Just like gough—bringing down his game on the wing—buying dry goods sweeping through the Northwest at 50 miles an hour! This $18,000 stock of dry goods will arrive in town on Saturday. On Monday and Tuesday gough's store will be closed to arrange for the placing of the dry goods stock for sale, and then look out for a hurricane of bargains, such as, by way of example, a pair of socks for two cents and 30 yards of cotton for $1.00! Goods will be sold at prices to make minor dry goods men gnash their teeth. All the stock is new and the contents of the cases will never see the light of day, till they are opened in gough's store. A double cyclone of bargains will be offered after next Tuesday. The dry goods stock is so low in price that the clothing will be marked down down down, to keep it company. Then rush to gough's and get the largest bargains in everything ever offered in Canada.

Political Address.

Mr. J. R. Stratton, M.P.P., addressed a largely attended meeting of his constituents at Young's Point on Thursday night. His remarks were a review of the legislative work of the past session of the Ontario Legislature. Mr. T. N. Lee occupied the chair. At the conclusion of the meeting the chairman referred to the fact that it was the first occasion on which a representative thought it worth while to confer with his constituents upon public matters in the interval of elections. Resolutions of thanks for Mr. Stratton's address were passed by the meeting.

A Domestic Drama.

Scene—John Plume's fitting-room—Saturday Morning.

JOHN—Polly!

POLLY—Yes, John.

JOHN—I got a letter to-day from Knapp Bros., to the effect that we must clean Christmas and bring the bills in!

POLLY—Oh, how splendid! I would like to go, but—the children and I will have to have new dresses.

JOHN—Bother the new dresses!—always new dresses. Talk about new dresses with tax bills to pay, coal bills to pay, wood bills to pay, and ——— to pay generally—Don't say anything more about it—Tootsie, get my slippers.

POLLY—But John, we might manage—Ah, I have it! I was down there the other day with Mrs. Scraps, and we dropped into the Golden Lion—she wanted to see some remnants. And the gods I laugh. For of all the heaps of remnants I ever saw that beat all; and John, you know, there were every kind of dress goods so cheap as dirt. There isn't enough to make a whole swell dress, but I can get some pieces of velvet and cashmere and fix up my old black cashmere to look as good as new, and it won't cost hardly anything.

JOHN (the average husband)—Why the deuce didn't you say so before? Why haven't you got your dresses fixed already! I'm sick of having plenty of money. I give you a five-spot, a half a ten and a fiver—half a tenner, all you might have known what was the matter with you and got stuff at Fair's and had your dresses ready now.

POLLY—Well, John, $1.50 don't go far in fitting five mouths, and they have such appetites, especially this little darling—(hugging Tottie till the buttons flew off her boots).

JOHN (relenting)—All right, old girl, you're a little trump, anyway. You don't waste the money; you feed us well, and you shall have all the money you want. It would be a burning shame to miss such bargains, as there are in remnants at Fair's. Come to think, I read about them in the EXAMINER. Here, Lacy, bring me to-night's paper; there it is on the sofa—blamed if the kid hasn't dropped salmon on it—pull it from under him gently. Here it is—"Remnants! Remnants! Remnants! at the Golden Lion. A splendid lot of dress goods remnants to be cleared out regardless of price." You must have the money, Polly, though it's rather scarce and I would like to pay the coal bill and wood bill. But the coal and wood managers afford to wait better than we can afford to miss these big bargains in remnants at the Golden Lion.

POLLY—Of course they can. It's a good thing when money is so scarce to get a chance to buy something good and cheap. How the money goes! for milk tickets, bread tickets and—why good gracious, its nine o'clock. Lacy, take the children to bed. Good night Tootie—good night darling. (Exeunt kids)

JOHN—Get me a bit of sponge cake, Polly, and a mug of that elder Polson left this morning and we'll turn in too. You must get Friday and go down to Fair's. Too remnants and thereabouts of regard and you'll have a jolly Christmas Look at Easton Ann's.

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 19, 1887.

MR. CHAMBERLAIN TALKS.

WASHINGTON REPORTERS WAIT ON THE COMMISSIONER.

The Scope of the Negotiations—Commercial Union Not a Subject Unless Introduced by the United States—The Treaty of 1854.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—Mr. Joseph Chamberlain announced through the newspapers this morning that he would be prepared to meet all the representatives of the press who might desire to chat with him at 4 o'clock today. At that hour there were gathered in the parlor of his hotel twenty-one reporters and correspondents who desired to ascertain what he had to say for publication.

The first impression which Mr. Chamberlain made upon the Washington correspondents was decidedly favorable. The general verdict was that he is a shrewd diplomat, and hence he will not be likely to "give anything away." Asked as to the scope of the negotiations, he said that the Commission is empowered to treat with the representatives of the United States upon all subjects over which there is any dispute. He thought that full power was vested in the commissioners to enter upon an agreement touching the fisheries of the eastern coast, the seal fisheries on the west, and on such intermediate matters as may come before them, including such subjects as were referred to in the Treaty of 1854. He said that the objects of the conference will be to negotiate a treaty which will be satisfactory to Canada, the United States and Great Britain. If this can be done the commissioners will be satisfied; if not their visit will have been in vain. As to the probability of the considering of the subject of commercial Union between this country and Canada, Mr. Chamberlain said that there is no demand for the consideration of the question on the part of the Canadian government; that he had not been instructed to broach the subject by his Government, and that unless the suggestion comes from the United States it would not be brought up. Asked whether it is necessary to secure the ratification of a treaty between the United States and Great Britain before Canada could enter into an arrangement with the United States whereby the products of each country could be admitted free of duties into the other, Mr. Chamberlain said that the Canadian parliament could not enact legislation which would give the United States rights which other nations having treaties containing the most favored nation clause did not enjoy. Here Mr. Bergne stepped rapidly across the room and whispered to Mr. Chamberlain, after which the latter corrected himself far enough to say that any such legislation might be enacted by the Canadian parliament, but that it would have to get the sanction of the Imperial parliament before it would have the force of law. He thought there are other reasons why the project advised by Mr. Wilson and Butterworth cannot be successfully inaugurated, the most important of which is the fact that the Tariff acts of the two countries do not agree, and that it would be difficult to devise a plan which would meet this objection. Mr. Chamberlain was asked whether he feared that, in the event of the failure to negotiate a satisfactory treaty, there would be danger of war between England and the United States, out of the fisheries troubles. He laughed at the suggestion and answered that while he had no idea there would be any danger of war, he had no doubt but that there would be contravenes of local quarrels, and that the result would be continued strained relations.

PREPARING FOR THE MOB.

No Meeting Will Be Permitted in Trafalgar-square on Sunday.

LONDON, Nov. 18.—The troops are being supplied with buckshot and are preparing for any emergency that may arise on Sunday resulting from attempts to hold meetings in Trafalgar-square.

Sir Charles Warren's proclamation advises all who are in favor of law and order to refrain from going to or loitering about places where tumults may arise on Sunday next, as their presence would positively assist the efforts of the peace.

ELLIOTT V. BINGHAM.

Judge Rathbun Renders His Decision Granting the Writ.

MONTREAL, Nov. 18.—The Practice Court was again crowded this morning by the legal and sporting fraternity, in anticipation of hearing the decision of Hon. Judge Mathieu in the case of Elliott vs. Bingham.

The honorable judge delivered a long judgment in French. He reviewed the evidence at great length, showing how the race had been "fixed" and how Elliott had lost his money. He here referred to the fact that in order to save time it had been agreed to plead the case on its merits and that in order to quash the capias the defendant would have to prove no conviction. The plaintiff in order to prove this recited his evidence on the allegation that the defendant, when he learned he was to be arrested in Toronto, fled to the States. It has been proved, however, that the defendant is proprietor of a big restaurant in Toronto and that it would not pay him to leave his business and business to escape payment of $50,000. It was also shown that defendant did not choose to come to Montreal in the charge of a constable and that in virtue of this he telegraphed a Mr. Hyman to engage Mr. Macmaster to conduct the case for him in Montreal, where he, Bingham, appeared before an agreement could be sent to Rochester. This fact, His Honor held, showed that there was no intention at secretion, and in view of other evidence as to how portions of the $50,000 in question had been distributed he felt his duty to quash the capias against Mr. Bingham.

Turning to the merits of the case he said, as regarded the question of whether the Bathurst race was a sold one and whether there was fraud, he would undoubtedly say yes. The start was genuine, and why a man like Bathurst should have allowed the "Unknown" to get such a start of him was most unexplainable. But Bathurst also wrote a letter, which had been admitted as evidence, which showed by the words which it contained that Bathurst was going to sell the race. In it he said, "I take no risks," and the only meaning in the opinion of the judge that could be placed on the words was that Bathurst intended to allow himself to be beaten, and that he had an understanding with McKay to sell the race. Moreover, in Torrance, after the race, Bathurst, while in a hotel, asked for $150 and received $100 from parties who were friends of the "Unknown." His Honor felt satisfied that the race had been sold by Bathurst.

The question next considered was that of fraud, and whether the defendant Bingham had any knowledge of the same. For His Honor's part he could not possibly explain certain actions of the defendant. For instance, he returned Kreutzer $800, which the latter lent on the race, because he was a "good fellow," and also returned Laird a similar amount because the latter was a "tipster" and intended to show the thing up. It was very strange that a man should win and then refund the money, and in the opinion of His Honor it was a more than extraordinary proceeding. The defendant must have know that there was fraud.

Turning to the law and merits of the case His Honor said that according to Ontario law no money could be recovered on loan. He had examined Mr. McVeity as a witness on this point and he had declared on, but when His Honor had asked him how things would stand if it had been proved that there was fraud with the knowledge of defendant he had replied that in such a case there might be a conviction.

In conclusion, His Honor said that he was not prepared to agree with Mr. MacVeity, and as to his knowledge there was no law covering the case and no decisions. He would reserve judgment as to condemnation for fraud until able to consult the authorities in Ontario.

On application of Mr. Geoffrion the court decided to suspend the execution of the judgment, and Mr. Macmaster then asked that Mr. Bingham be allowed bail. This was allowed after considerable trouble, James Guest and W. F. Lewis becoming bondsmen for $12,000.

Another issue ensued to-day when J. W. Connell of this city, through Mr. Macmaster, took out action for $4500 against A. R. Elliott. The plaintiff alleges that the defendant was short of money to complete the $10,000 required for the race and borrowed the above sum from plaintiff, giving in return his promissory note. The plaintiff claims that he now refuses to honor the note.

THE WILSON CASE.

The Prime Minister Will Not Consent to a Debate Concerning It.

PARIS, Nov. 18.—La Paix admits that the prosecution of M. Wilson is necessary, and says that it only remains for justice to speak. Many newspapers believe that the grand jury will return a verdict on the case of "not proven." The Radical and Monarchical organs violently attack President Grevy for refusing to resign.

Prime Minister Rouvier has announced that he will not consent to a debate on an interpellation concerning President Grevy, which the Republican groups intend to propose in the Chamber of Deputies to-morrow.

M. Wilson and his family have quitted the Elysee.

The Extreme Left and a great majority of the Republican members of the Chamber of Deputies have abandoned their intention to send a delegation to ask President Grevy to resign.

More Contesty Than Enthusiasm.

LONDON, Nov. 18.—The Times correspondent at Berlin says the enthusiasm displayed by the people to-day was only moderate, and it was difficult to decide whether their cheers were for the Czar or for Prince William. The Czar is looking very sad and careworn. He and Prince William drove to the Embassy in great state. They occupied a victoria drawn by four black horses, and were accompanied by two outriders and the Master of the Horse. The Crown and Princess William were more heartily cheered than were their husbands. The spectators displayed more curiosity than enthusiasm.

Heavy Sales of Cereals.

NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—More than a third of all the wheat which will leave the farms throughout the country during the entire year was sold in the one city during the past six days. The aggregate sales reached 107,000,000 bushels of wheat, and 32,000,000 bushels of corn.

THE RIDDLETON DIVORCE.

Mrs. Riddleton Has Instituted Action for Absolute Divorce in Montreal.

OTTAWA, Nov. 18.—Mrs. Riddleton, formerly Miss Maddison, of Ottawa, has instituted action for absolute divorce in Montreal against her husband, Mr. Riddleton, of the City of Ottawa, in the Province of Ontario, in the Province of Ontario, and the Dominion of Canada, on the ground that the said Mr. Riddleton has been guilty of adultery and desertion." The petition is signed by Messrs. Greenshields, Greenshields & Greenshields, of Montreal, who will give the following notice in the coroner's Gazette: "Public notice is hereby given, that Mary Fennell Maddison, wife of Wm. Riddleton, of the City of Ottawa, in the County of Carleton, in the Province of Ontario, and the Dominion of Canada, on the 18th day of November, 1887, will apply to the Senate of Canada at the next session thereof for a Bill of Divorce from her husband, Wm. Riddleton, on the ground of adultery, cruelty and desertion."

THE BOGUS COUNTERFEITERS.

Two Lads of Brockville Who Have Been Arrested on Good Detective Work.

OTTAWA, Nov. 18.—Alonzo Pepple, David Sabourin, Wilson Dunbrin, Simon Elijah and Amos Jones, all Indians of Oneida, were tried here to-day for counterfeiting silver half dollars. Four of them were committed for trial, [illegible] Sabourin was discharged. The plan pursued by the Indians leased as to be superior to the old system of casting altogether from dies. They simply made the counterfeit half dollars in plaster of paris and cast the money therefrom. [illegible] specimens were excellent in imitation.

Another Judicial Appointment.

OTTAWA, Nov. 18.—W. G. Falconbridge, Q.C., of Toronto, has been appointed a Judge of the Court of Queen's Bench in place of Judge Armour, promoted. Mr. Falconbridge is a member of a firm that has given no fewer than four judges to the province, viz., Hagarman, Drake, Osler and now Falconbridge, and all of them good ones. He is a prominent and sought to have a lot of work in him. Experienced in equity the University of Toronto in 1868, and three years thereafter was called to the bar. He then became actively connected with the faculty of the University, having held the office of Registrar for many years.

His elevation to the Bench will be received with gratification by the entire city and profession.

CZAR VISITS BERLIN.

Great Crowds Gather to See the Imperial Visitors.

BERLIN, Nov. 18.—The Czar of Russia arrived in Berlin this morning. The preparations to receive him were in keeping with his rank. At 10 o'clock the Alexander Regiment, in parade uniform, took up a position in the Alexanderplatz Esplanade. They were to act as a guard of honor at the depot. A company of the Second Regiment of the guard with band colors and one company of the Alexander Regiment with colors were stationed in front of the Russian Embassy. Prince William of Prussia went to Gelliehaven early this morning to join the train bearing the Russian Imperial family. At the Berlin depot were gathered the Royal Russian Princess, the Hereditary Prince of Saxe-Meiningen, Duke Saxe of Mecklenburg-Schwerin, Gen. Von Moltke and all the generals of the Berlin and Potsdam garrisons. On the arrival of the Imperial train at 7.40 a.m. the Czar passed in front of the guard of honor at the depot, being accompanied by Prince William and the other Prussian princes and Gen. Von Moltke.

The Emperor William started for the Russian Embassy at 11 o'clock. The Czar and Czarina were driven to the embassy. The Czar with Prince William of Prussia occupied an open carriage drawn by four horses, and both wore Russian uniforms. The Czarina and Princess William followed in a close carriage. Dense crowds of people were collected in Unter den Linden from the Brandenburg gate to the Palace depot, and the imperial party was greeted most enthusiastically as they passed along the thoroughfare. On arriving at the embassy the Czar received three flags as Colonel of the Alexander Regiment and a general officer, a non-commissioned officer and a private reported themselves to act as orderlies.

After the Emperor had entered the palace on his return from the Embassy he appeared at his favorite window and was again wildly cheered by the crowds. The Czar's children remained on the train which brought the family from Copenhagen.

Prince Bismarck's visit to the Czar lasted an hour. It was made at the Czar's request.

The Czarina and her five children visited Emperor William this afternoon. As the Czar and Prince William were driving through the Koenigsplatz a man threw a paper into the carriage in which they were riding. The occurrence for a moment caused intense excitement among the onlookers. The Czar took the paper and without opening it placed it under his cloak. The man who threw it is a stranger in Berlin. He was immediately seized by the police. Later, while the imperial party was passing through Unter den Linden a woman tried to throw a petition into the Czar's carriage. She was arrested.

At the state banquet this evening eighty-eight covers were laid. Prince Bismarck and his wife and Count Herbert Bismarck were present at the banquet.

The Pastor Becomes the Professor.

Rev. F. H. Wallace, M. A., B.D., Appointed to the Chair in Victoria University—A Warm Reception by the People His Peterborough Pastorate At Christmas.

The Christian people of Peterborough will learn with mingled feelings of congratulation and regret that Rev. F. H. Wallace, M. A., B.D., pastor of the George Street Methodist Church, has been appointed to and has accepted the important position of Professor of New Testament Exegesis in Victoria University, Cobourg. The reverend gentleman's new relation to the important educational interests of the Methodist Church will create a desire to know as much as possible respecting his career, which, while it has in some respects been a brilliant one deserves the greatest importance from the opportunities it has presented of developing a sound and solid scholarship eminently fitting the professor for the most effective discharge of the duties his new position entails.

Rev. Francis Hedley Wallace is the son of Rev. Robert Wallace of the West Presbyterian church, Toronto, born at Inverness Ont., in the year 1851. He received preliminary educational training at the Niagara Falls Grammar school, afterwards matriculating in Upper Canada College, in which in turn the distinction, which old collegians will best appreciate, of "head boy"—in 1869, when he left the college to enter Toronto University. [illegible] he stood first in the first class in every subject except mathematics, a brilliant beginning, which was only an earnest of the highly creditable manner in which he took the various steps to graduation. In his first and second years he took first scholarships in Classics, Modern Languages and general proficiency. The remainder of the course he devoted, as exclusively as the curriculum permitted, his attention to the study of the Classics, with the result that he graduated in 1873, taking the gold medal in Classics.

After his graduation, contemplating entering the ministry, he received part of his theological training at Knox College, Toronto. He next entered the Drew Theological Seminary, New Jersey, continuing his studies till, in 1876, he took the degree of Bachelor of Divinity. He then went to Germany and spent the winter of 1876-77—one semester—at Leipsig University. Returning to Canada he obtained upon the native work of a [illegible] Church, and continued from 1877 to 1876 the position of Professional [illegible] to the Richmond street church. In 1878 he married a daughter of Bishop Wilkes, of the Protestant Episcopal Church, and the same year came to Peterborough as pastor of the Charlotteville Methodist church. At the end of the year he returned to Toronto and held the pastorate of the Yonge street church from 1879 to 1882. From 1883 he was pastor in Cobourg, and from 1885 to 1887 he has been pastor of the Charlotte and George streets Methodist churches.

The selection of Rev. Mr. Wallace as incumbent of a chair, the most important in an ecclesiastical institution in one which shows that the authorities of Victoria University can exceed by a desire to secure the best available talent. Rev. Mr. Wallace is in the very prime of life, and his acquirements pre-eminently fit him for the occupying of the position to which he has been promoted. As a scholar, and "a ripe and good one," he will be able to give the soundest and most authoritative instruction to students, while his experience as a minister will be of great service to those who contemplate following the sacred calling.

Carried by Storm.

Last night a party of about fifty (youngpeople, loaded with blankets and parcels of "grub galore," made a determined attack upon the new residence of Mr. John Nugent, Brock street. The house was "barricaded", so to speak, and an entrance secured upon the unsuspecting inmates, who were taken by surprise. Mr. and Mrs. Nugent, nevertheless, kept up a brave front under the circumstances, [illegible] upon their chosen new home, which were showered upon them. Another [illegible] was made upon the premises, and after the "enemy" had remained the prescribed time been shown many conveniences of a well-planned house of modern design, they bent a retreat in good order, and left Mr. and Mrs. Nugent in peace, and greatly pleased at the visit of so many of their numerous friends, whose expressions of esteem and regard will ring in their ears for many a day.

Not Prize Rising Status.

A man named Levitt yesterday got drunk and made himself a nuisance. He first laid himself down to sleep in the doorway of McClelland's jewelry store, but was soon ejected from that position. He returned and was again [illegible]. In his drunken rolling he nearly broke the plate glasses. He was hauled in the middle of the road, shouting and swearing like a fiend. Mad with passion, in his fury he struck the first person near him—and that unfortunate happened to be Mr. George Babidge, who collapsed from the effects of a vigorous blow "below the belt." After threatening to "do" the whole town Levitt gradually calmed down and got safely behind a [illegible] opponent.

A Cable Canard.

Prize Report of the Evolution in the Grand Junction Suit Against Peterborough.

There was a large number of county ratepayers in town to-day, who were startled at meeting in the Mail a report that a cablegram had been received in Toronto yesterday stating that "the case of the Grand Junction railway v. Peterborough had been argued before the Privy Council, and that judgment had been given reversing the decision of the Court of Appeal for Ontario." Their consternation was [illegible], too, by the reflection that if the outrageous general contract is would add an extra tax of a cent more for a few years to the average farmer in the county. The Mail's report, though is not confirmed in Peterborough. Between three and four o'clock Friday afternoon a message was received from Mr. R. B. Edwards, the county solicitor, saying: "Judgment reserved; prospects favorable." The possibility of a later message being received in Toronto announcing an adverse judgment, is counted on Mr. Edwards's office. The Mail's report is considered to be the result of an error in the text of the despatch, making the word reserve by instead of reversing.

Mr. Arthur Stevenson, Town, passed the recent Law Society's examinations at Osgoode Hall, Toronto, for solicitor, with great credit. He stood third without an oral in a class of twenty-six.

Special Addresses to Young Men.

Mr. Stapleton Caldecott, President of the Y.M.C.A., Toronto, arrived in town this morning, and will speak to young men in the Association Hall. The Hon. S.H. Blake, Q.C., will arrive this evening, and will deliver a special address to active workers of the Association, in the rooms on Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock. They will also speak in St. Paul's and George street churches Sunday evening at 7.

A Narrow Escape.

On Sunday evening as Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Elliott, of Smith, were returning home from church at Lakefield, with a team of colts and a top buggy, the king-bolt came out and the colts ran away, upsetting the buggy and turning Mr. and Mrs. Elliott out into the trap. They were dragged along a considerable distance, when Mr. Elliott let go the lines and the colts ran home. The only damage done was a painful bruising and blackening of the side of Mrs. Elliott's face and the scraping of Mr. Elliott's face and forehead.

Barn Burned.

About five o'clock this morning the barn of Mr. Richard Lillico, North Monaghan, situated about three miles from town on the gravel road, was totally destroyed by fire. Mr. Lillico went out to the barn to feed some stock, and placed the lantern, which he carried, upon a fanning mill. A cat jumped down upon the mill and knocked the lantern over into a mow of straw. The whole place was soon ablaze, and it was with difficulty the stock was saved from being burned alive. The entire season's crops were consumed. It is not known whether there is any insurance on the premises or not.

—Rev. W. E. Cooper, of Port Hope, was stricken on Saturday evening with something closely resembling apoplexy.

—It is said that the Grand Trunk has arranged to double track their line between Deseronto Junction and Napanee next spring.

—An attempt was made on Tuesday night to blow up with dynamite the Scott Act Inspector's house, at Orangeville. A note warning the inspector to desist from Scott Act prosecutions if he did not want to be blown to kingdom come, was found attached to the fence.

Give Them a Chance!

That is to say, your lungs. Also all your breathing machinery. Very wonderful machinery it is. Not only the larger air-passages, but the thousands of little tubes and cavities leading from them.

When these are clogged and choked with matter which ought not to be there, your lungs cannot half do their work. And what they do, they cannot do well.

Call it cold, cough, croup, pneumonia, catarrh, consumption or any of the family of throat and nose and head and lung obstructions, all are bad. All ought to be got rid of. There is just one sure way to get rid of them. That is to take Boschee's German Syrup, which any druggist will sell you at 75 cents a bottle. Even if everything else has failed you, you may depend upon this for certain. eodw

Reliable Remedy for Rheumatism.

Procure a bottle of Hagyard's Yellow Oil from your medicine dealer, and use according to the directions. It cured Ida Johnson, of Carnell, Ont., of that complaint, and she recommends it as a sure cure. For 25 years it has never failed to give satisfaction. 2w44d

Cured By B.B.B. When All Else Failed.

Mr. Samuel Allen, of Lisle, Ont., states that he tried all doctors in his locality while suffering for years with Liver and Kidney trouble; nothing benefited him until he took Burdock Blood Bitters, four bottles of which cured him. 2w44d

News Regatta.

—The dress fantasies in the neighborhood have closed for the season.

—There is unusual activity in fowl circles—the usual chords and quavers.

—Sloppy is the man who gets his beard bestowed. Razor 25 cents and Mack in price.

—Kicking is quite risky over the possession of the Grand Trunk Railway works at that place.

—Blake's bridge, situated fourteen miles south of Peterborough, on the Otonabee, is to be rebuilt.

—A new wire is being put into the uptown C.P.R. telegraph office. It connects Montreal and Toronto direct.

—Mr. R. Sellers, of Lakefield, the other day shipped upwards of half a ton of heather to a Peterborough house.

—The metal for the standpipe of Belleville's Water Works has arrived on the site. The total weight is 200 tons.

—Rev. Mr. Goforth was visited "God speed" in his mission to China by the Queen's College (Kingston) missionary alumnæ.

—Mr. T. Bradburn is extending the boulevard in front of his Louis street property along Charlotte street to the eastern limit of his property.

—The summer train service of the Lakefield branch has been discontinued. The train for Lakefield now leaves Peterborough at 12.30 p.m.

—Mr. Jas. Eakins, Port Hope's cattle king, well known in this county, has leased the residence on King street lately occupied by Mr. Chas. Clemes.

—The Rev. W. B. Affleck, the great English temperance orator, who is well and favorably known in almost every town and village of Canada, is dead.

—It is stated that the Grand Trunk Railway has decided to abolish stoves for heating passenger coaches, and to supply heat direct from the locomotive boiler.

—Manager Tennandge, of the Belleville Opera House, will have fine steel engravings of Mrs. Scott-Siddons distributed to patrons of her entertainment on Monday night.

—A handsome new Dominion piano, one of the best in the world, has been placed in the Sunday School room of the George street church, for use in the entertainments of the Y.P.A.

—Mr. R. Chapin, Lakefield's butcher, killed a seven months old pig the other day that tipped the beam at 326 lbs. It was bought a short time ago from Mr. Michael Sanderson, of Smith.

—The best merchant rubs his hands with glee as he sees his pile of rubbers grow beautifully less and disappear in the distance upon the feet of careful pedestrians threading the slushy slop of the streets.

Port Hope's star is in the descendant indeed. She has lost the railway shops, and now she is not thought worthy a visit from the eloquentionary Siddons, while Cobourg is honored by a visit from that histrionic luminary.

—The Lakefield Chronicle says:—"A farmer from Harvey arrived in the village Tuesday morning at 7.15 with a load of hay, having travelled 26 miles with his load. Hay fetches a good price in the village—$14 per ton."

—The Kingston aldermen have lively scenes at their meetings. One struck another with a pellet of paper, and fight language penalized. Another said he could "lick anybody round the beard," and fun of this sort abound ad libitum.

A Sad Contemplation.

It is sad to contemplate the amount of physical suffering in the world. How many weary, broken down invalids there are to whom life is burdensome! The nervous debility and general weakness of those afflicted with lingering disease is best remedied by the invigorating powers of B.B.B. 2w44d

To Avoid Baldness or Gray Hair.

Use Dr. Dorenwend's Great German Hair Magic. It keeps the scalp clean and free from Dandruff, and promotes the growth of the hair. It prevents premature grayness and stops all falling out of the hair. On bald heads, where the roots have not perished, it will invigorate them and force a new growth of hair. Ask for Hair Magic. It is the only reliable. For sale by J. D. Tully and all druggists.

A Narrow Escape.

People who are exposed to the sudden changes of our northern climate have little chance of escaping colds, coughs, sore throat and lung troubles. The best safe-guard is to keep Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam at hand. It is a quick relief and reliable cure for such complaints. 2w44d

I HAVE BEEN a severe sufferer from Catarrh for the past fifteen years, with distressing pain over my eyes. Gradually the disease worked down upon my lungs. About a year and a half ago I commenced using Ely's Cream Balm, with the most gratifying results, and am to-day apparently cured.—Z. C. Warren, Eatland, Vt.

MY DAUGHTER and myself, great sufferers from Catarrh, have been cured by Ely's Cream Balm. My sense of smell restored and health greatly improved.—C. M. Stanley, Merchant, Ithaca, N.Y. eodw46

A Domestic Drama.

SCENE—John Plane's Sitting-room—Saturday Evening.

JOHN—Polly!

POLLY—Yes, John.

JOHN—I got a letter to-day from Emma Ann, and she wants us to come down Christmas and bring the whole gang!

POLLY—Oh, how splendid! I would like to go, but—the children and I will have to have new dresses.

JOHN—Bother the new dresses!—always new dresses. Talk about new dresses with tax bills to pay, coal bills to pay, wood bills to pay, and ——— to pay generally—Don't say anything more about it—Tootle, get my slippers.

POLLY—But John, we might manage—Ah, I have it! I was down street the other day with Mrs. Savage, and we dropped into the Golden Lion—the upstairs to see some remnants. And it's great week. Forget all the heaps of remnants I saw—I mean that just all; and John, you know, there was such a kind of dress goods as cheap as dirt. There isn't enough to make a whole dress from, but I can get some pieces of velvet and cashmere and fix up my old black cashmere to look as good as new, and it won't cost hardly anything.

JOHN (the average husband)—Why the dence didn't you say so before? Why haven't you got your dresses fixed already! I'm sure you had plenty of money: I gave you a dollar and a half to run the house last week, and you might have taken what was left and got stuff at Fair's and had your dresses all ready now.

POLLY—But, John, $1.50 don't go far in filling five mouths, and they have such appetites, especially this little darling—(hugging Tottie till the buttons flew off her boots).

JOHN (relenting)—Well right, old girl, you're a little tramp, anyway. You don't waste the money; you dress as well, and you shall have all the money you want. It would be a burning shame to miss such bargains, as there are in remnants at Fair's. Come to think, I read about them in the EXAMINER. Here, Lucy, bring me to-night's paper; there it is on the sofa—blessed if the kid hasn't dropped asleep on it—pull it from under him gently. Here it is—"Remnants! Remnants! Remnants! at the Golden Lion. A splendid lot of dress goods remnants to be cleared out regardless of price." You must have the money, Polly, though it's rather scarce and I would like to pay the coal bill and wood bill, but the coal and wood man can afford to wait better than we can afford to miss those big bargains in remnants at the Golden Lion.

POLLY—Of course they can. It's a good thing when money is so scarce to get a chance to buy something good and cheap. How the money goes! for milk tickets, bread tickets and—why good gracious, its nine o'clock. Lucy, take the children to bed. Good night Tottie—good night darling. (Exeunt kids)

JOHN—Get me a bit of cheese, Polly, and a mug of that cider. Polson left this morning and we'll turn in too. You must get up early and go down to Fair's. Tog yourself and the kids out regardless, and we'll have a jolly Christmas down at Emma Ann's.

The Daily Examiner.

MONDAY, NOVEMBER 21, 1887.

¶ The blind clergyman, Rev. W.H. Milburn will again be a candidate for the chaplaincy of the House of Representatives. A blind man is the best suited to such a position. If on entering the House and in passing the "refreshment" saloon he could see the statesmen fortifying themselves for their legislative duties with multitudinous cocktails, he would probably lose faith in the efficiency of his orisons.

The British Empire is so vast—a domain of such magnificent distances—that we in Canada are not much informed of political changes which take place in the colonies. In New Zealand the people have just passed through a general election with the result of a change of government. The Stout-Vogel ministry essayed to enforce a true Tory policy involving largely increased taxation, and amplified spoils material. They appealed to the people in support of their policy and were defeated at the polls. Unlike the Ross-Taillon Conservative ministry in Quebec, the New Zealand ministry resigned, and a new government, pledged to retrenchment, was inaugurated. Canada is not the only colony where Liberal principles are gaining the ascendancy.

The Bible in the Schools.

To the Editor of the Examiner:—

This question does not stand alone. It is connected with another matter of far more importance for everyone, child and parent alike. The real question is: "Who is to see to the proper teaching of religion, and to whom is religion to be taught?" It is admitted that a proper religious home training is the most beneficial to children of all training, but how are children to be taught at home if their parents have no sufficient training themselves? And how are parents to possess it if they are ignored and neglected by their once religious teachers? The Bible, of course, is the first and best instructor, but by common consent men have taken their ministers as their teachers and guides in religious matters, and in proportion as these teachers and guides have discharged this duty faithfully to the parents, in like manner will the parents have discharged their duty to their children. And in like manner will their children be benefitted by it. We must not begin at the wrong end in this matter. To begin with the children by means of the Bible in schools is beginning at the wrong end. Teach and improve the religious condition of the parents first, and then they will see to the religious teaching of their children. And when ministers, who have so much to say about teaching the Bible in schools, realize this truth, and when they act upon it and apply their energies to the creation of an active religious life in the parents, they will have laid the only sure foundation for teaching religion in the schools. And when ministers realize that it is they, and not lay school teachers, whose special business it is to attend to the religious training, not only of parents but of children as well, and when they do properly attend to it, they will show us that they are willing to perform their duties as religious instructors, and will have less to say about the teaching of the Bible in the schools, and have a less desire to throw upon the overworked teachers duties which they themselves should discharge. Let ministers gather together parents and children alike and set about the doing of a work which they have too long neglected, namely, the religious instruction of all, and then there will no longer be room for raising the cry of irreligion, and, to overcome which, the teachers must be compelled to teach the Bible in the schools. And they will then see that something more is necessary to regenerate the children than for the school teachers to be made to go through the out-of-the-way formality of compelling the children to stand and listen to a cold, prosy ceremony on the part of the teacher, in which they take no interest and receive no benefit. Our schools are designed to impart secular knowledge, and our spiritual guides are meant for the teaching of religion and the salvation of souls. They must work to do this. They must search out opportunities for doing these things. And they must show by their examples that they know their duty and intend to perform it. And if in the course of this duty, they consider it necessary to go into the schools and instruct the children there, let them do it, and let them do it well. And let them thus become co-helpers of the teachers, and so help them on in their arduous, and oftentimes thankless, labours. In future it is to be hoped there will be less interference with our schools, and that political prejudice and pretended religious enthusiasm will be turned into some other and more suitable direction, where they will do less harm. And if it so happens that some persons feel a desire to get a little notoriety, they will endeavor to obtain it in some more legitimate way.

OPPOSED TO THE LEAGUE.

Recent Occurrences in Ireland Not Agreeable to the Holy See.

DUBLIN, Nov. 19.—The head of the national clubs in the associated Gaelic athletic association is unchained. Archbishop Croke has assisted the expelled priests to organize a new athletic association, which excludes Fenians from membership, and a large number of branches are rapidly joining this new organization. The disclosure of an active revolution of a sub-section of the National League has formed the subject of a communication by Mgr. Persico to the Vatican, and it is reported that this has caused a marked change in the attitude of the Holy See, which is now believed to be indirectly adverse to the league.

Mgr. Persico is ill from the overstrain which has been put upon him and from a severe cold. His increasing travel has worn him out. He has been ordered to go to rest in the South of Ireland.

Gladstone May Visit Dublin.

LONDON, Nov. 19.—Mr. Gladstone has given a half promise to attend the opening banquet to Mr. Sexton, given him on assuming the Lord Mayoralty of Dublin. The Conservatives have raised legal objections to Mr. Sexton and will try to disqualify him for holding office. It is not probable that they will succeed. Sir William Vernon Harcourt and Mr. Morley will speak in Dublin in December. The harmony of the English and Irish Home Rulers is perfect. The report of the Scotch deputies to the Liberal Association says that the Salisbury Government is regarded as a foreign Government and is despised and hated in Scotland. The Scotchmen look upon the Dublin Executive simply as a military despotism, supported by a vile system of espionage and an overwhelming armed force, while they consider the league as a lawful, orderly combination, maintaining social order and suppressing violence and crime.

O'Brien's New Tweed Suit.

DUBLIN, Nov. 19.—The Governor of the Tullamore Jail heard to-day that clothing for the use of Mr. O'Brien had been smuggled into the prison. He at once proceeded to Mr. O'Brien's cell and found the prisoner up and wearing a suit of tweed.

A CALIFORNIAN INDUSTRY.

Customs Officers at San Francisco Charged With Smuggling Chinamen.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 19.—The United States grand jury has found indictments against ex-Custom Inspectors William A. Boyd and Ferdinand D. Ciprics and six other inspectors for illegally aiding and abetting the landing in the United States of certain Chinese persons. The charges are conspiracy and issuing of forged certificates. For years the Custom House here has been aware that certificates have been fraudulently issued and that a number of genuine certificates have been stolen from the custom office. Different grand juries have investigated the case but never before have found sufficient proof to warrant the issuing of indictments on specific charges against Ciprics and Boyd as that of stealing hundreds of certificates from the Custom House in January, 1886. The collector of this port said to-day there is evidence of a long series of frauds that at least eight or ten certificates have illegally found their way to China and been sold, thus meaning that 8000 or 10,000 Chinamen not legally entitled to enter the United States have entered.

A NEW JERSEY MYSTERY.

The Mutilated Body of a Woman Found in a Cellar in Trenton.

TRENTON, N.J., Nov. 19.—A mystery has been unearthed in the cellar of an unoccupied frame tenement at No. 50 Tucker-street, which threatens to rival the celebrated Rahway tragedy. Late yesterday afternoon, while some boys were playing around the old building, one of them had occasion to go to the cellar window. Peering through the dingy glass he saw the body of a woman lying on the floor. Breathless with terror the boys ran to the police station and gave the alarm. Sergt. Van Horn hurried to the house and, bursting the fastenings of the door descended to the cellar. Within eighteen inches of the lower cellar step, just out from the stairway, lay the body of a woman about 40 years of age. That she was foully murdered seemed apparent. Her clothing, a plain dark dress and a rough plaid coat, were rolled over her face, which had been horribly gnawed by rats. The eyes alone were intact. The body had been lying in the cellar for two or three days. In the soft earth could be discovered the footprints of a man, and there was every evidence of a death struggle. The woman appeared to have been thrown to the floor, her head smashed in and cut, then dragged along to the cellar stairway and hurled headlong into the dark pen below. Exactly how death was caused is still a mystery. The police last night arrested James McDonald, a tramp, on suspicion of being the murderer. It is said that the dead woman resembles a Mrs. Quinn, who was for some time the keeper of a cheap lodging house here, and who was released from prison a few days ago.

In Brief, And To The Point.

Dyspepsia is dreadful. Disordered liver is misery. Indigestion is a foe to good nature. The human digestive apparatus is one of the most complicated and wonderful things in existence. It is easily put out of order.

Greasy food, tough food, sloppy food, bad cookery, mental worry, late hours, irregular habits, as many other things which ought not to be, have made the American people a nation of dyspeptics.

But Green's August Flower has done a wonderful work in reforming this sad business and making the American people so healthy that they can enjoy their meals and be happy.

Remember:—No happiness without health. But Green's August Flower brings health and happiness to the dyspeptic. Ask your druggist for a bottle. Seventy five cents.

THE BREATH of a chronic catarrh patient is often so offensive that he cannot go into society and he becomes an object of disgust. After a time ulceration sets in, the spongy bones are attacked and frequently, entirely destroyed. A constant source of discomfort is the dripping of the purulent secretions into the throat, sometimes producing inveterate bronchitis, which in its turn has been the exciting cause of pulmonary disease. The brilliant results that have attended its use for years past properly designate Ely's Cream Balm as by far the best, if not the only real cure for hay fever, rose cold and catarrh. eodw47

Hon. S. H. Blake Speaks to Young Men.

About 180 young men assembled in the Association Hall yesterday afternoon in connection with the regular young men's meeting. Mr. Blake gave a very interesting and pointed address upon "Jacob," chiefly emphasizing the principle of "sowing and reaping" as evinced in Jacob's life. At the close he asked all who desired to consecrate their lives to the service of their God and Maker to do so by raising their hands. Nearly the whole audience acceded to this request.

Mortuary Statistics.

The Canadian mortuary statistics for October are at hand. There were 11 deaths in Peterborough during the month, five males and six females. One died from measles, one from typhus fever, one from puerperal fever, one from malaria fever, six from local diseases and one from developmental disease. In other places the deaths were: Montreal 476, Toronto 178, Hamilton 54, Ottawa 64, London 32, Brantford 14, Hull 20, Guelph 16, Belleville 16, St. Thomas 13, Chatham 6, Winnipeg 30, Woodstock 11, and Galt 8.

Special Sunday Services.

Sunday morning Hon. S. H. Blake, of Toronto, and Mr. S. Caldecott, Secretary of the Toronto Y.M.C.A., conducted special services in the Cheshire street and St. Paul's Churches, under the auspices of the Peterborough Y.M.C.A. Mr. Caldecott is a lay worker, and Mr. S. H. Blake is the layman. Both addresses were on behalf of the Y.M.C.A. Collections were taken up also for that purpose. In the Cheshire street church the male choir of the Association rendered excellent music. In the evening in St. Paul's Church the two gentlemen conducted the services alternately, Mr. Blake speaking first while Mr. Caldecott was engaged at the George street church. At eight o'clock his place was taken by Mr. Caldecott, while Mr. Blake occupied the pulpit of the George street church during the remainder of the service. The addresses of both gentlemen were impressive and eloquent. Each pleaded for sympathy for the young men, "the hope of the nation," and for the Y.M.C.A., an institution that was doing much to elevate the standard of morality and strength of character of our young men. A collection was taken up in aid of the Y.M.C.A. At half-past eight a union service was held in the George street church, at which addresses were delivered by Messrs. Blake and Caldecott. Rev. Messrs. Wallace, Torrance and Wilson, and Mr. Geo. M. Rogers, President of the Association, were on the platform. Earnest prayers were offered up for the young men of the town. The proceedings were brought to a close in the usual manner.

Rhea's Triumph.

The large number who assembled at the Opera House on Saturday night shows that the people are willing to pay good prices for first class performances. The presentation of "Pygmalion and Galatea," by M'lle Rhea and her company, was a revelation of dramatic possibilities to the average Peterborough play-goer. In the title role M'lle Rhea was superb. Her graces of person were effectively accentuated by her spirited, life-like action. Her acute appreciation of the spirit of the play, found delightful expression in her interpretation of it. Nothing could be more natural and charming than her presentation of the innocent wonder of a newly-created being introduced to strange earthly scenes, and endowed with equally strange human emotions. While she is graceful and exquisite in her rendition of the subtler emotions, she showed a keen sense of humour and her playful passages sparkle with refined and delicately suggestive wit. Her support was capital and equal in their respective roles to the leading character. The entertainment throughout was a delightful one and it will be a pleasure for the public to learn that M'lle Rhea has given Mr. Bendbern another date to be filled after her coming trans-continental tour. M'lle Rhea was well pleased with her audience Saturday night, she thinks it might have been larger but she says she could not wish for a more appreciative, sympathetic and attentive one.

Police Court.

A Laughter Session to Begin the Week With.

George Wheeler was charged with being disorderly and [illegible].

The boys charged with breaking into the residence of Mrs. Sherman and stealing quinces and fruit cake, appeared in court this morning. The case was further enlarged till Thursday morning.

Adam Dobbin, who has just been discharged from gaol, was re-committed for six months. Adam was given his commitment paper, with which he marched off to gaol quite happy.

Samuel Levitt, whose pugilistic exploits were recorded in Saturday's issue, was arraigned on a charge of being drunk and disorderly. He admitted the offence and was fined $2 and costs or 10 days in gaol. The fine was paid.

SCOTT ACT CASES.

Ambrose & Winslow, the Port Hope brewers, were charged by Inspector Cashman with two offences against the Scott Act, alleged to have been committed in Peterborough, the first between August 20th and Sept. 20th, the second between Sept. 20th and Nov. 14th. Mr. R. G. Wood, C.O.A., conducted the prosecution; Mr. Riddell, of Cobourg, the defence. Mr. Ambrose was present and gave evidence. The evidence went to show that Messrs. Ambrose & Winslow's agent in Peterborough solicited orders for ale in Peterborough, sent the order to them, and it was filled or not at their discretion. If the ale was sent, Mr. Allen, the agent collected the accounts.

The defence contended that there was no "sale" made—that Mr. Allen had no authority to make a sale. He merely took orders or "propositions to sell" at the discretion of his employers, and no sale was made until the order was filled. In any case, the defence urged, there could be no sale in Peterborough, because the defendants' brewery was in Port Hope, where the order was filled, and if any offence was committed, it was done in Port Hope. The defence also set up that the Canada Temperance Act was not in force, and that it was unconstitutional and beyond the power of the Dominion of Canada.

The prosecution claimed that all doubts about the validity of the act had been already settled by the courts; that the sale for the ale was actually made in Peterborough by Mr. Allen, the agent, who takes orders for certain quantities at certain prices and collects the account if the order is filled. Whatever was done was done in Peterborough; Messrs. Ambrose & Winslow, the prosecution contended, merely carried out the arrangement entered into here, at their brewery in Port Hope; the delivery of the ale was merely the completion of the sale.

The magistrate reserved judgment.

A SIMILAR CASE.

Mr. Henry Calcott was charged with a first offence under precisely the same circumstances. He admitted that the evidence for the defence in his case would be the same as put forward in that against Ambrose & Winslow, and the case was enlarged pending judgment in the former.

Personal.

Mr. A. Wilson continues in a very low state, and his condition is critical.

Hon. S. H. Blake stopped over Sunday with Rev. E. F. Torrence, and Mr. A. Caldecott with Mr. J. C. Turnbull.

Bob Burdette's Alleged "Humour."

The reader of Saturday's Globe, if he waded through the column and a quarter of unmitigated bosh, under the heading of "Burdette's Humour", must have had a painful experience. There are seventeen somnolent paragraphs of as dismal reading as one could find outside a comic almanac. There is not one scintilla of wit, not one approximation to a humourous fancy. There is no more originality in any part of it than in a circus joke or a spring poem, not half as much genuine humour as there is in the average tombstone inscription. The wonder is that the Globe is willing to pay for such stuff and expect its readers to fancy they are getting value for their money when they read it. The readers of the EXAMINER, however, will get more than value for their money if they take it to the store of gough, the wonderful cheap man, and invest it in his marvellously cheap dry goods, some of his $18,000 stock, purchased new at 50 cents on the dollar; or in his tip-top ready-made clothing, overcoats, underclothing, etc., which are marked down lower than ever to correspond to his fabulously cheap stock of dry goods. Go to gough's, come to gough's, fly to gough's, rush to gough's, and get the gigantiocest bargains ever presented in Peterborough. 1d121

The Pastorate.

Rev. Mr. Wallace, in George street church yesterday morning, stated to his congregation that he was, in the providence of God, to leave them next Christmas, and it was now their duty to look for a new pastor. He expressed his regret at leaving such warm-hearted people among who he had hoped to spend a pleasant three years of his ministry. He announced that a meeting of the official board would be held Monday evening for the purpose of selecting some to fill the pastorate of the church until the next conference.

The Saw and File Works.

The gentlemen interested in the establishment of saw and file works in Peterborough, not meeting with the support and assistance from our local capitalists, have proceeded elsewhere. In Toronto they came into contact with Mr. John Bertram, of the firm of Bertram & Co., wholesale dealers in hardware. As a result the firm of Bertram & Co. offered to furnish the gentlemen mentioned with material and assist them in starting the manufacture of saws specially for Bertram & Co's trade. The offer was accepted and the work will soon be under way. Bertram & Co. import the steel for the saws from England. A little wise liberality and the works would have been in Peterborough.

Barber vs. Grocer.

This morning a barber and grocer doing business on lower George street, became involved in a dispute over a bogus hash bill, the grocer claiming that the barber had "panned it off" on his boy in making change. Both were in their shirt sleeves, angry words followed, fists flew up, and "come out in the back yard and I'll lick you in a minute" was the war-cry. Neither went, though, and soon the peaceful offices of the genial market clerk smoothed over the difficulty and the threatened hostilities were averted.

A Canine Catastrophe.

The corner will hold an inquest until he discovers "where is his little dog gone."

A Domestic Drama.

SCENE—John Platt's Sitting-room—Saturday Morning.

JOHN—Polly!

POLLY—Yes, John.

JOHN—I got a letter to-day from Emma Ann, and she wantages to come down Christmas and bring the whole gang!

POLLY—Oh, [illegible]! I could May to stay for [illegible] but I will have to have new dresses.

JOHN—Bother the new dresses!—always new dresses. Talk about new dresses with tax bills to pay, coal bills to pay, wood bills to pay, and —— to pay generally—Don't say anything more about it—Tottie, get my slippers.

POLLY—But John, we might manage—Ah, I have it! I was down street the other day with Mrs. Scraps, and we dropped into the Golden Lion—she wanted to get some remnants. And I'm glad I went. For of all the heaps of remnants I ever saw that beat all; and dohn, you know, there was every kind of dress goods as cheap as dirt. There isn't enough to make a whole swell dress, but I can get some pieces of velvet and trimmers and fix up my old black cashmere to look as good as new, and it won't cost hardly anything.

JOHN (the onstage husband)—Why the deuce didn't you say so before? Why haven't you got your dresses fixed already? I'm sure you had plenty of money; I gave you a dollar and a half to repair home last week, and you might have taken what was left and got yourself at Fair's and had your dresses fixed by now.

POLLY—But, John, $1.50 don't go far in filling five mouths, and they have such appetites, especially this little darling—(hugging Tottie till the buttons flew off her boots).

JOHN (poisoning)—All right, old girl, you're a little tramp, anyway. You don't waste the money; you feed us well, and you shall have all the money you want. It would be a burning shame to miss such bargains, as there are in remnants at Fair's. Come to think, I read about them in the EXAMINER. Here, Lucy, bring me to-night's paper; there it is on the sofa—blamed if the kid hasn't dropped tatoes on it—pull it from under him gently. Here it is—"Remnants! Remnants! Remnants! at the Golden Lion. A splendid lot of dress goods remnants to be cleared out regardless of price." You must have the money, Polly, though it's rather scarce; and I would like to pay the coal bill and wood bill, but the coal and wood man can afford to wait better than we can afford to miss these big bargains in remnants at the Golden Lion.

POLLY—Of course they can. It's a good thing when money is so scarce to get a chance to buy something good and cheap. How the money goes! for milk tickets, bread tickets and—why mind groceries, its nine o'clock. Lucy, take the children to bed. Good night, Tottie—good night darling. (Second Edit)

JOHN—Get me a bit of sponge cake, Polly, and a mug of that cider Peleon left this morning and we'll turn in too. You must get up early and go down to Fair's. Tog yourself and the kids out regardless, and we'll have a jolly Christmas down at Emma Ann's.

FISHERY COMMISSION.

A RECIPROCITY TREATY LIKELY TO BE CONSIDERED.

An Intimation From the American Commissioners—The Attitude of the President and the Senate—The Free Admission of Lumber Discussed.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—The first meeting of the Commissioners who are to try to settle the Fisheries question was held at the State Department to-day. Beyond an informal conference nothing was accomplished, and it is not thought probable that any material progress will be made for some days yet. In view of the fact that in spite of all precautions it has been found almost impossible to secure absolute secrecy in matters of this character, it is probable that the Commissioners will agree that a daily synopsis of the progress of the negotiations shall be given to the public, and an intimation has come from the American negotiators, which taken in connection with the hint thrown out by Mr. Chamberlain last Friday evening, leads to the belief that there will be an attempt to agree upon a reciprocity treaty which will not only admit free all Canadian products into the ports of the United States, but will give the products of this country equal advantages in Canada. Although there has been a strong opposition to everything in the shape of a Canadian Reciprocity Treaty in the Senate in the past, there seems to be a more favorable disposition towards the establishment of the troubles by this method on the part of Senators now here than there has ever been before, and from the outlook now it seems certain that the sentiment of the Senate is to be tested before the close of the coming session. It is very well known that the President favors Reciprocity with Canada to some extent, and those who claim to have inside knowledge of his sentiments in this respect assert that he is more in favor of closer commercial relations between the two countries now than he has ever been before. A Reciprocity Treaty which would admit Canadian lumber into the United States would certainly meet with the approval of several of the Western Senators, who might otherwise oppose it. Of course it would be correspondingly opposed by the Maine and Michigan Senators—who, however, are all Republicans—but if the signs of the times count for anything the President will submit to the Senate a treaty which, among its other features, will provide for the free entry of lumber from the mills of the Dominion.

Mr. Bergne and Third Assistant Secretary Moore, of the State Department, have been chosen as official secretaries of the Commission, and will keep the record of the daily proceedings.

TORONTO TOPICS.

TORONTO, Nov. 21.

Sir Adam Wilson, Chief Justice of the Queen's Bench Division of the High Court of Justice, delivered his last judgment at noon yesterday and bid farewell to the Bar and the Bench in his capacity of a Judge. His successor, Chief Justice Armour, sat beside him on the bench, while other judges, members of the City and a large number of lawyers and students filled the room. Mr. Mc. Irving, Q.C., on behalf of the Bar read a feeling address of farewell to His Lordship, reviewing his long career since he was called to the bar, and his seventy-five years on the bench. His Lordship replied fittingly and left the [illegible] Court room entertained no doubt but that his successor would be a worthy one.

Gen. Elliott F. Sheppard of New York has written to Mayor Howland to know if he would accept an invitation if tendered by a committee of New York citizens to address a meeting in that city on the mode of municipal government in Toronto and the reforms necessary to perfect that system. The New Yorkers are getting agitated over the progress of the Personal Liberty League and want advice and instruction from the best city on the continent. Mayor Howland will undoubtedly accept.

Yesterday afternoon Sergeant Detective Hynes and Detective McGrath made an arrest that may perhaps lead to an examination of the [illegible] tradition Treaty between Canada and the United States. For a month or more past a fish and fruit store has been kept at the corner of McCaul and Queen streets by a man who styled himself Thomas Baker. Yesterday a detective named arrested Mr. "Baker" on a charge of forgery committed in Detroit six weeks ago.

The Trent Valley Canal commissioners are engaged in the preliminary work, by correspondence, of canvassing for the taking of evidence as to the depth likely of excavation that canal to Lake Simcoe and the Georgian Bay. The three commissioners are ex-Judge Clark of Cobourg, Frank Turner, C.E., Toronto, and Harbor Master Kennedy of Hamilton. Mr. Clark's [illegible] speech and his acceptance of the solicitorship of the Canadian Pacific Railway may entail such duties upon him as will [illegible] prevent his return. It is hinted, however, on his resignation on the commission is considered of great value that arrangements can be made whereby he will be able to at least attend the more important sittings of the commission.

THE NEWS IN BRIEF.

John A. McDonald, Conservative, will contest over Chas. J. Campbell, Independent Conservative, for Victoria County, N.S., by a majority of 495.

The Labor Conventionists have reached Toronto where the first meeting to take evidence will be held to-night.

The Queen's Hotel at Forest was burned down on Monday. Insured for $2000.

The parsonage occupied by Rev. G. M. Kingston, Pembroke, was burned to the ground Monday evening.

At the Reichsport fair Barnum has four elephants, five lions, seven leopards, old panthers, four kangaroos, six horses and other animals. Total loss $100,000.

The writs for Yarmouth and Shelburne have been issued.

W. A. Gilmor, Uriah Carson, Ottawa; P. Kirwin, Quebec; Louis Cote, St. Hyacinthe and H. A. McLean, London, have been added to the Labor Commission.

A petition signed by over 3000 names has been presented to the Secretary of State for the repeal of the Canada Temperance Act in the County of Simcoe.

The Deputy Minister of Finance, Mr. J. M. Courtney, will leave for Washington at the end of this week.

TRAFFIC ON THE INTERCOLONIAL.

OTTAWA, Nov. 21.—Freight business of the line of the Intercolonial Railway is keeping up well. Large quantities of coal are being shipped to the upper provinces, which have taxed the car capacity of the road to such an extent that a lot of new rolling stock had to be ordered. The first winter boat has arrived at Halifax, which will further increase the traffic from ocean freight. There are also indications that a large traffic will be developed in raw sugar, the Montreal sugar refiners bringing their imports via Halifax.

MR. PARNELL ON THE SITUATION.

He Has Nothing To Say On Hartel's Course In Ireland.

LONDON, Nov. 21.—An interview was held with Mr. Parnell here to-day during a flying visit made by him on business. He looked thin and careworn, but said that his health was slowly improving. Sir Henry Thompson, who has been treating him for a year, insists that he must recuperate, as otherwise he will be unable to bear the labors of the coming session of Parliament.

Mr. Parnell, on having his attention drawn to Mr. Davitt's speech at Shepton yesterday, said: "I do not think it would become me to criticise or approve the management of the plan of campaign. I was not consulted at its initiation and have since been unable, owing to the state of my health, to take any part in active politics outside of Parliament. Those who are on the spot actively engaged are the best judges of what their own honor and the interests of the tenantry require. Mr. Davitt is in a different position. His opinion is entitled to respect, coming from one who is in Ireland, and who is a man of singularly resourceful courage, who never shrank from the consequences of his words. But I do not gather that Mr. Davitt did criticise the plan. He rather seemed to be apprehensive that things might be misunderstood in America respecting the general situation.

"I may say that in my judgment a more feeble or inert government never held the reins in Ireland. They are teaching Irishmen a most disastrous lesson by their bungling incapacity, teaching that law may be successfully defied. For the law, as recently constructed by the Unionist majority in the House of Commons, is daily defied, and with impunity by thousands of members of suppressed branches of the leagues and by every Nationalist newspaper in Ireland. In fact one of the extraordinary results of a coercion act and a firm and resolute government is that [illegible] defiance against the law committed under the pressure of the Coercion Bill hundreds are committed now. [illegible] to go to gaol without Ireland's respect for the Imperial Parliament, the popularity of [illegible] by the same agency or the solidity of the union is likely to be increased, or whether this administrative incapacity does not render much nearer the expansion of such reasonable powers of self-government as will strike our people law-abiding, prosperous and happy."

DUBLIN, Nov. 21.—At a meeting of Limerick landlords [illegible] day a resolution was adopted favoring land ownership of land. It was proposed that the state advance money at a low rate of interest to enable landlords to grant tenants [illegible] their rents as compensation on evictions, the principal and interest to be repayable to the Government in thirty-five years. The resolution will be submitted to a larger meeting of landlords in this city on Wednesday.

T. M. Healy, at a league meeting at Ballinrobe, condemned the action taken at Mr. O'Brien's visit that of the French and Colonies, and strongly opposed the Government that if Mr. O'Brien died there would be blood for blood and life for life. Amongst Judge O'Hagan as an [illegible] of the Arbitration.

Mr. Clancy told the meeting at Loughrea yesterday that he had seen Stanley which had been smuggled from Tullamore Jail written in O'Brien's blood.

THE CROWN PRINCE.

The Royal Patient at San Remo Continues to Eat and Sleep Well.

SAN REMO, Nov. 21.—The Crown Prince continues to eat and sleep well. While a band was playing in his house to-day the Prince appeared on the terrace and was cordially greeted.

It is rumored that the King of Italy and the King of Wurtemberg intend to come to San Remo to see the Crown Prince.

The Prince Depressed.

VIENNA, Nov. 21.—Reports are current here that the German Crown Prince has of late shown signs of occasional mental depression. He has written long letters to the Prince of Wales, the Crown Prince of Austria and the Grand Duke of Baden.

The Minister of Education has sharply reproved Prof. Sterck for his recent attack on Dr. Mackenzie.

The Daily Examiner.

TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 22, 1887.

The Globe suggests that the Dominion Government's election-town Labor Commission should be encouraged to inquire into the immigration printing accounts of the Montreal Gazette, the London Free Press, and the Hamilton Spectator, etc., etc.

The New York State Legislature will embark the liquor question in earnest at its next session, when there will be introduced a local option bill; a high license bill, under which the fee would not be less than $500 nor more than $1,500; and a restrictive bill, by which would be accomplished a gradual reduction of the number of saloons to a maximum of 1 to 500 of the population.

The Industrial School at Mimico near Toronto has considerable interest for Peterborough. This town has, as the police court records show, numerous lads whose training has been sadly neglected, and the Industrial School presents an opportunity for such lads to receive the industrial training which will make them respectable mechanics citizens, instead of their growing up paupers and criminals if they are allowed to lounge about the town. Here is an opportunity for practical philanthropy. Full particulars respecting the Industrial School at Mimico can be obtained from Mr. W. H. Stanton, Hon. Secretary of the Toronto Industrial School Association, Toronto.

The exaggerated Yankee idea of the omnipotence of money has been strongly emphasized by the Yankee proposal to settle the fishery dispute by purchasing the Maritime Provinces for fifty millions of dollars. Repeatedly preposterous as is this proposal, there are influential American newspapers which seriously discuss and advocate it. Do our Yankee neighbors think that money can buy everything? It goes a long way in the United States and in the lobbies of her legislatures, but representatives of the people are bought like horses in the shambles, but that is no reason for the assumption that Canada would, for a moment, think of degrading the national character by entertaining so impudent and humiliating a proposition for a fraction of a moment.

In his speech at Manchester a few days ago, Mr. Goschen, the British chancellor of the exchequer, spoke strongly in opposition to the doctrine that trade depression could be cured by legislation. He warned statesmen against dangling before the eyes of traders, artizans and farmers, who were suffering from depression from natural causes, any hope of parliamentary remedy. This is a severe backhand slap for those Tories who have been agitating for a change in Britain's fiscal system. Mr. Goschen should come to Canada and deliver a lecture to his fellow Tories on this side of the Atlantic, who have been for years promulgating the doctrine of "paternal government," and encouraging the notion that every individual or corporation that gets into difficulty should look to the government for assistance. He might do some good in the long run, but we cannot hope for any sudden change to national fiscal methods. A plant propagated and raised in a hot house cannot be transferred to the soil in the open air without a great deal of care and coddling. A hot-house industry, propagated and nurtured under the "N.P." cannot be expected to grow and flourish at the first moment under the vigorous outer air of free trade conditions. The country is committed to the protective policy which only protects the manufacturer against the manufacturer—the capitalist of the ring—and it would, perhaps, be impolitic to make any sudden change even if the ultimate effects of a change would be a healthier commercial and industrial condition. All acknowledge that the excessive use of intoxicants is a terrible evil, and that abstinence would be the better course, but, when a man drinks himself into the "horrors", a sudden withdrawal of his habitual stimulant might result in a fatal collapse. And it is to be regretted that the contemplation of Canada from the trammels of a narrow-gauge fiscal policy will have to be accomplished by degrees unless the advocates of unrestricted trade convince the country that it is to the public interest to adopt their policy, and that the immediate effects of a sudden change would be outweighed by the ultimate magnitude of beneficial effects.

THE FRENCH CRISIS.

M. Clemenceau Declines To Form A Cabinet.

PARIS, Nov. 21.—The succeeding of M. Clemenceau by President Grevy indicates the speedy resignation of the latter. M. Clemenceau declined publicly on Saturday that President Grevy could not remain office if he formed a responsible publication to form a cabinet under him.

In the Chamber of Deputies M. Jolibois moved that the constitution be revised, ending that the sole remedy for the present situation was to restore the people's right to nominate the head of the state, and thus make the people the arbiter, instead of encouraging the plaything of political parties. He demanded urgency for his motion. M. Blandot and M. Michaud spoke in favor of a revision of the constitution in order, as they said, to abolish the presidency. The demand for urgency for Jolibois' motion was rejected.

M. Michelon then moved for urgency for a proposal to abolish the presidency.

Jolibois supported the motion.

M. Robet opposed to the United Republicans to refuse their consent to the proposal which, he said, tended to dismember the republic.

M. Michelon's motion was rejected by 309 to 201.

The Chamber adjourned until Tuesday.

PARIS, Nov. 21.—M. Grevy in the interview this morning said he would leave to M. Clemenceau the fullest latitude in the choice of colleagues.

M. Clemenceau replied that the election of the President to the Republic was indispensable, and that he might render her a lasting service by resigning, in view of the fact that his authority had sustained a blow that was hurtful to the Republic.

M. Grevy intimated that his refusal to resign was not final. He called M. Clemenceau to join with MM. Floquet, Goblet and De Freycinet in a conference on the subject of his resignation. The conference was of three hours' duration. No decision was reached.

A conference on the subject of the President's resignation was held in accordance with M. Grevy's request, and MM. Floquet, Goblet and De Freycinet adhered to the opinion of M. Clemenceau. M. Grevy finally announced that he would appeal to other statesmen for assistance.

President Grevy says that for many reasons he desired to retire to private life, but it was his desire to quit the Elysee Palace with honor. Therefore, he would remain in office until things were so arranged that he could take his departure with dignity. He felt that this was due to his past life and the office he held. He must avoid setting a bad precedent. He referred to M. Wilson as the victim of a political intrigue against himself.

The conference was renewed in the evening, when MM. Clemenceau, Floquet, Goblet and De Freycinet each declined to accept the task of forming a Ministry.

PARIS, Nov. 22.—President Grevy summoned M. Brisson at 1 o'clock this morning.

In Brief, And To The Point.

Dyspepsia is dreadful. Disordered livers is misery. Indigestion is a foe to good nature. The human digestive apparatus is one of the most complicated and wonderful things in existence. It is easily put out of order.

Greasy food, tough food, sloppy food, bad cookery, mental worry, late hours, irregular habits, and many other things which ought not to be, have made the American people a nation of dyspeptics.

But Green's August Flower has done a wonderful work in reforming this sad business and making the American people so healthy that they can enjoy their meals and be happy.

Remember:—No happiness without health. But Green's August Flower restores health—happiness to the dyspeptic. Ask your druggist for a bottle. Seventy-five cents.

The Breath of a chronic catarrh patient is often so offensive that he cannot go into society and he becomes an object of disgust. After a time ulceration sets in, the nasal bones are absorbed and frequently, entirely destroyed. A constant source of discomfort is the dripping of the purulent secretions into the throat, sometimes producing inveterate bronchitis, which in its turn has been the exciting cause of pulmonary disease. The brilliant results that have attended its use for years past properly designate Ely's Cream Balm as by far the best, if not the only real cure for hay fever, rose cold and catarrh. ed6w47

Peterborough Stove and Furnace Works.

The Progress of a Year—A Large Increase in the Business—A Number of New Features—Better's Celebrated Hot Water Boilers.

Year after year the business of the Peterborough Stove and Furnace Company goes on increasing, and keeps full pace with these stirring times of business activity and enterprise. This year's operations so far predominate over last year's that a brief review of the doings of the Company will not be out of place.

Their stove trade is, of course, the main feature of their business. In this department the increase has more than realized expectations. Besides the many old makes of stoves which have been such standard and stable articles of trade, several new and improved lines have been added this year, among them two sizes of the high art square base burner, "Popular Mystic"; two sizes of the "Madison Square", a high art check coal burner; three sizes in the "Archer's" pot stoves; two coal and wood cooks, "Happy Cook E"; two sizes of the "Brilliant Mystic", with square Russian iron body, direct and indirect flue—powerful heaters; three sizes of a parlor wood cook, "Emerald", with and without oven, making six distinct stoves. With these new additions the line of stoves now manufactured by this company is unsurpassed in Ontario—a fact which is being daily more and more recognized by an appreciative public, as evinced by the largely increased business of the firm. Under the supervision of Mr. W. H. McCormack, the efficient superintendent, the quality of stoves manufactured in Peterborough is brought to the highest point in approach to perfection.

The goods made by the Peterborough Stove and Furnace Company are shipped all over Ontario mainly, though some few go outside the province. The amount of business done this year is estimated at $10,000 worth—a statement which is corroborated in plain black and white on the company's books. They are at present running a staff of 50 men, the largest since the works were started.

The manufactory of the Company, situated at the intersection of the Grand Trunk and C.P.R. lines on Bethune street, has been described in the EXAMINER before, and is too well known to need any more than a passing notice. Suffice it to say the buildings are complete and adequate except in one department, the foundry. It is proposed next spring to build a large addition to the moulding-room to meet the demands in that department.

Last March the company began shipping a patent ventilated oven cooking stove which is meeting with unparalleled success. This process of ventilation is used in all their lines of cooking stoves. It is the of ventilation in use in use in Canada. Messrs. Jones and McCormack are the patentees. It gives a saving of 25% over any other oven, and will give more bread for the same amount of flour than any other process. The company are running over-time in this department in order to meet the demand. More letter orders have been received this fall than any other fall since operations were begun. This oven has numerous merits, an enumeration of which would occupy considerable space. The company claim, with evident justification that their new patent ventilated oven is the best and most complete, and the most perfect working ventilated oven ever produced in this or any other country. There is a continuous current of pure air passing through the oven which can be regulated by a damper at the back. The advantages of such an oven will at once present themselves to the thoughtful reader—economy of fuel; there is no smell of cooking; the meat or other articles cooked is evenly done; no shrinkage or drying up; needs no basting and retains its flavor as if cooked on an open spit. The company have received many testimonials from parties who have experienced the comfort and advantages of these ovens, all speaking in the highest terms. Mr. Thos. Jones, the genial and pushing travelling representative of the firm, never tires of describing the merits of the new patent ventilated oven, of which he is a part patentee, to his numerous customers, who can rarely withstand his flow of persuasive eloquence, backed, as it is, by a knowledge that he is laboring in a good cause, and for the general benefit of mankind.

The Company also manufacture

BOLTON'S CELEBRATED HOT WATER BOILER,

which meets with ready sales as fast as made. Mr. Geo. Bolton, the patentee, formerly conducted the business in Peterborough himself, but it was transferred to the company this summer, and with the increased facilities for manufacture, the output has advanced rapidly, though not more rapidly than the demand. The Bolton boiler is one of the best on the Canadian market, and is meeting with great success wherever introduced. Toronto alone would take nearly all the firm could manufacture. A special plant has been put in this department that enables them to compete with any firm in the country. "The best is always the cheapest" runs an old adage, and it never applied more truthfully than to Bolton's Hot Water Boiler.

Reversed or Reserved.

The Toronto Mail to-day says:—"The Peterborough papers claim that in the item which appeared in the Mail of Saturday about the decision given by the Privy Council in the case of the Grand Junction Railway v. the County of Peterborough, "judgment reversed" should read "judgment reserved." A member of the firm of Bethune, Leah, Cassels & Holman, solicitors for Mr. R. O. Bickford, was seen in reference to the case, and he showed a cablegram which justified the statements already made. The two main points in the case were that the by-law granting the bonus was not valid, and that the Corporation or Grand Junction Railway Company was not good or legally constituted by charter. In giving a decision on these points the Privy Council held that the by-law was valid and that the Corporation was good. The cablegram read, "By-law valid; Corporation good; final judgment reserved." Any further judgment that can be given therefore will only affect the question of costs."

The Mail may be right, but if so, it is very strange that no message to that effect has been received here. Mr. Stafford, who has charge of the county solicitor's business during his absence, has cabled to Mr. Edwards for a correct statement of the case. A reply will probably be received to-morrow.

A High Opinion of Us.

The Scottish-American of November 16th contains the following reference to Wm. Telford's poems:

Mr. Wm. Telford, of Smith, Peterborough, Ont., has just collected his poems, and they now appear in a handsome quarto volume, which has been printed at the EXAMINER office, Peterborough. Mr. Telford is a sweet, unaffected writer, a man who thinks for himself on all topics, and expresses his opinions honestly and candidly. His themes are topics which lie close beside him which please his fancy or excite his indignation. Being bard of the Peterborough St. Andrew's Society many of his effusions were written in connection with it and its celebrations, and the Burn's anniversary festivals also inspire his muse. "The Pioneer' Retrospect" treats of early Canadian life, and is a truthful picture, told in graphic language. Most of the poems are written in "guid braid Scotch," and his use of the Doric is correct and pure. Several of the pieces appeared from time to time in the Scottish-American, and were highly spoken of. The volume is dedicated to the St. Andrew's Society of Peterborough and to Mr. R. H. Thompson, of Chicago. The latter was an enthusiastic admirer of Mr. Telford's poetry, and spared neither time nor expense in making his name known on this side of the Border. He had often suggested the publication of a volume such as this, and was eagerly anticipating the appearance of the present one when he died. Mr. Telford was proud of the friendship of his Chicago admirer, and his name on the dedicatory page is an evidence of this.

The Ever-Popular Siddons.

To-night Mrs. Scott-Siddons appears at the Opera House. Of her night in Brockville, the Times says:—"The moment the entertainer appeared on the platform the frigidity, which usually covers a Brockville audience, melted, and each of the accomplished lady's numbers was received with fervor. Mrs. Scott-Siddons has lost none of her indescribable charm which won the hearts of the people on her former tours. Her voice is, if anything, more finely modulated and her action and gesture, if possible, more perfect than of old. To particularize on her programme would be folly; to those who heard it would seem tame, and to those who were so unfortunate as to be absent it would give but a poor idea of the artiste's powers." Don't fail to avail yourself of the splendid opportunity presented to-night at the Opera House of hearing the best entertainment of the kind ever presented here.

Personal.

Rev. Prof. Wallace went to Cobourg this morning.

Mr. Andrew Wilson is still very low from an attack of typhoid fever.

Mr. R. R. Edwards, county solicitor, will leave Bradford for home on Thursday.

Miss Scott-Siddons has arrived in town for the night's readings at the Opera House, and is the guest of the Colonial Hotel.

Mr. T. C. Colbeck, the new master of Modern Languages in the Collegiate Institute, began his duties yesterday.

A Burning Question.

What is literally a burning question is just now agitating the minds of those improvident housekeepers, who have put laid in their winter supply of coal, nor contracted for it at the low figure that has ruled up to the present time. Probably within a few days the price of coal will take a jump that will make many feel faint. Many who are advocating an the union, and one local dealer told the EXAMINER this morning that he could not buy from the mines at the price it was being sold in Peterborough. The local supply is about exhausted, and when the dealers have to bring in fresh coal at an advanced price, the consumer must of course "pay the piper." The dealers in Peterborough have refused to make any more contracts at the prices now ruling. Another dealer stated that it would advance here from 75 cents to $1 a ton within a few days. This prospect is disheartening indeed to the great mass of citizens. One long-headed individual was heard to remark, when told of the facts, that he would invest his money in an extra supply of blankets and wrap himself up to keep warm, rather than pay an exorbitant price for the "black diamonds."

Otonabee Lodge Anniversary.

The fifth anniversary of the reinstitution of this lodge will be celebrated under more than usually gratifying circumstances. Additional evidence of the flourishing condition of the lodge, both numerically and in the matter of influence is shown by the fact that the members are making elaborate additions to their premises, and when the present alterations and additions are completed the whole of the third and fourth stories of the Cluxton-Cox block will be used for lodge purposes. The work of change and renovation is being pushed energetically. The new premises will be ready for occupancy on Dec. 9th, when they will be used for the first time for the celebration of the fifth anniversary. A conversazione will be held—and incidental to it refreshments will be served during the evening and a brief musical programme will be presented, to which some of the best musical talent of the town will contribute.

An Industry in Prospect.

A piano factory for Peterborough is one of the probabilities that next spring may develop into a reality. Two practical men who have lately been employed in a first-class piano manufactory interviewed Mayor Stevenson Monday afternoon, who told them that the town would give a free site for the erection of suitable buildings, exempt from taxation. They stated that they would remain in Peterborough during the winter and open up a piano and organ agency, and that next spring they would endeavor to organize a company to begin the manufacture of pianos in Peterborough.

Norwood's Oddfellow Lodge.

Monday night at the regular meeting of Otonabee Lodge a number of applications were received from prominent citizens of Norwood to become interim members of Otonabee Lodge for the purpose of becoming qualified petitioners for a lodge of the Order to be instituted at Norwood at an early date. These gentlemen, about twelve in all, will be received into full membership at the next meeting of Otonabee Lodge. The institution of a new lodge in Norwood, will come in due course. This new child of Otonabee will, doubtless, possess all the excellent characteristics of the parent lodge.

League of the Cross.

A meeting of the Peterborough branch of the League of the Cross was held last evening, Mr. J. O'Meara, President, in the chair. A constitution was adopted, and a sick and death benefit fund established. It was decided to hold an open debate at each weekly meeting of the League. Several new members were admitted at the meeting Monday night.

No Choice Made.

The meeting of the official board of the George street church, convened Monday evening, resulted in no definite action, the question of securing a temporary supply of the pulpit after the withdrawal of Rev. Mr. Wallace being left undecided. The board adjourned for two weeks for the purpose of gaining further information before extending a call to anyone.

Peterborough and Mr. Cox.

The Globe says:—"Mr. Geo. A. Cox, of Peterborough, was tendered a banquet last week on the occasion of his removal to Toronto. Mr. Cox undoubtedly deserved the unstinted praise for the energy and ability he has displayed in every thing with which he has been connected in Peterborough. The opportunity of his business ability, he said, had caused him to be considered for the presidency of the Toronto Board of Trade, and he was also solicited to run for the Legislature, but he declined all overtures. Though part of his business will remain in Peterborough for the next year or a year and a half his time, he should still consider Peterborough his home. That thriving town will therefore still get the benefit of Mr. Cox's great business experience, and he will, no doubt, continue to take as lively an interest as ever in anything that concerns the welfare."

PRICES IN DRY GOODS

AT

For the Next Two Months.

After considering the matter over carefully I have decided to force the sale of my large and well assorted stock of Dry Goods. This means a loss, but, rather than carry goods over until another season, I feel justified in taking this course. It is not my practice to make random statements misleading to customers, therefore when I say the prices will be cut down you will find that the prices WILL be cut down. Remember that price alone is no criterion of cheapness. You should examine goods and judge of their values. What we say we do, and more than that we replace unsaleable goods, not old goods lying around the shelves from season to season. A few quotations will serve as a guide, and possibly startle you into the advisability of calling.

A Domestic Drama.

SCENE—John Plane's Sitting-room—Saturday Morning.

JOHN—Polly!

POLLY—Yes, John.

JOHN—I get a letter to-day from Emma Ann, and she wants us to come down Christmas and bring the whole gang!

POLLY—Oh, how splendid! I would like to go, but—the children and I will have to have new dresses.

JOHN—Bother the new dresses!—always new dresses. Talk about new dresses with tax bills to pay, coal bills to pay, wood bills to pay, and ——— to pay generally—Don't say anything more about it—Tottie, get my slippers.

POLLY—But John, we might manage—Ah, I have it! I was down street the other day with Mrs. Scrags, and we dropped into the Golden Lion—she wanted to see some remnants. And I'm glad I went. For of all the heaps of remnants I ever saw that beat all; and John, you know, there was every kind of dress goods as cheap as dirt. There isn't enough to make a whole small dress, but I can get some pieces of velvet and cashmere and fix up my old black cashmere to look as good as new, and it won't cost hardly anything.

JOHN (the average husband)—Why the deuce didn't you say so before? Why haven't you got your dresses fixed already! I'm sure you had plenty of money: I gave you a dollar and a half to run the house last week, and you might have taken what was left and got stuff at Fair's and had your dresses all ready now.

POLLY—But, John, $1.50 don't go far in filling five mouths, and they have such appetites, especially this little darling—(hugging Tottie till the buttons flew off her boots).

JOHN (relenting)—All right, old girl, you're a little tramp, anyway. You don't waste the money; you feed us well, and you shall have all the money you want. It would be a burning shame to miss such bargains, as there are in remnants at Fair's. Come to think, I read about them in the EXAMINER. Here, Lucy, bring me the night's paper; there it is on the sofa—blamed if the kid hasn't dropped asleep on it—pull it from under him gently. Here it is—"Remnants! Remnants! Remnants! at the Golden Lion. A splendid lot of dress goods remnants to be cleared out regardless of price." You must have the money, Polly, though it's rather scarce and I would like to pay the coal bill and wood bill, but the coal and wood man can afford to wait better than we can afford to miss these big bargains in remnants at the Golden Lion.

POLLY—Of course they can. It's a good thing when money is so scarce to get a chance to buy something good and cheap. How the money goes! for milk tickets, bread tickets and—why good gracious, its nine o'clock. Lucy, take the children to bed. Good night Tottie—good night darling. (Exeunt kids)

JOHN—Get me a bit of sponge cake, Polly, and a cup of that cider Poison left this morning and we'll turn in too. You must get up early and go down to Fair's. Tog yourself and the kids out regardless, and we'll have a jolly Christmas down at Emma Ann's.

THE NEWS IN BRIEF.

At the York County Council meeting yesterday the committee reported the advisability of abolishing tolls on the York road, and recommended that they be maintained by a tax to be paid half by the county and half by the municipalities through which the roads run.

Edward Meek, the Toronto barrister, was summoned to appear before a committee of the Benchers to answer a charge of concealing the will of the late R. B. Butland. The committee has taken evidence in the matter, but a decision is not yet given.

At a meeting of the directors of the Toronto Horticultural Society yesterday it transpired that the society is in debt to the extent of about $20,000. The gardens and pavilion do not pay working expenses, and it was suggested that they should be taken over by the city and used as a public park.

Robert Anneb has been arrested and is held in London for the murder of Robert Blackwell, who has died from the injuries received at the hands of the former a few days ago.

It is reported that Lieutenant-Governor Angers will give a grand ball in Montreal during the winter at the Windsor Hotel, where His Honor will reside several weeks.

TORONTO TOPICS.

TORONTO, Nov. 22.—The Labor Commissioners held a meeting in Shaftesbury Hall last night. The object of the meeting was stated by the president to be for receiving evidence from the representatives of labor organizations and other classes. To a question as to the Commission's scope of inquiry with regard to immigration matters, the chairman replied that the Commission had ample powers to inquire into such matters. The Commission's duty was to collect evidence to be laid before the Government, which would guide it in framing legislation if it was deemed necessary. Facts were wanted and not opinions or theories, and everyone who could give facts bearing upon the relations of capital and labor would be accorded a hearing. Evidence as to wages, the purchasing power of wages, child labor, the coercion of employes by their employers and kindred subjects was what they wanted.

These solicitors were sworn in at Osgoode Hall yesterday: E. H. Britton, R. A. Bayley, R. C. LaVesconte, G. R. O'Reilly, R. J. Maclennan, H. A. Roberts, E. S. Wigle, G. Leggatt, G. L. Lennox, A. F. May, F. A. Crease, A. Stevenson, J. H. A. Beattie, G. F. Cane, A. J. Arnold, D. G. Marshall.

At high noon yesterday and at Government House Mr. Justice Galt was sworn in as Chief Justice of the Common Pleas Division of the High Court of Justice, and Mr. Justice Armour as Chief Justice of the Queen's Bench Division. The oath was administered by His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor, Sir Alexander Campbell, who was attended by these members of his Council: Attorney-General Mowat, Hon. C. F. Fraser and Hon. G. W. Ross.

Chief Justice Galt appeared upon the bench in the Common Pleas Division, Osgoode Hall, in the afternoon and presented his commission. Mr. Frank Mackelcan, Q.C., of Hamilton made to the new Chief Justice a congratulatory address on behalf of the Bar, and His Lordship replied suitably.

A painful case of suicide occurred on Monday night in the West End. Mrs. Bangs, aged 27, wife of Mr. James Bangs, a printer residing at 128 Markham-street, went to Tuthill's drug store at 296 Bathurst-street and, stating that her house was infested by rats, bought a packet of "Rough on Rats." She was apparently calm and collected, and was accompanied by her little boy. She returned home, took the poison, and her husband found her shortly afterwards on the floor and suffering fearfully. Dr. Parry applied the stomach pump, but all to no purpose. The woman lingered in agonies till yesterday morning. She has lately suffered from pains in her head and had become very despondent.

At noon yesterday, the Pacific express on the Canadian Pacific Railway collided near Smith's Falls with a freight train which was being shunted, the result being that the engine and smoking cars of the express were overturned. Both engineer and stoker were badly hurt and the passengers greatly alarmed. The train from Ottawa did not arrive in consequence till 7 o'clock last evening.

THE NEWS FROM EUROPE.

PRESIDENT GREVY STILL HOLDING ON TO HIS OFFICE.

Annual Meeting of the Reformed Union of Conservatives—Gladstone's Popularity—The Crown Prince's Illness—A Letter From John Bright—The Wreck of the Schiedam.

LONDON, Nov. 22.—The wreck of the W. A. Scholten has in twelve inches of water, the main mast projecting twenty feet above the water at high tide. The sea has been so rough that divers have not been able to continue the work. It is probable the hull will be blown up.

Mr. P. Graham, M.P., and Mr. Burns, the Socialist leader, who were arrested for participation in the Trafalgar-square riot, were arraigned to-day. Evidence was given that they had violently attacked the police. The case was adjourned.

The American ship E. F. Sawyer, from San Francisco June 11, was sunk by a collision at Folkestone this morning. The crew was saved.

Col. Dopping, who had issued an action for libel against Mr. Gladstone, has received an apology from the latter, who says that he did not mean to impute to Col. Dopping the use of a loaded rifle. The Colonel is satisfied and has withdrawn his action.

The second son of the Crown Prince, Prince Henry, will remain with his father all winter at San Remo. The North German Gazette, referring to the birthday of the Crown Princess, says: "The whole fatherland looks with pride and admiration upon the illustrious lady who self-sacrificingly stands with unselfish devotion by the side of her consort at so grave and sad a time. What fills and stirs her soul on this festive day rises to heaven as a fervent prayer from all hearts that the Crown Prince be given strength to overcome his illness."

M. Lecryer to-day advised President Grevy to resign. M. Brisson had a conference with the President to-day and told him that the crisis appeared to be without a remedy, and the reason was universally apparent. He reminded M. Grevy that at a meeting on Sunday he had maintained that nobody was entitled to demand the resignation of the President, who alone was entitled to raise the question. The Times' London special says:

"Paris is beginning to show disquieting signs of excitement. Last night the Boulanger song, which has been in abeyance for months, suddenly took a new lease of life on the Boulevards and streets, which were fuller than they have been for a long time. There are many versions of M. Clemenceau's talk to President Grevy yesterday, but most of them agree that he told the President plainly that no stable Ministry of any sort was possible so long as he remained in the Elysee. To have to summon Clemenceau must in itself have been a bitter pill to President Grevy, who, during all the vicissitudes of the last eight years, has had comfort from the fact that at least he has never been compelled to consult with Clemenceau.

The annual meeting of the National Union of Conservatives opened at Oxford to-day, Ashmead Bartlett, M.P., presiding. Over 1000 delegates were present, representing every section of Great Britain and Ireland. Resolutions were passed in favor of fair trade and of reform of the English Church.

A letter was read from Mr. Bright referring to his proposal to send Irish bills to a grand committee composed of Irish members. In the letter he says, "The rebel party will not accept the proposal because they are rebels, and with rebel Irish members in the House of Commons the plan would not be allowed to work. Mr. Gladstone has a hobby in which the rebel leaders for a time have agreed to join him. He is committed to that hobby and cannot condescend to consider a plan less pretentious but more reasonable than his. Nothing can be done until Mr. Gladstone's bills have been entirely got rid of and the position is wholly changed. He stops the way. He insists upon impossible legislation for Ireland to the exclusion of legislation for the whole kingdom. The Gladstonians still have faith in him. They are anxious to return to power, and they are fortune because the Conservatives are in office, and they blame me and others for keeping them there. They seem blind to the fact that Gladstone's conduct put the Conservatives in office. They forget that the electors of Great Britain by a majority of nearly two to one, condemned Mr. Gladstone's bills and destroyed his ministry. We cannot allow Mr. Gladstone to return to office on his Irish policy. I prefer to join hands with Lord Salisbury and his colleagues rather than with Parnell and his friends, the leaders of the rebellion.

The Times says that Parnell is no longer the leader of the Irish National party, but simply an old Parliamentary hand retained by the leaders to manage the work of the party in the House of Commons.

THE FISHERY COMMISSION.

First Formal Conference—United States Proposals Said to Have Been Submitted.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—It is expected now that the commission will be able to complete their business and get away from Washington within ten days. It has been decided that nothing shall be given to the public until the treaty is perfected and signed, and it may be that the approval of the Senate will first be asked before there are any disclosures by the State Department concerning the terms of the convention.

The first formal conference was held to-day. Although every precaution was taken to prevent leakages, it is learned that the American negotiators submitted the draft of a convention which had been prepared by Secretary Bayard, with the approval of his colleagues and the President. The entire session was devoted, it is said, to an informal discussion of the provisions of this document. There was, of course, no conclusion reached and it is not possible to learn what the salient features of the draft are. Now that the British representatives have learned just what the United States has to propose, it will be more easy to fully outline the course to be pursued by Sir Lionel West, Sir Charles Tupper and Mr. Chamberlain. With this object in view, a conference of these gentlemen is to be held to-night, at which Mr. Bergne will be present, and he will without doubt have some valuable suggestions to offer.

The Trafalgar-square Meetings.

LONDON, Nov. 22.—The general committee of the Liberal Radical Union has resolved to urge all the members of the union to oppose further meetings in Trafalgar-square pending a legal decision in the matter.

SPECIAL CABLE DESPATCHES.

LONDON, Nov. 22.—Sir George Stephen arrived in London to-day. It is expected that he will take steps towards arranging for a more Pacific steamship service in accordance with the Government subsidy requirements.

Dr. Tupper's report has just appeared on Christchurch colony of the Church Colonization Land Society. It states the prospects of the colony, and points to the fact that whereas five-per cent. was expected to be received, six per cent. is now unanimously relied on as a return on the capital. It is claimed that this will extend the possibilities of Church colonization work.

Mr. Norman's first letter on his Canadian tour appears in the Pall Mall Gazette to-day. It deals with the historical aspect of the Fisheries question.

MISS EMMA'S AD.

A Minister Who Refuses the Opera Singer Asked to Resign.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Nov. 22.—Previous to the adjournment of the North Alabama Conference of the Southern Methodist Church at Tuscumbia last night, a resolution was adopted requesting Dr. B. C. Kelly of Nashville, one of the most popular Methodist divines in the South and missionary treasurer of the General Conference, to resign his official position on account of his utterances in reference to the Emma Abbott episode at Nashville. The resolution will create a great sensation throughout the entire Southern Methodist Church. Dr. Kelly defended Miss Abbott's riding in church to defend herself against the harsh terms on theatre-going recently made use of in a sermon by a Nashville minister.

Rev. Dr. Parker on America.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Nov. 22.—Dr. Parker states that he will return to England next month. He is obliged to do this because of his health. "It is not," he said "the lecturing which prostrates me. I could lecture every night for an indefinite period. But I find that my constitution is utterly inadequate to the strain upon the system of three intermediate journeys, the hour after hour in a sleeper, the vast distances, the endless successions of cities which have sprung up as if they had been set down upon the plain in the night by genii. These appal me and weigh upon my spirit to that degree that I am worn out. I am appalled, amazed, oppressed by this wonderful country. I could have no conception of its extent. Then there is the utter disregard of the value of money which a foreigner finds here. It seems to me that one of your dollars is no more than one of our shillings. If I should be offered $15 for a letter in England, I should think that sense was worse playing a joke on me, but here for one letter some one offers ($50)."

Goldwin Smith on the Tariff.

WINNIPEG, Nov. 22.—Dr. Goldwin Smith contributes an article in The Sun to-night on events in Manitoba, in which he says: "Evidently the Province has come to a turning point in its destiny and in the destiny of the whole region of which it is a part. It is impossible that you should enjoy your share of prosperity unless you can liberate yourselves from your two great drawbacks—railway restriction and an adverse tariff. While these remain you cannot hope to hold your own against Minnesota and Dakota, which enjoy perfect liberty of railway extension and free trade, with the Continent. You may laboriously import Mennonites and Icelanders; but the best immigration, which is the spontaneous immigration from Canada, will pass you by. The tariff, while it is injurious to the whole Dominion, is specially injurious to the Northwest, a new agricultural region which cannot for a long time to come manufacture for itself. The only wonder is that under such a system Manitoba has succeeded in developing herself so far as she has."

The Walking Match.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 22.—A great interest is taken in the walking contest, and large crowds are constantly in attendance. Vint, Moore, Cronin and Legrand have dropped out. The nine men remaining to-night appear to be in good condition. Littlewood, the English champion, looks tired, but still retains the lead. The score at 11 p.m. was: Hart, 153; Cox, 135; Burns, 133; Noremac, 289; Elson, 197; Albert, 220; Strokel, 146; Littlewood, 248; Panchot, 216.

The Recount in Haldimand.

CAYUGA, Nov. 22.—The recount of the ballots in Haldimand was commenced here this morning before Judge Upper. Mr. Colter was represented by Messrs. Coyne and Goodman, and Dr. Montague by Messrs. Ermatinger and Snider. On examination of the ballots in Caledonia, Cayuga, North Cayuga, Rainham and Seneca, objections were taken to a large number, but no decision was given on any of them. The recount will probably last two or three days.

Ottawa Mayoralty.

OTTAWA, Nov. 22.—Ald. W. H. Lewis announces this evening that he will be a candidate for the mayoralty. Mayor Stewart also announces that he will seek re-election, and requisitions are being signed asking ex-Ald. W. E. Brown to take the field. Altogether the contest for the mayoralty promises to be a very lively one.

Is Commercial Union Desirable?

To the Editor of the Examiner :—

After closing this article I propose to leave this question to the judgment and discretion of the people. They are the only parties interested, and I presume they will know how both to discharge their duty to themselves and to preserve their own interests. I am satisfied they will perform their duty faithfully, and just they will, in doing so, doubtless receive political reputations and, apparently not even political vice-reform. [illegible] will not [illegible] and his associates [illegible] which will [illegible] Mr. Ingram that his last hour has come if he does not bestir himself, and he will be sure to strike out for the shore. So it is with Commercial Union understanding people of Canada to-day. They must do something must be done. Then they cannot go on as they have been doing, [illegible] their only hope of safety lies in a change. They are now shown to be for a commercial of people like themselves to support to live and prosper by building a high [illegible] between themselves and seventy millions of people living along their borders for three thousand miles, and who possess all that they require, and whose trade, if free, would enrich them and bring contentment and comfort. The great absorbing question with them now is whether they shall have these advantages or not. And they see that Commercial Union offers them and that if they can obtain it they will be free. Free to live and prosper, and free to buy and sell in the boundless markets of the whole United States. They see that the millions of dollars which they lose every year in custom's taxes upon their grain and produce would go into their own pockets. There is not an article produced in Canada which the people of the United do not require, and which Canadians could not profitably sell them if the trade relations between the two countries were free. And more than all this, if we had Commercial Union, Canadians would have the markets of all the eastern states at their command, where [illegible] of people would consume their grain and flour, and horses and cattle and everything, which Canadians could produce. And these markets, lying at our very doors, would be more easily and cheaply reached by us than by the people of the western states, so far away with such heavy freight charges to contend with. I suppose the people of Canada hardly ever thought of this. But it is time they did think of it, and time they placed themselves in a position to avail themselves of the immense advantages which such markets would afford them. One of the first things which farmers especially should do is to form what is called farmers' institutes, or unions, if possible, in every township having representatives to county unions or institutes. These institutes already exist in several counties of Ontario.

A SURE CURE FOR ALL THEIR TROUBLES,

THESE INSTITUTES ARE INDISPARABLE

from the success and prosperity of the farmers. As they live long distances from each other, and thus have no immediate means of meeting together, and only see one another in twos and threes at a time, they have no real opportunity of conversing practically upon subjects of general interest to themselves, and they are thus left to isolated pieces of information given to them, oftentimes untruthfully and always given to suit the feelings of their informants. And even this unsatisfactory kind of information never goes beyond a very few persons in any given locality, and as the general public are in ignorance of what is passing around them. The farmers are thus kept separated in knowledge, and their interests most greatly suffer in consequence. Now if they had farmers' institutes or unions, they would all meet together within a certain radius, say within each township, at stated periods, and they would have [illegible] all questions of a public character, and they would compare views and give such information as would be a vast benefit to themselves and which would enable them to enlighten and benefit others. And [illegible] a greetings in Commercial Union come to them—would be in a position and would be able to deal with it intelligently and successfully. And in this way only can they properly

GUARD AND PROTECT THEIR OWN INTERESTS.

And then again each township institute could select delegates to a county institute, composed of all the township unions, and their wants and interests and improvements could be considered and discussed, and there greater force and vitality could be imparted to the people and they could all act together. This is the only feasible way for the farmers to do to give strength to each other and to make their common wishes known and respected. How will the farmers do this? I hope they will, but I greatly doubt it. The farmers, though a larger portion of the population of the country than all other classes combined, and though their interests are greater than all others put together, by their disunity, it must be said that they are behind all other classes in work of this kind, and seem to prefer to suffer injustice rather than try to protect themselves. The result of all this indifference is the fault also of the farmers, and leaving them an easy prey to cunning and designing men, who merely use them for their own selfish purposes. It is time that a complete change was made in this respect. For if the farmers ever expect to get justice from others they must first

MAKE THEIR INFLUENCE AND POWER FELT.

And they must show that they are in earnest. And they must let politicians see this. And, above all, they must not be flattered and led astray by the solicitations of those who trade on their credulity and who think that a little soft soap on their part is all that is necessary to gull their confiding and generous. The farmers, and mechanics, and laboring classes must look and consider well before they sign the bonds [illegible] of the country and [illegible] all upon it with them. Let them open and look labour in honorable and then they will make others look up to and respect them. Wealth and social position do not make one man better than another man. And when the people understand this and act upon it they will have put manners down to their proper level and they will have gained the victory. There is a great deal more to be said in favor of Commercial Union and which I would like to lay before the minds of the people. But I feel that if what I have already said has not the desired effect it will be useless for me to proceed further. I would like to show the farmers what they lose every year by means of American customs taxes on our own, upon [illegible] wheat, corn, cheese, cattle and horses, the admitting of Americans equal into Canada free of duty, the admitting of Americans orchard into Canada free of duty and cattle, [illegible] any space will not admit. If I find encouragement given also to their interests, if they form farmers' institutes, and if they show a desire for more information I may give it them. But it all depends upon themselves whether I do so or not.

NOT FOR PARTY,
BUT FOR MY COUNTRY'S SAKE.

AN IMPORTANT RULING.

The U.S. Treasury Department on the Importation of Animals for Breeding Purposes.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—Some time last spring Mr. Valancey E. Fuller of Hamilton, Ont., one of the best known breeders in the Dominion, imported a number of blooded cattle into the United States by the way of Suspension Bridge, N.Y. Mr. Fuller is a member of an association of American breeders who have headquarters in New York City. One of the requirements of the association is that each member must send a certain number of his young stock to New York each year, to be offered for sale at auction. In case to comply with this regulation of the association that Mr. Fuller sent his cattle across the border. He claims that they were entitled to free entry under the Tariff Act of 1883, which provides for the entry of animals imported for breeding purposes. The collector said that the animals were not exempt, as they had been imported for sale. He ruled that they were dutiable at the rate of 30 per cent. ad valorem, and he assessed the duty upon their value for appraising purposes. Mr. Fuller naturally objected to this action on the part of the collector, but when he appealed to the department he was informed that in these matters the discretion of the collector was the guide of the department. Subsequently the collector at Detroit assessed the duty at the same rates upon a number of stallions imported by a Wisconsin firm from Scotland through Canada. An appeal was immediately taken and the department ordered the refunding of the duties collected, upon the ground that the law requires that the animal need not be imported "solely" but "especially" for breeding purposes. Friends of Mr. Fuller called the attention of the Secretary to the similitude of the two cases, but for several months nothing was heard in reply. A few days ago a final decision was reached. Mr. Fuller's friends have been notified that the collector at Suspension Bridge has been ordered to refund the duty collected. This amounts to about $2000.

TERRIBLE DISCLOSURES PROMISED.

Increased Immigration to Canada—Super Bounty Conference.

TORONTO, Nov. 22.—A Mail special cable says: "Many enquiries are being made at the Canadian Government and various steamship offices by persons connected with the agricultural industry anxious to go to Canada. The enquiries relate to all the Provinces, especially the Maritime Provinces and British Columbia. It is officially believed this increased tendency towards emigration on the part of British agriculturists is attributed to Canada's splendid display at the Colonial Exhibition.

"Several representatives of the foreign powers appointed to take part in the International Sugar Bounties Conference have arrived in London. The delegates will on Thursday be entertained at a full dress banquet in the Foreign Office. Other official, semi-official and private dinners are being arranged.

"I am informed on the best authority, that the case against the dynamiters arrested on Saturday, when fully explained at the Police Court by crown counsel, will reveal facts which will astonish the public. The police have in their possession information which indicates how closely we escaped several dynamite outrages."

The Last Day.

The time for receiving notices of appeals against the voters' list of Peterborough, at the town Clerk's office, expires to-night. Up to this forenoon but four appeals had been entered.

Counting Carefully.

Tuesday evening half a dozen little lads were coasting down hill on a bobs-sleigh, when a vicious youngster named Norton threw a heavy sleigh in front of the bobs, capsizing the bobs into a deep ditch, and hurting the lads—some severely. A young son of Mr. B. Shortly was hurt so badly that he had to be carried home, and he is now under the doctor's care. Mr. Johnston Carey's son had his spine injured.

Visit to Hastings.

The Hastings Star says :—"Bishop T. J. Dowling, of Peterborough, will visit Hastings on Friday and remain over Sunday. He will arrive by the after noon train, and will be received at the station by members of the congregation. His Lordship is expected to officiate at morning service on Sunday, and preach at vespers on Sunday evening."

Rhea's Fate.

Last Saturday forenoon M'lle Rhea, the celebrated French actress, whose company occupied the boards at the opera house Saturday evening, left an order at Fairweather & Co's fur store for a ladies set of furs, plucked otter, which she wished made up to take away with her that evening. The order was given about nine o'clock in the forenoon, and, though the article was very short, the furs were done on time and to M'lle Rhea's every satisfaction.

Something to Look Forward to.

The public will receive with pleasure the announcement that the magnificent new premises of Messrs. Hall, Innes & Co., Simcoe street, are approaching completion, and will be ready for occupancy next month. These premises will be the finest dry goods shops in Ontario. City shops may be larger, but none are more elegant, more complete, and better adapted to the demands of the business. High as their fame has stood in the public estimation, their new premises will permit them to serve the public interest in a more complete and, if possible, satisfactory manner than they have done for many years past.

Notice.

Owing to the Immensity of Our Dry Goods Stock, it will be impossible to open to-morrow, Wednesday, as advertised. Our Opening will now take place Saturday, Nov. 26th. Remember the Stock is all New and Fresh, and the Bargains will electrify you. Wait for our Opening.

A Railway Rumor.

The Belleville Ontario of Tuesday says:—"A new time table for the winter will be adopted on the Grand Trunk railways on Monday next. It is reported that under the new time table a through train will leave here daily, over the Midland division for Toronto via Peterborough. The express will leave in the mornings on the arrival of the eastern train on the main line, while, at the same time a train will leave Toronto over the Midland reaching Belleville in the afternoon." A similar report reached the care of the obliging EXAMINER representative on Monday, and he immediately interviewed the Midland railway authorities here to verify the rumor. They all denied the report, stating that the through train service from Belleville to Toronto via the Midland would not be inaugurated until the completion of the Ivanhoe loop line here, which will not be for about two months yet. A new time table comes into force on the Midland next week, but no material changes will be made in the service.

Gratuitous Humanity.

The bald shoddy peddlar has again made his appearance in town and has succeeded in "roping in", among others, a number of marriet celebrities who claim to be pretty "sharp", and that it is not necessary for a horse to fall on them to make them "tumble to a racket." They were badly sold on Tuesday, though, by a man who claimed to be a bankrupt tailor on the way to Newmarket with the remnants of his stock. He told a very plausible story, saying that he was stranded here for want of funds, and could not proceed unless he sold a few pieces of his cloth. He offered sufficient Scotch tweed for a suit for from $6 to $8, and succeeded in making a number of sales, the purchasers thinking they had a bonanza. On taking the cloth to a merchant tailor, they were informed that they had been completely taken in, as the so-called Scotch tweed was the poorest sort of shoddy, and dear at any price. This little bit of experience will do the persons who were defrauded, all serv good.

Just opened out 20 new patterns of Jacket and Ulster Cloths; remarkable values, at Turnbull's.

Sudden Death in Port Hope.

The Port Hope Guide says :—"Wm. Mitchell, an old man well known in Port Hope, while making a call on his friend Mrs. Geo. Green, on Sunday evening last, fell down dead. The cause of death was heart disease. Mr. Mitchell was a very quiet, intelligent inoffensive man, had lived in Port Hope for the past sixteen years; latterly, by his own choice, lived alone in a room in Riordan's Block. He has a son, Mr. Jos. Mitchell, of Peterborough, who came in yesterday and attended to the burial of his father this afternoon. He repeatedly tried to induce his father to go and live with him, but he had so long lived alone he declined. The old gentleman had saved up quite a little sum of money. He had a daughter who lost her mind, and is now in the asylum, which weighed heavily on the old man's mind. No person had an unkind word to say of the deceased."

"Report untrue. Judgment reserved. Chances favorable.

EDWARDS."

The Great Scott-Siddons Success.

The P. A. A. A. and the Public give Her a Bumper House.

The Opera House, crowded in every part, last night, testified to the immense popularity of the inimitable elocutionist, Mrs. Scott-Siddons, and the entertainment given in no way disappointed popular expectation. Mrs. Siddons seems to improve continually. Her graces of person, her clear, sonorous, flexible and sympathetic voice, her faultless elocution, her keen appreciation of the spirit of her selection and her unrivalled art in giving it fitting interpretation, all combine to render her readings the acme of elocutionary perfection. In her first selection, from Shakspere's "Much Ado About Nothing," her versatility was severely tested, but her reproduction of the satirical vivacity of the mercurial Beatrice, as well as her truthful delineation of the other parts of the selection, fully justified her choice of a reading so difficult to adapt to popular appreciation. By request she recited "Curfew Must Not Ring To-Night," and great applause followed her superb rendition of it. "Father Phil's Collection," one of Samuel Lover's racy sketches of Irish life, showed that her grasp of humorous fancy, her command of the "brogue," were equal to her conception of graver subjects. She closed the first part of the programme with a thrillingly faithful personation of "Lady Macbeth" in the sleep-walking scene—reproducing to the senses of her rapt auditors the very person of the aspiring woman, whose sleeping hours were visited with the harrowing remorse which the ambition of her waking hours crushed and subdued—the set stare of the soulless eyes—the wringing of the "little" hands, and all the bodily tokens of a soul stricken with stony despair, reading, like the evil spirits of old, its clay tenement in its struggles to give utterance to its unutterable agony. It was simply grand. It would be "painting the lily" to follow with praise the remaining numbers of the programme, which were characterized by the same excellence that marked the first part. As an example of excellent elocution, her rendition of the scene between Prince Arthur and Hubert was, perhaps, the gem of the evening. The audience were keenly appreciative, and rewarded the artiste with liberal expressions of hearty applause. Mrs. Siddons, while being an artiste of great powers, is yet a woman, and does not apparently forget to delicately suggest that the spectators are expected to give due admiration to the magnificence of her costume. Her choice of selections is not altogether happy for a mixed audience. These, however, are mere flaws in the diamond. The public gratitude is due the Peterborough Amateur Athletic Association, for the opportunity of enjoying the best entertainment of its kind ever presented in Peterborough. The entire affair in all respects was a complete and unqualified success.

To Robert's Rescue.

To the Editor of the Examiner :—

DEAR SIR,—In your issue of Monday there appears in connection with the business announcement of Gough, the wonderful cheap man, a severe criticism of Bardette, the humourist. It will not for one moment tarnish the brilliant reputation of the western laugh-maker. Some men can't appreciate humor when they see it, and I incline to think that Gough is one of this class. He is solid business from the bottom of his boots to the top of his tile, and is always in dead earnest in his efforts to give bargains to the public. The biggest joke Gough can enjoy is the idea of one-horse dealers trying to compete with him in the clothing business. And now I see he has caught on the fly a $20,000 stock of dry goods and proposes making the dry goods trade howl. Bob Bardette is a humourist; Gough is a philanthropist, who is always conferring the benefits of big bargains upon the public, and I can forgive him a good deal, even his sarcastic dab at my friend Bob Bardette.

Yours truly,
THE MAN WHO LAUGHS.

A Domestic Drama.

SCENE—John Plane's Sitting-room—Saturday Evening.

JOHN—Polly!

POLLY—Yes, John.

JOHN—I get a letter to-day from Emma Ann, and she wants us to come down Christmas and bring the whole gang!

POLLY—Oh, how splendid! I would like to go, but—the children and I will have to have new dresses.

JOHN—Bother the new dresses!—always new dresses. Talk about new dresses with tax bills to pay, coal bills to pay, wood bills to pay, and —— to pay generally—Don't say anything more about it—Tottie, get my slippers.

POLLY—But John, we might manage—Ah, I have it! I was down street the other day with Mrs. Scraps, and we dropped into the Golden Lion—she wanted to see some remnants. And I'm glad I went. For of all the heaps of remnants I ever saw that beat all; and John, you know, there was every kind of dress goods as cheap as dirt. There isn't enough to make a whole swell dress, but I can get some pieces of velvet and cashmere and fix up my old black cashmere to look as good as new, and it won't cost hardly anything.

JOHN (the average husband)—Why the deuce didn't you say so before? Why haven't you got your dresses fixed already! I'm sure you had plenty of money: I gave you a dollar and a half to run the house last week, and you might have taken what was left and got stuff at Fair's and had your dresses all ready now.

POLLY—But, John, $1.50 don't go far in filling five mouths, and they have such appetites, especially this little darling—(hugging Tottie till the buttons flew off her boots).

JOHN (relenting)—All right, old girl, you're a little trump, anyway. You don't waste the money; you feed us well, and you shall have all the money you want. It would be a burning shame to miss such bargains, as there are in remnants at Fair's. Come to think, I read about them in the EXAMINER. Here, Lucy, bring me to-night's paper; there it is on the sofa—blamed if the kid hasn't dropped asleep on it—pull it from under him gently. Here it is—"Remnants! Remnants! Remnants! at the Golden Lion. A splendid lot of dress goods remnants to be cleared out regardless of price." You must have the money, Polly, though it's rather scarce and I would like to pay the coal bill and wood bill, but the coal and wood man can afford to wait better than we can afford to miss those big bargains in remnants at the Golden Lion.

POLLY—Of course they can. It's a good thing when money is so scarce to get a chance to buy something good and cheap. How the money goes! for milk tickets, bread tickets and—why good gracious, its nine o'clock. Lucy, take the children to bed. (Exeunt kids)

JOHN—Get me a bit of sponge cake, Polly, and a mug of that cider Polson left this morning and we'll turn in too. You must get up early and go down to Fair's. Tog yourself and the kids out regardless, and we'll have a jolly Christmas down at Emma Ann's.

THE MEETING AT OXFORD.

LORD SALISBURY ADDRESSES THE CONSERVATIVE UNION.

He Acknowledges the Generous Help of the Liberal Unionists and Says Their Support is an Assurance of Peace in the Country.

LONDON, Nov. 23.—In a speech at the meeting of the National Union of Conservatives at Oxford to-day, Lord Salisbury said he saw in the success of the conference the happiest augury for the future. Information from Scotland showed that the calm sense of the Scotch would not sanction any scheme endangering the integrity of the Empire. He acknowledged the generous and unstinted help of the Liberal Unionists and declared that so long as their support was assured the country could rest in peace, secure from the assaults of the party of disorder.

At the evening conference Lord Salisbury said he would not renew the discussion of the question whether home rule would be established or not. The author of the proposal had withdrawn his measure. It would pass the wit of man to produce a home rule scheme which would be pleasing to both Mr. Trevelyan and Michael Davitt. The coming session of Parliament would be devoted more to measures that would satisfy the pressing wants of England. Reform of local Government was long needed in England and the Government hoped to carry a measure that would meet the wants of the country. He did not intend, until there was a manifest change in Ireland, to propose increased powers of local government there. Obstruction had been threatened to everything that might be proposed in Parliament until the demands of the Home Rulers had been granted. The Government was prepared to face obstructions. The present system of procedure was not enough. Drastic reforms were required to prevent a wanton waste of the public time. He hoped that the effect of these measures would be the restoration of the character and usefulness of the House.

The question of the regulation of the liquor traffic, he continued, would have the foremost place in the Local Government Bill. He was in favor of liberty in that traffic as far as was consistent with social order. He said he was strongly opposed to church disestablishment, but admitted that the Government was bound to reform the church by removing whatever evils were proved to exist. He promised a measure for the removal of tithe charges from land. The state of agriculture, he said, was deplorable. Whatever measures of relief might obtain the general consent would receive the readiest consideration of the Government.

Referring to the Trafalgar-square troubles he said he regarded the meetings there as lawless demonstrations. They were the natural results of Mr. Gladstone's words. Mr. Gladstone could not preach to the Irish mob to defy the law without having his advice applied in England as well. He (Salisbury) was convinced that the country would say with him that those claiming the right of public meeting were not privileged to convert it into the right of making of themselves a public nuisance. The Government was determined at all cost to maintain the supremacy of the law. [Cheers.] He could not understand what it was that excited the sympathy of the English Liberals in the case of Wm. O'Brien, who had broken the law and incited others to lawlessness. He did not fear that the attacks of the Liberal leaders on recognized principles of order would confuse the moral sense of the English nation. On the contrary, the substantial effect would be to convince the public mind in favor of a policy which vindicated law and order throughout the Kingdom. [Cheers.]

The Queen's Hotel at Forest Burned.

FORREST, Ont., Nov. 23.—The Queen's Hotel was burned early this morning. The building was insured for $3000 and the contents for $800.

WORKINGMEN AND STRIKES

THE FIRST EVIDENCE HEARD BY THE ROYAL LABOR COMMISSION.

Mr. John Falconer Tells What He Knows About Carpentry and Their Wages in Toronto—A Delegation from the Anti-Poverty Society Presents Its Views.

TORONTO, Nov. 23.

The first sitting for the taking of evidence by the Labor Commission was held in Shaftesbury Hall yesterday afternoon. Judge Armstrong of Sorel, Que., presided, the other Commissioners present being J. A. Clarke of Carlton, N.B.; John Armstrong, S. R. Hesken, Toronto; Jules Holbronner, Montreal, and Mr. A. T. S. Freed, Hamilton.

Mr. John Falconer, journeyman carpenter, residing at 269 Sackville-street, and employed by Messrs. Dudley & Scott, Spruce-street, was the only witness examined. He had been sixteen years in Toronto, where the present wages were 25½ cents per hour up to 25 cents. Fifteen years ago the rate of wages was from $1.75 to $2 a day, or 20 cents an hour. He had known wages since as low as 15 cents. Sober, able and industrious men found very steady work the year through. Many carpenters came into Toronto then found employment, the great majority being emigrants from England and Scotland. They did not as a rule offer to work for less than scale wages. The carpenters who refused to join the trades' unions were not placed under any ban or disability. The cost of living is not more now than twelve years ago, with the exception of rent. Many of the working carpenters owned their own houses. Some had had a hard struggle to meet their obligations, but many had got their property clear. The sober man lived it better houses, better furnished than a dozen years ago. As regards the merits of the disputes between employers and employed he thought there were "six of one and half-a-dozen of the other."

"Some of the employers in Toronto," continued Mr. Falconer, "are pretty great tyrants, and the worst are those who have sprung from ourselves." He knew of no "boycotting" of firms by the unions. "During the last strike I worked. I am down on all strikes. No one threatened or molested me for working. Carpenters' wages are lower than other trades connected with building. The carpenters are more disorganized, and is also considered a more genteel trade than bricklayers, and I suppose we have to pay for our gentility. I am not aware that trades unions kept up wages, or that strikes are as a rule successful. I was once out in London, Eng., for fourteen months on strike, and that was enough to tame me. There is in Toronto agitation each year as soon as summer comes. It was hard to explain the cause of this. Many hardly knew what the last strike was about."

"I believe," said the witness, "that two-thirds of the men, both society and non-society, are against strikes. Many of the men do not attend the trade meetings and of those who do the majority decide and the others give in. Strikes during the past fifteen years have been both successful and unsuccessful. The last strike was very unsuccessful. It was for an advance of wages; the men were twelve weeks out and commenced work again on the old terms and some at less wages. There are very few apprentices in our trade. The I think is an evil, as under indenture boys learn their trade better. The unions do not believe in graded wages. I think it would be better for both masters and men if the wages were graded. Courts of arbitration, composed of employers and employes, and established by law, whose decisions should be binding would be desirable. It would have to come to this, or things would get worse each year."

Wages were paid fortnightly. Mr. Falconer did not regard this as a disadvantage, but would prefer that instead of Saturday noon being pay time it should be Thursday or Friday night. Witness further deposed: I think it is an advantage to have the drink shops closed on Saturday evenings. I would go for closing them altogether although I am not a teetotaler. I do not think, taking into account the increase of population, that there is much difference now in the drinking of workingmen compared with twelve years ago.

Mr. W. A. Douglas appeared before the Commission, representing the Anti-Poverty Society. He read a paper on the effect of the present system of land tenure on wages. As land values increased without toil for their production, and as the so-called owner of the land was allowed to appropriate this value without limit, these owners became wealthy without toil. The practical effect of our land laws was to place almost absolute power over the land in the hands of one part of a community with the power of excluding the other portion. The result on this continent was precisely the same as in the Old World—poorly paid toil at one end and superfluous wealth with no toil at the other. The injurious effect of this method of land tenure on the rate of wages was next treated of, and it was urged that there was but one conclusion, namely, the appropriation of the ground rentals for public purposes—a simple land tax and the abolition of all other taxes. The values caused by the community should be appropriated by the community for common purposes, and the individual should be allowed to obtain all that he produces except that portion that he would have to surrender for his advantage of location.

Mr. Rathbun's Position.

KINGSTON, Nov. 23.—Mr. R. W. Rathbun by his speech at Oswego shows that he is an out-and-out advocate of Commercial Union. He favors the fair exchange of the leading products of the two countries, such as coal, lumber, ores, cattle and agricultural products and the free use of the Canadian fisheries, until the time comes when the free exchange of all products, manufactured and unmanufactured, shall prevail.

The Picket Guard Was up and at Them.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 23.—The Thibodeaux White Picket Guard was fired on this morning and two men were wounded. An attack was made upon the negroes immediately and some ten or twelve were killed, the rest fleeing to the woods. All is quiet now and the laborers are at work on all the plantations. There is some commotion outside of town yet, however.

The epidemic in Ottawa of typhoid fever is playing havoc in the Civil Service. Several of the members, some of them among the best of the officials have already died and others are in a critical condition.

Another Collision Reported on the Grimsby Canal—Thirty-five Lives Lost—Warrants to Apprehend John Dillon—Parnell and O'Connor Subpœnaed.

LONDON, Nov. 24.—Dr. Schmidt of Berlin made the following report on the case of the Crown Prince, says: Dr. Gerhardt was first consulted March 6. Afterwards by your operations he removed a tumor from the left vocal chord. He then instructed to Dr. Wagener and Dr. Orth of Bonn his from their cancer existed. The sojourn of the Crown Prince at Ems was considered merely probationary, the object being to ascertain whether the swelling was benign or malignant. On June 10 Dr. Landgraf discovered a swelling on the larynx. On July 1 another swelling was observed, situated on the posterior wall of the larynx, with a strong outgrowth towards the left vocal chord. On Aug. 6 Dr. Mackenzie undertook to eradicate the swelling. After his operations the Crown Prince went to Bremen. The German doctors, for whom no accommodation was provided at Bremen, were not admitted to make a further examination until Aug. 20. The left vocal chord then showed several pointed excrescences which Dr. Mackenzie assumed to be the result of his operations. On Sept. 1 the German doctors left.

In conclusion Dr. Schmidt declares that "cancerous infiltration has existed from the very beginning below the left vocal chord. This cancer infiltration, which produced the papillary growths on the chord. About the removal of these the public is already fully informed."

The latest bulletins from the Crown Prince are favorable, but for the moment only. The real question now is how long his life may be prolonged. German specialists think he may live four or five years, while Dr. Mackenzie considers two years the limit.

The Crown Prince is deeply moved at the manifold proofs of sympathy extended to him from all parts of Germany and from abroad, and desires to return a general expression of his thanks, as it is impossible to reply separately to the many letters and telegrams received every day. The voice of the Crown Prince continues hoarse. Dr. Bramann will remain at San Remo in order to be ready at any moment to perform a surgical operation in case dangerous inflammatory action renders such a course necessary.

President Grevy yesterday intimated to a Radical member of the Chamber of Deputies that he had decided to resign. M. Rouvier will be called upon to form a ministry and in the event of his refusal, the choice will fall upon M. Goblet. The President will issue an address to the country in which he will repudiate responsibility for the present crisis, and declare that he is forced to resign because he cannot govern the country.

THE DIVISION OF DAKOTA.

The Majority in Favor of Dividing the Territory 2000 so Far.

MINNEAPOLIS, Nov. 23.—A special from Bismarck, Dak., says: Official returns thus far received at the Capital show that the majority for division in the territory is about 2000. As the official returns come in the estimated majority for division decreases and the majority for Prohibition increases. It is impossible to give the exact figures, as the returns are not all in. There is a possibility that the small majority for division will be entirely wiped out by returns yet to be received, as the majority of the counties to be heard from are in North Dakota.

TORONTO TOPICS.

TORONTO, Nov. 24.

At a meeting in Bond-street Congregational Church last night, Dr. Wild delivered a free-and-easy lecture on "Bishop Cleary and Canadian Girls." The doctor's utterances were strongly worded and heartily applauded by his audience, who were kept in merriment by the witty comments of the preacher on the letter published by The Montreal Gazette a few days ago.

Arrangements have at last been completed for the transference of the banking business of the American Bank over to the Bank of Toronto. The premises have been purchased at a cost of $50,000 and the necessary alterations will be made with as little delay as possible.

Mr. Henry Beatty, Manager of the Canadian Pacific Railway steamships, leaves Toronto Friday for Montreal to take charge of the construction of the new steamships that the company are about to build for their China and Japan trade.

Mr. W. G. Falconbridge, Q.C., has received his commission as a judge of the Queen's Bench Divisional Court, and will be sworn in at Osgoode Hall as soon to-day.

Mr. Meyers, M.P.P., who was in the city yesterday, says that Government is rapidly recovering from the effects of the overthrow they sustained at the polls a short time ago. Next year will see the town in better shape than ever. Business is good, he says, and the outlook excellent.

The Railway Committee of the Privy Council has ordered the Grand Trunk Railway Company to provide gates for the protection of their crossings at Simcoe and York streets, and appoint watchmen to attend the same day and night. The order comes into force on Jan. 1. It was received by the Mayor yesterday.

The directors of the Central Bank, with the consequence of Mr. Allen, have brought Mr. Archibald Campbell from Montreal to make a thorough inspection of the concern. He went into the bank yesterday, and expects to report within three weeks, whereupon the directors will call a meeting of shareholders. Mr. Campbell has had extensive experience; he liquidated the Commercial Bank and the Exchange Banks of Montreal and was connected with the Merchants' and other institutions. He enjoys the confidence of the banking community, and any report he may make will be accepted by them as in every way trustworthy.

FISHERY COMMISSION.

The British Representatives Considering the Proposition to be Submitted.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—There was no meeting of the commissioners who are trying to settle the Fisheries controversies to-day. When the meeting adjourned last evening it was with the understanding that the commissioners should come together again on Monday next. At that time it is expected that the British members will be prepared to submit their proposition to their American colleagues.

A conference was held between the British representatives to-day, as which the proposition of Secretary Bayard was discussed and commented upon, but as this writing nothing can be learned as to the result beyond the fact that there were several features of Mr. Bayard's plans which are not satisfactory to Mr. Chamberlain or his associates. The remainder of the week will be devoted to social festivities. Several receptions have been arranged at which Mr. Chamberlain and Sir Charles Tupper will be the guests of honor. They will be entertained at dinner on Saturday by Mr. Bayard, and the same evening Sir Lionel and Miss West will be "at home" to meet them.

TORONTO, Nov. 24.—The Mail has received the following despatch from Attorney-General Longley of Nova Scotia:

HALIFAX, Nov. 23.—From most trustworthy private information from New York and Washington I cannot longer doubt that Mr. Chamberlain has deliberately determined to arrange the fishery question according to British rather than Canadian interests. He is evidently misinformed as to the main drift of public feeling in Canada, or indifferent to it; and I regret to say I believe Sir Charles Tupper, under instructions from his Government, is only too ready to coincide with Imperialistic ideas. If Canada were represented at Washington at this moment by a man ready to meet the popular demand for unrestricted trade with the States, the finest opportunity for securing this boon is now presented which has ever occurred in our history or may ever occur again.

My information induces me to believe that Sir John Macdonald is contemplating a scheme of Imperial federation if the Washington Commission fails to result a satisfactory conclusion, as it undoubtedly will if the Commercial Union solution is rejected by the British Commissioner. He hinted as this when in Montreal at the latter part of October raising funds for The Empire. The name of that Ministerial organ is itself significant. If my views be correct a great struggle is impending in Canada, and every man who values the interests of his country will be face to face with the problem, whether we are to be a free, self-governed and prosperous community or simply a plaything for British diplomatists and manufacturers.

Mr. Hamilton Irving, Q.C., will be in Rothwell on Wednesday, Nov. 23, to investigate the charges against John Gage and Joseph Roberts, J.P.'s for the County of Lambton.

The [illegible] Conservatives in the [illegible] Province of Quebec (the return of Sir John Macdonald), have been served with summonses.

[illegible] Queen's Counsel, has been appointed Judge of the County Court of the [illegible] Judicial District, in succession to the late Judge Ange in Simcoe County. It is signed by 4,000 persons.

A [illegible] writer says he at least has two [illegible] in Ireland, [illegible] on Tuesday, by John [illegible] Boyd, to the seat of the Hon. the Queen's Counsel [illegible] Macaulay, Q.C. The County of Fermanagh, a seat recently held at Kingston. The counsel-cases brought action against the county to recover [illegible] claimed to be due under an act of the Ontario Legislature which threw upon each county the cost of [illegible] the South Ash. The County of [illegible] refused this and were sued. Judgment in full was given for the plaintiffs.

A Haldimand lady has entered the thin end of the female suffrage wedge in political contests by voting in the recent by-election in Haldimand. Her name had got on the voters' list by mistake, it was left on by neglect, but the lady didn't neglect to put in her ballot. She ranks as the pioneer female suffragist in Canada. The Toronto Mail says can't understand "how the deputy-returning officer accepted her ballot, during that entire the law every voter must be a male person," and suggests that "perhaps she assembled the polls in disguise."

Now some intellectual invalid proposes to celebrate the four hundredth anniversary of the discovery of America by Columbus. Did Columbus copy-right his discovery? By-the-other means is he entitled to the credit of discovery of this continent. There is evidence to show that the hardy Norsemen knew of and had landed in America a thousand years ago, and another good authority asserts that the Basques came to America 300 years before Columbus was born. Next we shall have a proposal to celebrate the tenth anniversary of the discovery of honey by Sir John Macdonald, as proven by his "diving" the Grits.

The business community is generally agreed that there is considerable commercial depression prevailing in the country and the country is not as prosperous as could be wished. This the government organs vehemently deny, and assert that Canada is in a condition of the most robust and rampant prosperity. Hon. Thomas White emerged so from the platform of the Opera House here that the deposits in the Government Savings Banks were the barometer which indicated banks on buoyancy or business depression. If the depositors were increasing we had prosperity, if they fell off we had hard times. All according to the claim of the government organs, the country is prosperous, and therefore there must be an increase in Government Savings Banks deposits. But what do the [illegible] returns show? A comparison of the balances at the credit of the depositors in the government savings banks during the [illegible] ending [illegible] 1887, [illegible] 1887, [illegible] 1887, [illegible] 1887; [illegible] 1887, [illegible] 1887; [illegible] 1887, [illegible] 1887;

DISSENSION IN THE RANKS.

George Thorne and the Labor Question Putting Brickmen Asunder.

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—The 20th anniversary of the execution of the Manchester martyrs was celebrated in the large hall of Cooper Institute this evening. There were fully twenty-five hundred men and women present. Mr. Patrick Sarsfield Cassidy presided. The meeting was not as harmonious as had been expected, for on more than one occasion the speakers were hissed when their looked for cheers and encouragement. The labor question was the first splitting point.

The speakers all took occasion to show their partiality for Henry George, the theorist, and at one time it looked as though a small riot might be the result. This was when Richard Cadley took occasion to denounce in most heated terms the Irishmen who had cast their countrymen at the late election. He singled out Patrick Ford for special denunciation and became so bitter as to provoke protests from many in the audience. Several of those who protested were promptly put out and a company of the 69th Regiment arose and took the place. The confusion lasted several minutes and while two men were being ejected by citizens and police matters assumed a serious aspect.

The other cause of discussion was Dr. McGlynn. The chairman, in introducing the doctor, said he was in no-wise responsible for the doctor's theological opinions, and he would introduce him not as a clergyman, but as an Irishman.

Dr. McGlynn spoke for over an hour. In the course of his remarks he said: "I plead guilty to the implied charge of being a clergyman and also to the charge of being an Irishman. But not here or anywhere else will I say anything unbecoming of my priesthood. I am not a Fenian, but I remember how, twenty-five years ago, when young priests had to argue with the old theologians to prevent the church from declaring against the brotherhood, we believed in reiterating more than mere oratory in striking a manly blow whenever there was the slightest opportunity to punctuate and emphasize the oratory, and the same theologians who opposed the Fenians were opposed to the American Abolitionists. This night a year ago I was in this hall, but not on this platform, and now I will tell you why. I was in the audience with James Redpath. There were calls for us to go to the platform. We started towards the committee room to go there, but instead I darted for the way out. I did not dare to get on the platform for a man 3000 miles away four or five years ago had sent word to have that priest McGlynn forbidden to attend such meetings. I had been suspended before for speaking the truth about the accused in Manchester, and if I had gone on this platform then I should have been suspended again by a man in a marble palace a mile or so away, who, like myself, has an Irish name, and who, I believe, is an American citizen, and in a short time another letter would have come from Rome saying, 'Ho, ho, the Priest McGlynn has been at it again,' and I would have been instructed that I must not express sympathy with those who died that Ireland might be free. I say these things to show that I suppressed myself and in all possible ways submitted myself to authority. But while it may be right to keep silent it is not right to retract the truth once spoken. I refused to do this and then, thank God, I was emancipated."

Most of the other speakers also devoted more attention to the land theory than they did to Allen, Larkin, O'Brien and Barrett, the men whose martyrdom was being celebrated.

Littlewood Leads the Pede at Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 23.—Only five men now remain in the go-as-you-please race, but these are doing good work and the attendance tonight was as large as on the preceding nights. Littlewood, the Englishman, still holds the lead and his admirers are now confident that he will finish at the top of the list. There was no material change in the relative positions of the contestants to-day with the exception that the Englishman added about 8 miles to his lead over Albert. Score at 11 p.m.: Littlewood, 342 miles 6 laps; Albert, 315 miles; Panchot, 307 miles 1 lap; Noremac, 300 miles 1 lap; Hilen, 270 miles.

The score at midnight was: Littlewood, 353 miles; Albert, 326; Panchot, 316; Noremac, 309; Hilen, 283.

Two Boys Murder a Companion.

SEGUIN, Tex., Nov. 23.—Marion Robertson and James Bromley, white boys, aged 17 years old, have been sentenced to the penitentiary for life, for having decoyed Archie Henry, their companion, into a cave and there murdered him. The three boys ran away from home, and confederated together for the purpose of highway robbery and stealing. Young Henry informed the authorities of their thefts, for which his associates killed him.

Give Them a Chance!

That is to say, your lungs. Also all your breathing machinery. Very wonderful machinery it is. Not only the larger air-passages, but the thousands of little tubes and cavities leading from them.

When these are clogged and choked with matter which ought not to be there, your lungs cannot half do their work. And what they do, they cannot do well.

Call it cold, cough, croup, pneumonia, catarrh, consumption or any of the family of throat and nose and head and lung obstructions, all are bad. All ought to be got rid of. There is just one sure way to get rid of them. That is to take Boschee's German Syrup, which any druggist will sell you at 75 cents a bottle. Even if everything else has failed you, you may depend upon this for certain. eodw

A vote of thanks was tendered to Mr. Stratton, Mr. T. H. Lang, and [illegible] of them by those assembled to Mr. Stratton for his instructive address.

AT

For the Next Two Months.

After considering the matter over carefully I have decided to force the sale of my large and well assorted stock of Dry Goods. This means a loss, but, rather than carry goods over until another season, I feel justified in taking this course. It is not my practice to make random statements misleading to customers, therefore when I say the prices will be cut down you will find that the prices WILL be cut down. Remember that price alone is no criterion of cheapness. You should see the goods and judge of their values. What we say we do, and more than that we reduce seasonable goods, not old goods lying around the shelves from season to season. A few quotations will serve as a guide, and possibly startle you into the advisability of calling.

New Snow-shoe Club.

A meeting will be held in the Y. M. C. A. Hall this evening, for the purpose of organizing a snow-shoe club. Mr. Roger, president, will occupy the chair. The secretary will read a paper on "Recreation". It is to be hoped that every member will make it a point to be present and actively assist in the promotion of the success of the projected organization. Moral and intellectual culture are all the more valuable if they proceed pari passu with physical development.

The Town on the South.

The South Ste. Marie boom has quieted down again and the town is steadily progressing. The speculating craze which existed for a time has been succeeded by a substantial "boom" that will soon make the town a city. From the Algoma Pioneer it is learned that the C.P.R. station and shops have been located in the centre of the town, a branch of the Grand Trunk railway is an almost certain prospect, the town is the centre of extensive pebble works, a big silver mine has been discovered in the neighborhood, and the town is going ahead rapidly. Land is advancing in price also, and many Peterborough parties are building on the look. Mr. W. A. Dixon owned 50 acres in the eastern end of the town, and a syndicate composed of Messrs. Dixon, Meade and Thomas were proprietors of a plot of 25 acres close by. This last was divided up into town lots, the 50-acre plot into lots 67x165 feet, and the 25-acre plot into 100x200 foot lots. Yesterday Mr. Dixon sold 15 lots off his property for $150 per lot, and 2 lots of the syndicate property were sold at the same price. The sales were all made to Peterborough parties, who in turn no doubt expect to realize handsomely on their investment.

Presentation.

The ladies of the south ward St. John's Sunday School, held a delightful little social reunion at the school room, corner Bethune and Dalhousie streets, on Wednesday evening. In addition to the nine or ten teachers, there were present a few guests—friends of the school. The occasion was chiefly originated to make a presentation to Miss Kate Butler on the eve of her retirement as a teacher, in view of a contemplated change in her social condition. The Superintendent of the school, in presenting, on behalf of the teachers, a beautiful photographic album, bore well merited testimony to the fidelity of her services as teacher for the past three or four years. During the evening refreshments were served, and a delightful evening was passed in social intercourse, music, etc. The ladies of this school deserve every commendation for the zeal and self-sacrifice they exhibit in keeping, with very little if any outside encouragement or assistance, the school in effective working order, and one of the most pleasing features in the unbroken harmony and sympathetic co-operation which mark their intercourse.

The Cochrane Roller Mill System.

The following paragraph, of interest to millmen, is taken from the Hamilton correspondence of the Mail :—"The old Gartshore foundry building in Dundas has been secured by a company called the W. F. Cochrane Roller Mill Supply Company, with head offices in Hamilton, for the manufacture of a new system of roller mill machinery. The rolls are all in one long iron frame, instead of being put together in groups of two with a separate belt to drive each group as at present, and half the rolls are on a single shaft, thus doing away with a lot of belting and saving motive power, as well as taking up less space. The company, which has the right of manufacture for Canada and England, is composed of Mr. W. F. Cochrane, of Washington, Mr. J. W. Nesbitt, Hamilton, and Messrs. Charles Riordon, James Simpson and H. H. Fuller, of Toronto. The new system has been tested in the mills of Messrs. Meldrum, Davidson & Co., Peterborough, and has proved very successful, and the promoters of the company are satisfied that it will revolutionize the system of roller milling."

Obituary.

It is with the deepest regret that the death is announced of Mr. William Metheral under circumstances, which [illegible] to the visitation of death. Just one month ago to-day Mr. Metheral's wife passed away, and about two weeks ago he himself was stricken with the illness which ended his life. His disease was typoid fever, and to secure isolation, the best medical attendance and nursing he was removed to the Nicholls Hospital, where he died this (Thursday) morning. The deceased gentleman was a native of Dosford, Devonshire, England, where he was born sixty-one years ago. In 1846 he came to Canada, and in June 1855, in company with his brother, John, established here a carriage building business, which has been conducted by William (of late years) up to the present time. In religious faith he was a Methodist, and, though not a pronounced partisan, he was a Liberal in politics. He possessed many estimable qualities of character, and during a long course of business became widely known and respected. He leaves behind him, doubly orphaned, three adult sons, who, in addition to the sympathy which their estimable traits of character wins for them, will receive double sympathy on account of the unusual severity of their bereavement. Funeral from the family residence, Aylmer street, on Sunday next at 2.30 o'clock p.m.

During the past few years there have been very many changes made in the conduct of Business Colleges, and in the teaching of such subjects as Short-hand Bus. Forms Commercial Law, Writing, etc., etc. In no one College has there been such desirable changes and improvements made as in Sawyer Business College. Bannell Sawyer & Co. are proprietors & students should enroll early.

The Americans Were Justified.

The debate in the Murray street Separate School last night, under the auspices of St. Peter's Literary and Debating Society, on the question, "Were the Americans justified in throwing off British allegiance?" resulted in a victory for the side upholding the Americans, composed of Messrs. J. Lynch, R. Henry and J. Doherty. The opposition were Messrs. J. Phelan, D. Henry and M. Hackett. The next debate will be on the subject of "Canada's Prosperity as an Independent Country, or a British Colony."

Police Court.

THURSDAY, Nov. 24.

The charge of larceny preferred against the boys who broke into Mrs. Gerrard's cellar and stole cake and preserves, was further adjourned till Monday next, Mr. J. O'Meara, who is acting for the defence, being unable to appear this morning.

Messrs. A. Gladman and Jno. Gannon each pleaded guilty to five violations of the Scott Act, and were fined $20 and costs.

Messrs. F. Croft and M. Halpin were charged with second offences. As Mr. Croft was unable, through sickness, to appear, his case was enlarged till next Monday. In the case against Mr. Halpin, who was also absent from court, a warrant of arrest to compel his attendance was issued. The witnesses in the case, none of whom were present, were treated in the same manner.

The Pharmacy College Case.

Decision Against the College.—Election Voided.—New Election Ordered.

Judgment in the somewhat noted Pharmacy College case of Pearen vs. Love, a suit to recover $2,000 against certain members of the College of Pharmacy, the plaintiff alleging fraud in the election of the council, was given this morning. The following is the despatch in reference thereto :

New election. Full costs against Hodgetts, Love and Council elect, excepting Brierly and McGregor. Costs of College and Macgregor and Brierly included.

Personal.

Mr. J. H. Burnham leaves to-day or to-morrow morning for Sault Ste Marie.

Mr. Andrew Wilson's condition this morning showed but slight improvement.

Wm. Forster, the young man whose thigh was broken about six weeks ago, has about recovered. He will be able to leave the hospital on Saturday.

The Ottawa Free Press says :—"Mr. Belcher, C. E. of Peterborough, was in the city yesterday and interviewed the Department of Public Works, with reference to certain improvements being carried out in that neighborhood."

Mr. L. Goldman, of Toronto, Secretary North American Life Assurance, is in town to-day in the interests of his company. He proposes remaining for a few days. Capt. E. Sanderson, of Smith, is the authorized agent for this district.

The Ottawa Citizen says, commenting upon a concert held in that city Tuesday evening :—"As pianists, Misses Carrie Braniff, Pinard, Gagne and Pigeon, and, above all, Miss Delaney, of Peterborough, were remarkably good and contributed their full share to the great success of the evening."

The North Harvey Bridge.

The Bobcaygeon Independent says :—"The bridge across Gannon's Narrows is still much talked of. Some weeks ago Mr. J. Moloney, Mr. J. Lang, Mr. W. B. Kelly and Mr. Belcher, the county engineer, visited the proposed sites and investigated into the details. The two sites are from Crowley's Island to the Emily [illegible] line, and from Chase's mill to a point between the summer lodges of Mr. Hudspeth and Mr. Belcher. The landing is obstructed by a high hill, south of that again being Gannon's marsh. The distance across here is 1,350 feet with an average depth of water of 10½ feet, and when the scheme was proposed some years ago, the cost was then estimated at $7,000. The distance from Crowley's Island across is 1,100 feet with an average depth of 7 feet. From the Island to Harvey shore Mr. W. B. Kelly offers to bridge and maintain at his own expense, consequently the Crowley site is the cheapest, and easiest maintained, and within the grant of $5,000 made by the county."

Grip's Comic Almanac

For 1888 has been received, and is certainly a credit to the publishers. The six calendar pages are from designs by J. W. Bengough, and the whole series are about the best specimens of caricature drawing that we have yet seen from the pen of this clever artist. A. H. Howard, W. Bengough and other artists contribute sketches—a series of pictures illustrating the House that Hash Built being particularly good, while the reading matter throughout is even better than has appeared in previous years. The price is only 10 cents a copy, and you can get it at the bookstores or send direct to Grip office, Toronto.

FOWLER'S BRASS SHOT SHELLS 10 and 12 gauge at 5 cents each. Warranted to be the best and most durable shell in the world. Reloading tools at 35 cents set. dw GEORGE STETHEM.

For the Winter Season.

A meeting of the Otonabee Canoe Club was held Wednesday evening, and the business of the year wound up. The club will start next season under favorable conditions and in order to maintain interest in it and keep its members together, it was decided to hold regular meetings at the club rooms every two or three weeks during the winter. The evenings will be taken up with debates and musical and literary exercises. It is proposed to begin the first night of meeting with a spelling match. The dates of meeting have not yet been fixed, but the members will be notified in due time.

A New Provender Business.

Mr. Harry Deane, jr., will in a short time open a flour and feed shop in the new Chamberlain block, market square. He will keep a full supply of flour, feed, pressed hay and provisions. A delivery wagon will leave all orders in any part of Peterborough or Ashburnham. It is hoped that Mr. Deane's popularity and business abilities, as well as the excellent quality of his goods, will secure him a good share of the public patronage.

Worth Knowing.

Every housekeeper should be posted as to how to economize, so it would be well for them to remember this. W. J. Morrow wishes to state that by buying the best of goods at low figures is one way. His holiday stock is arriving—fresh fruits, etc. Teas a specialty. Inducements to jobbers. Opera House Block.

The "Star's" Stumble.

The Hastings Star is a little previous in its comments upon the result of the county's case now before the Privy Council. It accepts the report of an adverse judgment as true, and says :—"The county, through the pig headedness of the members of the council, will have a little bill of some $25,000 in costs to pay, in addition to the $75,000, as the price of their stupidity."

THE LABOR COMMISSION.

EVIDENCE GIVEN IN COONECTION WITH THE PRINTING TRADE.

A Plumber Afraid to Give His Name—The Typographical Union Keeps Up Wages—In Favor of Arbitration.

TORONTO, Nov. 25.—There was a very slight attendance at the sitting of the Labor Commission in Shaftesbury Hall yesterday morning. A journeyman plumber was examined and gave particulars about wages, holidays, hours of work, etc. He objected to his name being published as he was afraid his employer would discharge him if his name appeared.

At the afternoon meeting Steward J. Dunlop, printer, appeared before the Commission. He stated that it was owing to the union that the wages were kept up, and that no increase of pay had ever been obtained by printers except through organization. There are many women and girls employed as compositors and press-feeders, and as a rule they are paid a lower rate than men. There is a general desire that females, if qualified, should join the union. There are offices in the city where union men are not allowed to work, and in offices which have been "rested" a permit must be obtained from the union by a member to allow him to work there. He is in favor of arbitration in cases of dispute, and so is the union.

The Commission then adjourned until 10 o'clock this morning to meet at the Postoffice.

SHEPPARD IN MONTREAL.

The Toronto Editor Allowed to Step as a Hotel in Charge of Bailiffs.

MONTREAL, Nov. 24.—On the arrival of Edmund E. Sheppard in this city this morning, he immediately surrendered himself to Deputy Sheriff Dubreuil. An application was made to Chief Justice Dorion by Mr. Macmaster, Q.C., for bail. This was not granted, and His Honor ordered that Mr. Sheppard be placed in a hotel, in charge of two bailiffs, until the sitting of the Court of Queen's Bench on Saturday, when the case would come up in the usual course. It appears that Mr. Sheppard, who is here as a witness in the Kribbs' case, cannot be served with the warrant issued for his arrest in connection with the judgment pronounced against himself.

Judge Dugas told a reporter: "We hold Sheppard as last and I can assure you that he will repeat his insulting remarks about our regiments. Sheppard will have to pay the judgment against him in the Superior Court, pay all the costs incurred by Captains Bousse and Ethier and myself in our endeavors to bring him to Montreal, and publish in the press of Ontario and Quebec a retraction, in which he will declare that he regrets the accusations he proffered against the 65th and knows them to be false. We know that powerful influences will be brought to bear in his favor, but nothing will deter us from what we have decided and will only do injury to his case. Those that interceded for him in the past were far from sincere. Fanny Bengough writing a letter to ask us to be lenient and the week after publishing in Grip an insulting cartoon of Cardinal Taschereau, a prince of our church. Kribs is in Ottawa trembling like a leaf and prepared to endorse any settlement that will be effected by Sheppard."

Mr. Sheppard seems in high spirits and looks to an honorable settlement with confidence. A general feeling of satisfaction is noticeable among French Canadians at his surrender. Their evening papers, however, express the hope that there will be no hostile demonstration and that the case will be left to the courts.

A Fire at Roobesterville.

OTTAWA, Nov. 24.—Shortly before midnight a fire broke out in Alfred Jones' sash and planing mill at Rochesterville, just outside the city limits. Although the residents turned out the fire appliances were so bad that the buildings were soon reduced to ashes. The flames then extended to the adjoining piling ground of J. R. Booth and threatened to cause a conflagration.

COMMERCIAL UNION CLUB.

Speech by the President—A Deputation to go to Washington.

TORONTO, Nov. 24.—A public meeting of the Commercial Union Club was held last night in the club's rooms in the Arcade. After the meeting was called to order Mr. Goldwin Smith, the President, spoke as follows:

There are two points in the communication to which I wish to call your attention. One is the name of the club. Other associations are in course of formation in the province and it was therefore thought right to distinguish this club from them by calling it the Commercial Union Club of Toronto. But we hope that it will not be a party organization, but we welcome, provincial rights men of all parties in England and Dominion and consider them eligible to our Executive Committee. The other point is the clause declaring the club unconnected with party, and inviting the co-operation of all those who are favorable to Commercial Union, whatever their political party may be. This was necessary to repel persistent misconstruction and provide, so far as possible, party machination. Which, the experience of the other day at Ripon in the shape of [illegible] form.

We have observed and will observe a strict neutrality between the political parties, while we shall take every opportunity of pressing our principles on the attention of both parties and of securing recognition for the great practical issue of the day. Among the members of our Executive Committee and amongour officers are men of both parties and both have been drawn up with the utmost possible regard for comprehensiveness in this respect. The president owes his position specially to the fact that he has not been connected with either of the political parties in this country. This is no party move, but a broad appeal in the general interest of the national commerce and industry to the intelligence of the whole people. If any politician derives assistance from our operations, it will be not because he is a Conservative or a Reformer, but because he is for Commercial Union.

It is much to be regretted that members of the Government should have so precipitately assumed an attitude of opposition. Their own standing offer to the Americans under the Tariff Act shows that they recognize the need of reciprocity while they must be perfectly aware that a partial reciprocity—a reciprocity in natural [illegible] do not to be obtained. The choice they must now, like beleagured unrestricted [illegible] no reciprocity at all. To enforce reciprocity with the avowed object of their measure of tariff retaliation, and we are seeking to accomplish that object in a far better way. Their offer, when British manufactures grind us against his tariff in 1879, proclaimed Equal Home Rule for Canada in the most defiant terms. If they have learnt themselves to a certain class of protected manufacturers by a tie other than regard for the industrial and commercial interests of the people, they will find themselves in the end fatally weighted.

The Conservative party in England never recovered from the effects of its ill-starred resistance to the removal of commercial restrictions which dragged mediæval legislation and deprived the people of the fair earnings of their labor. If any political party means to stand or fall by reaction, be assured it will fall, but that it will be its own doing and not ours.

There is also reason to regret that the British Commissioner at Washington should have shown so little apt only of diplomatic reserve, but of respect, for Canadian self-government; when, in a matter of the most vital importance to the Canadian people, the insertion of [illegible] posing an Imperial veto in their wishes is proclaimed at Washington to the repudiation of the American press. Canada is made to feel herself a dependency indeed. That all the great national industries of this country and our people generally would gain very greatly by free admission to their natural markets, which is also the richest market in the world, cannot be seriously doubted by any impartial reasoner. This conviction will grow irresistibly and will burst through all political obstacles in the end. It must of course, like all other convictions, have time to grow. We must not expect to see the seed spring up and bear the ripe grain in a day.

There bye-elections to which our opponents point with exultation are indications not of the future but of what is past. All of these I believe, have been fought on old party lines. In not one of them, so far as I have seen, has Commercial Union been made an issue. In Haldimand that issue was expressly declined by Mr. Lawrier, the leader of the Opposition. In a Nova Scotian election, which has been called a defeat for Commercial Union. The defeated candidate was a Prohibitionist and ran simply on that platform.

We shall see in the next general election if not before, whether the people care or do not care for free trade with their own continent. In the meantime the movement spreads at once with singular [illegible] and remarkable rapidity, and there is every appearance which at no early a day could reasonably be expected of ultimate victory. Happily it will be one of those victories in which both sides win, for all alike those of our fellow-citizens against whose opposition we are now contending equally with ourselves, will share the increase of prosperity, which Commercial Union will bring to our country and which will bring increase of contentment and loyalty in its train.

Secretary Thomas A. Shaw called attention to the recent statements of Mr. Chamberlain at Washington that Canada had not officially asked for Commercial Union. He thought it advisable therefore that the leading in Canada in favor of Commercial Union should be made known, and introduced a motion requesting the President to prepare a statement for submission to Mr. Chamberlain, to whom should also be sent copies of the resolutions adopted by the Farmers' Institute throughout the country. It might not accomplish much, but it would give the people of the United States some adequate idea of Canadian feeling, and likewise remove the opinion of those who in this country underestimated it.

Mr. George Kerr opposed the opinion that such representations as proposed should be entrusted to a deputation.

Mr. Goldwin Smith thought such proceeding a risky one. The deputation would be harassed from the fact that the credentials it should have would be difficult to secure at this time. He had no doubt some one interested in Commercial Union had supplied abundant evidence as to the movement in Canada.

This statement of the president's and the further one that he could not go to Washington, as had been suggested, led to a warm discussion. It was thought the deputation would meet with "refusal and ridicule," but this motion, moved by H. Lambert Gordon, seconded by George Kerr, jr., was carried, eight voting for and four against it:

That this club feeling that unrestricted reciprocity with the United States is of the most vital importance to Canada at the present time, think it ought at once to represent to the Right Honorable Joseph Chamberlain, the British Commissioner, and Sir Charles Tupper at Washington the views of the very large portion of the people of Canada who are now actively promoting Commercial Union with the United States, and that with that object the gentlemen be instructed to communicate with Sir Charles Tupper and Joe Chamberlain and to enquire, if possible, that they should receive a deputation from this club who would explain to them the views of the club on this most important subject.

In the motion's original shape the name of Sir Charles Tupper was omitted but it was subsequently added.

LATEST EUROPEAN NEWS.

THE PRESIDENT OF THE REPUBLIC TENDERS HIS RESIGNATION.

Opening of the German Reichstag—The Speech from the Throne Reads Almost Identical with Last Year's—Prince Bismarck Absent Through Illness.

LONDON, Nov. 24.—President Grevy has granted M. Ribot no term in which to form a ministry and left him at the mercy that to place his resignation before the Chamber of Deputies. M. Ribot consented, but advised M. Grevy that he would, before a political crisis, request the approval of the Cabinet. Accordingly M. Rouvier and his colleagues were summoned. The new Cabinet will probably include M. Flourens, M. Waddington-Rouvier, M. Lockroy, and General Farron. The Radical organs are strongly opposed to the choosing of General Saussier. M. Ribot, it is reported, advised the President to retain the present Ministry in office until he had resigned.

Dr. Mackenzie holds a high opinion of the Crown Prince's courage. When he broke the news to the unhappy Prince that his throat trouble was the result of malignant growth, "It was received with the most perfect calmness," says Mackenzie. "The Prince, after an instant of silence, gave me his hand with his usual winning smile, and, grasping mine, said: 'I have been hardly treating something of this sort. I thank you, Sir Morell, for being so frank with me.' At dinner that evening he was the most cheerful of the party. In all my long experience I have never seen a man bear himself under similar circumstances with such unaffected bearing."

The German Reichstag opened to-day. The Speech from the Throne was substantially as follows:

Germany in her foreign policy has successfully endeavored to strengthen the peace of Europe by the cultivation of friendly relations with all of the powers by treaties and alliances aiming at severe measures of war and to [illegible] opposes any unjust attacks. Germany has no desire for territorial aggrandizement, she does not wants to be satisfied through victorious wars. An unchristian disposition to surprise neighboring peoples is foreign to the German nature and to the constitution of the empire. The military organization of the country is not calculated to disturb the peace of her neighbors by arbitrary attacks. Germany is strong in carrying enterprises and in defending her independence. Her wishing to become so strong that she can face with composure every danger.

The resumption of the Reichstag comes at a serious time. The grave complaints with which the Crown Prince has been visited fills the mind, not only of the Emperor, but also of his august allies and the whole of Germany, with anxious care. Nothing that human science, knowledge and careful tending can do will be left undone. Our eyes and prayers, however, are directed toward God, whose decrees rule the destinies of nations as well as the life of the individual man. Firm confidence in God and the faithful fulfillment of duty have been in all especially grave moments the tried support of our people, and they now also enable us to do justice to the labors awaiting the legislatures.

There has been a gratifying improvement in the financial condition of the country, and it is expected that next year will show a surplus of nearly fifty millions marks. Bills will be introduced abolishing compulsory [illegible] on the part of officers and [illegible] on details to the widows and orphans' funds, increasing the corn duties, modifying the Landwehr and Landsturm system, so that it will be considerably strengthened, relating to the issuance of arrants in favor of old age and sickness, modifying the federally control by law, with respect to the sale of wines, temporarily prolonging the Austro-German treaty and ratifying treaties of commerce with some American states."

M. Rouvier objected to the text of M. Grevy's message as too commissory M. Ribot overcame M. Rouvier's objection, but is urging the President to modify the message.

The Republican party will probably hold a caucus before the Chamber meets in order to ensure a unanimous vote to prevent the advent of General Saussier to the War Office. The Radicals will resolutely oppose any military candidate.

The Rouvier Cabinet had a conference with the President to-day. M. Grevy intimated his definite resolution to resign. His message will be read in the Chamber on Monday. The two Chambers will probably assemble on Tuesday.

HARVARD BEATEN BY YALE.

Base Ball Championship Also Goes to Yale—Football Champions Defeated.

NEW YORK, Nov. 24.—About 25,000 people crowded on the Polo Grounds to-day to witness the great inter-collegiate championship football game between Yale and Harvard. Both teams were well represented and they went in to win. Among those who came with a determination to see the struggle were Gov. Hill, Chas. Dudley, the famous cricketer, and Hon. Chauncey Depew. Both teams were on the ground by 10 o'clock and at exactly 10.30 Referee pushed in the ball, which Harvard kicked off. The game was fiercely contested from the start, Yale having the best of it. Before twelve minutes were up Harvard had scored a touch-down, but failed to kick a goal. The ball was then brought back to the centre of the field, Yale having the best of it, and when time was called it was in Harvard's grounds. Score: Yale 17, Harvard 0.

MONTREAL, Nov. 24.—The case of The Mail libel Hon. Mr. Laflamme, which is an appeal from a judgment awarding to Laflamme $10,000 damages for alleged libel, was argued in the Court of Appeal to-day. Mr. Macmaster, Q.C., appeared for the appellants, and argued, among other things, that as the trial the judge, although expressing his views on the facts of the case, had omitted to impress forcibly enough upon the jury that they were the real judges of those facts, and that the intemperate language of the press was made use to embellish the facts and lead them to award excessive damages. Mr. Laflamme had commenced to reply for the respondents when the court rose.

Ottawa is suffering under the scourge of [illegible]

IS IT ANTI-BRITISH?

Some good Tory journals have their hostility to Unrestricted Reciprocity of trade between Canada and the United States upon the surprising fact that such an arrangement would do hostile discrimination against Great Britain which the latter would not stand. HIS WIFE EXPOSES FOUL PLAYS

The Advance Agent of the Commercial Comedy Company Murdered.

BUFFALO, Nov. 24.—Edward Lyons J. C. Fryer of the Commercial Concert Company has not been heard from since Wednesday, Nov. 16, and his wife in New York is nearly distracted. Manager F. V. Nicholson received a telegram on that day in which Mrs. Fryer says she fears her husband has been murdered. The last seen of the missing man was at Rochester. He was to arrange for concerts at Albany, Syracuse, Rochester and Buffalo, but has done no business at either city. Mr. Fryer is about 30 years old and is a man of large experience as contracting agent and manager.

In 1878 he married Minnie Irving, Christine Nilsson's sister, and they have had a large interval of family trouble. Shortly afterwards he disappeared mysteriously and was not heard from for six months. His wife put on widow's weeds. One day a fellow friend recognized in a drunken wreck working around a second-rate hotel in Chatham, Ont., the former impresario. He was taken home and soon recovered. He professed to be wholly unable to account for the events of the six months. Manager Nicholson said to-night that Mr. Fryer had not drank a drop of liquor in two years.

THE PHARMACY COLLEGE ELECTION

Proceedings in the Chancery Divisional Court—Defendants to Pay all the Costs in the Case.

TORONTO, Nov. 25.—The trial of the Pharmacy College election was closed yesterday, Mr. Justice Robertson presiding. The judgment, setting the election aside, was as follows:

"The election must be declared void. By-law No. 19 requires the registrar (as returning officer) and two scrutineers to be present, and the amendment of February, 1886, requires the scrutineers to be elected by ballot. None of these provisions were complied with. Only one scrutineer was properly appointed and there may be some doubt as to the legality of his acting, after the election in the hall. For this cause alone I would set aside the election.

"As to the college fund, I think they are entitled to be paid their costs. The judgment will therefore be:

(1) I declare the election void.

(2) I declare the [illegible] to be [illegible] except the College, Briggs and McGregor.

(3) Costs of College, Briggs and McGregor to be paid by the other defendants."

A New Line of Railway Asked For.

Mr. Wainwright promised that the Grand Trunk Railway would continue their present line from Jacques Cartier Junction to Saint Eustache next spring, and stated that no doubt the completion of the line to Carillon and Grenville would lead to the construction of a line to Ottawa in the near future.

RAVENNA, O., Nov. 24.—Judge Johnston yesterday overruled the motion for a new trial in the case of "Stanley" Morgan, and sentenced the prisoner to be hanged in the penitentiary at Columbus on March 16, 1888. Morgan's face flushed when the sentence was pronounced, but he soon turned to his counsel, cracked a joke, and laughed quite heartily. The case will be carried to the Circuit Court.

The Scott Act Sustained.

Police Court.

FRIDAY, Nov. 25.

The Scott Act case against Mr M. Sleight was enlarged till Monday.

Wm. Ireland admitted a first offence against the Scott Act and was fined $50 and costs.

Thos. Stephenson Donnelly pleaded guilty to a charge of Ass[illegible] under the Scott Act and was fined $50 and costs.

Messrs. Ambrose & Winslow, Port Hope brewers, were charged with selling liquor without a license. The information charges Albert Winslow and T. H. Ambrose, brewers, of Port Hope, with selling intoxicating liquors in the shop of Peterborough between 30th August and 30th Sept., '87.

The evidence and admissions prove that the defendants have a colored servant in Peterborough, whose duty it is to solicit and take orders for defendants' ale, to collect moneys, etc. This servant took orders for ale [illegible] which the three charges are based, and delivered the ale in Peterborough. The orders were sent to the defendants, who delivered the ale in Peterborough at the times stated.

The agent procures the orders there for final quantities, at fixed prices, in Peterborough, the freight being paid by the defendants.

The defendants' counsel urges that there was no sale in Peterborough, that the agent had no authority to make a binding sale, that the defendants reserved the power (as proved) to refuse to fill the orders; that if there was any sale at all it was in Port Hope, and was complete when [illegible] on the cars, and that no offence cognizable was committed in Peterborough.

I am of the opinion that the servant, in taking the order, represented his employers, and that they, as represented by him, were in Peterborough in exactly the same way as if being personally present they took the orders themselves.

I am of opinion that the taking of this one car load of a fixed quantity of ale at a fixed price, the freight being paid by the vendee, coupled with the delivery of the ale at Peterborough within the time charged, completed and made a sale at Peterborough.

To hold that a brewer in an outer county can keep in a Scott Act county a salaried servant to solicit orders, collect price, etc., and then fling his brewery flood the country with ale and be free from the law, would be absurd, particularly if the ale was shipped from a county where the Act was not in force, and so no charge could be preferred in the outer county against the brewer. It was not the intention of the Scott Act that a brewer in a Scott Act county should by any means be enabled to sell ale in another Scott Act county, and if he does it matters little where he is fined. In this case the offence was completed in Peterborough, and bears the charge here.

As to the other objections raised against the jurisdiction of the court, I overrule them, and leave the parties to their right to bring them to adjudication to a higher court.

I find the defendants guilty of the offence charged, and I adjudge that they do pay a fine of $50 and costs, one-half to be paid by each defendant in ten days, and in default of payment distress, and in default of distress imprisonment for two months.

D. W. DEMPSE.

Peterborough, Nov. 25, 1887.

As the information in this case included two charges, and as the second charge rested upon the evidence in the first, Messrs. Ambrose & Winslow were fined $50 and costs for each offence.

Mr. H. Calcutt, whose was a parallel case, was also fined $50 and costs.

VAGRANTS.

Mary Johnstone and Johannah Welsh, two old and feeble women, occupied the culprits bench this morning. The following dialogue ensued:—

"Mary Johnston, you are charged with having no visible means of support."

"I haven't any, sir."

"No home?"

"No, sir."

"No employment?"

"No."

"Don't you want to go to Toronto?" (meaning some charitable institution there.)

"Oh! no sir."

"And you, Mrs. Welsh, why won't you go to Toronto?"

Mrs. Welsh is deaf, and she hobbled close up to the Magistrate, put her hand to her ear and listened intently till the question was repeated.

"Oh no, I don't want to go there; my daughter died there and I wouldn't want to stay near the place."

"You're afraid you might die there, eh? Wouldn't you as lief die there as anywhere?"

"No, sir. I want to go to gaol."

"Then I suppose you want to go to gaol for life, do you?—"

Mrs. Johnston interrupts hurriedly—"Oh, no, sir, give me six months."

"And how long do you want in castle Nesbitt, Mrs. Welsh?"

"Until I get better, sir."

"Very well, six months each."

"I suppose they'll let us go out and take a walk once in a while?"

"I am not sure I don't know whether they will or not."

The old ladies retired, the papers were made out, and they immediately entered upon their term of imprisonment.

BISHOP CLEARY'S CHARGES.

The Public School Teachers of Kingston Resent the Insult.

Kingston, Nov. 25.—The Public School teachers held a public meeting last evening in regard to the utterances at Napanee of Bishop Cleary, which, by the way, the Napanee papers tamely was properly reported in the first instance. The teachers felt that in charging that the system of education in vogue among Protestants tended to immodesty they were being attacked, and this they vigorously combatted.

One lady expressed the conviction that the remarks were characteristic rather, were it not that the article would be published in foreign lands and would be injurious. She would have advised no notice of the report had only spread through Ontario, the people of which know the true inwardness of the whole matter.

Another thought Bishop Cleary had lost the confidence he possessed, but had only given way to an outburst of rage.

Two resolutions were passed, one condemning the spirit of religious hatred these statements betrayed, the address, the other protesting against the specific declarations of His Lordship as to the downward trend of Protestant education.

This resolution concluded: "Never in the history of His Province has such a statement been made regarding the instruction given by us, the best evidence of its excellence being the large number of children of Roman Catholic parentage who have been and are under present school training in this province, and regarding whom the utmost care has been taken to treat with that consideration which has ever characterized a free Christian people."

The resolutions will be forwarded to His Lordship.

Two Prisoners Make Their Escape From Lindsay Gaol, but are Recaptured.

Lindsay, Nov. 25.—This morning about 9.30 two prisoners in the county jail named Wm. Shanks and J. Martin made a determined effort to escape. They were engaged in cleaning the corridors of the jail, when Turnkey Snyder, in whose charge they were, happened to turn his back for a moment, when they immediately seized the opportunity and bolted. They ran down King-street to the river, which they crossed, and took to the road in the direction of Hyde Park, with the turnkeys of the jail and about half a dozen county constables in close pursuit. After a hot chase of about an hour they were captured in a bush near Hyde Park and brought back to their cells.

SHEPPARD IN MONTREAL.

The Difficulty Reported Has Re-sulted in Words and the 65th Battalion Said to Have Been Settled.

Montreal, Nov. 25.—No new developments have come to light in the case of Mr. E. R. Sheppard; he will appear before the court to-morrow, when an adjournment for a few days for consultation will be asked. It is thought the affair is practically settled. The officers of the battalion have shown a great desire to settle the case, and the counsel of both parties have been carrying on negotiations to that effect. Mr. Sheppard is practically free, being simply on his parole of honour. He has received all the latitude possible and cannot complain of his treatment here.

In Brief, And To The Point.

Dyspepsia is dreadful. Disordered liver is misery. Indigestion is a foe to good nature. The human digestive apparatus is one of the most complicated and wonderful things in existence. It is easily put out of order.

Greasy food, tough food, sloppy food, bad cookery, morbid whims, late hours, irregular habits, and many other things which ought not to be, have made the American people a nation of dyspeptics.

But Green's August Flower has done a wonderful work in restoring this and benighted and suffering fellow-creatures to healthy life, that they can enjoy their meals and be happy.

Remember, no happiness without health. But Green's August Flower brings health and happiness to the dyspeptic. Ask your druggist for a bottle. Regular size 75c.

The annual session to the members of Peterborough St. Andrew's Society will be presided in St. Paul's Church Sunday evening by Rev. R. P. Thompson. All members of the Society and Scotchmen in general are urged to be present.

The Assembly.

It is understood that a candidate will be placed in the field in opposition to Mayor Stevenson. The Conservative party are still to have a meeting to-night to which they think will be present the Mayor's choice. They consider that this is a sufficient number of days yet to run to enable the result in his favor.

Found Dead in Bed.

The body of Miss Parker, who died so suddenly Wednesday, was taken home to Meriden, Ont., on Friday for burial. The deceased's brother accompanied the corpse. The Lord Works company, in which establishment she worked up to the day before her death, paid their part, Friday out of respect for deceased.

The Russian Relief Fund.

At the session of Victoria County Council [illegible] and Reeve Smith, seconded by Mr. [illegible] that the clerk of each municipality in the county of Victoria, other than those already represented on the Council, be requested to call a meeting of the ratepayers of his municipality, on the Thursday following the first meeting of the Council in each year, for the purpose of receiving the report of the Treasurer of the Russian Relief Fund, and that the Treasurer of each municipality be requested to attend at the meeting and hand in a report of the amount collected in his municipality for the Fund, and that the Treasurer of the County of Victoria be requested to attend at this meeting and hand in a report of the amount of this county. It is a great disappointment to many that the Russian Relief Fund has not been more liberally supported in this county, and that so many municipalities have failed to make any contribution to it. Some $5,000 is now subscribed, and as much more is wanted to float a company. [illegible] calling a public meeting in the council chamber, Monday evening, of all citizens interested in the matter, to discuss the best steps to be taken to bring the project to a successful issue.

The Horse Market.

Mr. T. Cavenagh has returned from Montreal, where he has been for the last two weeks, disposing of a number of horses shipped there by him. Mr. Cavenagh reports the horse market as none of the best, there being no sale at all for horses of the first class. "Scrubs," or animals of an inferior quality, have a very fair market. A number of shipments are being made from here. Mr. Jacobs, a Montreal buyer, shipped a carload of horses Friday. Mr. Cavenagh ships two carloads this evening and one on Monday.

Oddfellows' "Team" Work.

Canton Peterborough will also visit the lodge in a body, and it is being arranged to have Bro. R. W. Bell, Grand Warden, introduce them in his official capacity.

A Warm Greeting.

Last night the electric wire leading to T. Dolan & Co.'s store, where covering had become worn through and came in contact with the iron casing above the door, developed sufficient heat to fire the covering of the wire into a bright blaze, which some bystanders easily put out.

A Successful Hunt.

A new dynamo was received to-day by the Electric Light Company from Montreal.

The Central Ontario Agency.

Five years ago Mr. W. H. Hill took charge of the agency for Central Ontario of the "Sun" Life and Accident Insurance Company, and by his energy, ability and industry has brought the business, in that time to a very low ebb, to the full tide of prosperity and progress. No large and important risk in the Dominion has escaped his solicitation, and many accepted in most the domestic of business. These have been secured in the elegant new offices situated in the Morgan Hall block, on the corner of Water and Hunter streets, into which the agency was moved Friday. The premises have been remodelled and specially planned to meet all the requirements of the business. Mr. D. Galbraith had the contract in hand, and most creditably did he perform his duties. Large plate glass windows admit all the light of day that is needed in the interior. Behind a circular counter near the door is the fire insurance department, under charge of Mr. D. D. Galbraith. Next to it and separated with a wooden partition, is the agents office, for the resident use of Messrs. Wm. Thompson, R. A. Hamilton and Jos. Little (Inspector). The office of Manager Hill is situated in rear of all. It is a large room, elegantly carpeted and furnished, and contains a safe which weighs about two tons. The floor of the outer office is covered by a rare design of tapestry, procured from the "Golden Lion" and Hall, Jones & Co.'s stores; while the walls are hung with the latest style of paper, the handiwork of Mr. R. Lilly, paper-hanger. The woodwork has all a rich cherry finish. The offices are laid out to ensure convenience and comfort, and are about the neatest of their kind in Ontario.

Mr. Hill's insurance business is now as good as any in the province, and he intends to push things even more energetically than he has in the past. No stone will be left unturned to ensure success. He is manager of the Central Ontario agency of the "Sun" Life and Accident Insurance Company, and is besides agent for the Canada Permanent Loan and Saving Company, the "Queen", "Imperial", "Glasgow and London", "Norwich Union", "Northern" and "Mercantile" Fire Insurance Companies; and for the "Hand in Hand" Plate Glass Insurance Company. There is at present a permanent staff of six officials employed at the agency, and in the new premises, and with the most favorable prospects looming up before, Mr. Hill's insurance agency is bound to achieve still further success.

Protection on Stony Lake.

The Campers Band Together, and Will Make it Hot for Disturbers of Their Property.

A number of depredations have been committed on the summer residences and other property of those who frequent Stony Lake during the hot season, the latest being the recent burglary of Mr. E. H. D. Hall's cottage. The members of the camping fraternity who annually his themselves to the north during the summer months are numerous and influential, and deeming some steps necessary to prevent such vandalism from becoming too common a thing, a few of the instigators of the movement met Friday afternoon and formed a society called the "Stony Lake Property Holders' Protection Association." About half-past four o'clock Messrs. J. McClelland, E. H. D. Hall, H. Grundy, W. Loch, W. Brownscombe, R. McWhinnie, G. J. Smith and H. T. Strickland assembled in the office of Hall & Hayes, solicitors. Mr. Grundy was appointed chairman, and read over a list of about sixty names of persons holding property, either cottages or islands, on Stony Lake. The whole question was talked over in an informal manner, all favoring union as the only means to combat the evil. The advisability of offering rewards and of employing a detective to watch their interests was discussed. Some definite action will probably result therefrom at the next meeting. On motion of Mr. McClelland, seconded by Mr. Loch, the association was formerly organized under the above name, having for its object the protection of the property of members from damage. The membership will comprise all those who have property on Stony Lake, or any who pay the fee ($2) and join the association. Anyone wishing to become a member can send the amount to the Sec-Treas. at any time. The following officers were elected :—

PRESIDENT—E. H. D. Hall.
VICE-PRES.—E. B. Edwards.
SEC-TREAS.—H. Grundy.
COMMITTEE—Messrs. R. C. Strickland (Lakefield), J. McClelland, Robert Graham (Lakefield), A. Hall, Geo. Cochrane (Lakefield), and G. M. Roger.

The President and Sec-Treas. were appointed a committee to draw up a constitution and by-laws to the committee at the next meeting.

On motion it was decided that the society should take up the prosecution of the party who burglarized Mr. Hall's premises at the Lake.

The meeting adjourned for two weeks.

During the past few years there have been very many changes made in the conduct of Business Colleges and in the teaching of such subjects as Short-hand Bus. Forms, Commercial Law, Writing, etc., etc. In no one College has there been such desirable changes and improvements made as in Sawyer Business College. Bennett Sawyer & Co. are proprietors & students should enroll early.

As will be seen by advertisement in another column, the members of St. Andrew's Society have decided to celebrate the anniversary of Scotia's patron Saint by a banquet at the Grand Central hotel. The Kingston Whig says:—"During Bishop Lewis' Episcopacy of fifteen years one hundred and seventy new churches have been erected in the diocese of Ontario at a cost of over a million dollars. Sixty-five parsonages have been erected at an average cost of $3,000 each. All this had been accomplished by the voluntary contributions of the people. This year six new churches were established in order to meet the desire of the people for regular Sunday services."

Personal.

Mr. Wm. Hamilton, jr., as his many friends will learn with pleasure, is improving in health.

Messrs. Perrin, Smithson, and Willan are candidates for the township of South Monaghan. A lively contest is expected.

Mr. Alfred Leach, who has been seriously ill, is in as good a condition as can be expected. It is to be hoped that he will be soon in a fair way to recovery.

Mr. T. N. Willan, a candidate for the township of South Monaghan, had a number of people from the southern part of the township, including the land, at his residence Friday night. There were toasts and speeches and general enjoyment.

Campbellford Herald :—"Mr. T. Wills Gibbs, of Peterborough, representing the Manufacturers' Life Insurance Company, was in Campbellford a few days during the week. He secured a few risks for a commencement."

Mr. Andrew Wilson's recovery from his attack of fever is very doubtful. A change for the worse set in Friday afternoon and he is gradually sinking. The physicians have about given up hope.

Great Slaughtering and Cutting

OF

AT

THOMAS KELLY'S

For the Next Two Months.

After considering the matter over carefully I have decided to force the sale of my fully and well assorted stock of Dry Goods. This means a loss, but, rather than carry goods over until another season, I feel justified in taking this course. It is not my practice to make random statements misleading to customers, therefore when I say the prices will be cut down you will find that the prices WILL be cut down. Remember that price alone is no criterion of cheapness. You should see the goods and judge of their values. What we say we do, and more than that we reduce seasonable goods, not old goods lying around the shelves from season to season. A few quotations will serve as a guide, and possibly startle you into the advisability of calling.

MONTREAL, Nov. 28.—On the opening of the Court of Queen's Bench (Appeal Side) this morning the room was filled to overflowing with lawyers, priests, officers of the 65th and prominent French Canadians. On motion of defendant's counsel the case was adjourned till Monday, when Mr. Sheppard will make a voluntary statement, explaining his contempt of court.

Mr. Sheppard was admitted to bail, himself $400 and two sureties in $200 each.

French Canadian Feeling.

From La Patrie, Montreal.

After two years' litigation, having exhausted all the legal and extra-legal subtleties, and tried to arouse the Province of Ontario against us, Sheppard is obliged to save in and submit that if the French Canadians have nothing more to their credit they possess at least a big share of stubbornness. For the last two years Sheppard has gloried in aggravating the insults he had showered upon the 65th and the French Canadians. He went to Buffalo lately and has caused to be published the worst infamies concerning our race. Not a day has passed but these who wanted to obtain justice have received insulting letters from him or his friends. All this must be wiped out and Sheppard will have to settle the score. This time he will have to acknowledge in his best handwriting that he is a base slanderer, and, what is more galling to him, that the French Canadians have come out first best.

From La Presse, Montreal.

Mr. Sheppard is on the eve of reaping what he has sown. His public declaration that the French Canadians have ruined him is an appeal to fanaticism. He poses as a victim to get financial help. He has sown fanaticism and to-day he is trying to gather his harvest. Fanaticism has been the cause of his ruin, not litigation. He thought of making money with that war-cry, but he made a mistake. His journal fell into disrepute, and his readers who were not imbued with fanaticism have stopped reading it. This is a lesson to fanatics of all kinds.

From L'Etendard, Montreal.

We have the honor at last of having the illustrious Sheppard of Toronto in the precincts of our city. It appears that our officers have succeeded in capturing the clever dodger. He will have to retreat or pay up.

A CHINAMAN RUNS AMUCK.

An Exciting Occurrence on a Railway Train in Utah.

SALT LAKE, Utah, Nov. 27.—There was an exciting time on the Denver and Rio Grande west bound train to-day. A Chinaman named Lee Shung locked himself in a closet and refused to come out. When the crew changed at Grand Junction the retiring conductor notified the incoming conductor of the Chinaman's presence. Thirty miles west of Grand Junction Brakeman Gunning got on a box and broke the transom to get the Chinaman out. Suddenly the door opened and Lee Shung sprang out with a knife in his hand and made a lunge at the brakeman, narrowly missing ripping him up. Gunning ran to the next car. Shung then ran amuck, terrorizing the passengers in the car and made a pass with his knife at a woman, but missed. Then he struck at Geo. Heathbridge, laying open his stomach. By this time all in the car were wild with terror. Gunning came in with a drawn revolver and shot the Chinaman three times, killing him almost instantly. The train arrived here this evening with the Chinaman, who is supposed to have been a maniac. Heathbridge was taken to the hospital and will die before morning.

THE NEWS IN BRIEF.

A fire broke out on Thursday night in the Southfield mine, British Columbia, and the mine is now on fire. No miners are in the burning shafts.

In the course of a lecture at Philadelphia last night Mr. Powderly said the Knights of Labor would soon be called upon to sign a petition asking Congress to own a line of telegraph and operate it in connection with the postoffice.

THOSE FORGED LETTERS

THE CROWN PRINCE WILL NOT GIVE UP HIS CHANCE TO THE THRONE.

Bismarck Believes in Himself—Bismarck Is Bold—War Feeling in Russia—A Woman Shot by Soldiers—Speculation at the Exchanges.

LONDON, Nov. 28.—The Progressist papers and Court organs still question the truth of the revelations concerning Orleanist intrigues with the foreigner denounced to the Czar by Bismarck. The Vossische Zeitung asks for definite information as to what documents were forged and who were the forgers. The Kreuz Zeitung does not think it possible that any Berlin court personages were concerned in deluding the Czar with regard to the foreign policy of Germany. This incredulity is not shared in in the diplomatic circles. It is admitted that the disclosures of The Cologne Gazette are of exceeding value, and that Bismarck can hardly take open measures against the guilty parties, as he did in Count Von Arnim's case. No Foreign Office official is implicated nor any one within the Chancellor's power to punish publicly. The dispatches, which were laid before the Czar, consisted of semi-diplomatic papers and private letters emanating from the courts of Wurtemburg, Oldenburg and Saxe-Coburg.

Baron Jomini, a strong Panslavist, is thought to have been the medium used to place before the Czar the earliest letters containing fraudulent extracts from Bismarck's dispatches. Danish officials are also suspected of having transmitted bogus documents which led to the breaking of the interview arranged between the Czar and Emperor William at Stettin. The Comte de Paris and the Orleanist chiefs are not directly involved, but members of the Orleans family are supposed to be the authors of the deception. This discovery cannot affect the policy of the triple alliance in resisting Russian aggression in Bulgaria, nor permanently alter the unfriendly relations between Germany and Russia.

The Post-Lloyd says the interview between the Czar and Bismarck was a dramatic one. The Prince was hardly able to restrain his passion on account of his learning that the Russian Government had received forged letters purporting to be signed by himself in regard to the relations between the two Governments. The Czar assured Bismarck that he wanted peace, and would neither attack Germany nor take part in any coalition against her.

The American residents of Berlin, through the First Secretary of the American Legation, sent a dispatch to the Crown Prince expressing their sympathy with him. To-night he returned a message of thanks.

If reports are to be believed, the Crown Prince refused to see Bismarck with respect to his formal renunciation to the throne. The relations between the Chancellor and Prince Wilhelm are strengthening. The Prince, with the consent of the Emperor, will be instructed in the routine business of the Foreign Office and Finance Department.

According to Count Winterfield's report, the general condition of the Crown Prince is favorable.

The war feeling is still uppermost in Russia. Troops are daily going towards the frontier.

The Moscow Gazette to-day, in an article on the relations between England and Russia, continues the attack upon Germany, and invites England to abandon her jealousy of Russia regarding India, come to a thorough understanding with Russia upon all questions and turn her attention to Germany as a dangerous competitor of England by land and sea.

Ten Conservative aldermen and ten Conservative councillors were elected in Belfast to-day, the single Parnellite candidate being at the foot of the poll.

It is stated that Lord Dalhousie, who died at Havre a few hours after the death of his wife, fell a victim to blood poisoning.

The rumor that Mr. Parnell was suffering from a cancerous tumor is denied.

A woman named Louise Hauter, who had been taken by the soldiers into the barracks of Strasburg, was found and arrested by the officer of the guard. On the way to the police station the woman tried to escape, when the patrol shot and killed her. The people are incensed, and the papers demand the trial of the officer of the patrol.

The Roumanian Chambers were opened to-day. In the speech from the Throne, read by the King in person, it is said that Roumania maintained good relations with all the powers. She had kept out of all the conflicts, and the result has been increased strength and confidence on all sides.

LONDON, Nov. 27.—An attempt to hold a demonstration at Manchester to-day was suppressed by the police.

Everything was quiet in London to-day.

The National Gazette of Berlin states that the Czar has forwarded to Prince Bismarck the originals of the forged letters supposed to express the Prince's feelings towards Russia.

The Crown Prince looks well and cheerful to-day. He took a drive in the morning and a walk in the afternoon.

Emperor William, replying to the President and Vice-Presidents of the Reichstag, who came to express the sympathy of that body with the Crown Prince, said the ailment of the Prince was a severe visitation, especially in view of his high position and his great abilities for continuing the direction of the policy of Prussia and Germany in a manner which would have enabled the Emperor to close his eyes in peace. What Providence might further decree none could tell, but it was the duty of all to bow to God's inscrutable will. The universal sympathy which had been shown in such a remarkable degree was a great consolation.

A FAMILY MURDERED IN BED.

WAUSAU, Wis., Nov. 28.—A horrible holocaust occurred in this city at 3 o'clock this morning. A building occupied as a residence by Carl Hoesisel, his wife and five children, was consumed by fire, and before assistance could reach them three of the children perished and the other two and the father have since died of their injuries. Mrs. Hoesisel is still alive, but her injuries are of a serious nature.

A Rumor About Parnell Denied.

LONDON, Nov. 28.—A report was current here to-day that Mr. Parnell was suffering from a cancerous tumor. The rumor is denied.

THE IRISH NATIONAL LEAGUE.

Meeting of the Executive Committee of the American Branch at St. Louis.

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 28.—The National Executive Committee of the Irish National League of America held [illegible] here to-day. A good deal of routine business was transacted, and the subject of organizing more thoroughly in some of the states which have been neglected in this respect was considered, and the president was instructed to look after the matter.

The question of where and when the next national convention shall be held was entered, and the whole matter was finally placed in the hands of a committee of seven, with President Fitzgerald as chairman, who will decide the time and place after consulting co-workers in Ireland as to the time. A large committee and series of resolutions were adopted which appealed to the liberty-loving people of England, Scotland and Wales, and also to the people of Irish birth and extraction in America for moral and material aid in behalf of Ireland in her struggles for Home Rule, tendering sympathy to all now suffering in prison for their devotion to the cause of Irish liberty, denouncing the coercive measures of the British Government, extol the power and advantages of organization and call upon every friend in America to join the National League and work for the good of Ireland; thank the American press and people for their generous support of the Irish cause and eulogize Mr. Gladstone and his colleagues and the British democracy for their efforts on behalf of Ireland. Messrs. O'Connor and Edmonds spoke at the Music Hall to-night to an audience of 2000, and were most heartily applauded. Above $1000 was contributed to the fund, and resolutions denouncing the Salisbury Government and otherwise appropriate to the occasion were adopted.

A DARING EXPLOIT.

A Noted Niagara Guide Accomplishes a [illegible] Feat.

LOCKPORT, N.Y., Nov. 28.—Jack McCloy, the noted Niagara Falls guide, accomplished another of his daring feats yesterday. An advertising sign on one of the small islands, above the large ones, above the falls, has an advertising board which the Reservation Commission wanted removed. Superintendent Welch offered McCloy $50 some time ago if he would take it away. Yesterday McCloy, availing himself of the low water secured his long drill and tying a rope around his body started out from Bath Island. The rocks were slippery with slime, and the water was rushing along at over twenty miles an hour, yet he reached the island, picked the sign up and flung it into the rapid currents. Crowds of spectators gave him a rousing cheer. McCloy, it is stated, will receive a medal from the Government soon, for his recent deeds of heroism in rescuing people.

A VICTIM OF MORPHINE.

A Young Woman Destroyed by the Drug, Taken to Settle Her Debts.

DOWNINGTON, Pa., Nov. 28.—Miss Alice Wilber, about 26 years old, residing with her brother-in-law, W. Seofield, at Duncan's Station, in Honeybrook Township, attempted to commit suicide yesterday by shooting herself through the abdomen with a revolver. The young lady is a victim to the morphine habit, and relatives and friends have been trying to break her of it. Shortly after dinner she implored her brother-in-law to give her some of the drug, and on being refused slipped upstairs to his room, and, securing his revolver, came back again and deliberately shot herself before he could stop her. Her attending physicians have not been able to extract the ball, nor have they any hopes of saving her life.

A Professor's Horrible Death.

LEBANON, O., Nov. 28.—Prof. Wendelin Zimmerman, of the Normal University, having occasion to study the working of the steam engine, preparatory to a lecture upon the subject, yesterday visited Grasley's flouring mill. It is supposed that he had an attack of dizziness and fell into the pit of the fly-wheel, where his body was whirled by the wheel making 120 revolutions a minute. When the machinery was stopped the body was broken to pieces. His pocketbook was thirty feet away, but his watch remained in his pocket.

Appointed for the Chiltern Hundreds.

LONDON, Nov. 27.—Charles C. Lecaste, M.P. for Dundee, a Liberal and a Home Ruler, has applied for the Chiltern Hundreds. He says he wishes to retire from Parliament because he cannot steadily support Mr. Gladstone, who, he says, by his immoderate attitude, hinders the granting of home rule to Ireland.

Death of a Vessel Owner.

BUFFALO, Nov. 28.—David Donaldson died in this city to-day, aged 57. Besides his other business he was interested in the lake marine and was the owner of the propeller Cuba and schooner Donaldson. He also had an interest in the propeller Wyoming. He had been a member of the firm of Donaldson Brothers, shipsmiths, for about thirty years.

An Escaped Convict From Kingston.

ALBANY, N. Y., Nov. 28.—John Green, the noted safe burglar who was arrested in Ballston while attempting to rob the bank, has been identified by Chief Willard as the same person who was arrested in Canada for safe-breaking, and who escaped from Kingston prison a short time ago.

ARRANGING ANOTHER STRIKE.

Delegates of Labor Said to be Hobnobbing at Big Tip-up in New York.

NEW YORK, Nov. 28.—A morning paper says: A strong effort is being made by three members of the Knights of Labor who still remain true to Mr. Powderly to unite more firmly the remaining ranks of knights, and prove by results that the present management is a satisfactory as well as a successful one. The one method by which this can be demonstrated to the contemptuous is through the successful issue of a strike. There has not been any large strike of which the officers of the organization had control since the disastrous failure of the longshoremen and the coal handlers nearly a year ago. The few strikes that have since taken place have been small affairs and lasted a short time only. But the labor leaders long for another time when they can "tie up" every railroad road in this city. Now it is said that trouble will occur on some one of the railroads south. On what road it is likely to be there is no knowing at present. But the T&P. Express that has been filled up again with union men, who never longed since whichever two years ago and are anxious to fight the battle over again on the same ground as before. This is hinted at as the next railroad to be struck. The company, victorious before, although at a great cost, will undoubtedly refuse to grant any demand that may be made upon it. Then will come a strike, and a general "tie-up" to follow will show how firm the organization is.

The Case of the Striped Miners.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Nov. 28.—The eviction cases of the Stone Coal Company of Milnesville against striking miners were decided in favor of the miners this morning. Judge Woodward granted a rule to strike off judgments entered by the company for dispossessing the striking tenants. The men will under these rulings hold possession of their houses during the remaining time of the strike, and cannot be evicted.

The Labor Troubles in Louisiana.

THIBODEAUX, La., Nov. 28.—Matters here to-day are extremely quiet. It is generally understood that peace has been restored. The coroner to-day reported only seven deaths as the result of the recent riot. He says, however, that there may have been others killed of which he has no knowledge.

Found Dead in Bed.

LONDON, Nov. 27.—On Saturday afternoon James Glass, who up till a few years since ran a large tailoring establishment here, was found dead in his room in the Martin House. The deceased was 84 and had done business in London for the past forty-eight years.

The Temperature in the Northwest Away Below Zero.

ST. PAUL, Nov. 28.—The storm which was central in Dakota reached here this afternoon and turned the light snow which has been falling for two days into an incipient blizzard. So far it has not seriously interfered with railroad or street car travel, but if the wind continues the snow will drift badly. North and west the violence of the storm has given place to a sharp decline in temperature, which is already (at 9 p.m.) beginning to be felt here.

Some remarkable low temperatures throughout the Northwest are reported in the signal service bulletin issued here at 11.45 p.m., all of the following being below zero: St. Vincent, Minn., 22; Fort Garry, 22; Minnedosa, 23; Fort Totten, 18; Bismarck, 16; Cheyenne, 10; Fort Custer, 12; Fort Assiniboine, 28; Fort Buford, 18; at St. Paul and Duluth the corresponding observations indicate 8 above.

A Surprising Drop in Iowa.

DES MOINES, Ia., Nov. 28.—About 3 o'clock this afternoon the wind shifted suddenly to the north, snow began to fall and the temperature took a surprising drop and has kept it up steadily ever since, falling fifteen degrees in six hours. Snow is still falling at 10 p.m., and the brisk north wind is drifting it badly. The storm has all the symptoms of a Dakota blizzard and indicates a probable blockade of railway travel.

A HORRIBLE CRIME.

A Michigan Man Chops off his Wife's Head With an Axe.

ISHPEMING, Nov. 28.—At Marquette at 5 o'clock this evening Larry Finn, a drunken loafer aged 42 years, chopped off his wife's head with an axe. The murder was premeditated, as he sharpened the axe at a neighbor's shop in the afternoon. The house was burned last summer by a fire supposed to have been set by himself, and Finn's family consisting of himself, wife and two boys, the eldest aged 16, have lived in a dilapidated stable near the old home since. Finn attacked his wife shortly after supper, cleaving open her head at the first blow. There was no quarrel and the murder was cold-blooded. The eldest boy ran from the house screaming murder. He met a policeman at the corner who returned with him and forced open the door. Finn had mangled the body of his wife almost beyond recognition, and offered resistance to the policemen, but was speedily disarmed and jailed. Threats of lynching are made but will probably not be carried into execution, as the jail is strong and well guarded. Finn has borne a hard reputation for years, and a warrant for his arrest was out for him on another charge when the murder was committed.

The Daily Examiner.

MONDAY, NOVEMBER 28, 1887.

In view of the fact that TORONTO is struggling strenuously to shake off those antediluvian relics, toll gates, it might not be impertinent to inquire if the Ambitious City still pays the window tax.

THE pedestal of Samuel Morley's statue at Bristol bears these words, taken from one of his speeches:—"I believe that the power of England is to be restored not by her wealth or armies, but by the purity and virtue of the great mass of her population."

IT is evident that tariff reduction will be a live political factor in the coming presidential contest in the United States. There is a growing demand for a reduction of customs duties, especially in the western states of the Union. The Democratic party is pledged to tariff reduction, and, by no means, insignificant wing of the Republican party sympathizes with the proposal. New York state, which went strongly Democratic at the recent state election, was carried with tariff-reduction as a broad plank of the platform. And now it is stated on excellent authority that President Cleveland's message to Congress will contain as urgent an appeal for tariff reduction as words can convey, and that a pitched battle will be fought over this question.

St. Andrew's Society Sermon.

Rev. E. F. Torrance Delivers an Eloquent Sermon in St. Paul's Church to the Sons of "Auld Scotia."

The annual sermon to the members of the Peterborough St. Andrew's Society was preached in St. Paul's Church Sunday evening by the pastor, Rev. E. F. Torrance. The very inclement weather prevented a large attendance. The musical portion of the services was most appropriate. The choir sang a beautiful anthem, and at the close of the sermon the 113th hymn was sung by the congregation to the tune of "Auld Lang Syne."

The text was taken from John, IV., 37 and 38. "And herein is that saying true, one soweth and another reapeth. I sent you to reap that wherein ye bestowed no labor; other men labored and ye are entered into their labors." After briefly outlining the circumstances connected with the words of the text at the time they were uttered by Jesus, Rev. Mr. Torrance went on to consider the saying line quoted by our Lord, "One soweth and another reapeth;" and the application which He made of it to the disciples. The truth contained in that saying, he said, while it may appear to be one of the anomalies existing in the world, is inseparably connected with the conditions of our existence. The members of the human family are so related to each other that it is absolutely necessary that some should reap the harvest springing from the seed which others have sown; as illustrated by the father amassing a fortune for his children, the statesman securing legislation for his countrymen, the general fighting the battles for his nation. The same was true of every succeeding generation of men. It was true with regard to scientific discovery, experimental research, anatomical study and the great discovery of steam power. Cabden and his confederates were at first hooted with indifference when they began to agitate in favor of free trade, but they continued in spite of discouragements until their efforts

WERE CROWNED WITH SUCCESS.

And during the years that free trade principles have prevailed, said the reverend gentleman, English markets have been thrown open to the products of other countries and the wealth of England has increased at an enormous rate. This principle of sowing and reaping is true in regard to literature also. And in the little acts of every day life it held good. We are reaping the harvest which has sprung from the seed sown by those who have done acts of kindness and nobleness and unselfishness. And as we were reaping the harvest from the seed which others have sown, so we should melt to sow that seed as will produce a harvest which will benefit those who come after us.

The application of this saying to the disciples was given in the life of Jesus, whose life was given up for men. The disciples entered into the labors of their Master. Soon after the ascension into heaven, they began to reap the harvest springing from the seed which He had sown.

Continuing, Rev. Mr. Torrance said:—

"As my office perhaps is not inappropriate to show how the words of the text apply to the relation in which Scotchmen stand to their forefathers and to the benefit which they have derived from their labors.

"Christianity flourished in Scotland before the Roman Church sent out her missionaries, and at that early period there was a remarkable purity both in doctrine and in church government. In the island of Iona the Culdees maintained a church in which the primitive simplicity of worship was observed; and there, too, in A.D. 563 Columba founded a regular presbytery, composed of twelve presbyters. The Culdees also educated young men for the ministry, and sent missionaries across the northern border. In A.D. 591 their establishment at Iona was burned by the Northmen. They continued, however, to exist amid much suffering until the close of the 12th century when they were finally

SUPPRESSED BY THE PAPAL POWER.

After many years the Church of Rome had established away in Scotland, until, while God's Word lived in many of the Reformation of the Church, his servants for the Word in defence of the truth. Hamilton and Wishart, who helped to prepare for the reformation, suffered death by martyrdom. Knox was the man whom God employed to accomplish the reformation in Scotland, the man, who, above all others, has left his mark upon Scotland, both in church and state. From Knox's day down to our own time, by words of fire, by writings, by sermons, by public addresses, and by the travels of his mind, he promoted the purity of the church of Scotland and Christianity was restored.

"During the years which followed the death of Knox, the English sovereigns sought to obtain control over the church and the Scottish Parliament, upon an unwilling people. In A.D. 1605 King James sent a message to the Assembly, in Aberdeen, and when the Assembly refused to grant him a new Parliament [illegible] Assembly [illegible] "It (these) is, &c. o ward, the most powerful remedy of the vital forces."—Dr. Scudder.

BISMARCK, D.T., Nov. 26.—Official figures from nearly all Dakota counties show that the majority for division in the entire Territory will not exceed 2000, the total vote being about 70,000. Only three counties in North Dakota voted for division, and in South Dakota fifteen counties voted against it. Only eight counties voted against prohibition in the Territory.

THE MINERVA'S FATE.

The French Flagship Departs From Philadelphia With all the Honors.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 26.—The French flagship Minerva took its departure from this city this morning at 10 o'clock. Owing to the fog that settled over the river yesterday the hour for leaving was delayed. As she passed the wharves this morning with colors flying and the American flag in the forward rigging, the ferry boats, tugs and other steam vessels lying in the stream set up a screeching of whistles. The French craft dipped her colors once or twice in acknowledging the salutes, and responded from her big whistles. All the way down along the city front the Admiral was kept busy answering salutes from the steamships. Prior to departure there was a pretty sight on board the vessel. Admiral Vigne's quarters, wardroom, the officers' staterooms were loaded with flowers sent by private individuals as a parting token of esteem and remembrance.

MYSTERIOUS DISAPPEARANCE.

A Wholesale Clothier of Montreal Missing for More Than a Week.

MONTREAL, Nov. 26.—Lawrence C. Rose, a large wholesale clothier, has disappeared in the most mysterious manner, and has not been seen since Thursday week. Since then detectives have been scouring the city and vicinity far and wide, but without avail. Foul play is feared, as he had several thousand dollars in his possession which he had received after banking hours on the day of his disappearance. He was quite wealthy and of quiet and temperate habits. A large reward has been offered for information as to his whereabouts.

Boston Defeated.

SYDNEY, N.S.W., Nov. 28.—Beach has beaten Hanlan again, and sporting men on this part of the globe are exhibiting wild delight. The struggle was an exciting one from start to finish. Beach caught the water first, and quickly gained a little more than a boat length. Hanlan was right on the Australian's heels, and, although the former was never passed, he succeeded in reaching the finish line only two lengths ahead of the Canadian.

Hanlan had from the start fair play to-day. Beach never appeared in better form. He was cheered by the thousands of people on the river banks along the course. Beach's victory to-day gives him the undisputed claim to the championship of the world.

Finish of the Philadelphia Walking Match.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 28.—The 100 hour go-as-you-please race ended to-night shortly before 10 o'clock, with Littlewood, the Englishman, in first place, nearly forty miles ahead of his nearest competitor. The Englishman early this morning abandoned his expressed intention of trying to beat the world's record of 623 miles and [illegible] finally although [illegible] the day. The only feature of interest to-night was Elson's successful effort to reach 500 miles. His last few hours on the track, however, were rather a distressing sight. The old man was a physical wreck, and but for the kindly aid of Albert, who remained on the track and walked around with him, it is believed he would have given up before he reached the desired goal. He completed the 500 miles at 6.59 o'clock, and then wobbled around an extra lap. Littlewood will receive about $2000 as his share of the gate receipts and entrance fees, Albert about $1200, Panchot $900, Newman $600 and Elson about $300. The management's share of the profits is about $4000. The following are the scores of the five men at the finish: Littlewood 500 miles 1 lap, Albert 500 miles, Panchot 511 miles 2 laps, Newman 501 miles 4 laps, Elson 500 miles 1 miles.

Pleaded Guilty to Child Stealing.

HAMILTON, Nov. 28.—Last evening Detective McKenzie arrested a girl named Alice Burnett on suspicion of being the parent who deserted a child on a King-street doorstep. She told the officer that her people live near Cayuga, that she was led into wrong ways while in Gananoque, and that she was guilty of the offence of which he accused her. She was arraigned before the Police Magistrate on 12 o'clock to-day and pleaded guilty. The girl was allowed to go under [illegible] and the child was given into the care of a kind lady, each parties, when [illegible] to care of it.

QUARANTINE REGULATIONS.

An Effort to Make the Canadian and American Systems Uniform.

MONTREAL, Nov. 28.—The Provincial Board of Health last evening adopted resolutions to be forwarded to Sir Charles Tupper stating that, in view of his intimate connection with the American authorities at the present time he should urge upon them the necessity of establishing uniform quarantine regulations for both countries. The resolutions pointed out that Canada and the United States were connected to the same extent with the quarantine in question, and in view of the recent cholera epidemic in New York they should mutually protect each other.

Failure of a Pittsburg Bank.

PITTSBURG, Nov. 28.—The American Bank of this city, doing business in the old Penn Bank building, Wood-street, closed its doors this morning and announced that it would go into liquidation. The capital stock is $200,000. It is said by those in a position to know that the bank will pay all claims against it. The stockholders are individually liable. The suspension caused no excitement in financial circles.

The Detective was Timed There.

FORT SMITH, Ark., Nov. 28.—The stage running between Alma and Paris, Ark., about fifty miles east of here, was stopped last night by a masked Mothwayman, who proved to be J. H. Font. Detective Hamilton, who was in the coach, managed to draw his pistol in getting out of the vehicle under orders from the robber, and thereby took Font completely by surprise. He surrendered and is now in jail at Paris.

Give Them a Chance!

That is to say, your lungs. Also all your breathing machinery. Very wonderful machinery it is. Not only the larger air-passages, but the thousands of little tubes and cavities leading from them.

When these are clogged and choked with matter which ought not to be there, your lungs cannot half do their work. And what they do, they cannot do well.

Call it cold, cough, croup, pneumonia, catarrh, consumption or any of the family of throat and nose and head and lung obstructions, all are bad. All ought to be got rid of. There is just one sure way to get rid of them. That is to take Boschee's German Syrup, which any druggist will sell you at 75 cents a bottle. The reverend gentleman delivered this lecture in Queen's Avenue Methodist church, London, to a large and delighted audience. A rare treat is in store for our citizens. Particulars elsewhere.

Postponed for the Present.

The special committee of the School Board appointed to consider the application of Sergt-Major Randel to introduce drill and calisthenics into the schools, after consulting with the teachers, decided not to entertain the proposal at the present time. The teachers feel that the time of the pupils was at present so fully engaged with their regular lessons that time could not be afforded for the introduction of other exercises. Besides the season is unsuitable and the pupils are particularly busy preparing for the promotion and entrance examinations.

To Right.

We, the undersigned, having seen the artistic works of Rev. J. T. Dowling, and heard his explanatory lectures, have pleasure in expressing our high appreciation of his abilities as an artist and speaker, and of his extended knowledge of Biblical antiquities, which could only have been gained by a life-long study and research. We have every confidence in recommending his entertainments as worthy the countenance of Christian people everywhere, trusting that a higher moral tone to church and public entertainments may thus be encouraged and fostered in our land.

Genuine Fur Goods.

We draw the attention of the public to the large sale of 10,000 seal skins at the London sales on the 8th November. Prices for large skins ruling high, and smaller skins being abandant at a much lower figure. Raw seal skins sell from $15 to $40, and when dressed and dyed from $20 to $60. Skins average from 36 to 56 inches in length and from 16 to 29 inches in width, and it takes four seal skins to make an average seal sacque. Seal skins of 55 inches and more can be seen at our establishment, as we buy only the very best material, although profits rule lower than with buying smaller skins. When will the public profit in buying of reliable houses? We have done the utmost in the 27 years' business to draw attention to dealers in shoddy goods (even in seal). There is shoddy in all classes of fur goods, and it is only on the ignorance of some purchasers that such houses flourish. Their astonishing effrontery goes even so far that Nutria is offered as beaver, muskrat plucked and colored and rabbit skins shorn and colored as Baltic and French seal, and by such a mode of dealing unaware purchasers are fleeced. 1d127-1w48. The Public Highway.

To the Editor of the Examiner:—

DEAR SIR,—I noticed on last Saturday the side-walks of our handsome little city were covered over by boxes, barrels, washtubs, etc., which is looked upon as a nuisance by visitors and the general public.

If our police would kindly see that merchants would not put anything on or over the sidewalks, or allow goods coming in to be unpacked and detained so long on the side walk, especially on Saturday, the citizens generally would look upon it as a favor.

SOMETHING NEW.—Roller Buckwheat Flour, at RADDIN'S.

Police Court,

MONDAY, Nov. 28.

Messrs. P. Croft and M. Halpin pleaded guilty to several violations of the Scott Act, and were each fined $100 and costs. James Cummings admitted a first offence, and was fined $20 and costs.

ASSAULT CASES.

An assault case, Charles J. Sylvester vs. Joseph Bailey, was dismissed, the parties to the suit not being present.

Mr. John Parker laid a complaint against Albert Valois and Thos. Blodgett for assaulting his son, Willie Parker. The offence was alleged to have been committed last Friday evening. Young Parker told of the assault in court, and stated that these and other boys were continually annoying him till he was afraid to go out alone. Blodgett endorsed an affidavit, claiming to have been at his own home in Ashburnham when the assault was committed. A lad named McQuade, employed at the Auburn Mills, was stated to be the culprit instead of Blodgett. Valois also denied the charge. The case was enlarged till Wednesday and summonses were issued for the attendance of McQuade and Lalonde, two of the boys implicated. Mr. R. E. Weod, C.C.A., conducted the prosecution; Mr. W. A. Stratton the defence.

THE CAKE AND PRESERVES CASE.

The charge of larceny against Henry Welsh, George Barrette, John Daley, Timothy Cronin, Daniel Houlihan and Bert Hudson, the boys charged with breaking into Mrs. Gorman's cellar and stealing a cake and jar of preserves, was again brought up. Mr. Wood prosecuted, Mr. C. W. Sowers defended the lad Hudson, and Mr. J. O'Meara the rest of the boys. The trial was a very humorous one, the crowd of spectators raising the slightest protest to "hear-hew" vigorously. The charges were laid severally, a proceeding to which Mr. O'Meara objected. During the trial a little incident created quite a stir. A witness named Thos. Casey when asked if he was at Mrs. Gorman's the night in question, would only answer "I don't know anything about it." The magistrate remonstrated with him and urged him to enter a plea of fear of incriminating himself as a reason for not answering. The youth was obstinate, however, and would only reply 'I don't know anything about it"; so the magistrate committed him to gaol till he expressed a willingness to answer. After being confined in the cells for a quarter of an hour Casey relented and did as the magistrate suggested. The evidence in the case was not all of a convicting nature, and the youths were all discharged, the magistrate lecturing them upon the evil effects of hoodlumism, and stating that if they appeared before him again and the charge was proven he would give them a heavy punishment.

NO WORK.

Dennis Dougherty, a ragged but intelligent-looking and good-speaking Englishman, about fifty years of age, was committed to gaol for one month as a vagrant. He stated that he came up from Havelock this morning and was looking for work but could find none. He said he would be only too glad to work if he could get employment.

Dead in the Woods.

The dead body of a man, considerably disfigured and mutilated, has been found in the woods belonging to Gilbert H. Jardine, in the southwestern corner of Manvers township, says the Port Hope Times. The body has been identified as that of William H. McGill, son of Mr. James McGill, postmaster, Burton. Deceased was subject to fits, and it is supposed he was seized with one while wandering through the bush, and died from exposure. The mutilation is supposed to have been caused by foxes.

Rev. Father McKvay is recovering from his three weeks illness.

"Business Papers" was discussed by Mr. D. W. Dumble at the Business College this morning.

Mrs. (Rev. A. L.) Adams, North Smith, is still suffering from her long continued illness and is very low.

Rev. Father Fayolle, who has for some time been ill, is improving in health and will soon be restored.

Mr. Andrew Wilson's condition remains about the same. He was thought to be dying at one time on Saturday, but has since rallied.

Rt. Rev. E. Sullivan, D.D., bishop of Algoma, arrived in town to-day, and will address a missionary meeting at St. John's school room.

Owing to the illness of Rev. Mr. Wallace Sunday, he could not fill his appointments. Rev. Mr. Wilson preached in the Charlotte Street Church in the morning and Mr. H. T. Colbeck in the George Street Church in the evening.

The following appointment has been made by the Ontario Government: John Henry Dumble, of Cobourg, barrister-at-law, to be Local Master of the Supreme Court of Judicature for Ontario in and for the united counties of Northumberland and Durham, in the room and stead of George McKenzie Clark, resigned.

The Christian Guardian says in reference to the engagement of Rev. A. J. Shorey as pastor of the Charlotte Street Church:—"Mr. Shorey's departure will be a loss to Methodism in Toronto and a great gain to the new pastorate to which he has been called. Since he began his pastorate in Toronto he has shown an earnest and eloquent scriptural preaching which never fails to influence for good and the moral and religious nature of his hearers."

Local Politics.

The season is approaching when candidates for municipal honours are thinking of offering themselves to serve the people in the capacity of councillors. The chief thought in the minds of most candidates is not the fitness of the candidate for the position he seeks, but whether he will be able to get in. Aye, that's the rub. No matter how much money is wasted, no matter how heavily the offices may be carried on, the chief point is nothing so small as economy—it is to get there. A man must make himself popular for the moment and he is all right. A simple course, insuring certain success, is open to the candidate for municipal honours. All he has to do is to array himself in one of gough's cheap and nobby suits and the thing is done—he will then win plumpers by the score. Besides, he will save so much money by the transaction that he will be able to set 'em up for the boys and thus make himself solid beyond peradventure. He will also improve his chances by clothing his family in gough's cheap stock of dry goods. The candidate will find at gough's thousands of overcoats and suits and a $25,000 stock of dry goods, at the most unanimously reasonable prices. Buy your new clothing outfit at gough's, insert your election card in the EXAMINER and you are sure to head the poll.

THE LABOR COMMISSION.

A Fair List of Witnesses Yesterday—The Library and the Workingmen.

TORONTO, Nov. 28.—Evidence of varied kind and more abundant than usual, was taken by the Labor Commissioners yesterday. The commission have summoned a long list of witnesses, and they have work for some time to come.

Mr. Bain, jr., Public Librarian, stated that the attendance of workingmen at the library was satisfactory. Mechanics were assiduous patrons of the reading-room on Saturday afternoons, and men out of work were to be seen daily at the Library. Dr. Oldright, ex-Chairman of the Provincial Board of Health, deposed to the sanitary condition of the workshops.

John H. Lamedon, printer, deposed to having been a journeyman printer, a foreman and an employer of labor. He belonged to the Typographical Union and had been its president and was now vice-president. The number of apprentices was limited. It took a three-fourths vote of the members in good standing to declare a strike. The union wished to have the apprentices indentured, but the employers objected to this. The reason appeared to be that when a boy had been a year or two at the trade another employer was glad to get the youth at a little increase of wages. The union always resorted to arbitration before ordering a strike. He gave particulars of the strike in Toronto which resulted in obtaining nine hours as a day's work. The union had been in existence since 1844, during which time there had been six or seven strikes. There had been a great increase in book and job work in Toronto of late years.

Printers were employed in box factories, and witness spoke of this work, which consisted of printing labels for corset boxes, biscuit boxes, etc. Girls from 9 years of age to 20 were employed in making the boxes. They worked fifty-four hours a week and earned from $3 to $5 a week. Five dollars would be a high average. He had heard these girls say that they did not wish to earn more by piece for fear the masters should cut down the price. There was unsatisfactory sanitary arrangements and not suitable separation of sexes.

By Mr. Freed: The average wage of an average compositor on a morning paper is $15. The day hands are paid $11. He had known of employers refusing to engage union men. All the compositors on the morning papers in Toronto are union men. If the employers wished to employ a non-union man it would lead to a strike if it were carried out. There are fines in connection with the union. He had known members expelled and re-admitted. In some cases a fine was imposed for violation of the rules, but on re-admission it would sometimes be remitted. He had known a fine as low as $5 and as high as $100. The latter was a very flagrant case. He would not have boys apprenticed or put to the printing business as all till they were 16 years of age.

W. J. McFarrand, carriagemaker, was strongly opposed to immigration, and said it interfered with the Canadian workmen. They generally accepted cheaper wages in order to obtain instruction in Canadian work. The immigrants were chiefly Irish and Scotch. To a question by the chairman he replied they should be sent back.

The Commission rose till 2 o'clock this afternoon.

INTERESTING ITEMS BY WIRE.
